A wicked problem is a social or cultural problem difficult to solve for many reasons: incomplete or contradictory knowledge, the number of people or opinions involved, the large economic burden of solutions, and the interconnected nature of these with other problems. This course explores the ways that cultural theory provides critical insights in complex contemporary arenas such as government policy, nonprofit work, law, business, communications, education, health issues, environment and conservation, natural resources management, risk management, natural disaster responses, and more. The goal of the course is to teach students the value of cultural theory in understanding and working within the complexities of the contemporary world. prereq: minimum 30 credits

ANTH 4653. Senior Seminar. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Contemporary topics in selected branches of anthropology. Active participation in group research project to develop and enhance anthropological research skills. prereq: minimum 90 credits or instructor consent; no grad credit

ANTH 4654. Biological Anthropology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

The human skeleton as source of information about individual variations, population structure, and human evolution. Study of human remains from archaeological sites, morphology, paleopathology, and relevant statistical methods. Lectures and labs emphasize acquiring practical experiences in analysis and interpretation. prereq: minimum 60 credits or instructor consent

ANTH 4655. Forensic Anthropology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This class is designed to familiarize students with the fundamentals of forensic anthropology, including identification of skeletal elements, pathology, age, sex, and population affinity, stature, occupational markers and selected other topics. prereq: minimum 60 credit or instructor consent; no grad credit

ANTH 4691. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed reading and research leading to preparation of a final written and/or digital project. prereq: preferred 60 credits and instructor consent

ANTH 4695. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (1-5 cr. [max 10 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Seminar on topics in selected branches of anthropology. prereq: minimum 60 cr

ANTH 4696. Field Research in Archaeology. (1-10 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)

Archaeological excavation, survey, and research in actual sites. Location may vary. prereq: instructor consent

ANTH 4697. Anthropology Internship. (2-6 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Supervised experience in a workplace relevant to students academic interests within the major: social service agency, museum, immigration services, school or other, approved by instructor. In consultation with instructor, students will also complete assignments relevant to the job setting, e.g., setting learning objectives, techniques for measuring progress, and/or report writing. prereq: preferred minimum 60 credits, instructor consent, no grad credit

ANTH 4699. Honors Project. (2-4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced individual project in any area of anthropology demonstrating sound theoretical, methodological, and research foundations. Topic chosen in consultation with the honors advisor. The student will give a public presentation of their written and/or digital final project. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

ANTH 4910. Teaching Assistantship in Anthropology. (1-3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Practical experience in teaching-related activities in anthropology courses. prereq: Minimum 60 credits and instructor consent, no grad credit; maximum 3 credits between ANTH 4997 and 4910

ANTH 4985. Critical Animal Studies. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course explores the ways in which animal lives intersect with human lives, including the evolution of social, cultural, scientific, and religious attitudes toward animals. We will examine the dynamics of power and visualization in the ways animals are culturally framed and constructed. Students will also learn to critically analyze a variety of ethical debates about animals in society, such as the eating of animals, animal experimentation, zoos, hunting, ownership, and legal status. prereq: minimum 30 credits earned or instructor consent; no grad credit

ANTH 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ANTH 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Applied Human Sciences (AHS)

AHS 3100. Risk Management. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Proactive approach to managing risks associated with conducting health, physical education, and recreation programs. Emphasis on planning for a safe environment. prereq: Major in Exercise Science or Environmental and Outdoor Education or instructor consent

AHS 3300. Health and Physical Education in the Elementary School. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Developing health and physical education programs for the elementary school classroom teacher. Emphasis on planning appropriate health and physical education lessons and teaching developmental movement experiences. prereq: IESE Major, successful completion of IESE 1010

AHS 4999. Senior Project. (3-12 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Selection and completion of a project approved and supervised by faculty. prereq: Hlth Educ or PE or REC or Ex Science candidate, minimum 90 credits, instructor consent

Applied Material Science (AMS)

AMS 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

AMS 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

AMS 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

AMS 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

AMS 5101. Materials Analysis & Design I. (6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Overview of the structure, properties, processing, and performance of traditional materials of metals, ceramics, and polymers. Course will be delivered via an integrated learning approach, where course content taught in the lectures and labs will be applied to 2-3 projects concurrently throughout the semester on product or equipment design. prereq: CHE 3231 or ME 2105 or Grad student or instructor consent

AMS 5102. Materials Analysis & Design II. (; 6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Overview of design, manufacturing and experimental characterization of fiber reinforced polymer (FRP) composite materials and degradation of materials. Course will be delivered via an integrated learning approach, where course content taught in the lectures and labs will be applied to 2-3 projects concurrently throughout the semester on product or equipment design. pre-req: AMS 5101 or MATH 1297 and CHEM 11545 and PHYS 2015 or Grad student or instructor consent

AMS 5555. Applied Materials Science*Project Credits. (; 3-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Master of Applied Science project work as determined by faculty adviser and student with approval by the program director of graduate studies. pre-req: MS AMS candidate, instructor consent

AMS 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Art (ART)*ART 1001. Art Today. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Introductory survey of influence of art and roles of artists in varied sociocultural contexts, emphasizing recent art and its historical sources.

ART 1002. Introduction to Art. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Studio course with strong lecture component for those with little or no creative experience in art, introducing various materials, techniques, and concepts. Studio work, lectures, class discussions, viewing artworks, and outside reading. pre-req: Not for art majors or minors except those in art history

ART 1003. Introduction to Design. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)

Introductory survey of the design of visual communication and the design of everyday objects, emphasizing the social and historical meaning of design and the ways in the design shapes public and private experience. From clothes to cars, from websites to street signs, from plates to phones to plazas, design can help or hinder users perform tasks while it helps them construct identity and meaning.

ART 1004. Sustainable Visual Culture*Practices. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

The course examines art and design practices worldwide that are responding to current sustainability challenges and offering transformative solutions. We will explore definitions, principles and goals of sustainability and identify current global challenges, including water protection and land use, energy and waste, ecosystems and habitat, ecological debt and social inequity, framed within the intersection of class, gender and race. Within a participatory, interactive learning environment, we will analyze the work of artists and designers that are creating strategies to transition to live within planetary boundaries. Case studies of participatory and ecological art, cradle-to-cradle design and biominicry, are among the practices that will be introduced, discussed and critiqued. Through active learning methods, including journaling, collaging, photographing and working in pairs and groups, participants will explore their own relationship to sustainable ways of living.

ART 1009. Fundamentals of Drawing. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Stimulation of visual and conceptual skills through dynamics of drawing as well as lectures/presentations and group discussions. pre-req: Not for art majors or minors

ART 1010. Drawing I. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to the drawing experience and problems concerned with translation of three-dimensional visual experience into two-dimensional form. pre-req: preArt or Art BA or Arts Admin BA or preArt Educ K-12 or Art Educ K-12 BFA or Art History BA or preGraphic Design or Graphic Design BFA or preStudio Art or Studio Art BFA or Theatre-Costume Design BFA or Art minor or instructor consent

ART 1011. 2-D Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to two-dimensional design through study of design elements and principles, including visual organization and color theory and their application in various media. pre-req: preArt or Art BA or Arts Admin BA or preArt Educ K-12 or Art Ed K-12 BFA or Art History BA or preGraphic Design or Graphic Design BFA or preStudio Art or Studio Art BFA or preMarketing & Graphic Design or Marketing & Graphic Design BBA or Art Min or instructor consent

ART 1012. 3-D Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to basic concepts and materials of three-dimensional form and space. pre-req: preArt or Art BA or Arts Admin BA or preArt Educ K-12 or Art Educ K-12 BFA or Art History BA or preGraphic Design or Graphic Design BFA or preStudio Art or Studio Art BFA or Art minor or instructor consent

ART 1013. 2-D Digital Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Two-dimensional studio and graphic design concepts using the computer as a creative tool. Instruction presented only on the macOS. pre-req: preArt or Art BA or Arts Admin BA or preArt Educ K-12 or Art Ed K-12 BFA or Art History BA or preGraphic Design or Graphic Design BFA or preStudio Art or Studio Art BFA or preMarketing & Graphic Design or Marketing & Graphic Design BBA or Art Min or Arts in Media Min or Photo Min or instructor consent

ART 1105. Fundamentals of Painting. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course offers a hands-on opportunity to learn both traditional and contemporary painting techniques and to develop concepts for painting, while investigating the socio-economic, historical and personal motivations behind creative expression. Students will also be introduced to basic visual semiotic theory, which will help them understand the structure of visual communication. Students will develop their own ideas and styles through specifically designed assignments with targeted goals.

ART 1125. Watercolor I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Basic concepts and techniques. pre-req: 1002 or 1010 or instructor consent

ART 1126. Watercolor II. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Advanced concepts and techniques. pre-req: 1125 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 3125

ART 1305. Social Multiples: Availability and Circulation. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

A survey of the historical and contemporary uses of printed material to engage communities in political, cultural, and ethical conversation.

ART 1306. Fundamentals of Screenprinting. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)

Introduction to methods and material used for water-based screen-printing, which offers a simple and direct way of creating visual images from hand crafter or digital sources. The instruction of this course allows students to build upon basic concepts in order to develop more complex and personally meaningful work. Projects will include topics addressing social communication, personal motivations, collaborations, and non-traditional uses (i.e., installation or sculptural work). Includes additional information on theoretical, legal, cultural, and historical aspects of screen-printing. pre-req: Not for Art majors or minor

ART 1405. Fundamentals of Ceramics I.

(FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)

Basic handbuilding and glazing of earthenware ceramics. pre-req: Not for art majors or minors

ART 1605. Fundamentals of Photography.

(FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)

Introduction to photography and its roles in the communications culture. Basic photographic principles and introduction to digital darkroom. Assignments emphasize creative thinking. Requires digital camera with adjustable shutter speeds and apertures. Laptop and software required; instruction presented only on the Mac platform. pre-req: Not for art majors or minors

ART 1814. Creating Across Cultures. (FINE ARTS, CDIVERSITY; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Underrepresented visual arts of cultural groups within U.S. society.

ART 1900. Visual Literacy. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Various forms of visual expression--art, commercial imagery, typography, architecture, graffiti, etc.--as rhetoric. Introduction to variety of theories and/or modes of criticism, and consideration of their value for explanation of visual expression. pre-req: Credit will not be granted if already received for 2900

ART 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ART 2014. 3-D Modeling and Animation. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course will introduce fundamental concepts and techniques for creating 3-D computer graphics using one of several industry-standard computer programs, 3ds Max. Through a clear sequence of tutorial assignments and projects, students will gain an understanding of the underlying principles of 3-D modeling and animation, including materials, lights, cameras, and rendering. Students learn to express personal ideas and concepts through the creative use of 3-D graphics. prereq: ART 1013

ART 2016. Digital Arts: Mixed-Media Studio.

( ; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to digital art studio practice with a focus on digital imaging and cross-media experimentation. Course builds on skills, techniques, and critique of digital art concepts such as image compositing, appropriation, collage, and remixing. Creative projects include development of a serial approach to visual imagery. Readings and presentations discuss current trends in digital culture and key works by digital artists. Instruction presented only on macOS. prereq: ART 1013 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits.

ART 2018. Digital Arts: Interactive Media. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Creative use of interactive media in contemporary studio art practice. Discussion of emerging media formats and current trends in interactive art. Collaborative projects informed by conceptual dialogue in digital culture and significant works by net artists. Development of game-like interactive experiences via social networking, virtual worlds, or locative media. Experimental works may be created using open source software or other interactive design tools. Laptop required (Mac or PC). prereq: art major or minor or instructor consent

ART 2030. Digital Arts: Time-based Media.

(3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to time-based media practice and theory through presentations, readings, studio time, and hands-on assignments. Creative exploration of vital forms of contemporary time-based art such as video art, sound/sonic art, basic animation, and performance art. prereq: ART 1013 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits.

ART 2040. Digital Filmmaking: Visual Narratives. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Introduction to the fundamental of digital video production and basic concepts of cinematic narrative. Beginning hands-on experience using digital video tools to create short narrative works. Creative studio art approach to low budget film techniques and project collaboration. Individual and team projects include visual concept development, storyboarding, video production, and digital editing. Emphasis on the visual language of filmmaking and critical appreciation of cinematic media. prereq: 1013 or Journalism major or film minor or instructor consent

ART 2100. Painting I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Color and pigment theory, basic concepts and explorations in technology and imagery. Painting traditions and contemporary directions. prereq: ART 1009 or 1010 and 1011 or instructor consent

ART 2200. Sculpture I. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Sculptural materials, methods, and concepts, with problems relating to form, time, and space; experience with various sculptural forms and media, emphasizing creative expression. prereq: ART 1012 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits.

ART 2300. Printmaking I: Intaglio, Relief. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Introduction to methods and materials used in zinc plate etching and relief printing from wood and linoleum. Technical, aesthetic, and contextual considerations encountered in production of meaningful artwork. Theoretical, legal, critical, and historical aspects of printmaking. prereq: ART 1009 or 1010 and 1011 or instructor consent

ART 2301. Printmaking I: Litho, Screen. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to methods and materials used in lithographic printmaking from stones and plates and water-based screenprinting. Content includes technical, aesthetic and contextual considerations encountered in the production of meaningful artwork. Additional information on theoretical, legal, critical and historical aspects of printmaking. prereq: 1006 or 1009 or 1010, 1011, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 1301

ART 2303. Printmaking I: Screenprinting. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Introduction to methods and material used for water-based screen-printing, which offers a simple and direct way of creating visual images from hand crafter or digital sources. The instruction of this course allows students to build upon basic concepts in order to develop more complex and personally meaningful work. Projects will include topics addressing social communication, personal motivations, collaborations, and non-traditional uses (i.e., installation or sculptural work). Includes additional information on theoretical, legal, cultural, and historical aspects of screen-printing. prereq: 1009 or 1010, 1011, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 2400. Ceramics I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Handbuilding methods, surface enhancement, and conceptual support for pottery and/or ceramic sculpture. prereq: 1012, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 1400

ART 2500. Jewelry and Metals I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Basic jewelry design, fabrication, and surface enhancement techniques. prereq: ART 1011 or 1013 or instructor consent

ART 2600. Photography I. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to photographic concepts, materials, and the digital darkroom. Varied thematic assignments within the visual arts context. Requires digital camera with adjustable shutter speeds and apertures. Instruction presented only on macOS. prereq: ART 1013 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for ART 1605

ART 2810. Art in Elementary Education.

(FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Instructional problems relating to the growth and development of artistic expression in children. Studio experience relating to elementary art curriculum. prereq: pre-Elementary education major

ART 2905. Design Technology I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Fundamentals of graphic reproduction and Web site design; application of digital programs used in preparing print and web work. Instruction presented on the macOS. prereq: ART 1013 or instructor consent

ART 2906. Design Technology II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Advanced concepts and digital program applications for print and web graphic contexts. prereq: 2905, graphic design major or GDM BFA or pre-MGD BBA or MGD BBA or instructor consent; laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ART 2907. Typography I. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Introduction to fundamentals of typography in print and screen media. Presents terminology, history, and theories of letterforms. Students will perform directed assignments to develop typographic skills on computer and by hand. prereq: ART 1013 and Graphic design major or GDM BFA or MGD or pre-MGD BBA or digital arts and photography emphasis or instructor consent; laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ART 2911. Graphic Design I. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to theory and practice of graphic design. Meaning and aesthetics of image juxtaposition; resonance of type and image. prereq: 2905, 2907, graphic design major or GDM BFA or pre-MGD BBA or MGD BBA or instructor consent; laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ART 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ART 3031. Digital Arts: Installation and Collaborative Media. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Intermediate digital art studio course with a focus on interdisciplinary media and collaborative processes used to create site-specific installations and participatory art pieces. Reading and presentations discuss current trends in collaborative projects and key works by installation artists. Multimedia installation projects may include traditional art media, video projection, sound, and audience participation. prereq: 2030, art or art education major, pre-art education major or pre-graphic design major, or art minor or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 5030

ART 3040. Digital Filmmaking: Experimental Techniques. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Exploration of hands on experimental processes and techniques used in contemporary digital video and animation. Introduction to history and theory of experimental film and video works. Focus on digital video production, digital compositing, digital animation techniques, and non-linear video editing skills. Emphasis on innovative, narrative, and non-narrative approaches to creative video projects. Discussion of audience and exhibition options for experimental digital video works. prereq: 2030 or 2040 or instructor consent

ART 3100. Painting II. (3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Painting in specialized interest area, using student/instructor-generated semester goals outline. prereq: 2100, art or art education major, pre-art education major or pre-graphic design major, or art minor or instructor consent; max 9 credits

ART 3200. Sculpture II. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Sculptural materials, methods, and concepts, with problems relating to form, time, and space; experience with various sculptural forms and media, emphasizing creative expression. prereq: 2200, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 3214. Sculpture II: Robotics and Physical Computing. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Intermediate and advanced sculpture robotics and physical computing: Approaches to sculpture, digital control of objects, kinetic sculpture and sound in installation events, performances, and exhibitions. prereq: 2200, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 3300. Printmaking II. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Continued exploration of processes explored in either or both of the introductory courses. Increased technical challenges combined with refinement of image and concept. Some photographic and mixed-media processes; increased experience in editioning and critical review. prereq: 2300, 2301, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 3305. Sustainability Studio: Theory and Practice. (FINE ARTS,SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Within a studio-based context, this course examines the potential of art and design to address issues of sustainability. Drawing from historical and contemporary precedents, student will explore and analyze solutions to the interdependence and growing incongruity between the natural environment and societal demands. As a combined media course, students will use a range of technical and conceptual methods, synthesizing previously learned studio experience and skills, examining the potential of found, ready made, and/or recycled materials to fulfill sustainable challenges.

ART 3400. Ceramics II. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced handbuilding and surface enhancement techniques; development of a stylistically consistent body of work. prereq: 2400 or instructor consent

ART 3405. Fundamentals of Ceramics II. (FINE ARTS; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Spring)

Handbuilding or wheel-throwing, glazing, and firing of ceramics. prereq: 1405 or instructor consent; not for art majors or minors

ART 3425. Ceramics II Wheel Throwing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to the potter's wheel and clay throwing techniques. Glazing and firing; surface work and enhancement, with conceptual support for pottery and sculptural clay forms. prereq: 2400, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 3500. Jewelry and Metals II. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Advanced application of jewelry techniques and design. prereq: ART 2500 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits.

ART 3600. Photography: Alternative Processes. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Continued experience with photographic concepts using alternative processes techniques applied within a creative context. Portfolio requirements are project-based. Fall semester will cover the basics of alternative process workflow using cyanotype chemistry in the darkroom. Spring semester will cover the basics of medium format film cameras, and the collaborative process as it related to photographic image making. Instruction presented only on macOS. prereq: ART 1605 or 2600 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits.

ART 3615. Photography: Inventing with Light. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

This course provides a working knowledge of studio lighting equipment and techniques as they apply to the creative production of still photographs and short digital videos. Students will incorporate these lighting techniques, as well as advanced digital image making skills, into their conceptual practice, demonstrating technical and aesthetic skills related to contemporary and historical practice in the art of artificial lighting. Students will conceptualize how the lighting studio can transform their means of creative production. Requires digital still and/or video cameras with adjustable shutter speeds and apertures. Instruction presented only on the macOS. prereq: ART 2600, pre-Studio Art-DAP or Studio Art-DAP BFA or Photography minor or instructor consent

ART 3700. Drawing II. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Individually supervised projects supporting involvement in other studio areas. prereq: ART 1009 or 1010 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits.

ART 3715. Figure Drawing. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

The study of the human form, its structures and movements related to aesthetic considerations. Intermediate and advanced issues include perspective, space, foreshortening, proportioning and appropriation for the purposes of approaching the figure as an expressive and conceptual tool of art making. prereq: ART 1009 or 1010 or instructor consent

ART 3809. Art in Elementary Education Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Instructional problems based on the growth of artistic expression in children, philosophy of art education, and contemporary problems. Museum and multicultural based experiences are combined with outreach opportunities to develop inclusive elementary art curriculum and assessment. prereq: 0903, art education candidate

ART 3811. Teacher as Artist: Postmodern Theory and Practice. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Experience the complex role of the teacher as artist in the postmodern classroom and studio. Focuses on building professional expertise in the field of art education, museum education and contemporary artistic practice. Students will plan for an exhibition of their work in Tweed Museum of Art. prereq: 0903, [3809 or 3810], Art education major or instructor consent

ART 3812. Nordic Art and Design in Sweden and Denmark. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

In this study abroad trip to Sweden and Denmark, students will explore a variety of artistic styles, media, practices, traditions, and innovations in Nordic Art from medieval to contemporary times. pre-req: minimum 30 credits, GPA of 2.5 or higher, department consent

ART 3814. Digital Media in Art Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Theoretical and practical experiences with emerging visual technologies. Assignments will integrate contemporary pedagogical theories of visual culture and digital media in art education. Art projects will use the computer as a creative tool. prereq: Art education major or instructor consent

ART 3815. Art in Secondary Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Nature and objectives of art programs in secondary school; content and methods. Development of secondary art curriculum and classroom site visits. prereq: 3811, art education majors only or instructor consent

ART 3906. Emerging Media Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

An introductory course using emerging media devices and applications to design solutions for the web. This includes learning the basics of HTML (Hyper Text Markup Language) and CSS (Cascading Style Sheets) in order to develop web-based content. Using system thinking, marketing theory and a variety of methods to generate images and other visual content, designing for social media platforms will be explored. pre-req: 2906

ART 3922. Graphic Design II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Continuation of theory and practice of graphic design. Introduction to professional practices. Materials meaning, aesthetics, and practical use. prereq: 2911, graphic design major or GDM BFA or MGD BBA or instructor consent; laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ART 3933. Graphic Design III. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Continuation of theory and practice of graphic design. Graphic design as an organizational and informative medium and as a purely aesthetic pursuit. prereq: 3922, graphic design major or GDM BFA or MGD BBA or instructor consent; laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ART 3937. Typography II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Advanced exploration of typography concepts and issues in screen and print media. prereq: 2907, 3922, graphic design major or GDM BFA or MGD BBA or instructor consent; laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ART 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ART 4016. Digital Arts: Advanced Projects. (; 3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Advanced Digital Arts Studio for students interested in exploring interdisciplinary or advanced projects using current or emerging technologies. Students develop self-directed focus and creative project goals. Advanced projects may concentrate on mixed-media print, time-based media, interactive media, installation art, or collaborative art formats. Students hone a body of digital artwork through research experimentation and critique. Laptop required. prereq: no grad credit

ART 4040. Digital Filmmaking: Advanced Projects. (3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Advanced digital film projects in narrative, experimental, animation, or documentary formats. Students develop a single ambitious project over the semester, defining their own approach and focus. Develop project pitch, including visual concept, production plans, and storyboards. Hone video production technique and digital video editing skills. Emphasis on collaboration and creative process from pre-production through final craft of short digital film for contemporary audience. prereq: ART 2040 or 3040 or instructor consent

ART 4091. Individual Study in Electronic Arts. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Individually supervised projects in electronic arts media. prereq: 2014 or 3018, art or art education major and instructor consent

ART 4100. Painting III. (3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced individually supervised projects using both traditional and contemporary painting media and techniques. prereq: 3100, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent; no grad credit

ART 4191. Individual Study in Painting. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Instruction tailored to individual's needs outside of traditional class structure. prereq: Two semesters painting, instructor consent; no grad credit

ART 4200. Sculpture III. (3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Sculpture in area of specialized interest. prereq: ART 3200 or 3214, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent; no grad credit repeatable: Allow up to 3 repetitions totalling up to 9 credits.

ART 4291. Individual Study in Sculpture. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Individual study in sculpture. prereq: 2 semesters sculpture, instructor consent; no grad credit

ART 4300. Printmaking III. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Further exploration of print processes. Emphasis on refinement of technical skills as well as development of concepts and imagery. Experimentation encouraged in nontraditional, collaborative, and cross-disciplinary approaches. Increased experience in editioning and alternative formats combined with a more comprehensive critical review. prereq: 3300, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 4391. Individual Study in Printmaking. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Graduate students complete a project by contract with instructor, supported by a research paper. prereq: 3300, department consent

ART 4400. Ceramics III. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Technical and conceptual refinement of advanced body of ceramic work. prereq: ART 3400, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent; no grad credit repeatable: Allow up to 2 repetitions for a maximum of 6 credits.

ART 4491. Individual Study in Ceramics.

(1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed study in specific areas. prereq: 2 semesters ceramics, department consent

ART 4600. Photography: Digital Portfolio. (; 3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Intensive digitally-based portfolio development in area of special interest. Selected readings in photographic theory and criticism. Requires digital camera with adjustable shutter speeds and apertures. Instruction presented only on the Mac OS. prereq: ART 1900 and 1605 or 2600 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 3 repetitions totalling up to 9 credits.

ART 4650. Alternative Processes Portfolio. (3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

Intensive portfolio development using alternative contemporary and historic photographic ideas and processes. Processes that may be explored are: cyanotype, salt prints, photo-polymer gravure, camera-less image capture, toy and home-made cameras. The processes explored are relative to the resources available in conjunction with student interest. Multi-disciplinary approach to image making is encouraged. Instruction presented only on macOS. prereq: ART 3600 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 3 repetitions totalling up to 9 credits.

ART 4675. Photography: The Photographic Book. (; 3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Creation of one or more individual photographic book projects, with emphasis on effective sequencing of images and appropriate book form for the specific body of work. Selected readings in book arts relating to photography. Graduate student book projects are complemented by a related research project. Requires digital camera with adjustable shutter speeds and apertures. Instruction presented only on macOS. prereq: ART 4600 or instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 3 repetitions totalling up to 9 credits.

ART 4691. Individual Study in Photography. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Graduate students complete a project by contract with instructor, supported by a research paper. prereq: 2 semesters of photography, department consent

ART 4700. Drawing III. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Individually supervised projects supporting involvement in other studio areas. Graduate students produce a technically and conceptually sophisticated portfolio of drawing, supported by a research paper. prereq: 3700, art or art education major or art minor or instructor consent

ART 4791. Individual Study in Drawing. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Graduate students complete a project in drawing by contract with instructor, supported by a research paper. prereq: 2 semesters of drawing, instructor consent

ARTH 4793. Intermedia Studio. (1-3 cr. [max 27 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed study emphasizing intermedia concerns. pre-req: 2 semesters work in each subject area with instructor consent; no grad credit

ARTH 4812. Senior Seminar. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Current visual arts and design issues investigated through research, lectures, assigned readings, discussion, writing assignments, and presentations. pre-req: Art Education K-12 BFA or Studio Art BFA

ARTH 4813. Senior Seminar II: Studio Practice. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Preparation for the emerging studio professional in such areas as documenting work, building an exhibition history, and arts-related employment opportunities, through lectures, presentations, discussion, assigned readings, writing assignments, and field experience. pre-req: Studio Art BFA

ARTH 4897. Visual Culture Internship. (1-9 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
For advanced students. Field research and experience working with arts programming, practice, or management in public or private agency, including the University. pre-req: Graphic Design major or Graphic Design concurrent registration is required (or allowed) in Marketing major or General Studio BFA major or Art BA major, instructor consent; 1 cr for each 45 hrs of fieldwork; no grad credit

ARTH 4898. Art BA Senior Exhibition. (1 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall & Spring)
Students, with faculty guidance, exhibit work in department display cases and work is reviewed by a 3-person committee. pre-req: Senior Art BA major, department consent; no grad credit

ARTH 4899. Senior Presentation/Exhibition. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Students, singly or in pairs, plan/prepare/present under guidance of faculty/museum staff an exhibition of their work in Tweed Museum of Art or an approved alternative public venue. pre-req: Senior art major, instructor consent; no grad credit

ARTH 4903. Art Education Student Teaching Seminar. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
For students currently student teaching in art (K-12). Students will share concerns and situations, suggestions, and gain group support. The seminar supplements the field experience and builds on issues of supervision, evaluation, professional development, and the culminating Standards of Effective Practice art education portfolio. pre-req: Art ed major and Educ 4500, EdSe 4600, EIEd 4650; concurrent registration is required; no grad credit

ARTH 4908. Interactive Design I. (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Interactivity in graphic design, concentrating on computer-based interactive presentations. pre-req: 3922, graphic design major or GDM BFA or MGD BBA or digital art and photography emphasis or Grad Student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 5909: laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ARTH 4909. Interactive Design II. (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Interactivity in graphic design, concentrating on computer-based interactive presentations. pre-req: 4908, graphic design major, or digital art and photography emphasis or Grad Student, or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 5910: laptop required; digital instruction presented only on the Mac platform.

ARTH 4922. Senior Design Studio I. (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Exploration of advanced graphic design topics through an extensive project for print and/or screen: research, creative production and development of a presentation system. Done individually or in groups. pre-req: 3933 or 3937 or instructor consent, no grad credit

ARTH 4933. Senior Design Studio II. (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Professional presentation, portfolio development and professional practice. pre-req: 3933 or instructor consent

ARTH 4944. Graphic Design IV. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Continuation of theory and practice of graphic design. Research-based development of design systems in multiple media. Instruction presented only on macOS. pre-req: ART 3933 and Graphic Design BFA or instructor consent

ARTH 4955. Graphic Design V. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Continuation of theory and practice of graphic design. Advanced projects. Instruction presented only on a macOS. pre-req: ART 3933 and Graphic Design BFA or instructor consent

ARTH 4991. Independent Study in Graphic Design. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Independent work in graphic design pre-req: 2 semesters work in graphic design and graphic design major and instructor consent

Art History (ARTH)

ARTH 1303. History of World Art I. (GLOBAL PER,HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Development of world art and architecture from prehistory through Middle Ages.

ARTH 1304. History of World Art II. (HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Development of world art and architecture from Renaissance to present.

ARTH 1305. History of World Art III. (GLOBAL PER,HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Examines the arts and visual culture of the Americas, Asia and Africa. This course aims to develop a critical understanding of art forms from global cultures. We will examine a range of visual material including painting, sculpture, ceramics, and architecture, from prehistoric times to present. We will also examine the critical debates that frame the study of "non-Western" art.

ARTH 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ARTH 2300. The City as a Work of Art. (HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
The city as a work of art and center of culture. A study of artistic representations combined with references to primary texts. Use of case studies of particular urban centers to explore the rise of the city and the history of urban planning around the globe.

ARTH 2380. A Global History of Contemporary Art. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course maps the trajectories of art and design from the 1970's to the present, paying close attention to: global movements; the terrains of the category called contemporary art; the modes through which globalization affects and challenges this terrain; and the role of art in world politics.

ARTH 2390. US Art and Visual Culture in the 20th Century. (HUMANITIES,CDIVERSITY; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course offers an introduction to US art and visual culture - including architecture, painting, photography, sculpture, advertising, and performance art - from the 20th century, with some additional contextualization from the 19th century. More than simply offering a survey of stylistic changes over time, the class explores the social and political meanings of art. Students will acquire the tools necessary to analyze what art reveals about the nation's values and beliefs. While offering students exposure to a range of issues that are of critical concern to American society, the course will pay particular attention to questions surrounding gender, race, and ideology.

ARTH 2620. History of Photography. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Conceptual and technical evolution of the photographic medium from its inception to the present, with special emphasis upon its development within art, design and new media contexts. pre-req: Art or Art Education major or Studio Art BFA or Graphic Design BFA or Graphic Design & Marketing BFA or Photography minor or instructor consent

ARTH 2892. Independent International Study. (GLOBAL PER; 1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)
An elective course for students traveling abroad with an instructor outside of the United States. Includes art history lectures, site visits, scholarly readings, and assigned writings. Credits may also be granted for travel, research, and/or research and/or internships in/at international museums or at foreign sites. Requires advanced planning and final research paper/project. Credits granted depend upon nature and scope of project. prereq: Instructor consent; this course cannot be substituted for any course in the art history major or minor.

ARTH 2901. History of Graphic Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to the history of graphic design, from the origins of written communication to present. Graduate students complete a substantial research paper or project on a topic in consultation with the instructor. prereq: Graphic Design major or Graphic Design and Marketing Major or Art History major or minor or Studio Art major or Digital Art and Photography minor or Arts in Media minor or instructor consent

ARTH 3110. Art of the Ancient Americas. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

A selective visual introduction to the Americas before the Spanish Conquest, focusing on the form, function, and symbolism of Ancient American art and architecture and its role in the construction and maintenance of political power, religious belief and practice, concepts of space, and bodily performance.

ARTH 3130. Modern and Contemporary Mexican Art. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course focuses on modern and contemporary visual culture of Mexico from approximately 1860 to the present. It examines the dominant art forms of late nineteenth and twentieth century Mexico: these include post-revolutionary muralism and social realism; movements, artists, and visual genre outside of the nationalist traditional; abstraction, surrealism, the international avant-garde, urban planning, photography, print culture, film, performance, and conceptual art.

ARTH 3140. Women in Art/Visual Culture in Latin America. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

This course focuses on representations of women and by women in the art and visual culture of Mexico and other Latin American countries, examining the many ways in which the image of female body in Latin America has been used to construct and typify regional understandings of gender, class, racial, and national identities. Distinguishing between women as subject matter and women as producers of art, we will also look to female artists in the nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first centuries to investigate how they might be engaging with and/or critiquing traditional iconographical representations.

ARTH 3150. Contemporary Global Exhibition. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This class will examine the transformation of art worlds and urban spaces by the development of contemporary global exhibitions, such as various Art Biennales now held around the globe, Art Basel, Documenta, and the Sculpture Projects Munster. In particular, we will examine how such exhibitions, as well as globalization in general, have transformed the way art is created, distributed, and received.

ARTH 3330. Renaissance Art & Architecture: Europe 1300 - 1550.

(HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Explores the art and architecture of Europe between 1300 and 1550. Focuses on issues central to understanding the period: relationship between patrons and artists, the changing status of the artist; the intersection of art and politics; representations of religious beliefs; and critical approaches to the study of artists and their oeuvre.

ARTH 3331. European Architecture and its Legacy. (HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Studies the history of architecture and the built environment in Europe from antiquity through 1800 by focusing on theoretical writings and representative building. In addition, the course will explore theories of spatial analysis and the legacy of western architecture into the present day.

ARTH 3340. Baroque and Rococo: European Art & Architecture 1550 - 1750. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Explores the art and architecture produced in Europe during the Early Modern Period c. 1550 - c. 1750 (periods often referred to as the Baroque and Rococo). Includes study of canonical works and the artists that produced them; analysis of primary and secondary source materials; introduction to art historical methodologies; and consideration of the regional variations of the "baroque."

ARTH 3360. Art and Social Change in Europe, Russia, and the United States. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

What is the relationship between artistic practice and politics? How do artists and their audiences engage with the visual in times of great social change? How do art and visual culture help us to engage with, understand, and change the world? This seminar offers weekly units that offer close examinations of major cultural moments of the modern and contemporary era, and range from the experimental and autonomous to the coercive and fascist. Topics will traverse Europe, Russia, and the United States from the 19th and into the 21st centuries. The exact content of the seminar may vary annually.

ARTH 3361. Being and Becoming Modern: European Art 1855 - 1955. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

This seminar traces a history of art practice from the mid-19th to the mid-20th century across the European continent. It follows key movements and figures of modern art, while emphasizing the social, political, and philosophical events that inform them. Beginning with Realism, and ending at the beginning of the Cold War, this course is bracketed by important questions pertaining to the role of the artist in reflecting upon, critiquing, and influencing national and global culture, writ large. Throughout the term we will also look beyond the limited scope of the fine arts canon to the larger visual cultures that inform and disrupt its boundaries. The exact content of the seminar, including its time period, may vary annually.

ARTH 3370. Dreamworld and Catastrophe: Art and Visual Culture in the Cold War. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

The Cold War marked a period of nearly five-decades of intense ideological, political, and economic division, which impacted all areas of the globe. This course examines art and visual culture across the period's two major world powers to demonstrate both fundamental discords as well as shared preoccupations. More than a study of the traditional geographies of the capitalist West and the communist East, this course offers insight into how the Cold War's globalization reached all areas of the globe, from the African continent to Latin America to Southeast Asia. A particular emphasis will be placed on experimental forms of culture, particularly in the late Cold War era.

ARTH 4330. Methods and Theories of Art History and Visual Studies. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

This seminar, an exit requirement for all Art History majors, introduces major issues of method and critique in the study of art and visual culture. It focuses on understanding disciplinary and critical modes of scholarly inquiry in the visual arts, including the role of historical research. The course emphasizes intensive reading, discussion, and writing. prereq: ARTH 3370 and Art History major

ARTH 4999. Senior Paper Art History. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Students write and/or revise a final paper demonstrating their competency in art historical research and writing. prereq: Major in ArtH with 90 credits, instructor consent, no grad credit

Astronomy (AST)

AST 1040. Introductory Astronomy. (NAT SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Survey of present knowledge of solar system, interstellar space, stars, galaxies, and universe. Historical development of astronomy as a science. Taught in day school and in Individualized Learning Program format.

AST 1050. Native Skywatchers: Indigenous Ethno- and ArchaeoAstronomy.

(CDIVERSITY; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Students are informed about the regional-historical, socio-cultural, philosophical and scientific-technical foundations of Turtle Island (American Indian) Indigenous astronomy in several contextual settings well enough to critically understand, in a conscientized manner, how to approach and address contemporary issues such as star knowledge preservation and transmission protocols, indigenous language and sacred site preservation, light pollution and dark sky preservation, telescope construction ethics and the implications for establishing and maintaining place-based, indigenous education standards in mainstream science at schools, universities, museums and parks.

AST 2050. General Astronomy. (NAT SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)
An algebra-based introduction to astronomy and cosmology with an emphasis on the physical principles underlying astronomical phenomena. Provides a physical and mathematical overview of the solar system, the nature and evolution of stars, galaxies, dark matter and dark energy, the large-scale structure of the Universe, the Big Bang and Inflation. Intended for students majoring in the physical sciences, engineering, or mathematics. pre-req: PHYS 1001 or 2013 or 2017

AST 3091. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed readings and projects on topics not normally covered in other courses. prereq: Instructor consent

AST 3094. Astronomical Research. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Supervised research in the laboratory or other setting prereq: Instructor consent

AST 3100. Astronomy Outreach Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
The principles and operation of planetarium projection and their use in developing planetarium shows with an emphasis on K-12 outreach and education. K-12 science standards will be addressed. pre-req: AST 1040 or 2050

AST 3561. Astrophysics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
The application of physical laws and processes to the understanding of astrophysical objects: celestial mechanics, energy transport, stellar structure and evolution, the interstellar medium, stellar remnants, galactic structure and dynamics, large scale structure and cosmology. prereq: PHYS 2021

AST 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

AST 4110. Observational Astronomy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Applied principles of astronomical observation; review of optical telescopes and mounts; locating and tracking objects; remote telescope operation, CCD, CMOS, and film astrophotography, astrometry, photometry, spectroscopy, astronomical image processing and analysis. prereq: Phys 2015 or 2018 or instructor consent

AST 4400. Astrogeology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

In this astrogeology course we will explore the formation and evolution of celestial bodies in our solar system such as planets and their moons, asteroids, comets, and meteoroids. Topics will include determining internal structure of planetary bodies, dynamical processes, how to read the surface record (geology) of various bodies and leverage that record to understand internal processes and planet evolution, and comparative planetology with the goal to understand first-order cause and effect of planetary dynamics. prereq: (PHYS 2012 or 2015 concurrent registration is required (or allowed) in 2016) or (GEOL 2120 or 2312), minimum 60 credits, (Geological Sciences or Physics major or graduate student) or instructor consent.

Behavioral Sciences (BHSC)

BHSC 5491. University as Change Agent: Extension Approaches to Strengthening Community Wellbeing. (; 1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall)

This online course is a broad introduction to University extension education models that play key roles in the Land Grant University mission to bring communities together to strengthen rural health and vitality. A broad overview of examples from (but not limited to) food systems, forestry, and health and how to work in those content areas with youth, adults, families and communities will be presented. The objective is for students to learn skills that can be applied to strengthening community health systems or to their own field of study. This will be transdisciplinary, connecting students and faculty from different disciplines. Students will leave the course with skills and understanding of extension structure and functions that will serve them in their professional lives. prereq: Undergrad, upper div or grad student, instructor consent

BMS 5001. Introduction to Pharmacology. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Elementary course in pharmacology. Actions and use of drugs in selected health conditions. prereq: 5601 or 3011 or equivalent

BMS 5101. Principles of Neuroscience. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Principles of Neuroscience is an introductory course to general neuroscience that will review the organization and function of the nervous system, from its cellular constituents to circuits and the emerging properties of the brain. The course will start with a description of cell types, ion channels, neurotransmitters and their receptors, and the generation of action potentials. Then, we will review the development of the nervous system and the generation of circuits. Next, we will review each of the senses and how this sensory input is transformed into how we perceive the world. The next section will focus on the motor system, including central motor neurons, relaxes, and motor control in the basal ganglia and cerebellum. The last section will be dedicated to complex functions of the brain, including consciousness, emotion, memory, hemostasis, circadian rhythms, and how genes control behavior. Throughout the course, we will review neurological and psychiatric disorders and discuss the genetic and cellular bases of this perturbation. The course will also include the review of techniques in modern neuroscience and journal club of the review of controversial topics in modern neuroscience. pre-req: PSY 3621, PSY 3061 or BIOL 3100, can be co-enrolled in PSY 3621 or PSY 3061

BMS 5201. Topics in Biochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
In-depth coverage and expansion of selected biochemical principles introduced in introductory undergraduate courses. prereq: Chem 3322 or Chem 4341 or instructor consent

BMS 5202. Cellular and Molecular Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
In-depth coverage of selected topics in cellular and molecular biology. Most topics will have been introduced in undergraduate courses. prereq: Biol 2102 or Biol 5231 or Chem 4342 or instructor consent

BMS 5204. Pharmacology Seminar. (1 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Presentation of selected research problems and current journal articles. prereq: Grad student, instructor consent

BMS 5211. Literature Seminar. (1-2 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Oral presentation of written literature review and research data reflecting student's research interests and thesis research results.

BMS 5292. Readings in Physiology. (1-3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Topics in physiology selected for each student; written reviews prepared and discussed. prereq: instructor consent

BMS 5294. Research in Physiology. (1-15 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Introduction and use of lab techniques and equipment used for research in various subspecialties of physiology, including neurophysiology, cardiovascular physiology, endocrinology, respiratory and transport process, electrophysiology, and renal physiology. prereq: instructor consent

BMS 5501. Neurobiochemistry. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Current concepts on anatomical and compositional properties of brain; membranes and transport; neurotransmission; receptors and signal transduction mechanisms; energy, carbohydrate, protein, lipid, and nucleic acid metabolism; development and diseases of the central nervous system. prereq: Chem 3322 or Chem 4351 or instructor consent

BMS 5545. Immunology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
The immune system including the cells and molecules which work cooperatively to resist disease and aberrations resulting in immune disorders. prereq: department consent

BMS 5546. Immunopathology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

A rigorous analysis of the immune-defense mechanisms in disease processes, including infection, inflammation and autoimmune disorders utilizing the Problem-Based Learning method to address the selected content and to study current technical literature. prereq: 5545, instructor consent

BMS 5555. Molecular Pathogenesis: Current Concepts. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Study of current discoveries in microbial pathogenesis and the molecular techniques used in elucidating pathogenic mechanisms of viral, bacterial and parasitic agents. A survey of current literature related to human infectious disease including malignant transformation. prereq: Biol 2201 or equivalent, Biol 4501 or equivalent or instructor consent

BMS 5591. Problems in Medical Microbiology and Immunology. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Independent study on tutorial basis. Emphasis on basic and clinical microbiology problems, including immunology. Investigative work and appropriate reading arranged with tutorials consistent with interests and capabilities of individual students. prereq: Open to med students or qualified upper division and grad students with instructor consent

BMS 5601. Grand Challenges in Physiology. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
In dept examination of current physiological problems involving the major mammalian organ systems, integrating knowledge from the molecular to system level. prereq: BIOL 3703 or BIOL 3772 or EXSC 3400 or equivalent or graduate student or instructor consent

BMS 5602. Physiology of Organ Systems II. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Advanced study of organ system functions in context of interaction of organism with environment. prereq: 5601 or instructor consent

BMS 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Biology (BIOL)

BIOL 1001. Biology and Society. (NAT SCI,SUSTAIN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course covers basic biology as it pertains to contemporary issues. Biology coverage includes cell biology, genetics, evolution and ecology. In addition to helping students understand biology, students will learn to more critically evaluate science that is presented in the media. (3 hrs lect, 2 hrs lab) prereq: For nonmajors

BIOL 1011. General Biology I. (NAT SCI; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Fundamental concepts of biology, including chemical basis of life, cell structure and function, energy transformations, photosynthesis, cellular respiration, genetics, molecular biology, DNA technology, development, origin of life, and evolution. (4 hrs lect, 2.5 hrs lab) prereq: 1 yr high school Chem or 1 semester college Chem, Math ACT 21 or higher or MATH 1005 or higher; credit will not be granted if already received for BIOL 1013

BIOL 1012. General Biology II. (SUSTAIN; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Fundamental concepts of biology, including classification and diversity of life, anatomy, physiology, and development of prokaryotes, protists, fungi, animals, and plants; behavior; population, community, and ecosystem ecology. (4 hrs lect, 2.5 hrs lab) prereq: A grade of C- or better in 1011

BIOL 1170. Human Biology. (NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course offers an exploration of biological principles through the study of the structure, function, and heredity of the human body. Primarily we will cover basic cell structure, gene expression, organ systems, basic principles of heredity and inheritance of human traits. To understand these topics the fundamental concepts and principles of chemistry will be included. Through this course students with a basic science background will be able to expand their understanding of biology. Students will actively learn concepts with the laboratory component.

BIOL 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

BIOL 2001. Our Food: Science and Production. (NAT SCI,SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will examine 3 large aspects of the food we eat: food science, human nutrition, and agricultural production methods. We will look at the main components of food, and how manipulation of food molecules creates different flavors, textures, and structures. We will then focus on the relative nutritional value of different foods and their effects on the human body, including illnesses related to poor nutrition. Finally, we will explore modern agricultural practices and discuss ways to enhance stability and sustainability in our food supply. pre-req: minimum 30 credits

BIOL 2095. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; Student Option; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Special topics in Biology

BIOL 2102. Cell Biology Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Writing intensive course using contemporary cell biology research techniques, hypothesis testing and communication of results. prereq: A grade of C- or better in both 1011 and 1012 or 1013, concurrent registration is allowed for 3100 or 2110

BIOL 2110. Cell and Molecular Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to the basic principles of the structure and function of cells including protein and nucleic acids, and the molecular basis of gene expression including transcription, translation and regulation in both prokaryotes and eukaryotes. pre-req: BIOL 2201 with a grade of C- or better; credit will not be granted if already received for BIOL 2101 or 3100.

BIOL 2201. Genetics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Basic principles of Mendelian inheritance, molecular genetics, chromosomal aberrations, and population genetics. (3 hrs lect) prereq: A grade of C- or better in both 1011 and 1012, CHEM 1114 or CHEM 1155 or CHEM 1175, pre or co req; may be taken without lab BIOL 2202

BIOL 2202. Genetics Laboratory. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Writing intensive course that uses an array of experimental approaches to gain understanding of the principles of genetics. prereq: A grade of C- or better in 1011, 1012 and 2201 (concurrent registration is allowed for 2201)

BIOL 2410. Ecology and Evolution. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to Darwinian biology and the complexity and connections of life. Topics include: genes in populations; natural selection, molecular and macroevolution, foundation ecological principles, ecological interactions, population and community ecology. pre-req: BIOL 2201 with a grade of C- or better; credit will not be granted if already received for BIOL 3802 or 4801 or 4802

BIOL 2571. Microbiology for Human Health. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course will introduce students to the microbiological issues they will face as health care professionals. We will cover the basic science of microorganisms primarily bacteria, viruses, and fungi. We will examine the impacts of these microbes on patient health, of microbial infections, modes of preventative care, and how the human immune response protects the body against infection and disease. This course cannot be used for upper division credit for BA or BS majors in the Biology Department. 3 hours lecture and 2 hours lab pre-req: BIOL 1011 and 1012; credit will not be granted if already received for BIOL 3502 or 4501; This course cannot be used for Biology majors to fulfill biology elective credit except in the Biology BA Human Biology track.

BIOL 2801. General Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Relationships between life and environment for individuals, populations, communities, and ecosystems; surveys of environmental factors and biomes. May be taken without lab 2802. (3 hrs lect) prereq: A grade of C- or better in both 1011 and 1012; may be taken without lab BIOL 2802

BIOL 2802. Ecology Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Writing-intensive course that introduces sampling, data analysis and interpretation, hypothesis testing, ethical considerations in scientific practice. Includes field studies (4 hrs lab) prereq: A grade of C- or better in 1011, 1012 and 2801, concurrent enrollment is allowed in 2801.

BIOL 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

BIOL 3011. Writing for the Duluth Journal of Undergraduate Biology. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course is for the contributors and editors of the Duluth Journal of Undergraduate Biology. Students in this course produce, edit, and peer review manuscripts to be considered for publication in the Duluth Journal of Undergraduate Biology. The course will include the study and practice of writing tasks in science, as well as making scientific posters and oral presentations. Students will explore rhetorical situations in professional practice, research methods, document design, editing, effective collaboration, and ethical issues in the production of professional documents. pre-req: BIOL 1012 and BIOL 1011 or 1013, minimum 60 credits and instructor consent

BIOL 3094. Experimental Biology. (2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Students taking this course will be able to get hands-on experiences with research techniques. Importantly, this will give students not able to join a research laboratory the opportunity to do original research. In this course, students will be able to build more advanced research techniques that are not accessible in more conventional laboratory courses. Along with gaining advanced research techniques, students will improve their ability to find and interpret relevant primary research articles, as well as improve their science presentation skills through writing and oral presentations. Students will typically work in small groups to test a hypothesis, and so this course will also provide experience in working as part of a scientific team. pre-req: BIOL 2102 or 2202

BIOL 3100. Cell Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Structure and function of prokaryotic and eukaryotic cells. Topics include membranes and membrane trafficking, cytoskeleton, signal transduction, cell cycle regulation and experimental methods used in cell studies. Examples will come from all phyla of life. (3 hrs lect) pre-req: A grade of C- or better in BIOL 1011 or 1013, 2201, CHEM 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1176; may be taken without lab BIOL 2102; credit will not be granted if already received for BIOL 2101

BIOL 3101. Molecular Biology of Cancer. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Overview of mechanisms underlying the development of human cancer. Topics include intracellular signaling systems including oncogenes and tumor suppressors, cell cycle, tumorigenesis, multi-step carcinogenesis, invasion and metastasis and genetic instability in cancer. The detection and modern treatment of cancer will also be discussed. prereq: 2101 or 2110 or 3100

BIOL 3102. Cell Biology of Human Disease. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Even Year)

Topics in human cellular biology as related to human diseases. A focus on learning to read primary literature and critically analyze and communicate scientific ideas. prereq: 2101 or 2110 or 3100

BIOL 3103. Biology of Aging. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Even Year)
This course will examine the cellular, genetic and physiological basis of aging including the evolution of lifespan in organisms including plants, worms, animals and humans. The course will also discuss current therapies of age-related disorders. Emphasis of reading and analysis of the primary literature. pre-req: BIOL 3100 or 2101 or 2110

BIOL 3301. Patterning the Embryo. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Important topics in developmental biology from the historical literature up to recent presentations with focus on learning how to read and critically analyze primary literature, and how to communicate ideas in written and oral scientific presentations. prereq: 1011, 1012, Min 60 cr

BIOL 3401. Evolution. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Origin, history, opposition, and evidence supporting evolutionary ideas. Basic concepts: origin of life, phylogeny, biological history, mechanisms of evolutionary change, population genetics, speciation, tempo of evolution, macroevolution, extinction, biogeography, evolution of social systems, altruism. (3 hours lecture) prereq: A grade of C- or better in all of the following Biology courses 1011, 1012, 2201 or IBS Grad student; credit will not be granted if already received for 3802, 4801 or 4802

BIOL 3402. Evolution in the news. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This one credit course is designed to be taken concurrently with or after having completed Evolution BIO1 3401. This companion to the core Evolution course will provide opportunities for students to read and discuss the primary literature in evolutionary biology that is ripped from the headlines of leading journals or has received attention in the popular press. pre-req: BIOL 3401 previous or concurrent

BIOL 3502. General Microbiology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Morphology of microorganisms; growth; environmental and physiological types; physical and chemical control; taxonomy; viruses; genetics of bacteria; practical applications, including medical, water, soil, and food microbiology. (2 hrs lect, 4 hrs lab) prereq: BIOL 2201 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 3512. Biology of HIV and AIDS. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
A comprehensive overview of the current AIDS pandemic ranging from molecular and biomedical aspects to societal and psychological aspects. Molecular biology of HIV, the immune system's response, diagnosis, prevention, treatment, and social implications will be discussed. prereq: 1012; credit will not be granted if already received for BIOL 2512

BIOL 3601. Plant Diversity. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Evolutionary survey of plants, focusing on diversity of life histories and patterns of organization. Fossil and extant groups, including algae, fungi and nonvascular and vascular land plants. (2 hours lecture, 3 hours lab, field trip) prereq: 1012

BIOL 3603. Plant Taxonomy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to taxonomy of vascular plants, emphasizing seed plants; representative families; terminology; literature; use of keys. (2 hrs lect, 2 hrs lab) prereq: 1012

BIOL 3701. Animal Diversity. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Survey of major animal phyla, focusing on phylogeny, anatomy, physiology, and ontogeny. (2 hrs lect, 4 hrs lab) prereq: 1012

BIOL 3703. Animal Physiology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Examination of principles, patterns, and mechanisms of biological function from the level of cells and tissues to the whole animal. Primary focus on comparative vertebrate physiology. (2 hours lecture, 2 hours lab) prereq: 1011, 1012, one semester college chemistry

BIOL 3760. Marine Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

A multidisciplinary approach will be used to explore the diverse ecosystems of the marine realm. Emphasis will be on the ecological and physiological adaptations that have allowed animals to colonize habitats ranging from the intertidal zone to the abyss. prereq: 1011, 1012

BIOL 3761. Field Studies in Marine Biology. (4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Introduction to the marine environment by visiting either US i.e. Friday Harbor, WAS or MBL, Woods Hole, MA) or International (i.e. Leigh, New Zealand) marine lab and conducting both laboratory and field research. Topics include ecology, animal physiology, animal behavior, ichthyology and fisheries biology. Lectures will precede daily field trips where students will make in situ measurements and/or bring specimens back to the laboratory for study. prereq: 1011 or instructor consent; Course may only be repeated if location is different.

BIOL 3763. The Biology of Gender. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)

This course examines the ways in which biology and biological processes contribute to maleness, femaleness, and other ness in humans. The course will focus on current and historical scientific literature to explore the myriad ways that chemistry, genetics, anatomy, physiology, and evolution play roles in the expression of sex and gender in many species (including humans). pre-req: BIOL 1012

BIOL 3771. Human Anatomy. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Human anatomical form and function. Lectures cover the structure and function of the major body systems. Topics include tissue types, organs, and organ systems, including the integumentary, skeletal, articular, muscular, nervous, respiratory, digestive, cardiovascular, urinary and reproductive systems in the context of the science of biology. The lecture material is reinforced through observations of microscope slides, anatomical models and charts, and the dissection of a cat and sheep organs and observations of human cadavers. Suitable for biology majors/minors and pre-professional students interested in entering health related professions. Provides (2hrs lect, 4hrs lab). prereq: 1011, 1012; credit will not be granted if already received for 1761 or 2769

BIOL 3772. Human Physiology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Integrative study of major human organ systems including cardiovascular, muscle, respiratory, gastrointestinal, renal physiology and quantitative aspects of physiology. Examination of principles, patterns, and mechanisms regulating and maintaining homeostasis in normal human physiological processes from the level of cells and tissues to the whole animal. Suitable for biology majors and pre-professional students interested in entering health related professions. (3 hrs lecture, 3 hrs lab) pre-req: C- or better in BIOL 3771 or 2769, CHEM 1114 or 1155 or 1175 or equivalent full year of college chemistry, MATH 1250 or above.

BIOL 3830. Aquatic Food Webs. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Classic and modern topics in aquatic food web ecology including biogeography, predator-prey interactions, competition, life-history strategies, and energy flow. Emphasis on phytoplankton, zooplankton, fish, and macroinvertebrates. Instruction includes lectures, field and laboratory exercises, and reading and discussion. prereq: 1012

BIOL 3835. Freshwater Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Exploration of freshwater habitats and their biological diversity with emphasis on how human behavior is affecting those habitats and biodiversity. prereq: 2801 or concurrent

BIOL 3987. Communication in Biology. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Develop professional oral communication skills through the attendance and evaluation of biological science public seminars, the construction and presentation of a professional public seminar, and the introduction of a student seminar speaker. prereq: Minimum 90 credits, Biology or Cell and Molecular Biology major; credit will not be granted if already received for 3997 AND 3998

BIOL 3990. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (1-5 cr. ; Student Option; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Specific topics submitted for biology department review. Topic announced before course offered. prereq: 1012

BIOL 3993. Laboratory Teaching

Experience. (1-2 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Participation in teaching biology lab courses: help set up labs, participate in teaching of labs, and share in instruction of review labs. prereq: instructor consent required, biol or cell biol major, 90 cr incl 25 cr Biol; max 2 cr may be applied toward Biol major

BIOL 3994. Undergraduate Research. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced independent work in special fields. prereq: A grade of C or better in both 1011 and 1012, 60 cr, department consent required; max 4 cr may be applied to biol or cell biol major as upper div elective

BIOL 3996. Internship in Biology. (1-2 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Credit given for professional work experience outside an academic department. Requires prior department approval and coordination with faculty sponsor. prereq: A grade of C- or better in both 1011 and 1012, department consent required; max 1 cr may be applied to biol or cell biol major

BIOL 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct EquivalentBIOL 4199. Frontiers in Cell Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Analysis and discussion of current literature and topics. prereq: 2201 and 3100; credit will not be granted if already received for 5199

BIOL 4201. Leverage bioinformatic tools to manage big data and answer primary biology questions. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Biology has moved into a new era of big data, especially in the field of genomics. This course will introduce basic principles of bioinformatics and how to apply bioinformatic tools to process large genomic datasets. This course will emphasize how to evaluate currently available software, implement software, build pipelines for analysis, interpret outputs, apply statistics and finally produce publication appropriate figures. pre-req: BIOL 2201, no grad credit

BIOL 4231. Molecular Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Contemporary molecular biology techniques, linkage analysis, mutation, DNA repair and recombination, genetics of viruses and bacteria, transposable genetic elements, genetics of mitochondria and chloroplasts, genomics, genetic control of animal development and the vertebrate immune system. (3 hours lecture) prereq: BIOL 2201, BIOL 2101 or 3100, CHEM 3322 or CHEM 4351 (concurrent registration is allow for CHEM 3322) or IBS Grad student; credit will not be granted if already received for 5231

BIOL 4232. Molecular Biology Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Regulation of gene expression in prokaryote and eukaryotes explored through use of recombinant DNA technologies. prereq: 4231 or 4231 (concurrent enrollment is allowed), CHEM 3322 or Biochemistry and Molecular Biology or IBS Grad student; credit will not be granted if already received for 5232

BIOL 4361. Developmental Biology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Molecular and cellular mechanisms of development, emphasizing animal systems and including cell cycle, gametogenesis, fertilization, morphogenetic movements, differentiation of cell types, cell-cell interactions, pattern formation, gene expression, organogenesis, metamorphosis, regeneration, and aging. (2 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2201 and (2101 or 2110 or 3100) or IBS Grad student; credit will not be granted if already received for 5361

BIOL 4504. Biology of SARS-CoV-2 and COVID 19. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

In-depth analysis of the COVID-19 pandemic including the following: molecular analysis of the causative agent SARS-CoV-2, clinical courses and epidemiology of the disease, population prevention and treatment of COVID-19, modeling and international health regulations regarding the pandemic, and comparisons of how different countries have addressed the pandemic. pre-req: BIOL 2110 or 3100

BIOL 4511. Medical Microbiology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Overview of the dynamic relationships between human hosts and pathogenic microbes. Topics include the human immune system, antimicrobial therapy, pathogenic bacteria, viruses, and pathogenic eukaryotic species. prereq: 3502 or 4501

BIOL 4512. Medical Microbiology

Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Course examines the basic principles of diagnostic medical microbiology, particularly related to infectious diseases of bacteria, fungi, and protozoan parasites. Relevant clinical examples are provided and will be examined both as case studies and as hands-on laboratory exercises. Skills acquired will include diagnostic skills, interpretation of laboratory tests relevant for infectious diseases, mastering of sterile technique, and development of problem-solving skills to identify etiological agents of disease. Requires previous completion or concurrent enrollment in BIOL 4511. pre-req: BIOL 3502 and previous or co-req BIOL 4511

BIOL 4604. Plant Physiology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Mechanisms underlying plant function, growth and development: metabolism, water relations, mineral nutrition, transport, internal and external regulators of growth and development, stress physiology, biotechnology. Lab exercises evaluate physiological processes that enable plants to grow under varied conditions found in nature, such as water relations, mineral nutrition, metabolism, growth and development. prereq: 2201 and 1 year college chemistry or IBS grad student

BIOL 4731. Entomology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Structure, life history, ecology, classification, evolution, principles of control, and significance of insects in our society. Field collections. (2 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab and field) prereq: 1012 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 4761. Ichthyology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Physiologic, taxonomic, ecologic, economic, and behavioral aspects of fishes. Lab emphasis on fishes of Great Lakes region, including field conducted independent study. (2 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab, field) prereq: 2801 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 4763. Ornithology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Lab and field identification of birds, their migration and habitats; biological, taxonomic, and economic considerations. (2 hours lecture, 2 hours lab and field) prereq: 2801 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 4764. Mammalogy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Origin, taxonomy, distribution, physiology, ecology and behavior of mammals. Laboratory and fieldwork includes collection, preparation and identification of Minnesota species. (2 hrs lecture, 3 hours lab, field) prereq: 2801 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 4804. Methods in Forest Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Project based course that delves into methods for studying plant populations, succession, demographics and forest stand dynamics. Large portion of the class is field-based and will involve surveying vegetation, establishing and monitoring long-term plots and developing a management plan for selected field sites. Course will have two 50-minute lectures and a two-hour lab each week. pre-req: BIOL 2801 or IBS graduate student

BIOL 4818. Biotic Response to Climate

Change. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring) Many species are already responding to climate change, as evidenced by earlier budburst, flowering, and arrival of insect and bird pollinators. In only a few cases can we distinguish between phenotypic responses to longer growing seasons and warmer temperatures (plasticity) and evolutionary change in response to altered patterns of natural selection. Climate change will pose strong evolutionary challenges to native populations. In this course we will explore the fundamental response of the biota to these changes" extinction, migration, and adaptation. prereq: Biol 2201, no grad credit

BIOL 4839. Coral Reef Field Studies.

(GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Field study on San Salvador, Bahamas focusing on the biological and geological studies of the coral reef complex and associated habitats of the Caribbean. We will examine the ecology and taxonomy of associated biota as well as the physical, chemical and sedimentary processes in coral reef environments. prereq: BIOL 1011 and 1012 or GEOL 1110 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 4850. Food and Humans. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

In this course we will examine the evolutionary genetics underlying the process of plant and animal domestication, and the evolution of weeds and insect pests in the new environment provided by human-initiated agriculture. Classical readings on the origin of agriculture and agricultural pests (weeds and insects) and the latest findings in this constantly changing field will be examined. Students will learn key concepts regarding the response of plants and animals to natural and artificial selection, and the application of population genetics, phylogenetics, quantitative genetics, and genetic mapping to major questions in agricultural genetics. Past and current challenges in agricultural productivity and sustainability will be addressed throughout the course. prereq: 2201, 3401 or IBS graduate student

BIOL 4861. Lake Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course offers a hands-on introduction to the ecology of lake ecosystems with a focus on lakes of the temperate and boreal regions, particularly Minnesota. We explore how factors including temperature, light, water chemistry, water motion, nutrients, and organisms interact in aquatic environments to determine the distribution, abundance, and behavior of aquatic biota. Laboratory exercises reinforce and expand on lecture materials and include the identification of fish, zooplankton, benthos, and phytoplankton as well as field excursion to area lakes. pre-req: BIOL 2801, no grad credit

BIOL 4863. Ecosystems Ecology and Biogeochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Ecosystems ecology is the integrated study of the flows of materials and energy through ecosystems, which includes both the living (biotic) and non-living (abiotic) components. Biogeochemistry is a major subfield of ecosystems ecology, and deals with the cycling of nutrients through ecosystems. In this class, we will discuss the integration of ecosystems and biogeochemistry in terrestrial environments, specifically focusing on how human activities influence ecological systems and vice versa. It is my hope that you walk away from this course with a better understanding of how large environmental issues such as climate change and invasive species affect ecological systems. pre-req: BIOL 2801, CHEM 1153 or CHEM 1173 or instructor consent; no grad credit

BIOL 4891. Animal Behavior. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Known behavior of various vertebrate and invertebrate phyla, emphasizing adaptive significance and the genetics and ontogeny of behavioral patterns. Mating, aggressive, nutritive, and nurturing behavior and relation to ecology of animal populations. (2 hrs lect) prereq: BIOL 2410 or 2801 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 4992. Senior Seminar: Classic Readings in Natural History. (1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Spring)

Readings and discussion of the classics of natural history writing from authors such as Charles Darwin, Charles Lyell, John Wesley Powell, Peter Freuchen, Rachel Carson, Paul Errington, and E.O. Wilson, among others. prereq: Seniors who have declared a natural history minor, no grad credit

BIOL 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

BIOL 5001. Teaching and Learning in the Life Sciences. (1 cr. ; S-N only; Every Spring)
Exploration of learning theory and educational practices designed to help develop skills in the classroom. Topics will include: learning styles, classroom management, assessment, active and cooperative learning, and educational technology. prereq: grad student or prior teaching experience; instructor consent

BIOL 5201. Leverage bioinformatic tools to manage big data and answer primary biology questions. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Biology has moved into a new era of big data, especially in the field of genomics. This course will introduce basic principles of bioinformatics and how to apply bioinformatic tools to process large genomic datasets. This course will emphasize how to evaluate currently available software, implement software, build pipelines for analysis, interpret outputs, apply statistics and finally produce publication appropriate figures. pre-req: BIOL 2201 or grad student

BIOL 5240. Ecological Genetics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Examines basic concepts in population and quantitative genetics. Focus is on techniques that reveal the genetic structure and adaptive value of ecologically important traits. This course has two 50 minute lectures and one 2-hour laboratory per week., prereq: 1012, 2201, Stat 1411 or IBS grad student

BIOL 5511. Virology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Viruses and hosts; effects of viral infections on cells; expression of viral genome in procaryotic and eucaryotic cells; epidemiology and pathogenesis of viruses, including emerging ones; viral evolution. (2 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 3502 or 4501, or IBS Grad student or instructor consent

BIOL 5515. Microbial Diversity and Phylogeny. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall)
Evolutionary survey and characteristics of microorganisms focusing on autotrophic and heterotrophic prokaryotes from various habitats. Isolation, examination, and identification of bacteria from field collections using microscopic, physiological, biochemical, molecular, phylogenetic, and computer database techniques. (2 hours lecture and 2 hours lab) prereq: 2101 or 3100 or 3502 or 4501 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5604. Plant Physiology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Mechanisms underlying plant function, growth and development: metabolism, water relations, mineral nutrition, transport, internal and external regulators of growth and development, stress physiology, biotechnology. Lab exercises evaluate physiological processes that enable plants to grow under varied conditions found in nature, such as water relations, mineral nutrition, metabolism, growth and development. pre-req: BIOL 2201 or IBS grad

BIOL 5772. Neural Systems and Behavior. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Review of the basic neurophysiological components of animal behavior. Emphasis will be on well-studied neuroethological models such as weakly electric fish, bats, owls and crayfish. prereq: 1012, 3703 or IBS Grad student or instructor consent

BIOL 5801. Microbial Ecology. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Microorganisms in natural environments: diversity, distribution, energetics, and growth of heterotrophic and autotrophic microbes in oxic and anoxic habitats. Roles of microbial populations and communities in biogeochemical cycling, ecosystem functioning, landscapes, and industrial, agricultural, and environmental applications. prereq: (2101 or 3100) and (2801 or 3502 or 4501), or WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5805. Fisheries Ecology and Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Lectures, readings and computer exercises relating to current issues in fisheries ecology. Computer exercises will emphasize techniques used by scientists working in the field and prepare the student for the use of quantitative research tools for independent research. Includes 2 one-hour lectures and 1 three-hour lab weekly. prereq: 2801, 2802, college-level course in statistics or WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5807. Mathematical Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)
Development and use of mathematical models to describe ecological patterns and processes. prereq: (2801, (Math 1290 or Math 1297)) or WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5808. Landscape Ecology: Theory and Application. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Key issues in landscape ecology including scale, measuring landscape patterns, mechanisms shaping landscapes, implications of landscape patterns on plant and animal populations, communities, and ecosystems, and implementing landscape principles for natural resource management. prereq: 2801, 2802 or WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5809. Ecological Statistics. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Directed toward graduate students with previous introductory statistical experience, this class covers common statistical methods used in ecology. The class includes classroom and computer lab components (using the R statistical computing environment) and provides students with the practical experience necessary to make decisions regarding the treatment and analysis of data, interpretation of statistical analyses and the presentation of study results. This course has one 2-hour lecture and one 2-hour laboratory per week. pre-req: IBS or WRS grad student or instructor consent

BIOL 5818. Biotic Response to Climate Change. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Many spaces are already responding to climate change, as evidenced by earlier budburst, flowering, and arrival of insects and bird pollinators. In only a few cases can we distinguish between phenotypic responses to longer growing seasons and warmer temperatures (plasticity) and evolutionary change in response to altered patterns of natural selection. Climate change will pose strong evolutionary challenges to native populations. In this course, we will explore the fundamental response of the biota to these changes: extinction, migration, and adaptation. pre-req: grad student

BIOL 5833. Stream Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)
Studies of stream communities and ecosystems as influenced by biological interactions and physical factors. Emphasis on North Shore streams. (2 hrs lect, 6 hrs lab and field) prereq: 2801 or WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5861. Lake Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course offers a hands-on introduction to the ecology of lake ecosystems with a focus on lakes of the temperate and boreal regions, particularly Minnesota. We explore how factors including temperature, light, water chemistry, water motion, nutrients, and organisms interact in aquatic environments to determine the distribution, abundance, and behavior of aquatic biota. Laboratory exercises reinforce and expand on lecture materials and include the identification of fish, zooplankton, benthos, and phytoplankton as well as field excursions to area lakes. prereq: WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5863. Ecosystems Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Ecosystems ecology is the integrated study of the flows of materials and energy through ecosystems, which includes both the living (biotic) and non-living (abiotic) components. Biogeochemistry is a major subfield of ecosystems ecology, and deals with the cycling of nutrients through ecosystems. In this class, we will discuss the integration of ecosystems and biogeochemistry in terrestrial environments, specifically focusing on how human activities influence ecological systems and vice versa. It is my hope that you walk away from this course with a better understanding of how large environmental issues such as climate change and invasive species affect ecological systems. pre-req: BIOL 2801, CHEM 1153 or CHEM 1173 or graduate student

BIOL 5865. Conservation Biology. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Introduction to science of species, habitat, and ecosystem conservation and management. prereq: 2801 or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5870. Wetland Ecology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)
Hydrology, nutrient cycling, and productivity of wetland ecosystems and the adaptations and interactions of resident biota; assessment, management, conservation, restoration, and creation of wetlands. Two daylong weekend field trips required. prereq: 2801, 2802 or WRS or IBS Grad student

BIOL 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Botany (BOT)

BOT 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

BUS 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

BUS 2100. Fundamentals of Accounting. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to financial and managerial accounting. Basic financial statement preparation. Basic decision making by managers using financial information. prereq: CUE major or or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or Museum Studies Certificate or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2200. Fundamentals of Economics. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
The course will provide a general description of the U.S. economy and an introduction to the framework used by economists to analyze economic issues. prereq: CUE major or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2300. Fundamentals of Operations Management. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introductory survey of production and operations as a functional area of management, including operations strategy and sustainability; manufacturing and service process design; project management; global supply chain, capacity and inventory management. Current industry best practices, such as lean six-sigma will also be discussed. prereq: CUE major or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2400. Fundamentals of Organizational Management. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course presents students with a broad introduction to management processes and the complex world of managing in today's business environment. Topics include what managers do and skills they must possess to achieve organizational objectives, the management functions of planning, organizing, leading, and controlling and organizational dynamics such as globalization, social responsibility, and change. prereq: CUE major or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or Museum Studies Certificate or pre-Civil Engineering or Civil Engineering major or Resilient Precast Concrete Engineering Certificate student or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2500. Fundamentals of Applied Statistics. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course introduces students to the fundamental of modern business statistics. Emphasis is on application of the statistical concepts to decision making in an uncertain environment. Topics include summary statistics, probability distributions and statistical inference. which includes estimation, hypothesis testing and regression analysis. The application of computers in statistical analysis is introduced. prereq: CUE major or Business Administration Certificate or BTAG or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2600. Fundamentals of Financial Management. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
The objective of this course is to help the student to develop an understanding of the concepts and techniques of financial management in the modern business enterprise. Evaluation of the financial risks, returns, and costs is the necessary framework in which all business policies must be examined. Students are expected to have a basic understanding of the concepts and methods of financial management by the completion of this course. Specific topics of coverage include financial statement analysis, time value of money, risk and return, the valuation of equity and bonds, capital budgeting and the cost of capital analysis. Moreover, the course also serves as a foundation for advanced work in finance. prereq: CUE major or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2700. Fundamentals of Marketing. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course introduces students to the discipline of marketing as it is practiced by organizations. Emphasis is on understanding how to best serve the consumer needs utilizing the most appropriate value proposition. The four P's of marketing (product, place, price, and promotion) are introduced in the context of a globally competitive environment. prereq: CUE major or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or Museum Studies Certificate or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BUS 2800. Fundamentals of Human Resource Management. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course introduces students to the field of Human Resource Management (HRM). Course materials and assignments are designed to help students understand why organizations have an HRM function, what are the primary functional areas of HRM, how a well-developed HRM system can benefit organizations, and the respective roles of line managers, employees, and HRM professional in carrying out good HRM policies and practices. prereq: CUE major or BTAG or Business Administration Certificate or college consent; this course cannot be used to fulfill a LSBE major/minor requirement.

BA 4410. Data Visualization. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Data visualization is the art and science of presenting data effectively in order to facilitate knowledge sharing and decision making. How to present and visualize data is an important skill for business professions to develop. This course will teach the principles and techniques that empower students to understand and interpret data, as well as make effective decisions based on data. Students will learn the benefits of effective data presentation and visualization, understand the principles and methods of visualization, and apply the principles using popular data visualization technologies. pre-req: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201, LSBE candidate or Business Analytics minor, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for MIS 3231

BA 4420. Data Analytics for Managerial Decision Making. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course introduces the basic elements of business analytics and how to analytically think about data and its role in business. The goal of the course is to provide students with the toolset and capabilities as they analyze data to ask the right questions that matter to businesses and help solve business problems.

Topics include data preprocessing, exploratory data analysis (EDA), predictive analytics, modeling and model evaluation. The course is designed to trigger passion for analytics, develop data-analytic thinking demonstrate how analytics matter in different business domains, illustrate real-world examples in different business contexts while working hands-on using data analytics is as such an art as it is a science. pre-req: MIS 2201, ECON 2030, LSBE candidate or Business Analytics minor, no grad credit. Credit will not be granted if already received for MIS 3241, MIS 4241, CIA 3760 or CIA 4761 or CIA 5761

BA 4440. Spreadsheet Modeling and Decision Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course is a practical introduction to mathematical spreadsheet models with an emphasis on predictive and prescriptive analytics for making business decisions. Concepts covered include data exploration and slicing and dicing data using spreadsheets, optimization, sensitivity analysis, network modeling, simulation, regression, decision analysis, cluster analysis, and time series forecasting. Students are expected to communicate insights from the analysis in written and oral formats appropriate for a general audience. pre-req: MIS 2201, ECON 3020, LSBE candidate or Business Analytics minor or instructor approval, no grad credit

BA 4460. Big Data Analytics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course is a practical introduction to managing big data in the enterprise and covers aspects of technology infrastructure, data warehousing and structuring data for use in the organization. Using state-of-the-art open source big data ecosystems and cloud resources for data acquisition, extraction, cleansing, transformation and loading, the course demonstrates how the ecosystem integrates with other analytic tools to provide solutions for practical use cases. pre-req: MIS 3220 or equivalent, LSBE candidate or Business Analytics minor or instructor consent, no grad credit

BA 4490. Business Analytics Capstone. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course is a corporate practicum in the development and delivery of business analysis for strategic decision making in organizations. It involves the application of the principles and tools of business analytics to real-world problems in a business domain. The final deliverable is the development and presentation of analytical insights and recommendations. pre-req: MIS 3220, ECON 3020, BA 4410, BA 4420, BA 4440 or 4460 or a Group C course taken concurrently, LSBE candidate, no grad credit

BA 4497. Business Analytics Internship. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Work-integrated learning program providing practical experiences within the student's major field. Students participate in approved business analytics internship within an organization while completing the internship course alongside the experience. pre-req: LSBE candidate, consent of Internship Director, two of the following courses: MIS 3220, BA 4410, 5410, 4420, 5420, 4440, 4460

Chemical Engineering (CHE)

CHE 1011. Introduction to Chemical Engineering.. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Investigation of chemical engineering careers. Use of science and mathematics in chemical engineering. Introduction to fundamental topics: process flow diagrams, continuous and batch operations, material and energy balances, fluid flow, heat and mass transfer, reactor design, material science, process control, engineering economics. Group dynamics and ethics. Team project on industrial case study. prereq: Pre or coreq Chem 1153 and 1154 or Chem 1161 and Math 1296 or Math 1596

CHE 1090. Chocolate in Trinidad - A Short Term Study Abroad Program. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Production of chocolate from the starting raw materials collected from a cocoa tree plantation, sugar cane plantation, and milk from dairy farm. Follow progress from raw agricultural products to finished chocolate using the unit operation concepts of fermentation, air drying, roasting, grinding, winnowing, refining, conching, tempering, flavoring, and molding. Complete class having produced real chocolate from the basic raw materials. This class will also explore the impact and meaning that chocolate has had on cultures around the world. Historical perspectives will include readings about Olmec and Aztec civilizations, Colonization, Industrial revolution, Globalization and Commodification, and the environmental/labor focused Direct Trade production. Cultural perspectives will include how different groups of people have experienced chocolate from religious, medicinal, political, and gender/labor based perspectives. Technological perspectives will look at the various practices associated with raw material production (farming), trade and transportation, refining as a drink and as a luxury commodity, and onto mass production. Course will also explore the impact of current trends on the future of chocolate, including climate change, demographic shifts in raw material producers, and new consumer attitudes for socially responsible and sustainable consumption. prereq: Instructor consent

CHE 2001. Introduction to Environmental Engineering. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Comprehensive survey of environmental engineering. Fundamental science and engineering principles as basis for analyzing environmental issues. Federal laws on air pollution, wastewater discharge, and hazardous waste. Wastewater treatment, air pollution control, waste minimization, resource recovery, and recycling. prereq: Chem 1113 or higher, Math 1250 or higher

CHE 2011. Design of Engineering Experiments. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Basic theories of experimental design, data analysis, and statistical process control, emphasizing their application to chemical engineering practice. prereq: Math 1297 and (prereq or coreq 2111 or 2211)

CHE 2111. Material and Energy Balances. ( ; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Elementary principles of chemical processes, emphasizing material and energy balances. prereq: Chem 1151 or 1161 or 1153 and 1154, Math 1296 or 1596 minimum grade of C

CHE 2121. Chemical Engineering Thermodynamics. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Application of thermodynamic principles to chemical engineering, emphasizing pressure-volume-temperature relationships, thermodynamic laws, thermochemistry, chemical equilibrium, and phase relationships. prereq: 2111 or 2211, (prereq or coreq Math 3280)

CHE 2211. Materials and Energy Balances. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Elementary principles of chemical processes, emphasizing material and energy balances and problem solving. pre-req: Minimum grade of C in the following courses CHEM 1151 or 1161 or (1153 & 1154) or (1173 & 1175) and MATH 1296 or 1596

CHE 2500. Global Quality Regulatory Framework. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course provides students an understanding of the role of regulators with an overview of global regulations as stated in the U.S. Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), EudraLex Directives and Annexes, and Emerging Market regulations for the pharmaceutical, medical device, biotech, animal health and consumer goods industries. Explores the relationship between regulatory requirements and legal accountability while introducing fundamental concepts in regulations related to clinical trial development, management, ethics, data integrity, data security, privacy, change control and validation. pre-req:

CHE 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHE 3031. Computational Methods in Chemical Engineering. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Modeling and simulation of chemical engineering processes; computational methods applied to chemical engineering; use of computation and process simulation tools. pre-req or coreq: CHE 2121, MATH 3280

CHE 3032. Chemical Process Modeling and Simulation. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Fundamental concepts and techniques involved in chemical process modeling and simulation. Use of process simulation software for analysis and design of unit operations and flowsheets. pre-req: CHE 2121, 3031, pre or co-req 3112

CHE 3097. Chemical Engineering Internship. (; 1 cr. [max 3 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Practical work experience with employer associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. pre-req: BSChE candidate, instructor consent

CHE 3111. Fluid Mechanics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Mass and energy balances, Bernoulli's equation, momentum balance, laminar and turbulent flow, boundary layer theory, pumps, compressors, and turbines. pre-req: BSChE cand, minimum grade of C+ in the following courses: CHE 2111 or 2211, Phys 2011 or 2013 and 2014, Math 3280, or instructor consent;

CHE 3112. Heat and Mass Transfer. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Theory and practice of heat and mass transfer. Fundamentals of diffusion, conduction, convection, and radiation with application to design of heat and mass transfer equipment and systems. pre-req: BSChE candidate, 3111, (pre-req or coreq 2121) or instructor consent

CHE 3196. Cooperative Education I. (1 cr. [max 3 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Practical work experience with an employer closely associated with student's academic area. Arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Formal written report of work completed must be submitted to department at end of experience. pre-req: BSChE cand, instructor consent

CHE 3211. Chemical Engineering Laboratory I. (COMM & LAN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to statistical uncertainty analysis and design of experiments. Experiments illustrating physicochemical, fluid mechanics, and heat and mass transfer principles. Technical report writing and presentation. Standard laboratory practice and safety. pre-req: BSChE candidate, CHE 2011, 3031, 3112

CHE 3231. Properties of Engineering Materials. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Thermodynamic, mechanical, and kinetic properties of materials: structure and bonding in metals, alloys, corrosion, crystals, semiconductors, polymers, colloids, ceramics, interfaces, and composites. pre-req: BSChE cand, 2121, Chem 1152 or 1162

CHE 3241. Principles of Particle Technology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
The science and engineering dealing with the production, handling, modification and use of a wide variety of particulate materials, both wet and dry, in sizes ranging from the sub-micron to the centimeter scale. pre-req: BSChE candidate, (pre-req or coreq 3111), Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016, instructor consent

CHE 3296. Cooperative Education II. (2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Continuation of practical work experience with an employer closely associated with student's academic area. Arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Formal written report of work completed must be submitted to department at end of experience. pre-req: BSChE candidate, CHE 3196 and department consent

CHE 3311. Transport Processes: Unit Operations of Fluid Flow and Heat Transfer. (5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Bernoulli's equation, momentum balance, laminar and turbulent flow, boundary layer theory, pumps, compressors, and turbines. Fundamentals of diffusion, conduction, and radiation with application to design of fluid and heat transfer unit operations. pre-req: BSChE candidate, CHE 2121 pre or co-req, PHYS 2011 or 2013 and 2014 or 2017 and 2014, MATH 3280, instructor consent. Credit will not be granted if already received for CHE 3111 or CHE 3112 and ME 3111 or ME 4112 or CE 3221

CHE 3501. Product Development and Validation. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to the major design processes that are critical to life science product, process and specification development, including cradle to grave product and process development, prototype builds, scalability, design of experiments, variability, control, specification development and validation methodology. pre-req: CHE 2500

CHE 3502. Risk and Failure Analysis in Life Science Industries. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)

Distinctions of the life science industries related to the specific regulations that apply to consumer health products. Use of risk analysis techniques, including FMEA, Fault Tree and 5 Why's, to analyze a holistic set of data (in-production, across product lines, across equipment, human variability, on-market, on-stability, validation studies, change control, etc.) that lead to scientifically justified investigations supported by evidence, and the identification of effective corrective and preventative actions (CAPA). pre-req: ChE 2500

CHE 3601. Food Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Application of basic science and engineering fundamentals to chemical engineering unit operations in the food industry. Multiple case studies from industry will be included. pre-req: CHE 2211, CHE 3231 or ME 2105

CHE 3791. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed individual study arranged with instructor and head of department before registration. pre-req: BSChE cand, department consent

CHE 3894. Chemical Engineering Research. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Experience in a selected research area. Student must present a satisfactory written report and oral presentation. Course may also be used for portion of a research proposal. pre-req: BSChE candidate, maximum 6 credits, instructor consent

CHE 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHE 4111. Separations. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Application of principles of mass transfer. Design of distillation, gas absorption, liquid extraction, drying, leaching, and membrane separation processes. pre-req: BSChE Candidate, 2121, 3031, 3112; no grad credit

CHE 4141. Material and Minerals Processing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Flow sheets and unit operations of processes for the separation of commercially valuable minerals from their ores; particle characterization, comminution, concentration, handling; economics, environment, introduction to pyro and hydrometallurgy. pre-req: Chem 1153, 1154, Math 1297, Phys 2013

CHE 4142. Extractive Metallurgy: An Introduction to metals' extraction. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Designed for the senior undergraduate and graduate audience, this course covers the basics of pyro, hydro, and electro-metallurgy. Relevant theories on thermodynamics and chemical kinetics are reviewed as a basis for a first description of industrial metals production. Thermodynamics and kinetics are presented with a focus on applications to industrial processes. Iron, copper, and aluminum production are used as examples of pyro, hydro, and electro-metallurgy. Students taking this course will have a good command of the terms and methods employed in metals extraction. pre-req: CHE 2121 and 3112 or 3311 or instructor consent

CHE 4196. Cooperative Education - Process Improvement. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Practical Lean Six Sigma Process Improvement work experience with an employer closely associated with student's academic area. Arranged by mutual agreement among student, instructor, department, and employer. Student will complete process improvement projects at the employer's worksite guided by the instructor and supervisor with formal progress reports at various stages of the project. pre-req: BSChE and co-op student, instructor consent; no grad credit

CHE 4211. Chemical Engineering Laboratory II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Statistical design of engineering experiments. Experiments illustrating principles of separations and reactor design. Technical report writing and presentation. Standard laboratory practice and safety. pre-req: BSChE candidate, 3211, 4111, 4301; no grad credit

CHE 4231. Solar Energy and Photovoltaics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Fundamentals of solar energy generation, conversion and storage. Various solar energy harvesting technologies including solar thermal, solar fuel, and solar photovoltaic will be investigated. pre-req: CHE 3231 or ME 2105, no grad credit

CHE 4301. Chemical Reaction Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)

Theory of rates of chemical reactions. Application of rate data to design of batch, tubular, continuous stirred-tank, and catalytic-chemical reactors. pre-req: BSChE candidate, 2121, 3112; no grad credit

CHE 4401. Process Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Dynamic behavior of open-and closed-loop systems. Design and operation of automatic controllers for chemical process systems. pre-req: BSChE candidate, CHE 2121, 3031, 3112, pre or co-req CHE 4301, PHYS 2012 or 2015 and 2016; no grad credit

CHE 4402. Process Dynamics and Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Dynamic behavior of open-and closed-loop systems. Design and operation of automatic controllers for chemical process systems. The programming of a microcontroller. pre-req: BSChE candidate, 2121, 3031, 3112, (pre-req or coreq 4301), Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016; no grad credit

CHE 4501. Chemical Engineering Design I. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Preliminary design of chemical processing or hazardous waste treatment plant. Use of engineering economics and calculation of rate return and hazardous waste management as applied to chemical plants. Market survey, flow sheet preparation, material and energy balances. pre-req: BSChE candidate, 3031, 3112, (pre or co-req 3032, 4111, 4301); no grad credit

CHE 4502. Chemical Engineering Design II.

(3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Continuation of ChE 4501. Equipment design, instrumentation, process control, hazardous waste management plan, plant safety, economic feasibility, and institute analysis for process chosen. pre-req: BSChE candidate, 4501; no grad credit

CHE 4601. Biochemical Engineering I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Application of chemical engineering principles to design and operation of industrial biological processes, emphasizing enzyme and cell growth kinetics. pre-req: 2111 or 2211, minimum 60 credits or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 5601

CHE 4603. Biorenewable Resources.

(SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Comprehensive investigation of the engineering systems involved in the sustainable production of fuels, chemicals, and materials from bioresources. pre-req: 2111 or 2211 or instructor consent

CHE 4613. Air Pollution Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Analysis of what air pollution is, where it comes from and where it goes on the local, regional and global scales. Discussion of the regulatory apparatus concerning air quality. Design of air pollution control equipment. pre-req: CHEM 1155, 1156, MATH 1297 or 1597, PHYS 2015, 2016

CHE 4701. Biochemical Engineering II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Continuation of ChE 4601/5601. Advanced design and operation of bioreactors for varied cultivation methods, transport limitations, and reactor types. Operation and control considerations for aeration, agitation, heat transfer, and instrumentation. Unit operations for recovery and purification of products. Microbial, animal, plant, and mixed culture applications. pre-req: 4601 or 5601; credit will not be granted if already received for 5701

CHE 4711. Biomedical Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Overview of the field of Biomedical Engineering. Topics covered include cell and tissue engineering, transport phenomena in biological systems, biomaterials, bioelectricity and neural engineering, development of biomedical devices, and government regulations in the biomedical industry. pre-req: MATH 3280, PHYS 2013 or 2017, minimum 60 credits or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 5711; no grad credit.

CHE 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHE 5011. Process Optimization: Lean Six Sigma. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Emphasis on applying Lean and 6 Sigma process design and improvement techniques, data driven decision making, cultural transformation and effective change communication. pre-req: Instructor consent required; credit will not be granted if already received for CHE 5193

CHE 5021. Transport Phenomena. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Study of the fundamentals and field equations for momentum, heat and mass transport with emphasis on the prediction of transport rates in chemical engineering applications. pre-req: 3112 or Grad student or instructor consent

CHE 5022. Transport Processes in Wells and Pipelines. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Exposes students to various elements of fluid and heat flows that occur in oil/gas wells and pipelines. The fundamentals of multiphase flow are explained in terms of single-phase flow mechanics and configuration of the phases. Simplicity in modeling approach is retained. Field examples are used to reinforce understanding of the models. pre-req: 3111, 3112 or Grad student or instructor consent

CHE 5031. Chemical Engineering Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd, Spring Even Year)

Development of mathematical and statistical models for chemical engineering systems; simulation of these systems using digital computers; and system optimization and analysis of results. pre-req: 4111 or Grad student or instructor consent

CHE 5101. Mining Policy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Socioeconomic, cultural, and legal frameworks that affect mineral resources management specific to the mining industry. Historical and contemporary trends in mining policy and practice, resulting public and private governance in the United States with federal, state and local institutional structures for minerals resource management. pre-req: CHE 4141 or 4142 or graduate student or instructor consent

CHE 5121. Advanced Thermodynamics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Theory and application of phase equilibrium thermodynamics. Estimation and correlation of thermodynamic properties. Multicomponent systems. Solution theory. High pressure equilibria. Corresponding states. pre-req: 2121 or instructor consent

CHE 5131. Polymer Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Polymeric materials have a tremendous variety of applications in synthetic fibers, packaging, automobiles, electronic instruments, energy, sports, etc. This course will focus on theoretical and engineering applications of polymer design, processing, and production. pre-req: [(ChE 2121 or ME 3211), (ChE 3231 or ME 2105)] or Chem 4641 or instructor consent

CHE 5250. Advanced Process Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Investigation into the theory and practical application of the concept of process control dynamics, feedback, and stability. Emphasis will be on dynamic behavior, physical and empirical modeling, computer simulation, measurement, and control technology, basic control concepts, and advanced control strategies. prereq: 4402 or instructor consent

CHE 5301. Advanced Chemical Reactor Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Theory of advanced chemical reactor design. Reaction rate theory. Heterogeneous catalysis and transport processes. Analysis of non-ideal reactors, Stability. Optimization. Multiphase systems. prereq: 4301 or instructor consent

CHE 5321. Theory and Practice of Scanning Electron Microscopy & X-ray Microanalysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Students will be introduced to the basic physics of scanning electron microscopy, including electron beam generation, beam-sample interactions, signal detection and image formation. Students will also learn how characteristic x-rays are produced in a sample and how they are measured and quantified. In the laboratory sessions students will practice basic sample preparation methods and various techniques of scanning electron microscope to produce quality images and data. prereq: minimum 75 credits, CHEM 1155/56 or CHEM 1175/76, PHYS 2012 or 2015/2016 OR Graduate student; instructor consent

CHE 5555. Project Credits: MEng - Chemical Engineering. (3-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Master of Engineering project work as determined by faculty adviser and student with approval by the department director of graduate studies. prereq: MEng candidate, instructor consent

CHE 5601. Biochemical Engineering I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year) Application of chemical engineering principles to design and operation of industrial biological processes, emphasizing enzyme and cell growth kinetics. prereq: 2111 or 2211, grad student and instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4601

CHE 5612. Hazardous Waste Process Engineering. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Identification of hazardous substances and their effects. Federal, State and International regulations. Green Engineering - modification of processes to avoid hazardous waste formation. Life Cycle Management of hazardous substances. Design of waste treatment processes. prereq: Grad student or BSChE candidate with ChE 2111 or 2211, 3112 and 4111

CHE 5613. Air Pollution Control - Advanced Topics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Air Pollution Control: Analysis of air pollution constituents, origins, and fates on the local, regional, and global scales. Discussion of the US, EU, and WHO regulatory apparatus concerning air quality. Design of air pollution control equipment. pre-req: CHEM 1155, PHYS 2015, MATH 3280

CHE 5621. Particle Technology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Applications of particle technology, especially in the chemical and minerals industry context. Particle concepts including: particle characterization, slurry characterization, size reduction, size enlargement, particle separation, and multi-phase processes. The major unit operations common to solids processing: mining, crushing, concentration by sedimentation, filtration, flotation, and pyrometallurgy. prereq: 3111 and Grad Student; credit will not be granted if already received for 4621

CHE 5701. Biochemical Engineering II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Continuation of ChE 4601/5601. Advanced design and operation of bioreactors for varied cultivation methods, transport limitations, and reactor types. Operation and control considerations for aeration, agitation, heat transfer, and instrumentation. Unit operations for recovery and purification of products. Microbial, animal, plant, and mixed culture applications. prereq: 4601 or 5601, grad student; credit will not be granted if already received for 4701

CHE 5711. Biomedical Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Introduction to the field of Biomedical Engineering. Topics covered include cell and tissue engineering, transport phenomena in biological systems, biomaterials, bioelectricity and neural engineering, development of biomedical devices, and government regulations in the biomedical industry. prereq: 3111, 3112 or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for CHE 4711.

CHE 5991. Graduate Independent Study in Chemical Engineering. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer) Directed study of special interest topics not available in the standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special projects. prereq: graduate student and instructor consent

CHE 5995. Special Topics in Chemical Engineering: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-4 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer) Topics not available in the regular department curriculum. Topics may include specialties of the department or visiting faculty. prereq: Graduate student or instructor consent

CHE 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

Chemistry (CHEM)

CHEM 1103. Aspects of Chemistry. (NAT SCI,SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Topics in general, organic, and biological chemistry using sustainability as the underlying theme. Study of chemical principles, their application, and their impact on daily life. Independent unit in contrast to CHEM 1113, 1151, 1153 or 1161. CHEM 1103 alone satisfies the requirements in liberal education categories Natural Sciences and Sustainability. Alternatively, the combination of CHEM 1103 and CHEM 1104 meets liberal education category requirements for Natural Sciences with lab. prereq: Credit will not be granted if already received for 1102, 1113, 1151, 1153, 1161 or 1173.

CHEM 1104. Aspects of Chemistry Lab. (NAT SCI; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Laboratory in general, organic, and biological chemistry. This laboratory optionally accompanies lecture CHEM 1103. The combination of CHEM 1103 and CHEM 1104 meets liberal education category requirements for Natural Science with lab. prereq: Must be taken either after or concurrently with CHEM 1103; credit will not be granted if already received for 1102 (4-credit option), 1113, 1151, 1154, 1161 or 1174.

CHEM 1105. From the Industrial Revolution to Green Chemistry. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Spring Even Year) The study of the chemistry associated with scientific and technological discoveries made during the Industrial Revolution in England from 1750-1850. Twenty-first Century "green chemistry" solutions to reduce detrimental impacts of industrialization such as those that occurred during the Industrial Revolution. The study of the lives of selected chemists and natural scientists whose work was located in the Midlands of England.

CHEM 1113. Introduction to General, Organic, and Biological Chemistry I. (NAT SCI; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Chemical principles and their applications: atomic and molecular structure, solutions, acids, bases, salts, equilibria. prereq: ACT of 21 or higher or MATH 1005; for students terminating study of chem with no more than 10 cr; credit will not be granted if already received for 1151, 1153/1154, 1161, 1173/74 or 2172

CHEM 1114. Introduction to General, Organic, and Biological Chemistry II. (; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year) Chemical principles and their applications: physical and chemical properties of organic compounds, organic chemistry of living systems; carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, enzymes, nucleic acids, and metabolic pathways. prereq: 1113

CHEM 1153. General Chemistry I. (NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Fundamental principles of chemistry exemplified by study of elements, compounds, and their reactions. Covers fundamental concepts of the atom, molecule, stoichiometry, chemical reactions, thermochemistry, gas laws, atomic structure, periodic table, chemical bonding, and other selected topics. The companion laboratory, CHEM 1154, should be taken concurrently. The combination of CHEM 1153 and CHEM 1154 meets the lab component of NAT SCI, LE CAT 4. prereq: One year high school chem, Math ACT 24 or higher or a grade of least C- in Math 1005, Credit will not be granted if already received for 1151 or 1161 or 1173. Fall semester SCSE majors only.

CHEM 1154. General Chemistry Lab I. (NAT SCI; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Basic laboratory skills while investigating the fundamental principles of chemistry. Covers fundamental concepts of the atom and molecule, stoichiometry, acid-base reactions, oxidation-reduction reactions, thermochemistry, characteristic properties of anions, gas laws and spectrophotometry. This laboratory accompanies lecture CHEM 1153. The combination of CHEM 1153 and CHEM 1154 meets liberal education category 4 requirements. prereq: Previous or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 1153 or 1173; credit will not be granted if already received for CHEM 1151, 1161 or 1174.

CHEM 1155. General Chemistry II. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Fundamental principles of chemistry exemplified by study of elements, compounds, and their reactions. Covers intermolecular forces, properties of liquids, solids and solution, chemical kinetics, chemical equilibrium, acids and bases, solubility, thermodynamics, electrochemistry, nuclear chemistry, and other selected topics. Solid knowledge of college algebra and General Chemistry I is required. The companion laboratory course CHEM 1156 should be taken concurrently. prereq: 1151 or 1153 or 1161 or 1173; credit will not be granted if already received for 1152, 1162 or 1175.

CHEM 1156. General Chemistry Lab II. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Fundamental principles of chemistry exemplified by laboratory study of elements, compounds, and their reactions. Covers titration, intermolecular forces, colligative properties, kinetics, chemical equilibria, and qualitative analysis. This laboratory accompanies lecture CHEM 1155. prereq: 1151 or 1161 or 1154 or 1174, concurrent or previous enrollment in CHEM 1155; credit will not be granted if already received for Chem 1152, 1162 or 1176.

CHEM 1173. General Chemistry I for Majors. (NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Intended for students pursuing majors in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry. Coverage of chemistry principles exemplified by study of elements, compounds, and their reactions. Covers concepts of atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, stoichiometry, chemical reactions, thermochemistry, intermolecular forces, gases, liquid and solutions, and other selected topics. Fundamental of applied concept will be explored and enriched using a range of mathematical tools. Additional topics introducing majors to the field and profession will be covered. The companion laboratory course, CHEM 1174 should be taken concurrently. prereq: Math ACT 24 or higher or a grade of at least a C- in Math 1005. Credit will not be granted if already received for Chem 1151 or 1153 or 1161.

CHEM 1174. General Chemistry I Lab for Majors. (NAT SCI; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Intended for students pursuing majors in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry. Basic laboratory skills covering fundamental principles of chemistry. Covers concepts of atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, stoichiometry, acid-base reactions, oxidation-reduction reactions, thermochemistry, characteristic properties of anions, gas laws, and spectrophotometry. Fundamental and applied concepts will be explored and enriched using a range of mathematical tools. The laboratory accompanies lecture CHEM 1173 and should be taken concurrently. prereq: Previous or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 1173 or 1153

CHEM 1175. General Chemistry II for Majors. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Intended for students pursuing majors in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry. Coverage of chemistry principles exemplified by study of elements, compounds, and their reactions. Covers concepts of solids and solutions, chemical kinetics and reaction mechanisms, chemical equilibrium, acids and bases, solubility, thermodynamics, electrochemistry, descriptive chemistry of the elements, coordination chemistry, nuclear chemistry, and other specific topics. Fundamental and applied concepts will be explored and enriched using a range of mathematical tools. Additional topics introducing majors to the field and profession will be covered. The companion laboratory course, CHEM 1176 should be taken concurrently. prereq: CHEM 1173 or CHEM 1153 and BS-Chemistry major or BS-Biochemical major or BA-Chemistry major or BA-Biochemistry major or by instructor consent

CHEM 1176. General Chemistry II Lab for Majors. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Intended for students pursuing majors in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry. Basic laboratory skills covering fundamental principles of chemistry: elements, compounds and their reactions. Covers titration, intermolecular forces, colligative properties, kinetics, chemical equilibria, and qualitative analysis. Fundamental and applied concept will be explored and enriched using a range of mathematical tools. The laboratory accompanies lecture CHEM 1175 and should be taken concurrently. prereq: previous of concurrent enrollment in CHEM 1175

CHEM 1191. Independent Study. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

For students wishing to do special work in areas useful to individual programs and objectives when such are not available in regular course offerings. prereq: department consent

CHEM 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHEM 2212. Environmental Chemistry. (NAT SCI,SUSTAIN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Study of chemical processes in natural air, water, soil and sediment environments. Sources, reaction, transport, effects, and fates of natural and anthropogenic chemical species will be covered. Methods of analysis of environmental samples, with emphasis on quantitative treatment of data. pre-req: 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1176

CHEM 2222. Quantitative Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Considered the first course of analytical chemistry, this course aims to explore the concepts of quantification and measurement related to chemical systems. Topics in this course include statistical analysis of error/uncertainty, systematic development of aqueous chemical equilibria, and fundamental principles of electrochemical, spectrophotometric, and chromatographic analyses. prereq: 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1175, concurrent registration in 2223 is strongly recommended

CHEM 2223. Quantitative Analysis

Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Lab companion to 2222 involving the quantitative analysis of organic and inorganic samples using classical and instrumental techniques. Students are instructed in the use of classical and modern computer-controlled instrumentation and techniques, as applied to the acquisition and analysis of experimental data. prereq: 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1176; concurrent registration in 2222 is required

CHEM 2242. Analytical Chemistry and the Environment in Poland. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Theory and practice in quantitative analysis, covering statistics, acid-base equilibria, chelometry, spectrometry, and chromatography, including volumetric, spectrophotometric, and separation methods, to be offered in Poland, with field trips to sites of environmental concern. prereq: 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1176, instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 2222, 2232

CHEM 2541. Organic Chemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Structure and bonding, stereochemistry, functional group reactions. prereq: 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1176; credit will not be granted if already received for 2521

CHEM 2542. Organic Chemistry II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Functional group reactions, bioorganic chemistry. prereq: 2521 or 2541; credit will not be granted if already received for 2522, 2532

CHEM 2543. Organic Chemistry I

Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Laboratory companion to CHEM 2541. Structure and bonding, stereochemistry, functional group reactions. prereq: 1152 or 1162 or 1155 and 1156 or 1175 and 1176, must be taken after or concurrently with CHEM

2541; credit will not be granted if already received for 2521, CHE 3231, ENGR 2110

CHEM 2544. Organic Chemistry II

Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Laboratory companion to Chem 2542, for non-chemistry majors. Functional group reactions, bioorganic chemistry. prereq: 2521 or (2541 and 2543), must be taken after or concurrently with CHEM 2542; credit will not be granted if already received for 2522, 2532, 2545

CHEM 2545. Organic Chemistry II

Laboratory for B.S. Chemistry Majors. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Laboratory companion to Chem 2542, for B.S. Chemistry majors. Functional group reactions, bioorganic chemistry. prereq: 2521 or (2541 and 2543), must be taken after or concurrently with CHEM 2542; credit will not be granted if already received for 2532

CHEM 2901. Principles of Green Chemistry.

(SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Survey of the principles of green chemistry emphasizing basic toxicology, the evaluation of waste production and environmental performance, catalysts and organic solvents, renewable resources and intentional design of green reactions and processes. prereq: 2542 or concurrent

CHEM 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHEM 3095. Chemistry Special Topics. (; 1-5 cr. ; Student Option; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Special topics in chemistry as assigned.

CHEM 3097. Internship in Chemistry. (1-2 cr. ; S-N only; Every Summer)
Experience in a commercial, government, or industrial setting. Prior department approval and coordination with faculty sponsor are required. prereq: 2521 or 2541 or 2223, chemistry or biochemistry/molecular biology majors and department consent

CHEM 3194. Chemistry Undergraduate Research. (1-3 cr. [max 30 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Experience in a selected area of research. prereq: department consent

CHEM 3322. Biochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)
Survey of biochemistry, emphasizing enzyme catalysis, cellular energetics, and major metabolic processes. prereq: 2522 or 2532 or 2542

CHEM 3324. Biochemistry Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)
Identification and analysis of biological molecules with emphasis on the macromolecules, polysaccharides, proteins, and nucleic acids (RNA, DNA). prereq: 2522 or 2532 or 2542; previous or concurrent registration in 3322

CHEM 3432. Descriptive Inorganic Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
The course will survey the chemistry of the elements, including periodic trends. Acid base chemistry, electrochemistry, structures of solids, and bioinorganic chemistry will be discussed. prereq: (2222 or 2242) and 2542

CHEM 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

CHEM 4184. Undergraduate Seminar I. (1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall)

First course of a two-course senior seminar requirement for B.S. Chemistry and B.S. Biochemistry majors. Students will learn to prepare and present scientific talks. Use of visual aids and computer technology, presentation organization and delivery, and use of scientific literature will be among the skills students will learn. In addition, students will attend and evaluate weekly departmental seminars. prereq: BS Chem or BS Biochem Major

CHEM 4185. Undergraduate Seminar II. (; 1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Second course of a two-course senior seminar requirement for B.S. Chemistry and B.S. Biochemistry majors. Students will learn to prepare and present scientific talks. Use of visual aids and computer technology, presentation organization and delivery, and use of scientific literature will be among the skills students will learn. In addition, students will attend and evaluate weekly departmental seminars. Students will participate in and present at the annual Departmental Undergraduate Symposium. prereq: 4184

CHEM 4212. Advanced Environmental Chemistry. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Quantitative, advanced study of chemical processes in the natural environment. This course will cover the chemistry of the atmosphere, hydrosphere, and lithosphere, focusing on the sources, fluxes, cycling, reactions, and transformations of natural and anthropogenic chemicals. pre-req: CHEM 2212 or 2222, CHEM 2541, no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for CHEM 5212

CHEM 4242. Instrumental Analysis. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Theory of instrumental methods of chemical analysis, including electrochemistry, spectroscopy, and separations. prereq: 2222, 4632 or 4634 or 4642

CHEM 4243. Instrumental Chemistry Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Lab companion to 4242 involving the use of computerized chemical instrumentation in the analysis of organic and inorganic samples. Students learn the use of modern programming tools as applied to the control of chemical instrumentation and acquisition and analysis of data there from. prereq: 2223, must be taken after or concurrently with CHEM 4242

CHEM 4351. Biochemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to structural classes of biologically relevant molecules. Descriptions of monomeric small molecules and their incorporation into macromolecules. Covers amino acids, proteins, fatty acids, lipids, sterols, carbohydrates, nucleic acids, RNA, and DNA structures. prereq: 2222, 2541, 2542, Math 1296, concurrent registration in physical chem recommended - 4363

CHEM 4352. Biochemistry II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to metabolism of carbohydrates, fatty acids, sterols, nucleic acids, amino acids, and xenobiotics. Common metabolic pathways of glycolysis, gluconeogenesis, citric acid cycle, et. The interrelated nature of these pathways and their cellular regulation will be covered. prereq: 4351

CHEM 4363. Biochemistry Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Applications of biochemistry and molecular biology techniques. prereq: 2223, 2522 or 2532 or 2544 or 2545, BS-BMB major, concurrent registration in 4351 is required

CHEM 4373. Physical Biochemistry: Statistical Bio-Thermodynamics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course is a quantitative treatment of physical principles and theories in physical biochemistry with a focus on applications of statistical bio-thermodynamics to primary literature-based approaches in the field. Developing expertise in the application of theory to real-world problem solving in the field is emphasized. pre-req: (4632 or 4634 or 4641) and (4351 or 3322); no grad credit

CHEM 4374. Physical Biochemistry Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This capstone course will provide students with the opportunity to critically address research problems in the field of biochemistry via a team-based "open-ended", investigative approach. They will be challenged to utilize and build upon their fundamental knowledge and experience, garnered from previous coursework, to design and carry out experiments focused on understanding the physical chemical basis of biochemical phenomena. prereq: 4373, no grad credit

CHEM 4435. Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Preparation and study of the properties of selected inorganic compounds. prereq: 3432, must be taken after or concurrently with CHEM 4436

CHEM 4436. Inorganic Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Atomic structure and properties of elements based thereon. Chemical bonding. Chemistry of coordination compounds. Mechanisms of selected inorganic reactions. Group theory and spectroscopy applied to inorganic systems. prereq: Chem 2222 or 2242 and 2542

CHEM 4510. Polymer Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

In this course students will study the synthesis, characterization, and chemical structure-related properties of polymers. Good knowledge of Organic Chemistry is required. Chemical

Kinetics and Thermodynamics will be applied. prereq: 2542 or instructor consent; no grad credit

CHEM 4633. Physical Chemistry Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Laboratory program in physical chemistry, including thermodynamics, spectroscopy, kinetics and quantum mechanics. prereq: 2yrs of college-level chemistry, (2222 or 2212 or 2242), Math 1297, Phys 2012 or (2015 and 2016) or Phys 1001, BS-BMB major or BA-Chem major, 4634 may be taken concurrent

CHEM 4634. Physical Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Properties of gases, liquids, and solutions; thermodynamics and equilibria; chemical kinetics, principles of quantum chemistry. prereq: (Phys 2012 or (Phys 2015 and 2016) or Phys 1002), 2 yrs of college-level chemistry, Math 1297, (Chem 2222 or 2212 or 2242), BS-Biochemistry major or BA-Chem major

CHEM 4641. Physical Chemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Quantitative treatment of physical principles and theories in chemistry, including topics in thermodynamics and kinetics. prereq: 2 yrs chem, (2222 or 2212 or 2242), Math 3280, Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016

CHEM 4642. Physical Chemistry II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Quantitative treatment of physical principles and theories in chemistry, including topics in quantum mechanics and spectroscopy. prereq: 4641

CHEM 4643. Physical Chemistry Laboratory I. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Laboratory program in physical chemistry, accompanying lecture Chem 4641. prereq: 2 yrs chem, (2222 or 2212 or 2242), Math 3280, Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016, 4641 may be taken concurrent

CHEM 4644. Physical Chemistry Laboratory II. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Laboratory program in physical chemistry, accompanying lecture Chem 4642. prereq: 4643, 4642 may be taken concurrent

CHEM 4659. Fluorescence Methods in Life Science. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Theoretical fundamentals, experimental design considerations, and applications of a wide range of fluorescence methods in chemistry, biochemistry, biology, medicine, and related fields. Each fluorescence method is designed to optimally answer specific questions quantitatively at the molecular level. Requires basic knowledge in related fields such as chemistry, biochemistry, physics, mathematics, and/or biology. prereq: 3322 or 4351 and 4642 or 4634 or instructor consent

CHEM 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHEM 5150. Organic and Stable Isotope Biogeochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Production and chemical composition of natural organic matter (OM), diagenesis and catagenesis of OM; stable isotopic fractionation processes of C, H, O, N, and S in natural systems, fractionation theory, isotopic indicators of climate, oceanographic/limnologic processes, trophic structure, microbial processes. prereq: BIOL 1012 and (CHEM 1152 or 1155 and 1156 or 1162 or 1175 and 1176) and (CHEM 2222 or 2212 or 2242) OR instructor consent

CHEM 5212. Advanced Environmental Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Quantitative, advanced study of chemical processes in the natural environment. This course will cover the chemistry of the atmosphere, hydrosphere, and lithosphere, focusing on the sources, fluxes, cycling, reactions, and transformation of natural and anthropogenic chemicals. pre-req: graduate student, credit will not be granted if already received for CHEM 4212.

CHEM 5350. Research Topics for High School Chemistry Teachers. (2-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Experimental work and philosophy associated with a selected research topic. prereq: Ed MA or MEd student, department consent required.

CHEM 5373. Physical Biochemistry: Statistical Bio-Thermodynamics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course is a quantitative treatment of physical principles and theories in physical biochemistry with a focus on applications of statistics bio-thermodynamics to primary literature-based approaches in the field. Developing expertise in the application of theory to real-world problem solving in the field is emphasized. In addition to the lecture and exams, students in this graduate course will prepare and present an original research proposal in the format of an NSF Graduate Research Fellowship (GRF) application. prereq: CHEM 4632 or 4634 or and CHEM 4351 or 3322 and instructor consent

CHEM 5424. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Advanced topics in inorganic chemistry including the following: Applications of Group Theory to inorganic chemistry such as molecular orbital theory and valence bond theory as well as vibrational analysis, organometallic chemistry including structure and bonding in organometallic compounds, reactions and reaction mechanisms of organometallic compounds, and the application of organometallic compounds as reagents and catalysts in organic synthesis, other advanced aspects of inorganic chemistry, e.g. Bioinorganic Chemistry and Aspects of Material Science. prereq: 4436 or equivalent or Grad student

CHEM 5510. Polymer Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

In this course students will study the synthesis, characterization, and chemical structure-related properties of polymers. Good knowledge of Organic Chemistry is required. Chemical Kinetics and Thermodynamics will be applied. In addition to the lecture and exams, students in this graduate course will prepare an individual research report on a topic selected from recent developments in polymer chemistry. prereq: Chemistry graduate student or instructor consent

CHEM 5524. Advanced Organic Chemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Advanced topics of Organic Reaction Mechanisms and Aspects of Organic Synthesis prereq: 2542 or equivalent or Grad student

CHEM 5624. Advanced Physical Chemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Classical and statistical thermodynamics, chemical kinetics, other selected topics in physical chemistry. prereq: 4642 or equivalent or Grad student

CHEM 5650. Computational Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Molecular Mechanics, Quantum Mechanics, semiempirical and ab initio molecular orbital calculations, density functional theory, and selected additional topics in computation chemistry such as biochemical applications, QSAR, and ligand modeling and docking. prereq: 4642 or equivalent or Grad student

CHEM 5659. Fluorescence Methods in Life Science. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Theoretical fundamentals, experimental design considerations, and applications of a wide range of fluorescence methods in chemistry, biochemistry, biology, medicine, and related fields. Each fluorescence method is designed to optimally answer specific questions quantitatively at the molecular level. Requires basic knowledge in related fields such as chemistry, biochemistry, physics, mathematics, and/or biology. prereq: grad student or instructor consent

CHEM 5714. Applications of Spectroscopy. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Application of spectroscopic techniques to structure elucidation, including NMR, FTIR, MS, UV-Vis, X-ray, EPR spectroscopy. Includes practical component. prereq: 4436 or equivalent or Grad student

CHEM 5725. Advanced Analytical Chemistry I. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Intended for advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate students in chemistry and related fields. Augment basic coursework in wet and instrumental analytical chemistry. Topics include statistical and chemometric methods for experimental design and data analysis, electronics and computers in chemical instrumentation, and selected techniques of instrumental analysis such as mass spectrometry, inductively coupled optical emission spectroscopy and analytical gas chromatography. prereq: Grad student or 4242 or equivalent

CHEM 5795. Special Topics in Chemistry: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (1-4 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Topics not available in standard curriculum.
prereq: graduate student or instructor approval

CHEM 5994. Directed Research in Chemistry. (1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed laboratory or theoretical research in the chemical sciences. prereq: Min 90 cr or grad in the sciences or engineering or instructor consent

CHEM 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Child Psychology (CPSY)

CPSY 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Chinese (CHIN)

CHIN 1101. Beginning Chinese I: Mandarin Chinese. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to Mandarin Chinese for students with little or no prior study. Emphasis will be on expressions for daily living with appropriate grammar and vocabulary. Writing in the phonetic pin yin system will be introduced as will high frequency characters. prereq: Little or no prior formal study of this language or instructor consent

CHIN 1102. Beginning Chinese II: Mandarin Chinese. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to Mandarin Chinese for students with little prior study. Emphasis will be on expressions for daily living with appropriate grammar and vocabulary. Writing in the phonetic pin yin system will be introduced as will high frequency characters. prereq: 1101

CHIN 1201. Intermediate Chinese I: Mandarin Chinese. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Consolidation and enrichment of previously acquired abilities speaking and understanding Mandarin Chinese. Emphasis on oral and aural skills, vocabulary building, some reading and writing in the phonetic pin yin system with high frequency characters. pre-req: CHIN 1102 or instructor consent

CHIN 1202. Intermediate Chinese II: Mandarin Chinese. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Consolidation and enrichment of previously acquired abilities speaking and understanding Mandarin Chinese. Emphasis on oral and aural skills, vocabulary building, some reading and writing in the phonetic pin yin system with high frequency characters. pre-req: 1201 or instructor consent

CHIN 1399. Language and Culture in China - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 6 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)
Study Chinese language and culture in a classroom setting and on field trips. Emphasis will be on language, culture and history. The program will be held in Beijing, Shanghai, and at the Ocean University of China in Qingdao, China. pre-req: instructor consent; admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Programs and Services Office

CHIN 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHIN 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

CHIN 3030. Chinese Cinema. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Overview of cinema of China. Examines a variety of filmic genres. Chinese national identity will be the main axis of inquiry. Strong focus on academic writing and research. Taught in English. pre-req: minimum 30 credits

CHIN 3042. Aspects of Chinese Cultures: Interface between Traditions and Contemporary Values. (GLOBAL PER,HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Survey of aspects of Chinese civilization and cultures. Students will examine diverse cultural values in the international community and work toward a sense of culturally responsive citizenship in the current global society. Taught in English.

CHIN 3097. Internship. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Supervised international or domestic internship related to the program. pre-req: CHIN 1202 or equivalent with a C or better; instructor consent required

CHIN 3591. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Students develop and carry out reading and research projects in consultation with the instructor. prereq: instructor consent

CHIN 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CHIN 4591. Independent Study. ( ; 1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Students develop and carry out reading and research projects in consultation with the instructor. pre-req: instructor consent

Civil Engineering (CE)

CE 1000. History of Structures. (HUMANITIES,GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
This course will study structures of historical significance. The social and economic importance of each structure as well as the merits of the engineering design of each structure will be considered. Students will learn to evaluate qualitatively how load is transferred in typical structures, for example, cable-stayed and suspension bridges. The styles of major contemporary structural designers will be examined; for example, the work of Eiffel, Roebling, Eads, Ammann and Maillart. Local structures, such as the Duluth lift bridge, will also be studied.

CE 1025. Introduction to Civil Engineering. ( ; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to transportation, water resources, structures, and geotechnical design. Introduction to ethics, professionalism, globalization, and contemporary issues in civil engineering. Introduction to the design process. prereq: Civil Engineering students only

CE 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CE 2017. Engineering Mechanics: Statics and Mechanics of Materials. ( ; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Vector algebra. Applications of equations of equilibrium to analysis of simple engineering structures and machines. Nature and influence of friction. Elementary theory of statically determinate framed structures. Introductory treatment of stress and strain at a point. Stress-strain relation in two dimensions. Axial loading, torsion, shear and bending moment diagrams, bending stresses, deflection of determinate and indeterminate beams, instability. prereq:

MATH 1297, PHYS 2011 or 2013 or 2017 and 2014, and Civil Engineering or Mechanical Engineering or Industrial Engineering or Engineering Physics major; credit will not be granted if already received for ENGR 2015 and ENGR 2016 combined.

CE 2020. Computational Tools for Civil Engineers. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

The course teaches the application of engineering computational software to address problems of interest in civil eng. Software to be used in the course: Mathcad, Excel, Matlab, VBA for Excel, Surfer, Grapher & Digger. Problems to be addressed are civil eng applications that involve vector operations, matrix operations, solution of linear and non-linear equations, differentiation, integration, systems of simultaneous linear and non-linear equations, curve fitting, linear and non-linear regression analysis, optimization analysis, basic statistics and probability, random numbers and Monte Carlo analysis and others. These applied mathematical problems will be solved mostly using built-in numerical functions in the software above. For some problems, programming concepts will be covered using Mathcad, Matlab and VBA in Excel. Others topics to be covered include graphing with Grapher and digitizing with Digger and spatial interpolation analysis using Surfer. pre-req: CE 1025 and PHYS 2013 or 2017 and MATH 1297 or 1597 (previous or concurrent MATH only) or instructor consent

CE 2020. Computational Tools for Civil Engineers. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

CE 2425. Geologic Principles for Civil Engineers. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

The course presents an introduction of geology for civil engineers. The theory component of the course presents a comprehensive survey of Earth's composition, structure, and dynamics to develop an understanding of internal processes, plate tectonics, and surface processes as a framework for geological history and development of life (this component follows the same structure of the course GEOL 1110 - Geology and Earth Systems). The lab component of the course focuses on the application of geological science principles to topics that are relevant to the civil engineering profession. These topics include identification of mineral and rock samples in a context of construction materials or materials existing as part of foundations or excavations of civil engineering structures; topographic and geologic maps; description of rock mass and rock structures and computational engineering geology problems. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for CE 2435 or CE 3425 or GEOL 1110

CE 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CE 3015. CAD & Engineering Drawing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to both hand and computer aided drafting. Hand drafting will include orthographic projections, multiple views, sectional views and isometric projections. Computer aided drafting will focus on the use of AutoCAD. This will include drawing procedures and tools, dimensioning, scaling, and plotting. prereq: 2017

CE 3016. Surveying. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)
Fundamentals of observing distances, elevations, and angles. Traversing. Irregular areas. Circular and parabolic curves. Earthwork including mass diagrams. Construction staking. prereq: Math 1297

CE 3025. Environmental Engineering. (SUSTAIN; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to environmental engineering systems and infrastructure. Fundamentals including application of mass/energy balances and equilibrium to environmental systems. These concepts applied to environmental topics: risk assessment, water quality modeling, water/wastewater treatment, air quality modeling, municipal/hazard solid waste management. prereq: Chem 1151 or 1153 and 1154, CE 3221, BSCE candidate

CE 3026. Project Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Study of basic concepts and models for successful management of projects in engineering. Topics discussed include: engineering economics, project delivery process, bid development, cost estimation, life cycle cost evaluation, contract structure, scheduling, resource allocation and LEED requirements.

CE 3027. Infrastructure Materials. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to the behavior and structure of civil engineering materials, including laboratory investigation of physical and mechanical. Materials examined include concrete, steel, wood, asphalt and polymers. prereq: 2017, BSCE candidate

CE 3115. Structural Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to the behavior of structures. Students will learn about the loads on structures, and how to determine the path of these loads through the structure. Topics include: truss analysis, shear and moment diagrams, deflections, analysis of indeterminate structures, influence lines, and shear and moment envelopes. prereq: 2017, Math 3280 (concurrent), BSCE candidate

CE 3221. Fluid Mechanics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Properties of fluids, fundamental of fluid flow including energy and momentum principles, applications to pipes and open channels, steady and unsteady flow, dimensional analysis, fluid measurement techniques, and pump performance. prereq: 2017, Math 3280 (concurrent)

CE 3225. Hydraulics and Hydrology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to hydrologic analysis including precipitation, infiltration, hydrology analysis, stream routing, groundwater, and well hydrology. Fundamentals of hydraulic analysis, types of flow hydraulic devices, pipe, and open channel flow, uniform and varied flow. prereq: 3221, Math 3280 (concurrent), BSCE candidate

CE 3316. Transportation Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to transportation systems, driver behavior, vehicle characteristics, and principles of highway network planning. Introduction to roadway and intersection design methods, traffic signal operation and timing optimization methods. Fundamental of traffic flow theory. prereq: BSCE candidate

CE 3426. Soil Mechanics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Study of soil as an engineering material including description and classification of soils, total and effective stresses and pore water pressure in soils, and soil behavior as applied to conditions of engineering significance. This involves the characteristics of water flow through soils, soil bearing capacity, soil consolidation and settlement, soil shear strength, lateral earth pressure and slope stability analysis in soils. prereq: CE 2017 and BSCE candidate

CE 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CE 4096. Cooperative Education I. (1 cr. [max 3 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Practical work experience with an employer closely associated with student's academic area. Arranged by mutual agreement among student, department and employer. Formal written report of work completed must be submitted to the department at the end of the experience. prereq: CE candidate, instructor consent; no grad credit

CE 4100. Applications of Management in Resilient Precast Concrete. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Taken concurrently with the online version of BUS 2400 (Fundamentals of Organizational Management), this course will provide insight into the project organization and management side of the precast concrete industry. The themes of resiliency and organizational management in precast concrete will be examined through a series of case studies with local precast concrete industry partners. This course cannot be taken as a standalone one-credit course; it must be taken concurrently with BUS 2400 or after successful completion of BUS 2400. pre-req: CE 4126, BUS 2400 concurrently or previously completed; no grad credit

CE 4115. Design of Steel Structures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
The design of steel components and structures based on applicable design codes. This includes: tension members, compression members, beams, beam-columns, composite members, and connections. prereq: 3115, BSCE candidate, no grad credit

CE 4126. Design of Concrete Structures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
The design of concrete structures based on applicable codes. Topics covered include: design of beams and slabs to resist moment and shear, design of columns, reinforcement detailing, and deflection control. prereq: 3115, BSCE Candidate, no Grad cr

CE 4128. Prestressed Concrete Structures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Design and behavior of prestressed concrete structures: materials and systems (including specifics for precast and post-tensioned members), losses, flexure, shear, bond, deflections, partial prestressing, continuous beams. prereq: 4126

CE 4131. Design of Wood and Masonry Structures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
This course addresses the design of wood and masonry structures and components based on applicable civil engineering design codes. For wood the course covers the design of flexural and compressive members, fasteners and connections, shear walls and diaphragms. For masonry, topics include the components and hardware of masonry buildings, behavior and design of masonry wall types, design of beams, columns, reinforcement details, shear walls, roof and floor diaphragms and anchor bolts. prereq: CE 4126

CE 4134. Advanced Steel Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course focuses on advanced design of steel structures. Topics covered in this course include: steel members subjected to torsion, bolted and welded steel connections, braced frames with gusset plate connections, stability of steel frames, steel plate girders, and fatigue and fracture. pre-req: CE 4115, no grad credit

CE 4135. Advanced Reinforced Concrete Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course focuses on advanced design of concrete structures, with some applications for steel-concrete composite systems. Topics covered in this course include: slender concrete columns, development length of reinforcement, two-way slabs, torsion in concrete, and steel-concrete composite systems. pre-req: 4126; no grad credit

CE 4136. Structural Systems. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Building codes, design loads, computerized structural analysis and design, gravity and lateral system analysis and design, structural system descriptions and selection considerations, and structural contract documents. pre-req: CE 4115, 4126; no grad credit

CE 4137. Advanced Structural Analysis. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
This course covers advanced methods of structural linear and nonlinear analysis. Topics include matrix methods for indeterminate structures, introduction to finite elements, plastic analysis using upper-bound and lower-bound theorems, and time-dependent analysis. prereq: 4126, 4115, BSCE candidate; no grad credit

CE 4213. Open Channel Hydraulics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
The course will review energy and momentum principles and apply these to hydraulic engineering works such as man-made channels, dams, harbors, and bridges. Principles of sediment transport in alluvial channels will be considered in the context of designing engineered structures. pre-req: CE 3225 or instructor consent

CE 4215. Hydraulic Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Application of hydraulic and hydrologic engineering data and methods for design of hydraulic structures including storm sewers, conveyance channels, flow control structures, detention and wet ponds, culverts, bridges, and dams. This course will make use of computer simulation models used in engineering design and include applications to stormwater managements. prereq: 3225, no Grad credit

CE 4228. Watershed Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Basic principles in hydrologic modeling and concepts of watershed delineation, land use change impact, case studies, and modeling tools are discussed and applied to natural and urban watersheds. The course will utilize hydraulic and hydrologic models and GIS tools for engineering design. pre-req: CE 3225 or instructor consent

CE 4237. Water Quality Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Applied analysis of water quality in natural systems. Review of mass-transport processes and approaches for solving water quality problems in lakes, estuaries, rivers, groundwater, and soil-sediment with TMDL (Total Maximum Daily Load) and remediation design applications. Applications in water and wastewater treatment. prereq: 3025 or instructor consent; no grad credit

CE 4246. Environmental Remediation Technologies. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

The course examines the principal applications and limitations of technologies designed for source control and removal of contaminants from soil, groundwater, and surface water. Topics include: introduction to hazardous waste, contaminant characteristics, a review of mass transport, partitioning and fate of contaminants, site characterization/assessment, regulatory requirement, the design and operation of current remediation technologies, advances in technological design, and emerging remediation technologies including biotechnology and nanotechnology. pre-req: CE 3025 or instructor consent; no grad credit

CE 4255. Senior Design. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Formal written and oral reports describing design project. Complete professional documentation of results. prereq: instructor consent, no Grad cr

CE 4256. Design of Water and Waste Water Treatment Plants. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to design of municipal water and wastewater treatment plants. Unit operations approach sets the foundation by presenting conventional classic treatment trains. Hybrid systems, small community, and onsite systems will also be presented. prereq: 3025 or instructor consent

CE 4257. Municipal Solid Waste Management and Hazardous Waste Systems. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
The class is an introduction to design solid waste management. Specific topics covered include: waste characterization, route planning, collection technologies, resource recovery systems (recycling), energy recovery (refuse derive fuel), landfill design (staging, leachate management, landfill gas management), and cover system design. An overview of soil and groundwater remediation technologies will also be provided. prereq: 3025 or instructor consent

CE 4315. Design of Traffic Systems. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course aims to provide an in-dept knowledge of design principles and methodologies for traffic control systems to optimize operational efficiency and safety of traffic flows. The theories of traffic flow modeling, simulation and control will be introduced as the basis for designing traffic systems. The process to analyze traffic systems performance will be studied with computer-based tools. The design methodologies for traffic control systems for arterials and freeways will be discussed and applied to real roadways in a simulated environment. A process to assess the effectiveness of design strategies on different types of highways will be studied and applied to sample corridors. prereq: 3316, no grad credit

CE 4316. Pavement Analysis and Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Analysis, behavior, performance, and structural design of pavements for highways and airfields will be discussed. Prominent pavement distress mechanisms, their causes, and remedial measures will be presented. Other topics include climate factors, rehabilitation, sustainability, and renewability in pavement engineering, life cycle design economics, and traffic loadings. prereq: 2017, 3027 and 3316; no grad credit

CE 4318. Pavement Maintenance, Rehabilitation, and Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Students will learn to evaluate the existing condition of the pavements, designing and selecting the appropriate rehabilitation strategy. Broadly, this course will include (i) assessment of the functional and structural conditions of pavements, (ii) pavement maintenance, repair and rehabilitation techniques, (iii) design of overlays, (iv) life cycle cost analysis of pavement overlays, and (v) introduction to pavement management. Different software such as BAKFAA, AASHTOW are Pavement ME Design, DRIP, BCOA-ME and MnPAVE will be utilized, wherever applicable. prereq: 3027, 3316 or instructor consent; no grad credit

CE 4320. Advanced Pavement Materials, Design and Construction. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

This course contains both lecture and lab classes. In the lecture class, students will learn the following: (i) mixture design procedures for concrete and asphalt pavements with and without the application of recycled materials; (ii) mechanistic design of pavement using 'MnPAVE' and 'AASHTOW are Pavement ME Design' procedures, and (iii) pavement construction procedures. In the laboratory class, students will learn the following: (i) perform the mixture design for asphalt and concrete pavement materials for a real-world pavement project, (ii) conduct performance tests on the samples prepared with their own mixture designs, and (iii) participate field trips to monitor recent trends in the material mixture design and pavement construction procedures. Students will prepare a project report and present to the class towards the end of the semester. The lab report and project report will be a group work. Students will need to interact with the experts from the pavement industry for completing the project report. prereq: CE 3027; no grad credit

CE 4326. Highway Planning and Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course aims to provide an in-depth knowledge on highway network planning and design methodologies. Current planning and design methods for roadways will be introduced and used for class projects. The potential interrelationship between design parameters and traffic operation/safety will also be introduced for each design element. prereq: 3316; no grad credit

CE 4328. Transportation System Planning and Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

This course introduces theoretical foundations of transportation planning, design, and analysis methods. Main topics include theory and application of aggregate and disaggregate models for route/mode choice, land use, and trip generations. The methodologies for planning, design, and evaluation of transportation system alternatives are also addressed in this course. prereq: CE 3316

CE 4415. Geotechnical Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Study of geotechnical engineering topics related to design and construction of structures in contact with soils such as shallow and deep foundations, pile foundations and earth retaining structures. Also covered are topics related to site characterization and subsoil exploration and methods for ground improvement and modification. prereq: 3426, no grad credit

CE 4422. Numerical Modeling in Geotechnical Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

This course covers theoretical and practical aspects of numerical modeling of problems in geotechnical engineering, using the finite element and finite difference methods, as implemented in commercial packages such as Abaqus and FLAC. The emphasis is on the solution of typical soil mechanics and geotechnical design problems. These include determining stresses in soils; solving shallow and deep foundation problems; seepage and consolidation problems; lateral earth pressure, retaining wall and slope stability problems; and seismic wave propagation in soils. prereq: 3426; no grad credit

CE 4426. Rock Mechanics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Study of rock as an engineering material, including physical and mechanical characterization of intact rock and rock masses as they relate to civil and mining engineering applications. This also includes the study of effect of jointing and water in a rock mass, foundations of civil and mining engineering structures in rock, stability of cuts in rock, and excavation and support of surface and underground and openings in rock. Laboratory testing is included in this course. prereq: 3426; no grad credit

CE 4515. Sustainable Design. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to sustainable design and construction including LEED, materials, construction/transportation/production, life-cycle/service, rating systems, codes, regulations, economical issues and social issues. prereq: BSCE or BSCH or BSECE or BSIE or BSME and instructor consent; no grad credit

CE 4545. Design of Structures with Advanced Materials. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course focuses on the design of structures utilizing advanced materials such as composites and polymeric materials. Topics covered in this course include: Material properties of composites, polymers, and other advanced materials; Mechanical properties of composites, polymers, and other advanced materials; Accounting for creep and stress relaxation in design; Design of various structures with advanced materials including pipes, chambers, and other buried structures. prereq: CE 3027, no grad credit

CE 4596. Cooperative Education II. (2 cr. ;

A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Continuation of practical work experience with an employer closely associated with student's academic area. Arranged by mutual agreement among student, department and employer. Formal written report of work completed must be submitted to the department at the end of the experience. prereq: CE candidate, instructor consent; no grad credit

CE 4991. Independent Study in Civil Engineering. (1-4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed study of special interest topics not available in the standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special projects. prereq: CE upper division status, instructor consent; no graduate credit

CE 4995. Special Topics in Civil Engineering: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-4 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Topics not available in the regular department curriculum. Topics may include specialties of the department or visiting faculty. prereq: no grad credit

CE 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

CE 5027. Advanced Infrastructure Materials. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course will cover advanced topics related to the behavior of Portland cement concrete and other special concretes. Topics to be covered include: Portland cement production and chemistry; supplementary cementitious materials, mixture design, concrete durability and repair techniques, and other special concretes. prereq: Graduate status or instructor consent

CE 5115. Structural Dynamics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Response of single degree-of-freedom and multiple degree of freedom systems to vibrations, earthquakes, blast and impact. prereq: 3115 or grad student

CE 5116. Seismic Design and Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course focuses on characterizing seismic hazards, analyzing structural systems under seismic loading, and designing structural systems to resist earthquakes. Topics include characterization of seismic hazards, simplified modal and lateral force analysis procedures, and application of seismic building code provisions. prereq: CE 4115, 4126 and pre or co-enrolled in CE 5115

CE 5127. Bridge Analysis and Design. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course will present AASHTO LRFD based highway bridge analysis, design and evaluation. prereq: CE 4115 and CE 4128 or Grad student

CE 5128. Prestressed Concrete Structures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring) Design and behavior of prestressed concrete structures: materials and systems (including specifics for precast and post-tensioned members), losses, flexure, shear, bond, deflections, partial prestressing, continuous beams. prereq: CE 4126 or grad student

CE 5129. Post-Tensioned Concrete Structures. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

This course covers analysis and design of post-tensioned concrete members including mono-strand unbonded systems, grouted multi-strand systems, and post-tensioning as a rehabilitation technique. Design for safety, durability, and economy are included for each type of system following the ACI 318 Building Code as well as post-tensioning specific publications. Anchorage design and strut-and-tie models are covered, and post-tensioned bridges are also discussed. pre-req: CE 4128 or 5128 or equivalent with instructor consent

CE 5134. Advanced Steel Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course focuses on advanced design of steel structures. Topics covered in this course include: steel members subjected to torsion, bolted and welded steel connections, braced frames with gusset plate connections, stability of steel frames, steel plate girders, and fatigue and fracture. pre-req: CE 4115

CE 5135. Advanced Reinforced Concrete Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course focuses on advanced design of concrete structures, with some applications for steel-concrete composite systems. Topics covered in this course include: slender concrete columns, development length of reinforcement, two-way slabs, torsion in concrete, and steel-concrete composite systems. pre-req: CE 4126

CE 5136. Structural Systems. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Building codes, design loads, computerized structural analysis and design, gravity and lateral system analysis and design, structural system descriptions and selection considerations, and structural contract documents. pre-req : CE 4115 and 4126 or CE grad student

CE 5137. Advanced Structural Analysis and Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Advanced topics in both structural analysis and design. Topics include: matrix analysis, introduction to finite elements, design of prestressed concrete, design of two way concrete slabs, and design of steel plate girders. prereq: 4115, 4126; grad student

CE 5201. Water Policy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Socio-cultural, legal, and economic factors that affect water resources management. historical trends in water policy, resulting water laws in the United States. Federal, state and local institutional structures for water management. prereq: graduate student or instructor consent

CE 5203. Stream Crossing and Culvert Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Overview of road-stream crossing design with emphasis on stream simulation for aquatic organism passage. Includes field data collection, analysis, and design of road-stream crossings, and traditional culvert hydraulic analysis and design. Meets concurrently with 2 cr. GEOL course (GEOL 5603) that excludes culvert hydraulic analysis and design. pre-req: CE 3225 or grad student; instructor consent

CE 5216. Applications in Environmental Modeling. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Theory and application of environmental chemodynamics. Transport processes and equilibrium across natural phases including water, air, and soil using analytical and numerical modeling approaches. Economic and reliability analysis for hydrosystems using linear and non-linear programming with applications to water supply and water excess engineering. prereq: graduate status or instructor consent

CE 5226. Water Resources Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Application of engineering economics, risk analysis, and operations research to the planning and management of water systems; major topics include flood control, hydroelectric power, water supply, multiobjective planning, sustainability and climate change. prereq: 3225, grad student

CE 5237. Water Quality Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Applied analysis of water quality in natural systems. Review of mass-transport processes and approaches for solving water quality problems in lakes, estuaries, rivers, groundwater, and soil-sediment with TMDL (Total Maximum Daily Load) and remediation design applications. Applications in water and wastewater treatment. prereq: 3025 or CHE 2001 or grad student or instructor consent

CE 5241. Water Chemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Water is critical component of environmental systems, and the chemistry that occurs in water is a rich subject. This class focuses on water chemistry in both natural and engineered systems. Topics include a review of thermodynamics and equilibrium, acids and bases, titrations, the carbonate system, solubility of minerals, metal ion complexation, oxidation/reduction chemistry, and descriptions of adsorption. Principles are applied to chemistry in water treatment, nutrient cycling, organic matter, and organic pollutants. Both chemical equilibrium and chemical kinetics are explored. Students will be introduced to software that can be used to solve water chemistry problems. The class is targeted at seniors and graduate students. pre-req: CE 3025 or CHEM 1155, or graduate student or instructor consent

CE 5246. Environmental Remediation Technologies. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

The course examines the principal applications and limitations of technologies designed for source control and removal of contaminants from soil, groundwater, and surface water. Topics include: introduction to hazardous waste, contaminant characteristics, a review of mass transport, partitioning and fate of contaminants, site characterization/assessment, regulatory requirement, the design and operation of current remediation technologies, advances in technological design, and emerging remediation technologies including biotechnology and nanotechnology. pre-req: CE, WRS, IBS graduate students or instructor consent

CE 5251. Design of Chemical Physical Unit Operations in Water Treatment. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Detailed design of chemical/physical unit operations in municipal water treatment. Classic surface water treatment, ion exchange, activated carbon, membrane systems, and chlorination will be covered at a design level. Labs will provide pilot scale experience with selected unit operations. prereq: 4256 or instructor consent

CE 5315. Design of Traffic Systems. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course provides an in-depth knowledge of design principles and methodologies for traffic control systems to optimize operational efficiency and safety of traffic flows. The theories of traffic flow modeling, simulation and control are introduced as the basis for designing traffic systems. The process to analyze traffic systems performance is applied with computer-based tools. The design methodologies for traffic control systems for arterials and freeways are discussed and applied to real roadways in a simulated environment. A process to assess the effectiveness of design strategies on different types of highways is evaluated and applied to sample corridors. prereq: 3316 or grad student

CE 5316. Pavement Analysis and Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Analysis, behavior, performance, and structural design of pavements for highways and airfields will be discussed. Prominent pavement distress mechanisms, their causes, and remedial measures will be presented. Other topics include climate factors, rehabilitation, sustainability, and renewability in pavement engineering, life cycle design economics, and traffic loadings. prereq: 3027, 3316; grad student

CE 5317. Traffic Flow Theory and Modeling. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Vehicle detection and traffic data collection methods. Measure for traffic system effectiveness, drive behavior theory, and microscopic modeling. Macroscopic traffic flow theory and modeling methodologies, simulation models and optimal calibration methods. Application of simulation models. prereq: 4315 or grad student

CE 5318. Pavement Maintenance, Rehabilitation, and Management. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Students will learn to evaluate the existing condition of the pavements, designing and selecting the appropriate rehabilitation strategy. Broadly, this course will include (i) assessment of the functional and structural conditions of pavements, (ii) pavement maintenance, repair and rehabilitation techniques, (iii) design of overlays, (iv) life cycle cost analysis of pavement overlays, and (v) introduction to pavement management. Different software such as BAKFAA, AASHTOW are Pavement ME Design, DRIP, BCOA-ME and MnPAVE will be utilized, wherever applicable. prereq: 3027, 3316 or CE graduate student

CE 5320. Advanced Pavement Materials, Design and Construction. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

This course contains both lecture and lab classes. In the lecture class, students will learn the following: (i) mixture design procedures for concrete and asphalt pavements with and without the application of recycled materials; (ii) mechanistic design of pavement using 'MnPAVE' and 'AASHTOW are Pavement ME Design' procedures, and (iii) pavement construction procedures. In the laboratory class, students will learn the following: (i) perform the mixture design for asphalt and concrete pavement materials for a real-world pavement project, (ii) conduct performance tests on the samples prepared with their own mixture designs, and (iii) participate field trips to monitor recent trends in the material mixture design and pavement construction procedures. Students will prepare a project report and present to the class towards the end of the semester. The lab report and project report will be a group work. Students will need to interact with the experts from the pavement industry for completing the project report. This course will also be offered as 4320; the student taking this course as CE 5320 will need to do more homework assignments than those who are taking it as CE 4320. pre-req: CE 3027

CE 5326. Highway Planning and Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course aims to provide an in-depth knowledge on highway network planning and design methodologies. Current planning and design methods for roadways will be introduced and used for class projects. The potential interrelationship between design parameters and traffic operation/safety will also be introduced for each design element. prereq: 3316 or graduate student

CE 5420. Advanced Soil Mechanics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

This course will cover advanced topics related to the behavior of cohesive and cohesionless soils. Topics to be covered include: stress and strength concepts; measurement devices; shear strength of sands, gravels, and rockfills; shear strength of saturated clay; and shear strength of silts. Will require development of graduate project level project, in addition to the undergraduate level requirements of the course. prereq: 3426, 4415 (concurrent registration is acceptable) or CE graduate student

CE 5421. Applied Geostatistics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

The course teaches theoretical and practical aspects of geostatistics; with primary focus on analysis of information gathered in site investigations for civil engineering projects, although the concepts taught in the course also have direct application in economic geology and ore-mining investigations. Theoretical aspects of the course center on description and modeling of spatial variability and interpolation attributes of interest at unsampled locations; they also focus on sampling design and incorporation of different types of information (continuous, categorical) in geostatistical prediction. Practical implementation of concepts taught involves use of geostatistical packages in the software R and Matlab (also commercial software packages commonly used in the civil and mining engineering industry such as ArcGIS, Vulcan, etc., will be addressed.) Will require development of a graduate level project, in addition to the undergraduate level requirements of the course. prereq: MATH 1297 or STAT 2411 or 3411 or CE graduate student

CE 5422. Numerical Modeling in Geotechnical Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

This course covers theoretical and practical aspects of numerical modeling of problems in geotechnical engineering, using the finite element and finite difference methods, as implemented in commercial packages such as Abaqus and FLAC. The emphasis is on the solution of typical soil mechanics and geotechnical design problems. These include determining stresses in soils; solving shallow and deep foundation problems; seepage and consolidation problems; lateral earth pressure, retaining wall and slope stability problems; and seismic wave propagation in soils. Will require development of a graduate level project in addition to the undergraduate level requirements of the course. prereq: 3426 or CE Graduate Student or instructor consent

CE 5426. Rock Mechanics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Study of rock as an engineering material, including physical and mechanical characterization of intact rock and rock masses as they relate to civil and mining engineering applications. This also includes the study of effect of jointing and water in a rock mass, foundations of civil and mining engineering structures in rock, stability of cuts in rock, and excavation and support of surface and underground and openings in rock. prereq: 3426, Grad Student

CE 5515. Sustainable Design and Construction (SUSTAIN). (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduction to sustainable design and construction including LEED, materials, construction/transportation/production, life-cycle/service, rating systems, codes, regulations, economical issues and social issues. prereq: BSCE or BSCE or BSECE or BSIE or BSME or Grad student and instructor consent; meets DLE req of Sustainability

CE 5525. Decision, Risk and Reliability. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

An introduction to modeling uncertainty in engineering applications. Tools for risk based design and decision making including uncertainty modeling and decision analysis applied to civil engineering systems prereq: STAT 3411 or grad student or instructor consent

CE 5545. Design of Structures with Advanced Materials. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course focuses on the design of structures utilizing advanced materials such as composites and polymeric materials. Topics covered in this course include: Material properties of composites, polymers, and other advanced materials; Mechanical properties of composites, polymers, and other advanced materials; Accounting for creep and stress relaxation in design; Design of various structures with advanced materials including pipes, chambers, and other buried structures. pre-req: CE 3027

CE 5555. Project Credits: Master of Engineering (Civil). (3-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Master of Engineering project work as determined by faculty advisor and student with approval by the department director of graduate studies. prereq: Civil Engineering MEng Student

CE 5991. Graduate Independent Study in Civil Engineering. (1-12 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed study of special interest topics not available in the standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special project. prereq: CE MEng candidate, instructor consent

CE 5995. Special Topics in Civil Engineering:(Various Titles to be Assigned). (1-4 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Topics not available in the regular department curriculum. Topics may include specialties of the department or visiting faculty. prereq: grad student

CC 317. Functional Anatomy and Sport Injury Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Functional anatomy, care and prevention of sport injuries, emergency care and external support application. Principles and techniques appropriate for coaches, recreational personnel, pre-professional physical therapists and nurses. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3150. Coaching Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)
Study and application of educational methods in an athletic setting. Skill development, learning styles, communication skills, technology skills and practice development as it pertains to sport. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3160. Psychological Aspects of Coaching and Athletic Performance. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Psychological techniques and interventions to enhance athletic performance. Emphasizes the implementation of mental skills that enhance athletic performance into sport practice by the coach and/or athlete. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3161. Administrative Aspects of Coaching. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Examines state governing organizations, budgeting, scheduling, insurance, contest administration, and public relations procedures in athletic programs. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3170. Coaching and Officiating Football. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Systems of offense and defense, strategy, and methods of organizing practices and working with team members. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3171. Coaching and Officiating Basketball. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Fundamentals, styles of offense and defense, training suggestions. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3172. Coaching and Officiating Volleyball. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Coaching and officiating offenses and defenses; conditioning programs; coaching and officiating philosophies. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3178. Coaching and Officiating Track and Field. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Fundamentals, mechanical analysis of events, training techniques and strategies. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3179. Coaching and Officiating Softball. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Fundamentals, practice sessions, training techniques, and offensive and defensive strategies. prereq: Coaching minor or instructor consent

CC 3991. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
A coaching methods experience. Directed individual study must be arranged with the instructor before registration. prereq: Coaching minor and instructor consent

CC 3997. Coaching Practicum. (2 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Supervised coaching in a school or agency setting. Coaching practicum must be arranged with the instructor before registration. prereq: completed all required Coaching minor courses or in progress and instructor consent

Cognitive Science (COG)

COG 3195. Special Topics in Cognitive Science:(Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Selected topics that fall outside currently offered courses. Topic announced before course offered. pre-req: PHIL 1025

COG 4900. Cognitive Science Seminar. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
A detailed examination of a topic from Cognitive Science that will be explored using the theories, resources, and methods of multiple disciplines from within Cognitive Science. Examples of possible topics include: language, perception, consciousness, artificial intelligence, and reasoning. pre-req: PHIL 1025

Communication (COMM)

COMM 1000. Human Communication Theory. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to fundamental concepts, models, and theories of human communication. Issues concerning verbal and nonverbal symbolic processes, language and meaning, and the relationship between communication and understanding. Communication processes and problems in various contexts.

COMM 1010. Persuasion. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Introduction to the analysis of social scientific persuasion techniques used to influence attitudes, perceptions, knowledge, and behavior of others in society.

COMM 1112. Public Speaking. (COMM & LAN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Application of the theoretical bases of rhetoric to the public speaking situation.

COMM 1222. Interpersonal Communication. (COMM & LAN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Analysis of the role communication plays in interpersonal relationships.

COMM 1500. Media and Society.

(HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Historical survey of media genres, and examination of influence of contemporary media on society.

COMM 1511. Honors: Public Speaking.

(COMM & LAN; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Application of the theoretical bases of rhetoric to the public speaking situation. prereq: Honors student

COMM 1600. Argumentation and Debate: A Practical Approach. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Utilizes a symbolic action approach to introduce the theory and practice of argumentation, particularly within practical contexts; aiming at the related goals of making students more effective arguers, more critical consumers of arguments, and more critical thinkers generally.

COMM 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

COMM 2025. Communication Inquiry: Rhetorical and Historical Methods. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Exploration/survey of rhetorical and historical approaches to understanding the role that communication plays in social influence. prereq: Communication major, minimum 30 credits

COMM 2030. Communication Inquiry: Social Scientific Methods. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to social scientific inquiry related to the study of communication, and will provide an overview of research methods and an introduction to statistics. prereq: Comm major, minimum 30 credits

COMM 2101. Foundations of Mass Communication. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Theories, research, regulation, and ethical concerns surrounding contemporary mass media. Identifies U.S. media's role within the international marketplace. Survey of contemporary media content, industry structures, technology, and delivery systems.

COMM 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

COMM 3115. Persuasion and Argumentation in Public Speaking. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Advanced theories. Developing persuasive strategies, carefully managing logical and argumentational structures within the speech, and fostering critical thinking tools in creation, analysis, and evaluation of persuasive speech. prereq: 1112 or 1511

COMM 3116. Professional Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Theory and practice of communication skills related to the workplace. Skill development in presentational speaking and vocational interviewing.

COMM 3200. Interpersonal Communication Theory. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Role of communication in developing, maintaining, and changing personal relationships. prereq: 1000 or 1222

COMM 3205. Relationship Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Study of advanced interpersonal communication skills in context of family and gender issues. prereq: 1222

COMM 3210. Group Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Small group approaches to problem management. Useful for anyone intending to participate in decision-making groups. prereq: Minimum 30 credit, communication major or minor or instructor consent

COMM 3211. Communication and Technology in the Information Age. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Explores communication technologies in the information society; introduces students to new technologies used in contemporary organizations; explores implications of those technologies for human communication; and provides hands-on experience within a theoretical framework.

COMM 3215. Conflict Management. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Application of interpersonal conflict management theory and skills to small group, organizational, and community conflicts.

COMM 3223. Communication and Creativity. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Examines the relationship between communication and creative processes in an array of contexts, including artistic, professional, social, interpersonal and civic arenas. Content includes techniques of deliberate creativity; analysis of cognitive theory as it relates to creativity, addressing both "rational" (critical) and "non-rational" (intuitive) approaches to risk-taking and exploration. prereq: Minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

COMM 3225. Listening Across Difference. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Examines the art and science of listening strategies across different contexts, including relational, rhetorical, and digital situations. Review, analysis, evaluation, and development of listening approaches and skills to constitutively create better social worlds.

COMM 3230. Mindful Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Mindfulness consists of the capacity to maintain present-centered, nonjudgmental, awareness in everyday life. This discussion and application-based course covers theoretical and practical implications associated with the use of mindfulness techniques for intrapersonal and interpersonal communication. Students have the opportunity to implement mindfulness practices throughout the semester as an experiential way of observing how mindfulness enhances self- and relational well-being via an enhanced ability to communicate effectively across a variety of contexts.

COMM 3270. Emotion and Relationships.

(; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
This course examines the impact that emotion has on relationship processes and outcomes. Students will be introduced to the history of emotion, how emotion is measured, and the ways in which emotion facilitates/hinders relational development, decision-making, maintenance, and dissolution.

COMM 3295. Special Topics: Interpersonal Communication. (; 3 cr. [max 12 cr.]; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Interpersonal communication topics not included in regular curriculum.

COMM 3300. Teaching Assistantship in Communication. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Practical experience in teaching beginning courses in the department. Students serve as intern teachers assisting the instructor in administration of the course. prereq: instructor consent

COMM 3310. Research Assistant in Communication. (; 1-6 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Practical experience in assisting communication faculty in ongoing research projects. prereq: instructor consent

COMM 3330. Communicating Difference. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Summer)

This course provides an overview of how identity and social difference in the United States are constructed with respect to: gender, race, social class, sexuality, nationality, ability, and age. Dominant ways of thinking, also known as ideologies, shape our everyday thoughts, behaviors, environments, and lived realities. These ideologies shape who we are, how we think about others, how others think about us, as well as our social and physical environments. By the completion of the course students will demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of key concepts relevant to social identity in the United States, be able to engage in personal reflection and political analysis of privilege, power, and marginality, as well as use appropriate language to articulate complex issues surrounding social differences.

COMM 3395. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 15 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Topics not included in regular curriculum.

COMM 3400. Health Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Survey course examines the critical role communication plays in health promotion, specifically in the area of doctor-patient interaction and health campaigns. Important communicative issues such as the social construction of health, the role of culture in health and healing, health disparities, media literacy, and social support are addressed.

COMM 3405. Health Campaigns. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Survey course examines how individual and community models of health behavior change are used to design, implement, and evaluate campaigns that promote healthy behaviors and reduce high-risk health behaviors.

COMM 3505. Media Communications. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Survey of journalistic, critical, public relations and advertising writing techniques. Students write radio essays, newsletter articles, news stories, press releases. They also prepare communication strategies for a mini advertising campaign, write a movie review and develop a feature article for a newspaper. prereq: WRIT 1120

COMM 3510. Ethics in Human

Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Examination of the recurring ethical questions faced by people as we communicate both in interpersonal/non-professional contexts and as practitioners in communication professions. prereq: 1112 or 1511

COMM 3515. Communication and Popular Culture. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Critical examination of the relationships between communication and popular culture focusing on the products of various mass media (films, music recording, television shows, comic books, etc.).

COMM 3520. Media Effects. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Theory and research on the effects of media. Topics include media violence effects, sexual media content, fight reactions to media, news and political content effects, the impact of stereotyping, advertising effects, and the impact of new media technologies. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for COMM 2102

COMM 3525. Deciding What's News. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Review history of news in the United States, examine definitions of news, engage in critical evaluations of news in its various genres (news magazines, infotainment, investigative journalism, checkbook journalism, tabloid journalism, etc.).

COMM 3530. Dark Side of Media and Communication. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

While various media and technologies have made some significant positive contributions to modern society, some have chosen to use them as tools for dark purposes. This course was designed to investigate how certain uses of media and technology lead to unfortunate outcomes. These outcomes are grouped around 1) Commodification, 2) Exploitation, 3) Threats to individual health and privacy, and 4) Threats to Democracy

COMM 3535. Intercultural Communication. (CDIVERSITY; 4 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

This is a skills course in which students learn how to engage in effective intercultural communication and relationships. Students apply what they are learning by participating in intercultural communication with classmates from a wide variety of cultures. Students learn about variations in cultural practices and values and how social, political and economic forces have both been influenced by and influence those cultures. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for 2929

COMM 3540. Media in Africa. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

This course examines a range of related topics and themes about media in Africa. The course provides a wide-ranging inquiry into the role played by the media in Africa's social, economic, and political development. The aim of this course is to develop conceptual and theoretical tools that ground informed discussions of the media in Africa.

COMM 3550. Children and Media. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Theory and research on the impact of media on children.

COMM 3555. Mass Media Addiction. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Examines the research and theory related to the social, psychological, and communicative rationales for becoming addicted to the mass media, centering on tele-visual media, including the internet.

COMM 3560. Video Game Entertainment. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)

Research and theory on video games, including work on content, uses, and effects. Overviews of game history, industry economics, design, and policy. Hands-on exposure to game technologies. Information about careers in video games.

COMM 3570. Telling Stories about the Holocaust using Memoir and Testimony. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course uses Holocaust testimonies and memoirs as the means by which to learn about the Holocaust. We will look at noteworthy documentaries as an additional frame of reference. We will relay on these records by and about targets/victims/survivors and participant/perpetrators in an effort to understand how the Holocaust came about and how it influenced the rest of the twentieth century as well as the twenty-first century.

COMM 3575. Jews & Poles: Entangled Lives, Cultures and Memories in the 20th Century Poland - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)

Study aboard in Poland. This course focuses on the history, experience and memory of Jewish life in Poland. One of the focuses of the course will be the experience of discrimination and the history of the Holocaust in Poland. However, the course will also examine the ways in which both Poles and Jews contributed to and engaged in a rich cultural, social and economic life in communities across the region and, in some cases, continued to do so today. The course will consider the history and legacies of the co-existence, interdependence, entangle between Poles, Jews, and other minority populations in this diverse geographic space. We will also explore the contentious contemporary debates over the politics of commemoration of Holocaust sites and Jewish life in Poland today. Pre-req: minimum 30 credits, instructor consent; admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Programs and Services Office

COMM 3580. Eastern Europe during the Holocaust: A Virtual Experience. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Odd Year)

This course will introduce students to the history and memory of the Holocaust in Eastern Europe. Students will explore Jewish life in Hungary, Romania and Poland (including what is now Ukraine, Lithuania and Belarus) during the interwar period and the changes wrought by Nazi occupation. It will also consider the ways in which narratives about the Holocaust have been crafted across Eastern Europe in the decades since. This course emphasizes international engagement through virtual tours, story mapping, and guest lectures. pre-req: minimum 30 credits

COMM 3595. Special Topics: Media Communication. (; 3 cr. [max 12 cr.]; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Media communication topics not included in regular curriculum

COMM 3610. Philosophy and Rhetoric.

(HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Introduction to the philosophy and history of rhetoric from ancient to modern times, including rhetoric's role in reasoning about values, defining the duties and methods of citizenship, and shaping self-awareness. Aims at a philosophical appreciation of the problem of communication from Babel to the Electronic Age. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for COMM 1625

COMM 3612. Rhetorical Criticism. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Survey of approaches to rhetorical analysis of communicative acts, events, and artifacts. prereq: 1112 or 1511, minimum 60 credits

COMM 3615. Analysis of Public Discourse. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Guided historical, critical, and theoretical investigation of public discourse, examining the rhetorical practice manifest in traditional models of public oratory, mass media texts, and messages that address us via new media. Topics and periods vary. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for COMM 2505

COMM 3620. Controversy in the Boundary Waters. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Considers the rhetorical and political processes conditioning the debate over the Boundary Waters Canoe Area's wilderness designation. Culminates in a class field trip to the BWCA, and a group project pertaining to contemporary environmental rhetoric.

COMM 3625. Rhetoric of Globalization.

(GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Study and reflection of global civil society, with special focus on the ways that new and changing forms of communication have altered the meaning of a democratic press, civic participation, human rights and shared experience. prereq: 1112

COMM 3695. Special Topics: Rhetoric Communication.

( ; 3 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Fall &amp; Spring)

Rhetoric topics not included in regular curriculum.

COMM 3700. Interpersonal Influence.

( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall &amp; Spring)

Review of social scientific theories and research on person-to-person persuasion techniques used to influence attitudes, perceptions, knowledge, and behavior of others. Focus is on theoretical processes and effects on individuals and society in a variety of contexts.

COMM 3800. Community Empowerment in South India - Study Abroad.

(GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)

This course will take students to Bangalore, India where they will learn about the history and culture of India and examine processes of social change. Bangalore has grown tremendously in recent years as the city has become the center of India's high-tech economy. However, the benefits of this growth have not been equally distributed: slums that house millions of the city's poorest residents are located alongside gleaming new office towers and shopping malls. In this course, students will examine the causes of these disparities and learn how disenfranchised groups such as women, lower caste members, tribal communities, and religious minorities are advocating for their social and economic rights. Students will be challenged to think about how realities in India mirror realities in the United States today, and how they too can become agents of change in their communities. prereq: minimum 3.0 GPA, 30 credits, & instructor consent; admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Programs and Services Office

COMM 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent.

(0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

COMM 4100. Ecological Communication.

( ; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall)

An advanced seminar on the dynamic relationship between ecology and communication. This course considers the impact that human communication has on ecological systems as well as the implications of ecological thinking for the study of human communication; explore human and other-than-human modes of communication; and provides opportunities to interrogate ecological communication practices in northeastern Minnesota.

COMM 4210. Theories of Intercultural Communication.

( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall &amp; Spring)

Study major theories and concepts of intercultural communication, including national, racial, and ethnic similarities and differences in communication practices; cultural beliefs and values; issues of identity, power, conflict, and control.

COMM 4220. Interpersonal Communication & Health Outcomes.

( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall &amp; Spring)

This course explores how interpersonal communication choices can impact physical and health outcomes, how physical and psychological states can influence our communication tendencies, and what therapeutic practices currently exist to enhance interpersonal relationships.

COMM 4394. Directed Research in Communication.

(1-6 cr. [max 36 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Individual research project, written under the supervision of a regular faculty member, to result in a research paper. prereq: instructor consent

COMM 4397. Internship in Communication.

(1-8 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Students work in pre-approved program with a public agency, private organization, or other service agency; work must be in specific area of communication. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

COMM 4399. Directed Projects in Communication.

(1-6 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Individual projects in the communication discipline, undertaken under the supervision of a regular faculty member. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

COMM 4500. History of Rhetoric.

( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall &amp; Spring)

Rhetoric has a long and storied history. This course surveys that rich history from ancient to contemporary times. The course aims at developing understanding of key figures, events, and concepts in rhetoric's history to reflect on the role that all kinds of symbolic action play in the lives of societies, polities, and individuals. Together we will examine enduring philosophical issues in the study of public argument. Students will gain practical tools for understanding public communication and the analysis of rhetorical texts.

COMM 4505. Media Theory and Research.

( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall &amp; Spring)

Theoretical concepts and research perspectives currently used to understand intricacies of a mediated society. Introduction and application of basic research methods to study questions concerning impact of media on society and individuals.

COMM 4999. Seminar.

( ; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Advanced study for communication students and individuals on a selected topic or theme in communication. Students must have completed the following courses with a C or better: COMM 1000, 1112 or 1115, 2025, 2030. Also, students must have completed 90 credits and have a declared Communication major. These requirements will be verified by the department prior to every term. pre-req: instructor consent

COMM 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent.

(0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

COMM 5391. Independent Study in Communication.

(1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Individual research project written under supervision of communication graduate examining faculty member, to result in a research project. pre-req: instructor consent

COMM 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent.

(0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

Communication Disorders (CD)*CD 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent.

(0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Communication Sci/Disorders (CSD)*CSD 1100. Phonetics.

( ; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring &amp; Summer)

Study and practice of International Phonetic Alphabet. English and non-English speech sounds as they occur separately and in connected speech. Variations in speech production as related to regional and/or class distinctions.

CSD 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent.

(0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

CSD 2230. Introduction to Human Communication Disorders.

(SOC SCI,CDIVERSITY; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring &amp; Summer)

Receptive and expressive human communication disorders. Importance of communication to human behavior; influence that communication disorders exert on broad spectrum of human activities. Professional roles and responsibilities of speech-language pathologists and audiologists.

CSD 2400. Clinical Observation of Communication Disorders.

( ; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall &amp; Summer)

All undergraduate students majoring in Communication Sciences and Disorders are expected to complete 25 hours of clinical observation prior to enrollment in clinical practicum. These observations may be live or video recorded sessions that occur in a variety of clinical settings. This course will provide students with an opportunity to observe the assessment and treatment of individuals with communication disorders that encompass all ages and across the big nine categories of communication disorders. prereq: 2230 or instructor consent

CSD 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CSD 3010. Introductory Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Descriptive statistics; sampling techniques and statistical inference; applications of simple and factorial design; analysis of variance; nonparametric statistics; and introductory correlational analysis used in the behavioral sciences. prereq: CSD candidate or non-CSD candidate with a minimum of 60 credits and instructor consent or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for CSD 4000

CSD 3103. Anatomy of Speech and Hearing Mechanisms. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Anatomy and physiology as they relate to hearing and speech processes including respiration, phonation, and articulation. prereq: CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3130. Language Development and Disorders. (; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Summer)
Normal processes of language development in children. Incidence, etiology, diagnosis, and intervention strategies for children with language disorders. prereq: Admitted to UECH program, or instructor consent

CSD 3131. Language Development. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Emphasis on the acquisition and development of language, verbal and nonverbal, as children learn to communicate effectively by selecting the most appropriate communication strategies. prereq: CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3150. Fundamentals and Clinical Applications of Speech Science. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Basic principles of speech science including, acoustic characteristics of speech; physiology of respiration, phonation, and resonance; and theories of speech perception and production. Clinical and research applications of speech science will also be discussed. prereq: CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3160. Fundamentals of Hearing Science. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Introductory study of acoustics and psychoacoustics. prereq: 3103, CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3200. Articulation and Phonological Disorders. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Differential diagnosis, assessment, and treatment considerations for articulation and phonological disorders. Outside observation required. prereq: 1100, CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3232. Language Disorders. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Focuses on the functional applications in the assessment and intervention of language disorders including a review of the various formal and informal assessment tools, and the approaches to language intervention. prereq: 3131, CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3241. Foundations of Treatment in Communication Disorders I. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Focuses on foundational principals of treatment, applicable to a variety of communication disorders. prereq: 3103, 3131, 3150, 3200, CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CSD 4097. Introduction to Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders. (1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Clinical practicum with speech, language, and/or hearing impaired persons in an on-campus clinic under supervision of an ASHA-certified speech-language pathologist. (1 hr seminar per wk) prereq: CSD candidate, 4232 and department consent

CSD 4110. Introduction to Applied Clinical Methods in CSD. (1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Class includes discussions, demonstrations, and case studies in applying clinical methods. Subject matter complements CSD 4197: Undergraduate Practicum in CSD. prereq: 3241, instructor consent; no grad credit

CSD 4150. Neuroanatomy and Neurophysiology in Communication Sciences and Disorders. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course covers the neuroanatomy and neurophysiology of the human brain as a foundation for understanding communication and swallowing disorders as well as their diagnosis and treatment. Students will learn about the anatomy of the brain, the basic physiology of nerve cells, the central nervous system, peripheral nervous system and their specific contributions to human cognition, communication, and swallowing functions. prereq: 3103, 3150, 3160 or instructor consent; no grad credit

CSD 4197. Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders. (1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Supervised undergraduate clinical practicum in on-campus clinic under supervision of an ASHA-certified speech-language pathologist. prereq: 3241 with C grade or better, CSD candidate or instructor consent, no grad credit

CSD 4200. Introduction to Fluency Disorders. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Etiologies, characteristics, and development of stuttering and other fluency disorders. prereq: 2230, CSD candidate or instructor consent, no grad credit

CSD 4241. Foundations of Treatment in Communication Disorders II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

In this course, students follow a case from assessment through treatment. Focus is on applying research and internal case information for evidence-based practice, clinical decision-making and culturally competent clinical practice. Class includes discussion, demonstrations, and case studies in applying clinical methods. pre-req: CSD 3241; no grad credit

CSD 4400. Hearing Disorders and Evaluation. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Characteristics, development, and etiologies of typical auditory pathologies. Overview of basic hearing assessment and diagnostic techniques. Clinical observation required. prereq: 3103, 3160, CSD candidate or instructor consent

CSD 4600. Rehabilitative Procedures for the Hard of Hearing. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Theories, principles and methods regarding historical and current approaches to aural rehabilitation of hard of hearing children and adults. pre-req: CSD 4400 or equivalent, CSD Major or department consent, no grad credit

CSD 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CSD 5091. Independent Study. (; 1-3 cr. [max 18 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Directed study, readings, and/or projects of student interest in communication disorders. prereq: CSD candidate with 90 cr or CSD Grad student

CSD 5095. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 0.5-3 cr. [max 18 cr.] ; Student Option; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Special topics of interest to speech-language pathologists, audiologists, special educators, and related professionals. Workshop and seminar format.

CSD 5097. Off campus Professional Practicum in Communication Sciences and Disorders. (2-6 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Speech-language pathology practicum in an off-campus setting under an ASHA-certified language pathologist. This experience focuses on special interests of the individual student, and allows for comparison of practice settings to prior clinical experiences. prereq: instructor consent

CSD 5100. Research Methods in Communication Disorders. (; 1-3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Especially designed for new CSD graduate students to introduce them to the research process. Topics will include generating a research question, experimental designs, data collection, analysis, and interpretation, and writing the research paper. Students will conduct a guided class research project and begin their Plan B project. prereq: CSD Grad

CSD 5142. Introduction to Diagnosis of Communication Disorders. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

General issues of evaluation and diagnosis of communication disorders pertinent to all age groups and disorders. prereq: CSD Graduate or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4142

CSD 5200. Dysphagia. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Anatomy and physiology of normal and disordered deglutition. Etiology, diagnosis, and management of swallowing disorders, including head and neck cancer. prereq: CSD grad or instructor consent

CSD 5205. Pediatric Dysphagia. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Students will learn the anatomy and physiology of normal pediatric swallowing; study etiology, assessment, diagnosis, and management of pediatric swallowing and feeding disorders. prereq: CSD Graduate Student or instructor consent

CSD 5230. Advanced Applications in Communication Modalities. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Advanced seminar and clinical practicum of augmentative and alternative communication (AAC) systems, assistive technologies and visual communication modalities. The decision-making process for identifying AAC candidates, selecting appropriate communication modality systems and developing effective communication programs and strategies involving visual communication modalities. prereq: CSD grad or instructor consent

CSD 5250. Seminar in Augmentative and Alternative Communication. (1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Examines the assessment and treatment issues for speech language pathologists working with individuals requiring augmentative and alternative communication systems. prereq: CSD grad student or instructor consent

CSD 5260. Seminars in Orofacial Disorders. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Summer)
This course will focus on the origin and potential effects of craniofacial disorders on an individual's feeding, communication, and psychosocial development. Surgical procedures aimed at repairing craniofacial disorders and at improving velopharyngeal function will be discussed. The role of the speech language pathologist on the interdisciplinary team that cares for the individual with craniofacial disorders will be reviewed. This will include describing the primary responsibilities of the SLP as well as important interactions with other team members. The role of the other team members in the management of care for the individual with craniofacial disorders will also be described. prereq: 3103

CSD 5301. Language Disorders in Infants, Toddlers, and Preschoolers. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Advanced study of language disorders in individuals birth to 6 years old. The course includes an examination of etiology, diagnosis, clinical techniques, and study of relevant research. prereq: CSD grad student or instructor consent

CSD 5302. Language Disorders in School-Age Children. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring & Summer)
Advanced study of language disorders in individuals 6 to 21 years old. The course includes an examination of etiology, diagnosis, clinical techniques, and study of relevant research. prereq: CSD grad student or instructor consent

CSD 5400. Rehabilitative Procedures for the Hard of Hearing. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Theories, principles, and methods regarding current approaches to aural rehabilitation of hard-of-hearing children and adults. prereq: 4400, CSD candidate or CSD grad or instructor consent

CSD 5500. Voice Disorders. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Theoretical and practical study of voice and voice disturbances in children and adults. The purpose of this course is to provide students with an introduction to the anatomical, physiological, acoustic, and theoretical aspects of voice disorders. Current diagnostic and therapeutic techniques will also be introduced. prereq: 3103, 3150 or instructor consent

CSD 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Computer Science (CS)

CS 1121. Introduction to Programming in Visual BASIC.NET. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to programming in the modern Visual BASIC language. Projects are developed in a .NET environment using the Visual Studio. Includes GUI interface development and expert-driven Windows programming. Major topics include variables, datatype, arithmetic expressions, control structures, arrays and database file processing. For students with no prior programming experience. prereq: 1 yr high school algebra or instructor consentexperience. prereq: 1 yr high school algebra or instructor consent

CS 1151. Introduction to Programming in Python. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

An introduction to programming in the Python language. Course will cover input/output, structured programming using statements, loops and functions, using data files and writing and calling built-in Python functions. pre-req: one year of high school math or instructor consent

CS 1411. Introduction to Programming in Matlab. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

An introduction to programming in the Matlab language. Topics covered will include the creation of algorithms, function definition, basic programming statements, input and output, mathematical operations, matrix manipulation, and representing data. As time allows, additional coverage of plotting methods, data structures using cellular arrays and other advanced topics. prereq: one to two years of high school math or instructor consent

CS 1511. Computer Science I. (LOGIC & QR; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

A comprehensive introduction to computer programming using the C++ language. The course covers program design, C++ programming basics, control structures, functions and parameter passing. Students write and implement programs with data structures (arrays), pointers and files. Object-oriented programming is also introduced, along with concepts of abstraction, ADTs, encapsulation and data hiding. prereq: 3 1/2 yrs high school math or instructor consent

CS 1521. Computer Science II. (; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Continuation of introduction to computer science. Methods for procedural and data abstraction. Focus on classical data structures, procedural and data abstraction, and the abstract data type. Introduction to software engineering technique. Algorithm analysis, principles of object-oriented programming issues in ethical use of computers. Requires implementation of significant programming projects. prereq: 1511 or 1581, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 1581. Honors: Computer Science I. (LOGIC & QR; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Similar to 1511, but in greater depth and with more challenging assignments. For high-ability students. prereq: Honors student, 3 1/2 yrs high school math

CS 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CS 2511. Software Analysis and Design. (4 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Techniques for analyzing, designing, and creating medium-scale software through object-oriented design and implementation. Analysis and use of data structures. Introduction to design patterns. Emphasis on polymorphism and abstraction to increase software modularity, reusability, and flexibility. prereq: 1521 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 2521. Computer Organization and Architecture. (4 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

Internal representation of programs and data. Computer organization and introduction to computer architecture. Machine and assembly language programming. Data and procedural structures. Addressing methods. Systems software including linking and loading. Introduction to hardware performance analysis and measurements. prereq: 1521 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 2531. Discrete Structures for Computer Science. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to mathematical foundations for computer science; sets, relations, functions, propositional logic, quantified statements, proof methods, including mathematical induction, countability. pre-req: Math 1296 or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

CS 3111. Computer Ethics. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Ethical issues posed by computer use, including those related to networking, intellectual property, privacy, crime and security, risk and reliability, and effects on work and wealth. Includes significant writing and a class presentation prereq: WRIT 3100 or 3110 or 3121 or 3130 or 3140 or 3150 or 3160 or Engr 4001, minimum 60 credits or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 3531. Automata and Formal Languages. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to the theory of computation. Deterministic and nondeterministic finite automata, regular languages and regular expressions. Kleene's Theorem. Context-free languages, context-free grammars and pushdown automata. Turing Machines and computability. pre-req: CS 2531 or MATH 3355; or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 3541. Software Engineering. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Recognition of conditions for production of high quality software. Use of current software development technology. Organization and management of software development projects. Includes a significant team project. prereq: 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 3996. Internship in Computer Science. (1-3 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Practical, independent computer science experience in commercial, industrial, or educational setting. Department approval required before beginning internship. prereq: Computer science junior, instructor consent

CS 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

CS 4112. Advanced Theory of Computation. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Mathematical theory of computation and complexity. Deterministic and nondeterministic Turing machines, Church-Turing Thesis, recursive and recursively enumerable languages. Lambda calculus. Undecidable problems, Rice's Theorem, undecidability of first-order logic and Godel's incompleteness theorem. Time and space complexity, reducibility, completeness for complexity classes, Cook's Theorem, P versus NP, Savitch's Theorem, complexity hierarchy. prereq: no grad cr, 3512 or 3531 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4122. Advanced Algorithms and Data Structures. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Survey of advanced data structures and algorithms such as heaps and heapsort, quicksort, red-black trees, B-trees, hash tables, graph algorithms, divide and conquer algorithms, dynamic programming, and greedy algorithms. Methods for proving correctness and asymptotic analysis. pre-req: no grad credit; CS 2511, 2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355 or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better in all prerequisite courses

CS 4212. Computer Graphics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduces the fundamentals of computer graphics to create 2D images from 3D data representations, the graphics pipeline, 3D representations of objects such as triangles and triangle meshes, surface material representations, color representation, vector and matrix mathematics, 3D coordinates and transformations, transport of light energy, global illumination, graphics rendering systems, ray tracing, rasterization, real-time rendering, OpenGL and computer graphics hardware. prereq: no grad credit, CS 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355), (MATH 3280 or 3326) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4222. Artificial Intelligence. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Principles and programming methods of artificial intelligence. Knowledge representation methods, state space search strategies, and use of logic for problem solving. Applications chosen from among expert systems, planning, natural language understanding, uncertainty reasoning, machine learning, and robotics. Lectures and labs will utilize suitable high-level languages (e.g., Python or Lisp). prereq: no grad credit, 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4232. Machine Learning & Data Mining. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to primary approaches to machine learning and data mining. Methods selected from decision trees, neural networks, statistical learning, genetic algorithms, support vector machines, ensemble methods, and reinforcement learning. Theoretical concepts associated with learning, such as inductive bias and Occam's razor. This is a potential Master's project course. prereq: no grad credit, 2511, 2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355, Stat 3611 or 3411, Math 3280 or 3326 or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4242. Natural Language Processing. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Techniques for creating computer programs that analyze, generate, and understand written human language. Emphasizes broad coverage of both rule-based and empirical data-driven methods. Topics include word-level approaches, syntactic analysis, and semantic interpretation. Applications selected from conversational agents, sentiment analysis, information extraction, and question answering. prereq: CS 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in the prerequisite course; credit will not be granted if already received for CS 4-5242 or 5761

CS 4312. Operating Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Operating system as resource manager. Modern solutions to issues such as processor management and scheduling, concurrency and related problems including deadlocks, memory management and protection, file system design, virtualization, distributed and cloud computing. Concepts including concurrency are illustrated via laboratory assignments. prereq: no grad credit, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4322. Database Management Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Study of database management fundamentals focusing on the relational data model. Topics include database organization, file organization, query processing, concurrency control, recovery, data integrity, optimization and view implementation. prereq: 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4332. Computer Security. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Entropy and the underlying characteristics of text. Encryption-basic techniques based on confusion and diffusion and modern day encryption. Access, information flow and inference control. Program threats and intrusion detection/prevention. Network and Internet security. Firewalls, trusted systems, network authentication. Privacy and related social issues. Planning, Incidents, and Recovery. prereq: no grad credit, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4342. Compiler Design. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

A selection from the following topics: finite-state grammars, lexical analysis, and implementation of symbol tables. Context-free languages and parsing techniques. Syntax-directed translation.

Run-time storage allocation. Intermediate languages. Code generation methods. Local and global optimization techniques. prereq: no grad credit, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4412. Computer Architecture. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Broad coverage of computer architecture, with a focus on the development of the stored program computer and the historical evolution of architectures. Includes coverage of significant architectures based on vacuum tubes, transistors, and integrated circuits. Impact of Moore's Law and possible paradigms for the future including quantum and molecular computing. prereq: no grad cr, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4422. Computer Networks. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to computer networking, network programming, networking hardware and associated network protocols. Layered network architecture, network services, and implementation of computer networking software. pre-req: no grad credit; CS 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of c- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 4432. Sensors and Internet of Things. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will introduce a broad range of sensors such as wearable biosensors that measure physiological changes, psychological changes, brain electrical activity, muscle impedance, and other sensors such as kinematic sensors, virtual reality, motion capture, luminosity and a range of robots, varying in size, features and autonomous capabilities, while emphasizing the basic principles of sensing for temperature, motion, sound, light, position, displacement, etc. IoT are ubiquitous systems that are built using embedded processors, sensors, other electronics and communication mechanisms. You will be introduced to IoTs through lectures, hands-on labs, and research papers. You will interface (embedded programming) various sensors with an AI based System-on-a-Chip (SoC) to learn to design a complete IoT system. In addition, you will learn to identify and mitigate any ethical issues related to this topic. Students will also learn the latest advances in the field of sensors and IoTs. pre-req: CS 2511, CS 2521, (CS 2531 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses, no credit if CS 5432 taken, no grad credit.

CS 4991. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Directed study of special interest topics not available in standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research, or special projects. prereq: instructor consent

CS 4994. Honors Project. (; 2-3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Required for students who wish to participate in the computer science honors program. Students must complete a research project under supervision of a faculty adviser. prereq: Consent of computer science honors program committee

CS 4995. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Study of selected topic announced in [Class Schedule].

CS 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CS 5112. Advanced Theory of Computation.

(4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Mathematical theory of computation and complexity. Deterministic and nondeterministic Turing machines, Church-Turing Thesis, recursive and recursively enumerable languages. Lambda calculus. Undecidable problems, Rice's Theorem, undecidability of first-order logic and Godel's incompleteness theorem. Time and space complexity, reducibility, completeness for complexity classes, Cook's Theorem, P versus NP, Savitch's Theorem, complexity hierarchy. pre-req: Grad student, CS 3512 or 3531 or instructor consent

CS 5122. Advanced Algorithms and Data Structures. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Survey of advanced data structures and algorithms such as heaps and heapsort, quicksort, red-black trees, B-trees, hash tables, graph algorithms, divide and conquer algorithms, dynamic programming, and greedy algorithms. Methods for proving correctness and asymptotic analysis. pre-req: grad student; CS 2511, 2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355 or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better in all prerequisite courses

CS 5212. Computer Graphics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduces the fundamentals of computer graphics to create 2D images from 3D data representations, the graphics pipeline, 3D representations of objects such as triangles and triangle meshes, surface material representations, color representation, vector and matrix mathematics, 3D coordinates and transformations, transport of light energy, global illumination, graphics rendering systems, ray tracing, rasterization, real-time rendering, OpenGL and computer graphics hardware. prereq: graduate student, CS 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355), (MATH 3280 or 3326) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5222. Artificial Intelligence. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Principles and programming methods of artificial intelligence. Knowledge representation methods, state space search strategies, and use of logic for problem solving. Applications chosen from among expert systems, planning, natural language understanding, uncertainty reasoning, machine learning, and robotics. Lectures and labs will utilize suitable high-level languages (e.g., Python or Lisp). prereq: grad student, 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5232. Introduction to Machine Learning and Data Mining. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to primary approaches to machine learning and data mining. Methods selected from decision trees, neural networks, statistical learning, genetic algorithms, support vector machines, ensemble methods, and reinforcement learning. Theoretical concepts associated with learning, such as inductive bias and Occam's razor. This is a potential Master's project course. prereq: grad student, 2511, 2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355, Stat 3611 or 3411, Math 3280 or 3326 or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5242. Natural Language Processing. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Techniques for creating computer programs that analyze, generate, and understand written human language. Emphasizes broad coverage of both rule-based and empirical data-driven methods. Topics include word-level approaches, syntactic analysis, and semantic interpretation. Applications selected from conversational agents, sentiment analysis, information extraction, and question answering. Significant research project that includes experimental results, written report, and clear grasp of ethical considerations involved. prereq: CS 2511, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355). grad student or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in the prerequisite course; credit will not be granted if already received for CS 4242 or 5761

CS 5312. Operating Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Operating system as resource manager. Modern solutions to issues such as processor management and scheduling, concurrency and related problems including deadlocks, memory management and protection, file system design, virtualization, distributed and cloud computing. Concepts including concurrency are illustrated via laboratory assignments. This is a potential Master's project course. prereq: grad student, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5322. Database Management Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Entropy and the underlying characteristics of text. Encryption-basic techniques based on confusion and diffusion and modern day encryption. Access, information flow and inference control. Program threats and intrusion detection/prevention. Network and Internet security. Firewalls, trusted systems, network authentication. Privacy and related social issues. Planning, Incidents, and Recovery. prereq: grad student, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5332. Computer Security. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Entropy and the underlying characteristics of text. Encryption-basic techniques based on confusion and diffusion and modern day encryption. Access, information flow and inference control. Program threats and intrusion detection/prevention. Network and Internet security. Firewalls, trusted systems, network authentication. Privacy and related social issues. Planning, Incidents, and Recovery. prereq: grad student, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5342. Compiler Design. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
A selection from the following topics: finite-state grammars, lexical analysis, and implementation of symbol tables. Context-free languages and parsing techniques. Syntax-directed translation. Run-time storage allocation. Intermediate languages. Code generation methods. Local and global optimization techniques. prereq: grad student, 2511, 2521, 2531 or 3512 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5412. Computer Architecture. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Broad coverage of computer architecture, with a focus on the development of the stored program computer and the historical evolution of architectures. Includes coverage of significant architectures based on vacuum tubes, transistors, and integrated circuits. Impact of Moores Law and possible paradigms for the future including quantum and molecular computing. prereq: 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355), grad student or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5422. Computer Networks. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to computer networking, network programming, networking hardware and associated network protocols. Layered network architecture, network services, and implementation of computer networking software. prereq: grad student, 2511, 2521, (2531 or 3512 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5432. Sensors and Internet of Things. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course will introduce a broad range of sensors such as wearable biosensors that measure physiological changes, psychological changes, brain electrical activity, muscle impedance, and other sensors such as kinematic sensors, virtual reality, motion capture, luminosity and a range of robots, varying in size, features and autonomous capabilities, while emphasizing the basic principles of sensing for temperature, motion, sound, light, position, displacement, etc. IoT are ubiquitous systems that are built using embedded processors, sensors, other electronics and communication mechanisms. You will be introduced to IoTs through lectures, hands-on labs, and research papers. You will interface (embedded programming) various sensors with an AI based System-on-a-

Chip (SoC) to learn to design a complete IoT system. In addition, you will learn to identify and mitigate any ethical issues related to this topic. Students will also learn the latest advances in the field of sensors and IoTs. prereq: grad student, CS 2511, CS 2521, (CS 2531 or MATH 3355) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses, no credit if CS 4432 taken

CS 5551. User Interface Design. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Design and layout of interactive programs using components, containers, events, menus, and dialogs. The use of graphics primitives, color and images; giving user feedback and help. Rapid prototyping and interface management systems. Design for accessibility and usability. prereq: 2511, (2531 or 3512 or Math 3355) (MATH 3326 or 4326) or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5612. Advanced Computer Graphics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Contemporary computer graphics techniques. Focus on advanced graphics algorithms and programming, curve and surface representations, physically based rendering, visible surface determination, illumination, texturing, and real time rendering. prereq: graduate student, CS 5212 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5642. Advanced Natural Language Processing. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Advanced techniques for creating computer programs that analyze, generate, and understand written human language. Emphasizes current empirical data-driven methods. Topics include sentence level representations, vector semantics, and models of document understanding. Applications selected from word sense discovery, machine translation, sentiment and opinion mining, and social computing. Significant research project that includes experimental results, written report, and clear grasp of ethical considerations involved. pre-req: CS 4242 or 5242, grad student or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in the prerequisite course.

CS 5652. Human Computer Interaction. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Introduction and exploration of software algorithms, hardware components, and concepts for building and evaluating augmented and virtual reality environments. Focus will be on effective human-computer interaction (visual, auditory, haptic, and mechanical aspects). Includes the perceptual components for constructing effective human-computer interaction with a virtual environment. prereq: graduate student, CS 5212 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5722. Advanced Database Management Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring) Advanced course on database management systems that will introduce students to advanced topics on both centralized and distributed database management. More specifically, this course will teach students the theoretical and practical issues of distributed database design, distributed concurrency control, and distributed query optimization and processing. Other key topics that will be covered in this course are non-relational databases, data warehousing, cloud and big data management, and data stream management. prereq: Graduate student or instructor consent; CS 4322 or CS 5322 or instructor consent; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

CS 5732. Advanced Computer Security. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Broad, active, hands-on and implementation-based approach to computer security. Fundamental cryptographic theory, advanced techniques and application. Complexity, cryptanalysis, and impact of technological change. Core security theory; confidentiality, integrity, availability. Security models. Risk assessment and decision-making. Issues for general-purpose, trusted and ?cloud? operating system security including hardware requirements, authentication, access control, information flow and assurance. Program and network security fundamentals and best practices including coding principles, firewalls and network design. Exploits, defenses and remediation for multiple issues pertaining to software, hardware, databases and networks. Political, social and engineering issues relating to security and privacy. prereq: CS 4821, grad student and instructor consent

CS 5991. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed study of special interest topics not available in the standard curriculum. Must be arranged with the instructor in advance of registration. May include readings, research, or special projects. prereq: instructor consent

CS 5994. Advanced Topics in Computer Science. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Research-oriented study of topics of current academic or industrial interest, such as parallel algorithms, VLSI design, computational geometry, logic programming languages, program correctness, information retrieval systems, and decision support systems. prereq: Grad student or instructor consent

CS 5995. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (1-4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Study of selected topic announced in Class Schedule.

CS 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Consumer Insights & Analytics (CIA)

CIA 3760. Introduction to Consumer Insights & Analytics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Course provides students the theoretical framework of analytical process and thinking. This course also equips students with the key concepts and methods of marketing research and allow student to understand how to apply those tools to solve real-life business and consumer-centric problems. The course introduces students to data gathering approaches, performing data cleaning and quality checks, creating analytical metrics from the data, identifying anomalies and outliers in the data, mine insights from metrics and finally synthesize insights into a coherent story for business ation. Students will apply the course learning using Excel, Tableau and SAS. pre-req: CIA major or minor

CIA 4761. Fundamental Consumer Analytic Techniques. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Course develops core quantitative skills necessary to convert large amounts of consumer data into actionable information for businesses. The course builds knowledge and understanding of the essential business and consumer metrics as well as the statistical techniques necessary for students to be able to competently summarize data, appropriately classify data and use data to make predictions. Marketing research is a constantly evolving field. In this course, we explore some of the current development and new application areas of marketing research. Emphasis is placed on the application of skills and techniques to data sets and using the analysis to answer business questions and formulate consumer focused recommendations. pre-req: CIA major or minor, CIA 3760, no grad credit

CIA 4762. Advanced Consumer Analytics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Course introduces customer relationship management and advanced analytical techniques. Emphasis is placed on understanding and calculating the metrics behind profit enhancing customer level management, including RFM Analysis, attrition and churn prediction, customer value and profitability, and customer lifetime value. Students will be asked to calculate these metrics during classroom scenarios and assigned case studies to gain an understanding of how these metrics can be used to select, retain and grow profitable customer segments. Having mastered the basic concepts and tools of marketing research, we move on to study three more advanced and specialized tools most commonly used by qualitative marketing researchers. We study the application of these techniques to optimize the marketing mix (pricing, promotion, product design, positioning). to study three more advanced and specialized tools most commonly used by qualitative marketing researchers. We study the application of these techniques to optimize the marketing mix (pricing, promotion, product design, positioning). pre-req: CIA 4761 or 5761; no grad credit

CIA 4797. Consumer Analytics Internship. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

The internship provides students with an opportunity to work as a member of an analytics team for a minimum of 200 hours. During the internship, students have the opportunity to apply their analytic knowledge and skills in a chosen business or industry sector. At the end of the course, students are expected to meet face-to-face with instructor to discuss and submit a presentation on the internship experience. pre-req: CIA major or minor, CIA 3760, at least one of the following courses: CIA 4761, MIS 3220, MKTG 4731 or 5731

CIA 5761. Fundamental Consumer Analytic Techniques. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Course develops core quantitative skills necessary to convert large amounts of consumer data into actionable information for businesses. The course builds knowledge and understanding of the essential business and consumer metrics as well as the statistical techniques necessary for students to be able to competently summarize data, appropriately classify data and use data to make predictions. ## Criminology (CRIM)

CRIM 1301. Introduction to Criminology. (SOC SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Analysis of social justice with emphasis on the criminal justice system in United States. Nature and extent of crime; social factors related to criminal behavior.

CRIM 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CRIM 2311. Criminological Theory. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Examination of the major theories of crime causation. Specific theories include macro and micro sociological explanations, as well as biological and psychological perspectives. Discussion includes the history, social context, and policy implications of each theory. prereq: 1301

CRIM 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CRIM 3322. Law and Society. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Complexities, organization, and elements of legal systems, particularly in the United States. Legal theory used to explain the "working" of the law, historical development of law, current issues in law, and overall interrelationship between law and society. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3324. Sociology of Criminal Law. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Nature, goals, and problems in administration of the American criminal judicial process. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3328. Delinquency and Juvenile Justice. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Delinquency in contemporary American society. Major issues concerning causes, prevention, and treatment of juvenile offenders. Focus on U.S. juvenile justice system. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3330. Cyber Deviance. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
As advancement in technology changes, so do the ways individuals commit deviance and crime. This course explores ways individuals use and misuse technology, emphasizing cyber deviance. Implications for preventing and responding to cyber deviance will be examined. Some course materials may require online streaming service access. pre-req: minimum 30 hours complete or in progress

CRIM 3336. Crime and the Media. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Examines the relationship between crime, criminal justice and the media. It explores how news and entertainment media portray criminals, crime and the criminal justice system, and the effects of these portrayals on the justice system and society. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3338. Sociology of Gangs. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer) Street and prison gangs in America at the national, state, and local level. Sociological research and theories relative to gang formation and the economics related to street and prison gangs. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3340. Crime Prevention. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course explores evidence-based crime prevention. Specifically, this course introduces students to what is known about crime prevention and how this information is used to inform practices that can reduce or prevent crime. Crime prevention approaches, practices, and evaluations will be examined. pre-req: minimum 30 credits

CRIM 3344. Law Enforcement and Society.

(; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Role of police and relationship of law enforcement to the community; focuses on crime prevention. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3350. Psychopathology and Crime. (;

3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
This course introduces students to the various types of psychopathology and their relationships to crime. Students consider the concept of "abnormality," as viewed by the public, the mental health field, and the criminal justice system. Students learn about a wide range of psychopathologies and apply this knowledge to exploring how various types of criminal activity are related to symptoms of mental disorders. prereq: Criminology or Sociology major with minimum 30 credits

CRIM 3355. Criminal Forensic Psychology.

(; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
This course introduces students to the interface of psychology and law, with a specific focus on criminal forensic psychology. The primary goal of this course is to introduce students to the roles and responsibilities of forensic psychologists in the realms of criminal and victim psychology, police and investigative psychology, legal psychology, and correctional psychology. prereq: minimum 30 credits, Crim major or instructor consent

CRIM 3361. Correctional Continuum. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Analysis of the range of sanctions and programs in corrections. Topics include both community-based and institutional corrections, as well as juvenile and adult corrections. prereq: 30 credits or higher or instructor consent

CRIM 3369. Correctional Assessment and Intervention. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Issues germane to intervention with criminal offenders. Philosophical (should we intervene?) and pragmatic (what, if anything "works") debates are reviewed, and both punishment oriented and rehabilitative intervention programs are discussed. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3375. Restorative Justice. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Examines the principles and practices of restorative justice, a community-based approach to conflict, crime, and justice. The course involves direct practice of victimoffender mediation, family group conferencing, peacemaking and sentencing circles, and other restorative approaches. Analyzes research on its effectiveness in school settings, prison, for various crimes, and for reconciliation efforts after war, genocide, and racial segregation. Includes both domestic and international examples. prereq: 60 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3380. Death Penalty. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course provides students with a broad survey of the death penalty as a penal sanction and the controversies and issues which surround it. Key topical areas covered are history and foundations, legal landscape, execution and death penalty processes, contemporary issues including innocence, cost, discrimination and deterrence, and perspectives and voices surrounding the death penalty. prereq: 30 credits

CRIM 3395. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Contemporary topics in criminology. prereq: 30 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CRIM 4305. Mentally Ill Offenders in the Criminal Justice System. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course provides a broad survey of mentally ill offenders. Students explore the stigma and needs of this population. The course focuses on the treatment and management of mentally ill offenders, including recent innovations, at each stage of the criminal justice system. prereq: Criminology or Sociology majors with minimum 60 credits; no grad credit

CRIM 4323. Women and Justice. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Women's involvement in the civil and criminal justice systems, both historic and contemporary, primarily in the United States. Attention given to women as criminal and civil defendants, issues of women's civil rights, and to women practitioners within each system. Intersection of social class, gender and race/ethnicities. prereq: ANTH 1604 or CRIM 1301 or SOC 1101 or WS 1000 and 60 credits, or instructor consent; no grad credit

CRIM 4340. Race, Crime and Justice. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Examines the intersection of race/ethnicity, gender, and class within the U.S. criminal justice system, with some attention given to global trends and international comparisons. Considers the racialized effects of crime control and criminal justice practices, including law enforcement, prosecution, sentencing, police-minority community relations, and the disproportionate representation of racial/ethnic groups in the prison system. Explores attitudes and perceptions of crime from the perspective of racial/ethnic minorities, and differential crime rates among majority/minority groups. prereq: 1301 or SOC 1101 or Anth 1604 or CSt 1101, 60 credits or grad student or instructor consent

CRIM 4350. Corporate and Government Crime. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Examination of theories and research relating to deviant and criminal behavior within large scale formal organizations, particularly governmental and business organizations. Causes and consequences, efforts at social control, barriers to social control, prospects for change. Genocide and the emergence of international law. prereq: 60 credits or instructor consent

CRIM 4382. Victimology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Extent, nature, and forms of criminal victimizations; profiles of crime victims; coping strategies; victims' rights; impact of victimizations on victims and nonvictims; victim attitudes about crime and interactions with justice system; evaluation of victim service programs. prereq: CRIM 1301 or SOC 1101, 60 credits; no grad credit

CRIM 4384. Child Abuse and Child Protection in Minnesota. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Examine how our legal system and community discovers and protects neglected or abused children. Provide understanding of juvenile court, the role of forensic science, social workers, police, teachers, nurses, physicians, and other professionals mandated to report suspected abuse. prereq: 90 credits or Grad Student or instructor consent

CRIM 4391. Independent Study in Criminology. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed reading, research, or involvement in social action leading to preparation of a paper or other product. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

CRIM 4399. Honors Project Criminology. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced individual project in any area of criminology, demonstrating sound theoretical and research foundations and resulting in a written report. prereq: 90 credits earned and instructor consent; no grad credit

CRIM 4910. Teaching Assistantship in Criminology. (1-3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Practical experience in teaching-related activities in criminology courses. prereq: 60 credits and instructor consent; no grad credit

CRIM 4930. Understanding Violence. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course examines violence in its many forms and provides a theoretical and conceptual foundation for understanding what it is, why it happens, and how it might be prevented or diminished. Structural, institutional and interpersonal forms of violence are examined as are theoretical perspectives focusing on the individual, socio-structural and cultural levels of explanation. prereq: Minimum 60 credits; no grad credit

CRIM 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

CRIM 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Cultural Entrepreneurship (CUE)

CUE 1001. Culture Industry and Creative Economy. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course is an introduction to the history and contemporary scope of the culture industry, and the closely associated creative economy. Topics discussed include tourism, sports, arts and entertainment, mass media, and the food and beverage industry.

CUE 1111. Creative Problem Solving. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
This course provides students the change to explore and engage with contemporary and historic practice in the creative fields, principally in art and design through a series of personal and creative activities. The course promotes the exploration of new media as well as traditional practice through personal involvement in creativity and creative practice. Central to the mission of the course is the development of personal traits of: creativity, thoughtful analysis, ingenuity, experimentation and the ability to solve problems. It will challenge students to move outside of their existing comfort zone and to recognize the value of that exploration. It will help students understand the importance of diverse ideas, and to convey that understanding to others. The goal of this course is to create a lasting, permanent, and integrated connection between the student, their own creativity, and the creative fields.

CUE 3001. Foundations of Cultural Entrepreneurship I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This first of the two entrepreneurship courses creates an entrepreneurial experience with all of the pressures and demands of an early stage creative startup. The class is designed to give students the experience of how to "search" for business models in the culture and creative industries. Students will use design and discovery thinking, combined with ideation and customer discovery to develop a business model and also a feasibility plan for the delivery of a cultural product or service. The business model can be for a for-profit enterprise or a non-profit organization, but in either case the same feasibility criteria would apply, i.e. the solution should generate financial returns and create cultural value through the preservation and/or revitalization of culture. prereq: minimum 60 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

CUE 3002. Foundations of Cultural Entrepreneurship II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This second entrepreneurship course creates an entrepreneurial experience for students with typical pressures and demands of an early stage startup. The course is about Living the Entrepreneurial Experience. It is about being in action while advancing the cultural enterprise idea from feasibility study to testing the minimum viable product. Key elements of the process involve ongoing research, conducting rapid test cycles, while engaging prospective customers, experts, stakeholders, suppliers, business partners, collaborators, and financiers. Students will develop plans to test assumptions, execute the plans and make decisions pertaining to products and services. The semester ends with a minimum viable product or service. Through action and reflection students will develop the competency to think and act entrepreneurially in order to advance the development of their cultural enterprises. prereq: minimum 60 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

CUE 3101. Introduction to Design Thinking and Conceptual Competencies. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course introduces students to each step of the design thinking process and design thinker's toolkit. Design thinking is an iterative problem solving process of discovery, ideation, and experimentation that employs design-based techniques to gain insight and yield innovative solutions for virtually any type of organizational or business challenge. Students will know the six conceptual competencies important for creatively solving complex real-world challenges. Students will develop skills as ethnographers, visual thinkers, strategists, and storytellers through a hybrid of seminar discussions and collaborative projects. Students will directly apply what they have learned to cases in order to untangle the complexities of markets, organizations, communities, policies and to create real impact. prereq: minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

CUE 4002. Managing Cultural Organizations. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course provides students with the knowledge and skills needed to play a leadership role in a cultural organization. Using case methodology students will know theories, methods, and practices for managing cultural organizations, gain the skills to participate strategically in the governance of such organizations and be able to design and assess the effectiveness of governance models, volunteer programs, organizational capacity, and inter-organizational relationships. Students will also know the legal requirements affecting cultural organizations and approaches to finance the programming and operations. prereq: minimum 60 credits or instructor consent, no grad credit

CUE 4003. Entrepreneurial Ethics and Values. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course offers an undergraduate introduction to organizational integrity and responsibility and related legal and social issues. Students will acquire an integrated and normatively substantive foundation in business ethics that distinguishes ethical justification from regulation by law and market forces. They will also develop skill for discerning the intrinsic ethical vocation for organizational leadership, develop an awareness of the effects of managerial decision making on the moral rights and interest of oneself and others. Additional, learn to appreciate the normative dimensions of managerial decision making in the context of a complete way of life, including family life, religious traditions, civic responsibilities, global integration and broader issues of social justice. Students will also become proficient in systematically articulating ethical arguments to justify organizational policies and practices; and to grow in personal commitment to building organizational cultures that promote and reinforce ethical conduct. prereq: CUE 3001, no grad credit

CUE 4091. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Students devise programs of reading and research in consultation with instructor to expand upon a topic related to one studied in regular coursework. Strong focus on academic writing and research. An agreement that specifics nature of the project, amount of work, and number of credits must be approved by a faculty adviser. pre-req: instructor consent

CUE 4096. Field Study. (2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Summer)
Students taking this course will be placed in an entrepreneurial project, following consultation with the Cultural Entrepreneurship faculty. Students complete a minimum of 80 hours of project-based work at a selected non-profit, business or governmental institution. A project charter stating the objective, scope, deliverable, timeline and communication protocol is established before the start of the course. Establishing and evaluation of student learning objectives are critical component of the course. To receive the credit for the course, students must complete the project deliverable with a sign-off from the appropriate stakeholder in the sponsoring organization and receive a favorable evaluation by their instructor. prereq: instructor consent, no grad credit

CUE 4097. Internship. (2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Students taking this course have been placed in an entrepreneurial internship, following consultation with the CUE director. Students complete a minimum of 80 hours of work at a selected internship site, observing and participating in the everyday operations of a non-profit or for-profit venture. To receive credit for the internship, students must complete a final report of their activities, and receive a favorable evaluation by their internship supervisor. prereq: 1001, 3001, instructor consent; no grad credit

CUE 4201. Leadership Theory and Practice.

(; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course examines theories and practices of leadership at the individual, group and cross-sector initiatives often found in the context and cultural enterprises. Students' ability to understand, apply, integrate and develop intellectual curiosity regarding diverse approaches to leadership is emphasized through projects and case studies. Through class assignments students will develop and refine understanding of themselves and their approach to leadership. They will also enhance appreciation of others leadership approaches and their own abilities to work effectively with others. The emphasis is on building a sound grasp of good practice, and on developing the ability to connect those practices comprehensively to contemporary social, cultural, environmental and organization problems. pre-req: minimum 60 credits or instructor consent; no grad credit

Dance (DN)

DN 1001. Introduction to the World of Dance. (GLOBAL PER,FINE ARTS; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

The course will foster appreciation for and deepen understanding of the varied styles, forms and functions of dance. By looking at dance from multiple perspective-historical, cultural, political, social , aesthetic - the course demonstrates the range of roles that dance plays in how we look at ourselves, others and our world. Course activities will include reading, video, discussion and lecture, and movement experiences.

DN 1011. Tap Dance Fundamentals. (; 2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Beginning work in fundamental tap dance technique, designed for students with minimum or no previous dance experience and emphasizing tap dance as a social and performing art form.

DN 1110. Jazz Dance Fundamentals. (FINE ARTS; 2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Beginning work, designed for the student with very minimal or no previous dance experience. Emphasis on introducing basic movement concepts (i.e. placement, musicality) and jazz dance styles. Concurring with Liberal Education objectives, the course will provide opportunities for creative expression through active participation and presentation. The course will also develop an appreciation for diverse cultural and historical influences on jazz dance as we experience it today.

DN 1111. Jazz Dance Technique I. (FINE ARTS; 2 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Jazz Dance Technique I is designed for students with some previous dance experience to develop primary jazz dance skills with emphasis on rhythm, musicality, flexibility, strength, placement, line and coordination. Concurring with Liberal Education objectives, the course will provide opportunities for creative expression through active participation and presentation. The course will also develop an appreciation for diverse cultural and historical influences on jazz dance as we experience it today.

DN 1121. Tap Dance Technique I. (2 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Beginning Tap dance technique with emphasis on musicianship. The course will also introduce improvisational skills, and an appreciation for the history of Tap dance as an American vernacular dance form. prereq: 4 credits of 110, 1111 or 1131, instructor consent

DN 1131. Ballet Technique I. (FINE ARTS; 2 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course will introduce fundamental barre and center exercises of a traditional ballet class. Emphasis will be placed on correct positions of the body, vocabulary, anatomy and musicality. Class work will be augmented by video analyses, performance observation, supplemental readings, lecture and discussion. Upon successful completion, students will have a solid foundation of ballet technique and an appreciation for the historical and performance aspects of the art form.

DN 1151. Modern Dance Technique I. (FINE ARTS; 2 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Modern Dance Technique I is designed to introduce Modern Dance as both a historical form and contemporary practice and intended to develop Modern Dance skills with emphasis on placement, coordination, balance, and musicality. Concurring with Liberal Education objectives, the course will provide opportunities for creative expression through active participation and presentation. In addition, students will develop an appreciation for the diverse cultural influences on and stylistic variety in Modern Dance as a performance dance form.

DN 2101. Physical Conditioning for Dance. (; 1 cr. [max 3 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Introductory course in physical conditioning specifically aimed at cross training for dancers. Course will include basic anatomy, strengthening, stretching including static and dynamic, and addressing and eliminating muscular imbalances that inhibit proper technique. prereq: Completion of one 1xxx Dance course or instructor consent

DN 2111. Jazz Dance Techniques II. (FINE ARTS; 2 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course is designed to strengthen jazz dance skills initially developed in Jazz I and/or other technique courses. Underlying technical goals - increased flexibility, increased core strength and functionality, clear isolations and clear alignment will contribute to more secure movement execution which makes possible more dynamic and expressive dancing. The courses also further explore selected historical and theatrical styles. Students are expected to have the following: DN 1111 with grade of B or better and/or technical proficiency appropriate to the level. prereq: instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 6 repetitions totalling up to 12 credits.

DN 2131. Ballet Technique II. (FINE ARTS; 2 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course will provide students with the opportunity to build upon beginning level ballet skills within the context of a complete and traditional ballet class. Emphasis will be placed on solidifying current technique while improving the ability to quickly learn and retain combination. New skills such as epaulement and body facings will be introduced alongside continued study of ballet terminology, theory, and history. Students are expected to have the following: DN 1131 with a grade of B or better and/or technical proficiency appropriate to the level. prereq: instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 6 repetitions totalling up to 12 credits.

DN 2151. Modern Dance Technique II. (2 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

The course is designed to further develop the student as a modern dancer, building on skills and experience gained in previous technique classes including Modern I. Incorporating elements of various aesthetics including Humphrey/Lion, Horton, release techniques and post-modernism, the class will continue to emphasize basic principles - flexibility, strength, placement and musicality - but with greater stress on phrase work and more complex movement. prereq: instructor consent

DN 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

DN 3202. Improvisation for Dance. (2 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

The course is an exploration of spontaneous movement creation in solo, duet and groups. Students will get to know themselves better as movers through exercises to integrate technical skills with kinesthetic intuition in order to create dynamic movement and engaged sequences. The course will include improvisation as its own form, as well as the application of improvisation techniques to movement generation for set choreography. pre-req: successful completion of DN 2201 and/or DN 3201 with grade of 'B' or better, or by permission of instructor

DN 3211. Jazz Dance Technique III. (2 cr. [max 18 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course builds on the foundations developed in previous technique classes, including Jazz I and II with a focus on intermediate work in lyrical and percussive jazz dance styles. Students will also work on developing personal artistry through attention to dynamics and phrasing. Students are expected to have the following: DN 2111 with a grade of B or better and/or technical proficiency appropriate to the level. prereq: instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 9 repetitions totalling up to 18 credits.

DN 3221. Tap Dance Technique II. (2 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course focuses on musicianship, including tonal variation and speed. The course will hone improvisational skills, analysis/synthesis skills, and deepen the appreciation for the history of tap dance as an American vernacular dance form. Students are expected to have the following: DN 1121 with a grade of B or better and/or technical proficiency appropriate to the level. prereq: instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 4 repetitions totalling up to 8 credits.

DN 3231. Ballet Technique III. (2 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

The course explores ballet technique in greater depth with regard to steps, discipline - specific vocabulary, history, and pedagogy. The traditional ballet class will move at an accelerated pace and will be augmented by video analyses, performance observations, and supplemental readings. The course will culminate in the study, analysis, and dancing of classical repertoire from the great ballets of the 19th and 20th centuries. Students are expected to have the following: DN 2131 with a grade of B or better and/or technical proficiency appropriate to the level. prereq: instructor consent repeatable: Allow up to 6 repetitions totalling up to 12 credits.

DN 3241. Social Dance for the Stage. (1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

An introduction to social dance forms commonly used in theatrical staging and musical theatre choreography. As a studio course, the majority of work will be learning dance vocabulary and partnering techniques for social dances. Information on the historical and cultural contexts of the dances will be covered through discussion, brief reading assignments, and viewing of performance examples. The course draws primarily from 19th and 20th century European and American dances, but will also include other cultures' influences. prereq: minimum 60 credits, BFA Theatre major, instructor consent

DN 3251. Modern Dance Technique III. (2 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

This course is a technique class in modern and contemporary dance at the high intermediate level. Drawing on a range of aesthetic traditions, with a special emphasis on the integration of somatic awareness as a means to deepen expressive capabilities, students will focus on longer phrasework and easeful transitions between set and improvised movement. pre-req: Successful completion of DN 2151 or 3201 with a grade of B or better, or permission of the instructor

DN 3401. Dance Composition. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

This course is designed to provide a broad introduction to dance composition, based on the idea of introducing tools for the dancemaker's toolbox to help develop a personal choreographic voice and style. The philosophical approach will emphasize rediscovering a sense of play and freedom to experiment without internal judgements disrupting creative exploration. Students will learn to generate and manipulate movement through exercises and improvisation and will expand those skills into shaping dances. Areas to be explored include elements of movement, musical structures, narrative, partnering and site specific work among others. prereq: instructor consent

DN 3611. Dance History. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

The primary focus will be Western Theatrical Dance traditions from the 18th century to the present, with supplemental attention paid to world dance forms as well as vernacular and social dance. The course will explore how the innovations of the 18th and 19th centuries laid the groundwork for the explosion of 20th century creativity leading to today's diverse dance landscape. Balancing between a broad survey and an in depth seminar the course will build a chronological framework for the evolution of dance but also delve more deeply into particular artists and works. Students will also develop an understanding of dance history as both a scholarly and creative discipline. prereq: 1001 or instructor consent

DN 3991. Independent Study in Dance. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Directed readings and projects arranged between student and faculty mentor. The work may be scholarly or creative, but generally should be planned out with a faculty mentor during the semester prior to registration. prereq: instructor consent; undergrads may not take more than 6 credits in 3991 and 5991 combined

DN 3995. Special Topics (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-9 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

EDUC 3211. Teaching English as a Foreign Language Theory and Methods. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

This course is intended for students interested in teaching internationally and offers a practical introduction to English language teaching to non-native speakers of English in a non-native language environment by linking practice to current theory and research. In addition to reviewing how to create lesson plans based on principles and knowledge of learning outcomes, meaningful teaching techniques, models of teaching, motivation, and classroom management, this class provides a solid pedagogical foundation for teaching listening, speaking, reading, writing, pronunciation, vocabulary, and grammar. Students review the classification of language instruction practices and the major international language tests, discuss cross-cultural communication, and address the impact of cultural variables on English language learning in an international setting. The course includes a module on using technology in a variety of educational contexts. This course and program do not lead to a Minnesota teaching license. pre-req: EDUC 3100

EDUC 3311. English Language Learner Teaching Methods. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

The course prepares students for teaching and accommodating culturally and linguistically different learners by reviewing the foundations of immersion education and content-based language instruction. Students learn to adapt materials and activities, as well as evaluate and effectively use existing practices and resources. Students practice making graphic organizers, study guides, and other materials required to teach English language learners (ELL). The course analyzes the principles of backward course design, learners' needs assessment, cooperative learning strategies, and includes comparative analysis of Basic Interpersonal Communication Skills (BICS) vs. Cognitive Academic Language Proficiency (CALP). Students develop the instructional strategy of modeling and enhance their teaching skills through the advanced use of visual resources. The course incorporates highly practical readings and provides students with successful real-life classroom strategies for improving the learning achievements of all their learners with a focus on English language learners. This course and program do not lead to a Minnesota teaching license. pre-req: EDUC 3100

EDUC 3330. Assessment of Language Development. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

This course includes a review of assessment theory and its application in teaching English language learners (ELLs) and multilingual students. This includes an emphasis on performance-based assessment in language education. In addition, the course explores equity issues related to assessment practices in light of bilingualism and cultural backgrounds. Students will analyze how language and cultural differences impact responses to tasks and learn to identify bias present in assessment methods. They will demonstrate how to provide meaningful feedback to ELLs and incorporate test-taking strategies into their lessons. By the end of this course, students will describe best practices of assessment theory and apply this to the creation of authentic assessment plans for language education. They will also demonstrate thinking critically about assessment methods in regards to multilingual learners based on increased knowledge of language proficiency levels and cultural inclusivity.

EDUC 3340. Interacting with Diverse Families. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Issues relating to working with and advocating for families from diverse backgrounds and/or with diverse needs. Emphasis on linguistically diverse families, immigrant families, families headed by single parents, members with a disability and families headed by lesbian/gay parents. pre-req: Credit will not be granted if credit has been received for EDUC 5340.

EDUC 3412. The Computer in Education. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Introduction to computer use in instructional settings. PC and Mac platforms. Develops basic skills using software commonly used by educators. Teaching strategies using computer-based instruction.

EDUC 4040. World Language Teaching Methods. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) This course prepares teacher candidates with the necessary information, resources, and skill to become teachers of world languages in K-12. Content focus will include various teaching methods and approaches, fundamentals of language learning, and program components such as assessment, proficiency, and language standards. Students will develop their skills in planning and implementing language programs through lesson and unit planning, and micro-teaching experience. pre-req: FR 2301 or GER 2301 or SPAN 2301 or equivalent, admission to EdSe program or instructor consent; grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for LANG 4044

EDUC 4050. Language Policy and Education. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

The course reviews the connection between language, culture, and identity while focusing on the global state of immersion education in which content is taught in a language other than the majority language. Students will examine issues related to language ideologies and power both in the United States and abroad. They will explore the philosophical goals of immersion education, comparing and contrasting the different models of one-way immersion and two-way immersion (also known as bilingual education). This course includes a historic overview of language policy in the United States. Students will analyze past and present legislation as they discuss the role of education in language planning. By the end of this course, students will be able to match key features of immersion programs, including one-way and two-way programs, to the particular needs of a student or community and will be able to situate models of language education in a sociopolitical context. pre-req: EDUC 3100; no grad credit

EDUC 4099. Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages/Teaching English as a Foreign Language Practicum. (1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) This practicum is required for students in the Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and Multilingual Education minor or Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL) Certificate. The course includes observation of experienced English as a Second Language teachers as well as hands-on experience working with English language learners and emerging bilinguals. In this course, students synthesize theoretical research with reflective observation, thus adding to their understanding of evidence-based teaching. In practicum placements, students will be exposed to a variety of age groups and proficiency levels in order to broaden their understanding of the field of TESOL and TEFL within public schools and immersion programs. Students with proficiency in another language may also have the option to be placed in immersion schools.

Students complete 40 hours of combined observation and direct work with English language learners and emerging bilinguals. At the end of this practicum, students have a deeper understanding of the connection between theory and practice. pre-req: EDUC 3211 or 3311 (or concurrent registration) and instructor consent

EDUC 4110. Advanced Earth Science for Teachers. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Investigative approach to secondary school teaching of modern earth science curricula, including aspects of astronomy, meteorology, oceanography, and geology, the latter with an emphasis on plate tectonics. (2 hrs lect) prereq: AST 1040, EDSE 4204, GEOL 1110, 2110 or 2120 or 3210; teaching science majors or grad student or instructor consent; no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for GEOL 4110

EDUC 4226. Geometry for Teachers in Grades 5-8. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

The development of geometry concepts through investigations of geometric relationships and informal properties provides the basis for examining the teaching and learning of geometry in grades 5-8. pre-req: Math 1140 or 1296

EDUC 4227. Number Theory for Teachers in Grades 5-8. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) The development of number concepts and theories through investigations and applications of discrete mathematics strategies provides the basis for examining the teaching and learning of number theory in grades 5-8. pre-req: Math 1140 or 1296

EDUC 4228. Teaching Mathematics with Technology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall) Using mathematics-based technology such as computer software, calculators, and Internet applets to examine the teaching and learning of mathematics. pre-req: Math 1140 or 1296

EDUC 4234. Science, Technology, and Society. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Nontechnical study of historical and cultural impact of natural science and technology on the earth and its inhabitants. pre-req: Minimum 30 credits, no grad credits

EDUC 4347. Second Language Acquisition & ELL: How Second Languages are Learned & Methods for Teaching. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

English language learners are increasing as a significant demographic in US P-16 classrooms. This course provides a theoretical and research-based introduction to Second Language Acquisition, including description of theoretical, pedagogical and policy issues. Candidate will learn classroom methodology for instruction ELL, and best practices for developing literacy skills in diverse classrooms, with attention to oral, written, academic literacy, and reading comprehension. pre-req: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Block One courses and associated field experience; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 4347

EDUC 4381. Teaching Indigenous Students.

(; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Survey of contemporary and historical Indian education; evaluation of attitudes toward Indian students; direct interaction with Indian parents and students; development of culturally sensitive teaching plans; specific cultural characteristics of indigenous groups; examination of American Indian outcomes.
prereq: EDSE 4100 or Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Blocks One and Two courses and associated field experiences, no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received credit for EDUC 5381.

EDUC 4500. Professional Issues and Ethics.

(; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Provides an overview of several topics affecting practicing teachers including: employment preparation (resume, cover letter, interviewing skills), licensure application, professional organizations, professional codes of ethics, and district procedures. Offered concurrent with student teaching in order to provide options for discussion during practica. prereq: Admission to the elementary education program, successful completion of courses in block one and block two, no grad credit

EDUC 4990. Education Teacher

Performance Assessment. (0 cr. ; No Grade Associated; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
This 0 credit course is designed to cover the expense of the Education Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA) required by the State of Minnesota Board of Teaching to be complete by Education candidates during student teaching in order to be eligible for licensure in the State of Minnesota. pre-req: taken simultaneous with one of the following student teaching courses ECH 4600 or ELED 4600 or EDSE 4600, department consent; no grad credit

EDUC 4991. Independent Study. (0.5-3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Directed independent study, readings, and/or projects of interest to education students. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

Electrical Engineering (EE)

EE 1001. Introduction to Electrical Engineering. ( ; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Definition and description of electrical engineering. Digital and analog systems. Electrical engineering lab equipment and software. Selected specialties. (2 hrs lect) prereq: CE, ChE, CS, EE, IE, ME, EP majors only

EE 1315. Digital Logic. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Binary number system and digital coding techniques. Boolean algebra, combinational logic circuits, and minimization techniques. Synchronous sequential circuits and state reduction techniques. Medium Scale Integration (MSI) combinational components. prereq: CE, ChE, CS, EE, IE, ME majors or instructor consent

EE 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EE 2006. Electrical Circuit Analysis. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Basic circuit analysis: resistive circuits, voltage and current sources--independent and dependent. Nodal and mesh analysis. Network theorems. Energy storage elements. RC, RL, and RLC transient and steady state analysis, phasors. SPICE analysis. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: Phys 2015, Math 3280 (Concurrent registration is allowed)

EE 2111. Linear Systems and Signal Analysis. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Signal and system modeling concepts, system analysis in time domain, Fourier series and Fourier transform. Discrete time domain signals and systems, Z transform, applications. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2006

EE 2212. Electronics I. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Diodes, BJTs, FETs, ideal operational amplifiers, DC analysis, small signal models, and analysis; single-stage circuits design; power amplifiers. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2006

EE 2325. Microprocessor Systems. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Microcomputer components. Instruction set, machine and assembly language programming. Addressing modes. Signed/unsigned arithmetic. Stack uses. Assembly-level translation of high-level language constructions. Input/Output interfacing. Interrupt programming. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 1315

EE 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EE 3151. Control Systems. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
System mathematical modeling: differential equations, Laplace transform, block diagrams, signal flow graphs. System performance characteristics: time response, sensitivity, steady-state error. Stability analysis: Routh-Hurwitz, root locus and Nyquist. State variables. Compensation design, software tools. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2111

EE 3235. Electronics II. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Multistage circuits, frequency analysis, non-ideal operational amplifiers, feedback and stability, oscillators, filters. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2212

EE 3445. Electromagnetic Fields. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Fundamentals of electromagnetic analysis. Electrostatic and magnetostatic fields. Introductory numerical analysis of electromagnetic fields. Time-varying fields and potentials. Maxwell's equations and their applications. (3 hrs lect) prereq: Math 3280, 3298, Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016

EE 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EE 4151. Digital Control System Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Digital control system characteristics: transient and steady-state responses, frequency response, stability. Digital control system design using transform techniques. Controllability and observability. Design of digital control systems using state-space methods: pole placement and observer design, multivariable optimal control. Implementation issues in digital control. pre-req: EE 3151, , no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5151

EE 4161. Linear State=Space Control Systems. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
State space representations of control systems and analysis and design. Stability, controllability, observability, realizations, state estimator or observer design and state feedback design. pre-req: EE 3151 or instructor consent, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5161

EE 4305. Computer Architecture. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Advanced assembly language programming techniques. Memory design principles. Virtual memory. Cache memory. Processor design. Pipelined and Reduced Instruction Set Computers (RISC). Advanced microprocessor features. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2325

EE 4311. Design of VLSI Circuits. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

The course covers custom design process of very large scale integrated circuits in CMOS technology. prereq: 2212 or instructor consent, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for 5311

EE 4321. Computer Networks. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Network classification and services. Protocol and communication architectures. Hardware components: multiplexers, concentrators, bridges, routers, access servers. (3 hrs lect) prereq: 2325

EE 4341. Digital Systems. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Digital logic family characteristics. Medium Scale Integration (MSI) components and applications. Programmable Logic Devices (PLDs). Alternative clocking techniques. Computer arithmetic circuits and memory design. Fundamental mode asynchronous finite-state machine design. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2325, no graduate credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ECE 3341

EE 4351. Introduction to Robotics and Mobile Control Architecture. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Basic concepts and tools for the analysis, design, and control of robotic mechanisms. Topics include basic robot architecture and applications to dynamical systems, mobile mechanisms, kinematics, inverse kinematics, trajectory and motion planning, mobile robots, collision avoidance, and control architectures. pre-req: EE 3151, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if received for EE 5351

EE 4477. Antennas and Transmission Lines. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Theory and performance of antennas and transmission lines. Topics: Allocation of RF spectrum, radiation theory, EM wave propagation, ground effects, interference, antenna performance metrics, transient and sinusoidal transmission line behavior, bounce diagrams, Smith chart, waveguide theory, modeling with the numerical electromagnetics code (NEC), unlicensed wireless applications, specific antenna designs and applications, class demonstrations. pre-req: EE 3445 or instructor consent. no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5477

EE 4501. Power Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Fundamentals of rotating machines: DC, synchronous, and induction machines. Transformers. Power system representation. Transmission lines. Power system analysis: stability and dynamic performance. Balanced and unbalanced faults. Power system protection. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2006; no grad credit

EE 4522. Power Electronics I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
The course covers basic operating principles of different power topologies as well as feedback loop design. pre-req: EE 3235 or instructor consent, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5522.

EE 4533. Grid - Resiliency, Efficiency and Technology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Concepts are architecture or grid, smart grid and microgrid; resiliency under physical and cyber attacks; grid efficiency via sensors, networks and control; technology for cybersecurity and protection of the grid. pre-req: EE 2006 or instructor consent, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5533

EE 4611. Introduction to Solid-State Semiconductors. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Fundamentals of solid-state semiconductors and devices. Quantum mechanical concepts and atomic states, solid-state structure, band structure, semiconductor statistics, and transport. (3 hrs lect) prereq: Phys 2012 or 2015; credit will not be granted if already received for ECE 3611

EE 4621. Microelectronics Technology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Various fabrication processes in micro-/ nano-scale semiconductor electronic and optoelectronic devices: lithography, oxidation, diffusion, thin film, deposition, etching and integration of various technologies; device simulation using COMSOL software; new materials and fabrication technologies. pre-req: EE 3235 or instructor consent, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5611 or 5621.

EE 4765. Modern Communication Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Design and analysis of modern communication systems; evaluation of analog and digital modulation techniques with and without presence of signal noise. pre-req: EE 2111 or instructor consent, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for EE 5765

EE 4896. Co-op in Electrical Engineering. (1 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Career-related work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area. Students must have department approval for the course prior to starting the Co-op. Midterm status report and final written report with employer survey must be submitted to the EE department. This course cannot be counted towards EE degree requirements or EE technical electives. prereq: BSEE or MSEE standing in Electrical Engineering, department consent

EE 4899. Senior Design Project I. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Selection and completion of team project approved and supervised by faculty. See also ECE 4999. prereq: WRIT 3130, BSECE or BSEE or BSEP cand, instructor consent; no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for 4951

EE 4951. Design Workshop. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Study of a selected topic; its application to a design project, completed individually or in a small group. Focuses on a different method each semester offered. Completion satisfies requirement for a senior design project. prereq: WRIT 3130 previous or concurrent registration allowed, BSECE or BSEE or BSEP cand, instructor consent; no Grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for 4899

EE 4991. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Special projects not available in regular curriculum. Independent investigation, research studies, or survey of selected projects or problems. prereq: instructor consent; does not qualify as EE or ECE technical elective

EE 4999. Senior Design Project II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Students present senior design project results in formal written and oral reports after making refinements. Complete documentation of results in professional manner required. Results must be presented in an oral report with other senior project team members. ECE 4899 and ECE 4999 must be completed within one year for credit. prereq: 4899 and BSEP candidate, instructor consent, no Grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for 4951

EE 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EE 5151. Digital Control System Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Digital control system characteristics: transient and steady-state responses, frequency response, stability. Digital control system design using transform techniques. Controllability and observability. Design of digital control systems using state-space methods: pole placement and observer design, multivariable optimal control. Implementation issues in digital control prereq: 3151; credit will not be granted if already received for 4151

EE 5161. Linear State-Space Control Systems. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

State space representations of control systems and analysis and design. Stability, controllability, observability, realizations, state estimator or observer design and state feedback design. pre-req: 3151 or instructor consent, credit will not be granted if already received for 4161

EE 5311. Design of VLSI Circuits. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course covers custom design process of very large scale integrated circuits in CMOS technology. pre-req: EE 2212 or instructor consent

EE 5315. Multiprocessor-Based System Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Parallelism, interconnection networks, shared memory architecture, principles of scalable performance, vector computers, multiprocessors, multicomputers, dataflow architectures, and supercomputers. prereq: 2325; credit will not be granted if already received for 4315

EE 5351. Introduction to Robotics and Mobile Robot Control Architectures. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Basic concepts and tools for the analysis, design, and control of robotic mechanisms. Topics include basic robot architecture and applications to dynamical systems, mobile mechanisms, kinematics, inverse kinematics, trajectory and motion planning, mobile robots, collision avoidance, and control architectures. prereq: 3151, credit will not be granted if already received for 4351

EE 5477. Antennas and Transmission Lines. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Theory and performance of antennas and transmission lines. Topics: Allocation of RF spectrum, radiation theory, EM wave propagation, ground effects, interference, antenna performance metrics, transient and sinusoidal transmission line behavior, bounce diagrams, Smith chart, waveguide theory, modeling with the numerical electromagnetics code (NEC), unlicensed wireless applications, specific antenna designs and applications, class demonstrations. prereq: 3445; credit will not be granted if already received for 4477

EE 5479. Antennas and Transmission Lines Laboratory. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This laboratory course provides hands-on experience with designing, constructing, and measuring the performance of radio frequency (RF) antennas and transmission lines. Concepts include velocity factor, propagation, factors, characteristic impedance, tuning stubs and matching sections, resonance, parasitic elements, gain, directivity, return loss and RF safety. This course supports the theory presented in EE 5477 (Antennas and Transmission Lines) and is optional for those enrolled in or having completed EE 5477. prereq: 5477 pre or co-req

EE 5501. Energy Conversion System. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Theory, design and operation of conventional and alternative electrical energy conversion systems. Carbon dioxide cycle, Earth/Sun radiation balance, and environmental impacts. Power delivery systems and integration of conversion systems with the grid. Development of generation portfolios. Impact of energy policies and current energy issues. Case studies. prereq: Chem 1151 or 1153 and 1154

EE 5522. Power Electronics I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Power semiconductor devices; traditional power converters; ac-dc converters: half-wave and full-wave rectifiers; dc-dc converters: traditional and transformer derived choppers; dc-ac converters: single-phase and three-phase inverters; ac-ac converters; pulse-width modulation; applications. prereq: 3235; credit will not be granted if already received for 4522

EE 5533. Grid- Resiliency, Efficiency and Technology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Concepts and architecture of grid, smart grid and microgrid; resiliency under physical and cyber attacks; grid efficiency via sensors, networks and control; technology including standards and protocols for cybersecurity and protection of the grid; case studies and testbeds. prereq: 2006 or instructor consent

EE 5621. Microelectronics Technology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Various fabrication processes in silicon-based microelectronic circuits and devices: lithography, oxidation, diffusion, thin film deposition, etching and integration of various technologies; material defects analysis and device characterization skills; design of fabrication proc prereq: 3235, credit will not be granted if already received for 4621 or 5611ess with SUPREME IV simulator; fabrication technologies involved in other devices: optical devices, MEMS and semiconductor nanostructures.

EE 5741. Digital Signal Processing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Discrete linear shift-invariant systems, z- & Fourier transform, sampling, discrete-time processing of signals, reconstruction of analog signals, filters and filter structures in direct, parallel, and cascaded forms, FIR & IIR digital filter design, impulse-invariant, bi-linear transform & window functions, FFT, introduction to image processing. prereq: 2111; credit will not be granted if already received for 4741

EE 5742. Pattern Recognition and Machine Learning. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even, Spring Odd Year)

Various methods of pattern recognition, non-parametric techniques, linear discriminant functions, support vector machines, statistical classification, min-max procedures, maximum likelihood decisions and case studies. prereq: STAT 3611, senior or graduate standing in science or engineering or instructor consent; some basic concepts in linear algebra and probability theory.

EE 5745. Medical Imaging. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Introduction to the methods and devices for medical imaging, including x-ray imaging, x-ray computer tomography (CT), nuclear medicine (single photon planar imaging, single photon emission computer tomography (SPECT), and positron emission tomography (PET), magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), and ultrasound imaging. The physics and design of systems, typical applications, medical image processing, and tomographic reconstruction. prereq: EE (ECE) 2111, Math 3298 or instructor permission

EE 5765. Modern Communication. (4 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall)

Design and analysis of modern communication systems; evaluation of analog and digital modulation techniques. (3 hrs lect, 3 hrs lab) prereq: 2111; credit will not be granted if already received for 4765

EE 5801. Introduction to Artificial Neural Networks. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

General techniques and theory of neural networks, their applications and limitations. The course particularly addresses the design issues and learning algorithms for diverse areas of applications. prereq: CS 1521, Math 3280, Stat 3611 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4801

EE 5995. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Current problems and research. Discussions, selected reading, and/or invited speakers. prereq: instructor consent

ELED 4600. Student Teaching. (; 6-12 cr. [max 24 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Demonstrating competence in developing, implementing, and assessing curriculum based on learners' needs and district, state and national standards, exhibiting classroom and behavioral management skills, and collaborating with specialist. Consideration of issues related to the professional status and activity of teachers with reference to philosophical foundations, communication, job seeking skills, and professional organization will be interwoven. prereq: Successful completion of Blocks One, Two, and Three courses and associated field experiences, admission to Student Teaching, no grad credit

ELED 4650. Student Teaching in Individual Subjects: K-8. (1-6 cr. [max 7 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Student teaching in, e.g., art, music, physical education. Demonstrating subject matter competence, instructional strategies, and management skills; self-evaluation. prereq: Art education candidate or music education candidate, or physical education candidate or instructor consent; no grad credit

ELED 4991. Independent Study. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Directed independent study, reading, and/or projects in elementary or middle school education of interest to student. prereq: department consent; no grad credit

Engineering (ENGR)

ENGR 1210. Introduction to Engineering. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

An introduction to the engineering profession with an emphasis on mechanical and industrial engineering. Topics include the roles and responsibilities of an engineer, the engineering disciplines, problem solving skills and tools, oral and written communication, teamwork, and the engineering design process.

ENGR 1222. Introduction to Solid Modeling. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

An introduction to the use of modern solid modeling software. Generating 3D models and detailed 2D engineering drawings of parts, including proper geometric dimensioning and tolerancing. Modeling assemblies of 3D parts, and generating assembly drawings and exploded views. prereq: Engr 1210 (co-registration allowed)

ENGR 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

EMGT 4110. Engineering Professionalism and Practice. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Professional responsibilities of engineers and expectations of industry and society. Ethics and law for engineers. Codes of ethics and professional engineering societies. Design, intellectual property, record keeping. Environmental and safety issues in design. Group processes, conflict management. Project management. prereq: WRIT 3130 or 3150 or 3180 and BSCE or BSChE or BSEE or BSIE or BSME or BSEP candidate within 2 semesters of graduation or instructor consent; no grad credit

EMGT 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EMGT 5110. Management of Engineers and Technology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Fall Even Year)

Managing the synergism of people and technology. Overview of management functions, tools, methods. Planning, organization, leadership, motivation, control, quality, human resources, effective decision making. prereq: EMgt student or department approval

EMGT 5120. Advanced Project Management. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Odd Year)

The course discusses the project life cycle, the project management process, and the skills of a project manager. The traditional approach to project management and modern approaches to project management under uncertainty including Critical Chain Project Management and Agile Project Management will be both covered. prereq: EMgt student or department approval

EMGT 5130. Operations Modeling and Analysis. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

This course will prepare students to analyze, formulate, and solve optimization problems under different conditions to facilitate managerial decision-making. Topics covered include data collection, linear programming, network analysis, integer linear programming, goal programming, multi objective programming, nonlinear programming, and their application in the field of engineering and technology management field. Communicating results from quantitative analysis in an effective manner will also be covered. prereq: EMgt student or department approval

EMGT 5160. Quality Management. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Fall Odd Year)

Global competitiveness, organizational culture, management role responsibilities, concepts for customer value, strategic management, measurement of customer value, organizing to improve systems, employee involvement, culture change and organizational learning. ISO 9000, quality awards. prereq: EMgt student or department approval

EMGT 5220. Innovation Management. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Key success factors of technological innovation will be identified by looking at the diverse economic, social, cultural, psychological and technical phenomena that comprise innovation. Questions that will be answered include why certain inventions successfully make it to the market but some others did; why some organizations keep coming up with innovations with tremendous business value but some others stay as followers; how to enhance creativity at individual, team, organizational, and national levels; what the emerging trend is in today's business innovation environment and how organizations should cope with it, etc. prereq: EMgt student or department approval

EMGT 5230. Technical Forecasting. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

Statistical review, data sources, choosing a forecasting technique, moving averages, smoothing, regression analysis, time series analysis, the Box-Jenkins (ARIMA) methodology. prereq: EMgt Student or department approval

EMGT 5240. Advanced Operations Management. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Emphasis on quantitative methods for designing and analyzing manufacturing and service operations, simulation, and recent paradigms in manufacturing including just-in-time production, synchronous manufacturing, and agile manufacturing. Current competitiveness-enhancing techniques like continuous improvement, benchmarking, and business process re-engineering will also be covered. prereq: EMgt student or MBA student or department approval

EMGT 5250. Legal, Ethical and Environmental Issues in Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Fall Even Year)

Covers topics in basic law, contracts, intellectual property, professional ethics, the responsible engineer, moral thinking, risk/safety/liability, employer responsibilities, product liability, and environmental responsibilities. Provides a historical perspective on society's environmental concerns, and discusses federal environmental statutes, our regulatory system, approaches to preventing and mitigating environmental problems, and the elements of an effective environmental management system. prereq: EMgt student or engineering candidate or department approval

EMGT 5260. Advanced Decision Making for Engineering Managers. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

This course introduces students to a variety of tools that help them sharpen the judgment and improve the decision making process. The rational basis behind decisions under certainty, uncertainty, risk and conflicts will be evaluated. The analytical approach to decision making will be presented by combining the qualitative and quantitative aspects of management decisions. Mathematical foundations for conflict resolution in multi-criteria decision making will be introduced. Quantification of subjective judgment, the development of Hierarchical Decision Models and their sensitivity analysis will be covered. Methods to measure inconsistencies in individual and group decisions will also be discussed. prereq: EMGT student or departmental consent

EMGT 5991. Independent Study in Engineering Management. (1-4 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed study of special interest topics not available in standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special projects. prereq: MSEM cand, department approval

EMGT 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

English (ENGL)

ENGL 1535. King Arthur in History, Literature, and Art. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Survey of historical accounts, and literary and artistic treatments of King Arthur in Latin, French, and German sources of the Middle Ages and in selected works in modern Arthurian literature.

ENGL 1582. Introduction to World Literatures. (HUMANITIES,GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Sampling of literary works mainly from Middle East, Africa, Far East, and South America.

ENGL 1583. Introductory Study of Major Topics in Contemporary African Literature. (HUMANITIES,GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Introductory study of the major topics in Contemporary African Literature. Draws on literary texts and films to broaden students' understanding of Africa's cultural, social, economic, and political challenges from colonization to globalization.

ENGL 1585. Australian and New Zealand Literature and Culture. (HUMANITIES,GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduces students to the literature and cultures of Australia and New Zealand, focusing on the formation of national identity, both countries' relationship to Great Britain and the US, conventions like "mateship," and the cultural politics of aboriginal peoples.

ENGL 1666. Tales of Terror. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Gothic masterpieces chiefly from English and American literature, with emphasis on sociological and psychological implications of the genre.

ENGL 1777. Crime and Detective Fiction. (CDIVERSITY,HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Stories about crimes, criminals, and detectives have captivated, entertained, and challenged readers for centuries. What might we learn from these fictional accounts about crime and justice? What might we learn from them about storytelling, the literary imagination, and the tastes of readers? To address these questions, this course surveys a range of stories about detectives, crime, and the criminal mind.

Authors might include Arthur Conan Doyle, Dashiell Hammett, Chester Himes, Patricia Highsmith, Sue Grafton, and Walter Mosley. Relevant movies, television shows, and true-crime writing might also be included.

ENGL 1818. Science Fiction in Film and Literature. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course introduces students to techniques of film and literary study through the genre of science fiction. It requires students to interpret literary works with attention to form, genre, plot, character and historical and cultural contexts. In addition, it introduces students to competing definitions of the genre while acquainting them with some of its subgenres such as dystopian and cyberpunk literature.

ENGL 2601. Reading Film. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

This course teaches students how to analyze movies and aims to inspire an on-going interest in film. Through discussion of a wide range of films and theoretical texts, students learn to think critically about the medium in terms of its uniquely cinematic attributes (e.g., editing, mise-en-scene, cinematography, lighting, sound, spectatorship) as well as its more literary qualities (e.g., narrative, character, genre). By the end of the semester, students will have the tools to think analytically about the films they encounter in future courses and in their movie-going lives more broadly.

ENGL 2800. Nature Writing. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

This course introduces students to the practices and conventions of nature writing. Students learn to write creatively about the natural world and to read literary works that engage with it. Students produce creative work in a variety of forms and submit two of their productions for review by the class. The class also conducts numerous field trips to local outdoor settings, such as Tischer Creek and, if logistics permit, Gooseberry Falls, where they engage in nature writing directly and discuss relevant texts. By the end of the semester, students can expect to have a richer understanding of environmental literature, the ethical debates surrounding it, and the craft behind it, as well as, hopefully, a deeper appreciation for nature.

The course advances credibility, diversity, and social justice by giving voice to the suppressed past muted narratives, forgotten traditions, marginalized indigenous cultures, trivialized revolutions, distorted epistemologies, and lost lives. Draws on various disciplines such as literature, history, cultural studies, film, and music to show the cultural and political imperative of negotiating the past.

ENGL 3605. The Irish Landscape in Science and Literature - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Study abroad in Ireland. This course focuses on the natural, cultural, and literary history of Ireland, with a particular emphasis on the intersection of science and the humanities. The last Ice Age left its marks on the Irish landscape, and, human communities over millennia have left their imprints as well. The stages of human settlement over time have adapted to postglacial climate change and associated changes of flora and fauna. The evolving landscape and coastlines and the archaeological record of human history from the paleolithic period to modern times make the Irish landscape a fascinating field stie. Moreover, the Irish literary tradition from the ancient oral cultural to the beginning of literacy in the early Middle Ages has a long, rich, often locally-based heritage of nature writing. The assigned literature wll connect postglacial history and climate change to the natural systems and environments and to the history of human adaptation over time. Students will visit important geographic and cultural sites and learn how cultural evolution remains a powerful presence in modern Ireland. pre-reg: WRIT 1120 or equivalent, GEOL 1110 or GEOL 1610 or GEOG 1414, instructor consent

ENGL 4300. Shakespeare in England - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; Student Option; Every Summer)

This short-term study abroad course will explore Shakespeare's theatre world in London and his birthplace in Stratford-upon-Avon, allowing students to experience, first-hand, how Shakespeare's plays were shaped by his environment in his own day, and how they were modified, adapted, and marketed over the next four centuries. By attending performances at modern reconstructions of the Globe and Blackfriars, students will see how Shakespeare wrote his plays to capitalize on the strengths (and minimize the limitations) of the physical theatre. Students will also tour the areas where Shakespeare lived and worked, such as Southwark and Blackfriars, and visit historic landmarks, such as The Tower, Westminster Abbey, and the Inns of Court, that figure prominently in his plays. A side-trip to Stratford-upon-Avon will help students better understand his upbringing-they will visit his birthplace and grammar school-and also see where he returned to retire early, live extravagantly, and die. Stratford-upon-Avon is also the home of the Royal Shakespeare Company, the world-famous acting troupe devoted to promoting Shakespeare's works. A principal focus of this course is to consider why Shakespeare is more popular today than he has ever been. Seeing Shakespeare performed by a range of actors (A-list to amateur), in a variety of theatres (West End to fringe), in a range of dramatic styles (period performance to avant-garde) will bring to life how Shakespeare is transformed from the page to the stage, how his works have been suited to changing tastes across the centuries, and why, despite the challenges posed by the language and subject matter of his plays, he continues to have a commanding presence in theatres and classrooms across the world. pre-req: instructor consent; admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Programs and Services Office

ENGL 5665. The American Literary Marketplace. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year) Study of the making, marketing, and selling of American literature. Close attention to history of American publishing industry, emergence of popular genres such as the romance and popular forms such as the dime novel, and material and technological changes in book production. prereq: Junior, senior or graduate student or instructor consent

ENGL 5802. English Language for Educators. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Application of linguistic and language learning theories to the teaching of communication arts, with emphasis on preparation of secondary school English teachers. Includes a focus on first and second language acquisition, approaches to language and grammar instruction, and the roles of language and dialect in culture and youth development. prereq: graduate student; credit will not be granted if already received for ENGL 4802

ENGL 5821. History of the English Language. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) History of sounds, word stock, and structures of English language from earliest records to present.

ENGL 5902. Teaching Writing. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall) Theory and practice of teaching composition. Includes cognitive theories of the composition process, teaching, and writing across genres and purposes, and assessment of writing. For prospective teachers, grade 5 to community college level. prereq: graduate student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for ENGL 4902

ENGL 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

English (ENG)

ENG 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

Environment and Sustainability (ES)

ES 1000. Global Cultural Perspectives on Environmental Sustainability. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course fulfills the UST 1000 requirement. This course explores the global cultural context of sustainability while facilitating the successful transition into college learning and student life at UMD. Examine the topic of environmental sustainability through the context of global culture and affairs. Explore different cultural approaches to solving environmental issues, compare and contrast these approaches with those taken in the US. Investigate the concept of outsourcing with respect to the peoples and ecosystems that are impacted by the practice. pre-req: less than 30 credits earned

ES 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

ES 2005. Environment and Sustainability. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) This course will cover human impacts on their natural environments (resource depletion and pollution) and the complex notion of Sustainable Development. Students will analyze resource depletion (i.e., fossil fuels, forests, fisheries, water and soil) and pollution (i.e., climate change, ocean acidification, and oceanic garbage patches and dead zones) trends over the past century to better understand our growing impacts on the natural environment. Students will also analyze a wide variety of solutions (i.e., local food systems, renewable energy systems and water systems) from the emerging field of Sustainable Development aimed at mitigating these alarming resources depletion and pollution trends. Finally, students will be introduced to policy considerations regarding the implementation of these solutions and new economic approaches to help transition from economic growth to Sustainable Development.

ES 2095. Special Topics: (various titles to be assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.]; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer) Special topics in the environment and sustainability field not offered in the regular curriculum.

ES 2100. Western Lake Superior Sustainable Food Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer) This course covers issues in sustainable agriculture including relationships between food, environmental quality, human health and nutrition, social justice and economic imperatives. It is designed for student interested in hands-on, interdisciplinary field work, and community engaged learning. The course brings a systems-thinking approach to sustainable farming methods and healthy, equitable food systems. This course maximizes time: outside on the University's Land Lab (Sustainable Agriculture Project Farm), in the greenhouses, fields, orchard, forests and greenhouse. The training is rounded out with field trips, service learning, reading, assignments, and team projects.

ES 2803. Issues in Global Ecology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring) An examination of our most pressing global environmental problems and their most promising solutions.

ES 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ES 3100. Sustainable Food Systems. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Historical and contemporary food systems within sustainability framework. Understands food within social, political, economic and environmental contexts. Looks at sustainable production, consumption and processing issues.

ES 3200. Environmental and Ecological Justice. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Integrated study of justice issues as it relates to both the distribution of pollution and related negative impacts of contemporary society and of the natural world and non-human life. Emphasis on identifying how fairness is imagined, debated, determined via structure and/or legislated.

ES 3300. Anthropocene Stories: Geology, Human Histories and Possible Futures. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Study of Anthropocene discourse and social ecological reality from scientific, social science and humanities point of view. Explore this rupture in geological history that collective and cumulative human activity has created, contemporary social and political movements that has arisen to meet the challenges this unprecedented reality, and possible futures that it may bring. Focus on comparing the assumptions and implications of these frameworks.

ES 3500. Ecological Economics. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Examine the basic principles and assumptions of Micro and Macro Economics, and their relevance in our modern global economic system. Examine the environmental/social consequences of deviations from these assumptions, and alternative economic models/analyses and policies consistent with sustainable development. prereq: [ES major or minor or URS major] and [Econ 1022 or Econ 1023] or instructor consent

ES 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ES 4005. Environmental Policy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
This course explores the creation and implementation of environmental policy in the United States. Major environmental policies and laws at the federal and state level. Particular attention will be paid to air and water pollution, climate change, and natural resource use. pre-req: minimum 60 credits or instructor consent

ES 4010. Seminar. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)
Compare and contrast global free market capitalism and democratic socialism. Identify political and economic barriers to achieving the goal of sustainable development. Examine the recent history of the move towards global free market capitalism around the world and its implications for sustainable development.

Develop sustainable development projects and write proposals to targeted funders. prereq: ES major or minor, 90 credits; credit will not be granted if already received for 5001

ES 4090. Internship Preparation & Career Development. ( ; 1 cr. ; S-N only; Every Spring)

Various employers and members of environmental/social organizations from Duluth and northern Minnesota will speak to describe how their organization supports a transition towards sustainability in the region. Students will work together under the guidance of their instructor to assess, reflect, and prepare for graduation and the job market. prereq: ESG major

ES 4091. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed readings and projects for students who wish to do independent advanced study or work on topics not normally covered in other courses. prereq: 60 credits, instructor consent; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ES 4001

ES 4097. Internship. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Experience in the field of environment and sustainability with direct supervision in public agencies or relevant private firms. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

ES 4612. Field Techniques and Research Design. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course is an introduction to qualitative research methods in environmental sustainability, and is designed to equip students to plan, analyze, and present original research. Students will follow the complete research design process, including funding and grant proposals internal review board applications, and how to use these leverage employment and graduate school applications. Specifically, students will learn to collect data through interviews, focus groups, textual analysis, and participant observation; how to analyze data through these techniques; and how to prepare sound scientific arguments based on these analyses. Based on the collection of data throughout the semester students will produce original research that will be presented to the public. no grad credit

ES 4910. Teaching Assistantship. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Practical experience in teaching beginning courses in the program. Students serve as intern teachers assisting with the administration of the course. pre-req: instructor consent

ES 4999. Honors Project. (1-3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Advanced individual project in any area of environment and sustainability demonstrating sound theoretical and research foundations and resulting in a written report or other expression of scholarly production. pre-req: instructor consent

Environmental Education (ENED)

ENED 1000. Introduction to Environmental and Outdoor Education. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Overview of outdoor education, including outdoor recreation, environmental education and adventure education, will be explored. The structure and role of outdoor education in contemporary society will be considered. prereq: Credit will not be granted if already received for REC 1000

ENED 1201. Outdoor Skills I. ( ; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Instruction and practice in skills of fall outdoor activities. Camping, canoeing, hunting, and climbing; equipment, shelters, and navigation. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for REC 1201

ENED 1202. Outdoor Skills II. ( ; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Instruction and practice in skills of winter and spring outdoor activities. Camping, backpacking, dogsledding, and fishing; equipment and navigation. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for REC 1202

ENED 1203. Outdoor Skills I. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Instruction and practice in skills of fall outdoor activities. Camping, canoeing, fishing, hunting; equipment, shelters, and navigation. prereq: Environmental and Outdoor ed major or minor; credit will not be granted if already received for REC 1203

ENED 1204. Outdoor Skills II. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Instruction and practice in skills of winter and spring outdoor activities. Camping, backpacking, dogsledding, and fishing; equipment and navigation. prereq: Environmental and outdoor educ major or minor; credit will not be granted if already received for REC 1204

ENED 1500. Children, Nature and Sustainability. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Study of the rationale and underpinnings for merging nature, education for sustainability, and early childhood education, as well as practices and possibilities for doing so. Emphasized are the outcomes associated with nature-based experiences for children, including healthy development of children and furthering more sustainable communities.

ENED 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ENED 2000. Technology in Outdoor Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
The use of technology to conduct and manage outdoor and environmental education programs. Includes basic computer hardware and software selection related to technology such as GPS, interpretation, and trail cameras guiding outdoor education and management prereq: Environmental and Outdoor Education major or instructor consent

ENED 2300. Teaching and Learning. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Learning in the outdoor context is explored via presentation and active consideration of philosophical and theoretical foundations of environmental and outdoor education. Teaching skills for the environmental and outdoor non-formal educational context are presented and developed; for example, instruction in basic educational methodology and accompanying field-teaching experiences is provided. Outdoor classroom management including basic risk management, student behavior management, lesson planning and use of the outdoor classroom are presented and explored. prereq: ENED 1000; credit will not be granted if already received for REC 2300

ENED 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ENED 3309. Outdoor Leadership. (1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Spring)

Theories of leadership practices commonly used in outdoor education settings. Includes group development stages and techniques of group management. Concludes with preparation for 9-day field experience (EnEd 3310). This course MUST be taken in conjunction with EnEd 3310. prereq: EnEd 2300

ENED 3310. Outdoor Leadership Field Experience. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Practice, theory, and methods involved in leadership development including a detailed analysis of the qualities and roles of leaders in outdoor educational settings. recreation settings. This course will occur as a 9-day field experience. prereq: ENED 3309

ENED 3327. Large Event Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Organization and administration of life fitness activities and informal instruction in recreational sport programs. Design, implementation, and evaluation of large-scale recreational sports events such as triathlons and tournaments. prereq: ENED 2300 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for REC 3327

ENED 3330. Outdoor Recreation. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Examination of outdoor recreation as a part of natural resource-based agencies as well as in nature centers, commercial operations, and in municipal settings. This course will focus on outdoor recreation uses in northeastern Minnesota. prereq: ENED 2300 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for REC 3330

ENED 3341. Field Interpretive Techniques I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Techniques and methods used to interpret natural history of autumn and early winter environments. Emphasizes geomorphology, tree identification, and basic raptor ecology. Primarily field based at sites throughout northeastern Minnesota. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for REC 3341

ENED 3342. Field Interpretive Techniques II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Techniques and methods used to interpret natural history of winter and spring environments. Ecology of winter, vernal ponds, spring wildflowers, biomes, and migratory birds. Primarily field based at sites throughout northeastern Minnesota. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for EnEd 3342

ENED 3400. Program Development and Evaluation in Environmental and Outdoor Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course provides an introduction to the techniques of program development and evaluation in the context of outdoor and environmental education. It is designed for those who will be working in these fields to gain skills in developing a program and conducting evaluations of program outcomes, as well as in accessing, understanding, and using existing evaluations to guide practice. The focus of this course is at a program-level, as opposed to assessing learning/outcomes at a lesson-level. prereq: ENED 2300

ENED 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ENED 4163. Outdoor Education Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Methods and theoretical basis for teaching outdoor education. Emphasis on application at outdoor sites. Weekend experience at a regional nature center required. prereq: ENED 3342 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for EDUC 4163

ENED 4300. Therapeutic Applications of Outdoor Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

The principles and practices of therapeutic outdoor education in a variety of contexts, including: wilderness therapy, residential treatment, correctional facilities, and community programs will be examined. The history, philosophy, and methodological approaches will provide a basis for learning current trends, program models, and research in the field. Professional competencies and standards related to the field will also be addressed. prereq: Minimum 30 credits, no grad credit

ENED 4315. Operations and Management. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Methods and practice of administrative processes of personnel, fiscal, and facility management. Field study and presentation of a management plan. prereq: ENED 2300 or instructor consent

ENED 4320. GIS Management for Recreation Professionals. (3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Spring)

Using G.I.S. mapping techniques for recreation and outdoor education professionals in resource management decisions. Arcview and Landview software will be used to visualize and analyze landscapes. This course is specific to recreation and/or outdoor education professionals. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for REC 4320

ENED 4410. Ropes Course Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Management of a ropes course as a part of an outdoor education facility. Includes ropes course elements, instructional techniques, group debriefing skills, site inspection, safety, recommend and equipment maintenance. This course will follow industry standards such as Project Adventure. prereq: ENED 2300 or instructor consent, no Grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for Rec 4410

ENED 4555. Foundations of Environmental Education. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Provides a background of skills and understanding of environmental education delivery in various educational settings, with emphasis on formal classroom audience. prereq: ENED 2300 or instructor consent

ENED 4565. Young Children, Nature, and Sustainability. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Focus on education for sustainability in an early childhood (infant-preschool age) context. Study of rationale for merging education for sustainability and early childhood education, as well as recommended practices and possibilities for doing so. Also emphasized are skills for developing and implementing developmentally appropriate learning experience that support health development of young children and further education for sustainability goals. no grad credit

ENED 4601. Wilderness Philosophy. (2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall)

People and social forces that have influenced land-use related to designated wilderness; philosophical and historical basis for wilderness management. prereq: No grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for Educ 4601

ENED 4800. North Karelia: Outdoor Education and National Parks of Eastern Finland. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

This is a Study Abroad Program in the country of Finland in the Karelia region. Karelia is a magnificent area of lakes and forests in Eastern Finland. You will learn how outdoor education is used to teach about the protected natural areas in the Karelia district, particularly Finnish Wilderness Areas. You will learn basic natural history such as plants, trees, birds, and wildlife. You will explore how the Finnish "Everyman's Right" applies to sustainable use and management of Protected Nature Areas. From your experiences in Finland you will compare cross-cultural nature experiences in Finnish and U.S. protected areas, particularly those in Minnesota such as the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness (BWCAW), which is very similar to the Finnish Karelia Region. pre-req: minimum GPA 2.5, minimum 30 credits

ENED 4805. Environmental Sustainability, Education and Culture in Cuba. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Odd Year) Courses will be a short-term study abroad to Cuba with a focus on ecological sustainability, education, health and culture. Over the past two decades, Cuba has turned toward sustainable agricultural and environmental sustainability against the backdrop of scarce fossil fuel resources, they learned how to produce nearly 100% of their fruits and vegetables by organic means while building a more cohesive community. These efforts build upon the longer-term success of the Cuban literacy and health care campaign which, have been exported to the poorest communities around the world. In preparation for travel to Cuba, students will be given background readings prior to departure; the week prior to departure we will hold 3 face-to-face meetings to discuss Cuba's history, education, health and environmental sustainability. While in Cuba, students will engage in an in-depth study by visiting multiple sites of relevance and importance. Site may include: the Cuban Literacy Museum, organic farms, Museum of the Revolution, artists community, Latin American Medical School, an eco biosphere reserve and meet with Cuban citizens, leaders, workers and scholars. pre-req: instructor consent, no grad credit

ENED 4991. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 16 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Independent project that would serve to further the student's knowledge base and/or professional competencies. pre-req: instructor consent; no grad credit

ENED 4992. Readings in Recreation. (1-4 cr. [max 16 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Complementary readings and discussion in student's area of interest with faculty supervision. pre-req: instructor consent; no grad credit

ENED 4996. Outdoor Education Internship. (12 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Supervised field experience in outdoor education. pre-req: Environmental and Outdoor education major, instructor consent; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for Rec 4996

ENED 4997. Recreation Practicum. (3 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Field-based experience through a selected recreation agency. pre-req: ENED 4163, PETE 3508 and instructor consent; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for REC 4997

ENED 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis;) Non Direct Equivalent

ENED 5100. Research Design and Methods in the Social Sciences. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) An overview of the designs, methods, and processes used in social science research. Course content includes the following topics: Developing a purpose statement and research questions; conceptualization, operationalization, and measurements of variables' choosing and using human research subject; experimental research' survey research pre-req: graduate student or instructor consent

ENED 5163. Outdoor Education Methods. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Methods and theoretical basis for teaching outdoor education. Emphasis on application at outdoor sites. Weekend experience at a regional nature center required pre-req: MEd candidate or instructor consent

ENED 5164. Environmental Education In-Service Training. (0.5-10 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall) Environmental education methods, materials, and curricula for educators wishing to enhance their environmental education training. pre-req: instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for Educ 5164

ENED 5165. Theories and Models in Outdoor Education. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Overview of theoretical foundations of outdoor education. Definitions of terms related to outdoor education, historical antecedents, future adventure education, social and psychological benefits of outdoor education. pre-req: instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for Educ 5165

ENED 5315. Operations and Management. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Methods and practice of administrative processes of personnel, fiscal, and facility management. Involves annual operations and long-range management with sustainability of agency natural resources. Field study and presentation of a long-range management plan are included requirements. pre-req: Certificate or Master of Environmental Education student

ENED 5325. Sustainability Issues Investigation. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) The study of resolving environmental problems that affect sustainability. This includes issue identification; building an effective team of investigators; and, study of the issue to the point of making recommendations to resolve the issue of sustainability management and education.

ENED 5343. Advanced Field Interpretive Techniques. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer) Techniques and methods used to interpret the natural and cultural history of unique field sites; For example, Isle Royale National Park. Specific, in-depth topics of natural and cultural history will be emphasized. Techniques for field site investigation and field based interpretation as an educational approach will be investigated. pre-req: ENED 3341 or ENED 3342 or instructor consent

ENED 5560. Current Research and Issues. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Examines research literature and related issues pertaining to outdoor education including disciplines of science, environmental experiential, and adventure education. Trends in research, teaching, plus research design and methods. pre-req: grad student or instructor consent

ENED 5565. Young Children, Nature, and Sustainability. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Focus on education for sustainability in an early childhood (infant-preschool age) context. Study of rational for merging education for sustainability and early childhood education, as well as recommended practices and possibilities for doing so. Also emphasized are skills for developing and implementing developmentally appropriate learning experience that support health development of young children and further education for sustainability goals. pre-req: graduate or post-baccalaureate student; credit will not be granted if already received for ENED 4565

ENED 5625. Program Development and Evaluation. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) A comprehensive approach to program development will be applied to youth-based environmental education programs. Course is designed for those working in supervisory capacities to gain skills in designing, implementing, and evaluating environmental education programs.

ENED 5800. Sustainability Education: Methods and Strategies. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer) Methods and lesson strategies connected to current definitions, theories, and practices of teaching sustainability practices and management. Sustainability of the natural environment from the effects of outdoor education and nature-based tourism is an underestimated aspect of sustainability practices. Pedagogical approaches to teach sustainable practices for the natural environment will be the primary focus of this course. Students will be able to apply this course to other sustainability practices such as sustainable energy or food practices. pre-req: Minimum 60 credits or Environmental Education Certificate or Graduate student or instructor consent

ENED 5850. Classroom Applications. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Understanding the formal classroom environment: scope and sequence, management, assessment, and standards for applications pertinent to audience and setting in environmental education. pre-req: MEd candidate or instructor consent

ENED 5855. Programming for School Systems. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) The relationship between environmental education and the formal school system (P-12) will be examined. Instructional approaches that use the environment as a context for helping students develop essential content and skills in the core academic disciplines will be emphasized. pre-req: 5850, Educ 5850 or instructor consent

ENED 5990. Research Project. (1-6 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Faculty-supervised research project required for MEd prereq: Instructor consent

ENED 5991. Independent Study. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed independent study or projects in a particular area of interest. Approved degree program plan should be completed before course is taken by graduate students. prereq: Certificate or Masters Environmental Education student, instructor consent

ENED 5992. Readings in Environmental Education. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Special complementary readings and discussion in advanced or graduate student's field of interest in environmental or outdoor education. Readings exceed the scope and/or offering of regular courses. prereq: Certificate or Master Environmental Education student or instructor consent

ENED 5998. Outdoor Education Seminar. (1 cr. [max 3 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Facilitated discussions and presentations of contemporary recreation research, curricula, and/or issues. prereq: instructor consent, credit will not be granted if already received for Rec 4998

ENED 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Environmental Science (ESCI)

ESCI 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ESCI 2010. Surface Processes. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Study of Earth surface processes emphasizing the origin and evolution of the earth's response of the physical environment to anthropogenic perturbations, climate change, and tectonic events; and application of physical, chemical, and mathematical principles to the study and interpretation of the environment. Surface processes will be explored through field and lab exercises designed to give the student hands-on experience in environmental characterization and monitoring. pre-req: GEOL 1110 or 1610 or GEOG 1414, MATH 1250 or 1290 or 1296, CHEM 1153 or 1173 or instructor consent

ESCI 2210. Environmental Characterization and Monitoring. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Scientific foundations of major environmental issues that impact society, including water, natural resources, and global climate change. Issues and human impacts will be explored through field and lab exercises designed to give the student hands on experience in environmental characterization and monitoring. prereq: GEOL 1110 and (CHEM 1155 or 1162)

ESCI 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ESCI 3095. Environmental Science Special Topics (various titles to be assigned). (1-3 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Topics not covered in regular curriculum. Topic announced before course offered.

ESCI 3201. Mineral Resources. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
An introduction to the geology, extraction, processing, and disposal of mineral deposits, including major metal deposits (Fe, Al, Pb, Zn, Cu), scarce metals (high-technology metals, rare earth metals), non-metal deposits (salt, fertilizer, chemicals) as well as industrial minerals and resources (stone, sand/ clay). Also, includes topics related to the environmental footprint of resource mining and the impact of technological and societal development. prereq: MATH 1290 or 1296 or instructor consent

ESCI 3202. Energy Resources. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Geologic principles of carbon-based energy resources, with emphasis on coal and conventional and unconventional (e.g. shale oil, oil-sands, ultra-heavy crude oil) petroleum and gas; fundamentals of nuclear energy; introduction to technologies associated with the extraction, production, refinement, consumption, and byproduct treatment/disposal of carbon-based and nuclear-energy resources; importance of carbon-based energy in global industrialization and associated population growth; limits of population growth imposed by energy requirements; principles and associated technologies of renewable energy and energy conversion, with focus on solar (direct and indirect), geothermal, tidal, and biofuel energy resources. prereq: MATH 1290 or 1296 or 1596 and PHYS 1001 or 2013 or 2017 or instructor consent

ESCI 3203. Environmental Hydrology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Water at the Earth's surface is constantly exchanged between wetlands, streams, lakes and shallow groundwater reservoirs. Human activities alter drainage patterns and impact surface water, runoff, and infiltration. Drainage of wetlands and construction of impervious surfaces increases the rate of storm water runoff and can lead to increases in flood frequency. Agricultural activities introduce fertilizers and pesticides into the soil, which can then contaminate surface water and groundwater reservoirs. Surface water is intimately connected to ground water through complex hydraulic interactions that are difficult to observe and measure and therefore are often ignored in water management policy implementation. This course examines the natural processes of groundwater and surface water interaction; classification of lakes, streams, and wetlands; sources, measurement and interpretation of hydrologic and geochemical data; and, through numerous case studies, the impacts of human activities on surface water and groundwater. pre-req: GEOL 1110 or 1610 or GEOG 1414 and GEOL 2010 or ESCI 2010 or instructor consent

ESCI 3291. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed, student motivated, study arranged with instructor and ESCI director before registration. prereq: instructor consent

ESCI 3296. Internship in Environmental Science. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Practical work experience with an employer closely associated with student's academic area. Arranged by mutual agreement between student, department, and employer. Written report and assessment by non-academic supervisor at the end of the work experience. prereq: Environmental Science major and instructor consent

ESCI 3301. Meteorology and Climatology for the Earth Sciences. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course addresses the fundamentals of meteorology and climatology with an emphasis on weather systems in the humid, temperate climate of central North America. Topics covered include: Large-scale atmospheric circulation and associated fluxes of heat and water vapor; formation and evolution of mid-latitude cyclones; convective precipitation and severe weather; tropical cyclones; forensic analysis of historical weather events; and fundamentals of weather forecasting. A significant course component focuses on the weather and meso-scale climatology that characterize the Great Lakes region, where there exists a fascinating juxtaposition of continental and maritime climates. pre-req: MATH 1290 or 1296 or 1596 or instructor consent

ESCI 3562. Introduction to Principles of Geographic Information Systems in Environmental Science. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
This course introduces fundamental concepts and methods in geographic information science (GIScience), and the GIS software ESRI ArcGIS Pro. The course is designed for students who have an interest in learning the stories behind the maps. The lectures introduce basic concepts and methods in GIS with real-world examples. The lab exercises help students to comprehend those concepts and methods. The focus will be on environmental applications and problems encountered by natural scientists. This class will allow students to continue into GIS 3564 (GIS 2). Students already considering a certificate, minor, or major in GIS are encouraged to take GIS 2552 first. pre-req: minimum 90 credits or instructor consent

ESCI 3605. The Irish Landscape in Science and Literature - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)
Study abroad in Ireland. This course focuses on the natural, cultural, and literary history of Ireland, with a particular emphasis on the intersection of science and the humanities. The last Ice Age left its marks on the Irish landscape, and, human communities over millennia have left their imprints as well. The stages of human settlement over time have adapted to postglacial climate change and associated changes of flora and fauna. The evolving landscape and coastlines and the archaeological record of human history from the paleolithic period to modern times make the Irish landscape a fascinating field stie. Moreover, the Irish literary tradition from the ancient oral cultural to the beginning of literacy in the early Middle Ages has a long, rich, often locally-based heritage of nature writing. The assigned literature will connect postglacial history and climate change to the natural systems and environments and to the history of human adaptation over time. Students will visit important geographic and cultural sites and learn how cultural evolution remains a powerful presence in modern Ireland. pre-req: WRIT 1120 or equivalent, GEOL 1110 or GEOL 1610 or GEOG 1414, instructor consent

ESCI 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ESCI 4094. Environmental Science Problems and Reserach. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Individual research in lab or field problems. pre-req: minimum 30 credits and instructor consent

ESCI 4102. Environmental Assessment. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Environmental issues identification and investigation. Review of case studies of environmental investigations and the components of environmental impact statements. Selection of local or regional environmental issues and evaluation of the environmental problems from a multidisciplinary perspective. Preparation of draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

ESCI 4180. Teaching Assistant Experience. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; S-N only; Every Fall & Spring)
Participate in teaching Environmental Science lecture and lab courses, including preparation of material, instruction, and student interaction. pre-req: minimum 30 credits, instructor consent

ESCI 4201. Watershed Hydrology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This is an upper-division hydrology course overing the hydrologic cycle in the context of wildland watersheds. The course will cover the major components of the hydrologic cycle, including precipitation, snow hydrology, canopy interception, evapotranspiration, infiltration, soil water storage, runoff, streamflow and groundwater flow. The impacts of watershed management on water quantity and quality will be discussed using regional, national, and global examples, with an emphasis on solving real-world problems using dydrologic datasets. This course includes a 2-hour lab that meets once per week. pre-req: MATH 1290 or MATH 1296, no credit granted if already received for ESCI or GEOL 5201

ESCI 4250. Environmental Applications in Hydrology & Hydrogeology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Fundamentals of hydrology and hydrogeology with emphasis on environmental applications.

The course develops the disciplines of surface water hydrology, surface water/ groundwater interaction, and groundwater flow with application to common environmental problems and investigations. Emphasis is on analysis of precipitation and streamflow, hydrologic budgets, surface water/groundwater interaction, pumping tests to evaluate aquifer properties and safe yields, evaluation of the impacts of agricultural irrigation and agricultural feedlots, commonly used methods of environmental assessment, and introduction to the regulatory framework. pre-req: MATH 1290 or 1296 or 1596 and PHYS 2011 or 2013 or 2014 or instructor consent

ESCI 4270. Field Methods in Snow Hydrology. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

This course will give a brief overview on the basic principles governing snow in the hydrologic cycle and will then focus on field applications in snow hydrology including snow course measurements and characterizing snow profiles. pre-req: ESCI 3203 or 4201 or 5201 or GEOL 5250 or CE 3225; or instructor consent; no grad credit.

ESCI 4280. Principles of Soil Science. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)
This course covers basic concepts on all aspects of soil science including soil genesis and taxonomy; physical, chemical, and biological properties; vadose zone hydrology; soil conservation and management; and soil fertility. pre-req: GEOL 1110 or 1610 or GEOG 1414; CHEM 1153; or instructor consent; no grad credit

ESCI 4863. Ecosystems Ecology and Biogeochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Ecosystems ecology is the integrated study of the flows of materials and energy through ecosystems, which includes both the living (biotic) and non-living (abiotic) components. Biogeochemistry is a major subfield of ecosystems ecology, and deals with the cycling of nutrients through ecosystems. In this class, we will discuss the integration of ecosystems and biogeochemistry in terrestrial environments, specifically focusing on how human activities influence ecological systems and vice versa. It is my hope that you walk away from this course with a better understanding of how large environmental issues such as climate change and invasive species affect ecological systems. pre-req: BIOL 2801, CHEM 1153 or CHEM 1173 or instructor consent; no grad credit

ESCI 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ESCI 5095. Environmental Science Special Topics (various titles to be assigned). (1-3 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Topics not covered in regular curriculum. Topics announced before course offered.

ESCI 5150. Organic and Stable Isotope Biogeochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Production and chemical composition of natural organic matter (OM), diagenesis and catagenesis of OM; stable isotopic fractionation processes of C, H, O, N & S in natural systems, fractionation theory, isotopic indicators of climate, oceanographic/limnologic processes, trophic structure, microbial processes. pre-req: Graduate standing or instructor approval

ESCI 5201. Watershed Hydrology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This is an upper-division hydrology course overing the hydrologic cycle in the context of wildland watersheds. The course will cover the major components of the hydrologic cycle, including precipitation, snow hydrology, canopy interception, evapotranspiration, infiltration, soil water storage, runoff, streamflow and groundwater flow. This course includes a 2-hour lab that meets once per week. pre-req: MATH 1290 or 1296 or grad student; no credit granted if already received for ESCI or GEOL 4201

ESCI 5270. Field Methods in Snow Hydrology. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

This course will give a brief overview on the basic principles governing snow in the hydrologic cycle and will then focus on field applications in snow hydrology including snow course measurements and characterizing snow profiles. pre-req: graduate student or instructor consent

ESCI 5450. Structural Geology. (5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to brittle and ductile deformation, including joints, faults, shear zones, and folds; deformation mechanism; elementary stress and strain theory. Labs include geometric, structural and kinematic analysis, and a group project. Course fee assessed. pre-req: graduate student or instructor consent

ESCI 5863. Ecosystems Ecology and Biogeochemistry. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Exercise Science (EXSC)

EXSC 1000. Introduction to Exercise Science Foundations and Exploration for Allied Health Professions. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to Exercise Science teaches students about various fields of exercise science and related areas, such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, cardiac rehabilitation, personal training, exercise physiology, athletic training and sports medicine. Students will learn about diverse areas of exercise science through career exploration as well as receive an overview of evidence-based practice, critical thinking and practical application of each topic in the curriculum to coursework and future career opportunities.

EXSC 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EXSC 2420. Aerobic and Fitness Assessment Techniques in Exercise Science. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This laboratory-based course teaches students how to properly assess aerobic fitness levels. Students will develop precise health and fitness assessment skills required by the American College of Sports Medicine under supervision with instruction for proper technique. Students will learn about giving feedback for each skill. pre-req: EXEC 1000 and minimum 30 credits

EXSC 2430. Resistance Training Techniques in Exercise Science. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This lab-based course will introduce resistance training techniques that address the major muscle groups and movement patterns in the human body. Students will learn fundamental body weight, free weight, and machine-based exercises that may be applied in rehabilitation, general health & fitness, and sports performance populations. General safety practices including spotting techniques and contraindications to exercise will also be addressed. pre-req: EXSC 1000, minimum 30 credits; transfer students may concurrently enroll in EXSC 1000 and EXSC 2430 with instructor consent

EXSC 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EXSC 3200. Motor Learning and Control. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Classification of motor skills and principles and theories of human motor learning and control sports, exercise and rehabilitation setting. Motor control theories and principles of effective trainings such as practice condition, verbal instructions and demonstrations will be covered. pre-req: Minimum 60 credits, Athletic training or Exercise Science or Physical Education major or instructor consent pre-req: Minimum 60 credits, Athletic training or Exercise Science or Physical Education major or instructor consent

EXSC 3210. Exercise Adherence. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Fundamental concepts of exercise psychology. Physical activity models of involvement; exercise determinates and correlates; exercise interventions. pre-req: Minimum 60 credits, Exercise Science major or instructor consent

EXSC 3300. Human Biomechanics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Application of physical laws to human movement. Laws of mechanics and tissue biomechanics concepts are applied to human motor function. (3 hr lect, 1 hr lab) pre-req: HLTH 2030, PHYS 1001, minimum 60 credits, Exercise Science major or instructor consent

EXSC 3400. Exercise Physiology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Physiological responses and adaptations to acute and chronic exercise. (3 hrs lect, 1.25 hrs lab) pre-req: HLTH 2040 or PHSL 3011, minimum 60 credits, Exercise Science major, or instructor consent

EXSC 3402. Electrocardiogram Foundations and Interpretation for Health and Medical Professions. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Electrocardiography teaches the fundamentals of reading and analyzing electrocardiograms, ECGs. Students will learn about common cardiac rhythm abnormalities and clinical application skills. pre-req: minimum 60 credits, HLTH 2030 or BIOL 3771; HLTH 2040 or BIOL 3772; HLTH 1104 or PHAR 5201; or instructor consent

EXSC 3410. Exercise Metabolism and Nutrition. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Physiology of metabolism and nutrients in humans undertaking intentional physical activity in rehabilitation, recreation, exercise, sport and competition. pre-req: Hlth 2040, Exercise Science major or instructor consent

EXSC 3420. Exercise Testing and Prescription. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Physical fitness programming for adults; principles of exercise testing and prescription. pre-req: 3400, Exercise Science major or instructor consent

EXSC 3430. Principles of Strength and Conditioning Programs. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Theory and practice of developing and implementing strength training and conditioning programs; emphasis on technique analysis and instructional methods. pre-req: 3400, Exercise Science major or instructor consent

EXSC 3440. Clinical Exercise Physiology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Examination of the use of physiological principles and relationships in clinical situations where exercise is used for prevention or alleviation of disease. pre-req: 3420, Exercise Science major or instructor consent

EXSC 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

EXSC 4600. Senior Seminar Athletic Training. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

A culminating course that includes a review of current trends in health care, preparation for the BOC examination, and a research project related to athletic training. pre-req: 4001, Athletic Training major, no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for PEP 5600

EXSC 4698. Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training VI. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Athletic training psychomotor skills are enhanced and assessed by an approved clinical instructor during the clinical rotation. Emphasis is on previously learned classroom material. 300 hours of clinical experiences are required. pre-req: 4697, Athletic Training major, no grad credit

EXSC 4700. Statistics and Research Methods in Exercise Science. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Descriptive and inferential statistical procedures and research design in exercise science. Prepares students to conduct and analyze research projects in exercise physiology, biomechanics, motor learning, and/or the psychological factors that influence exercise. pre-req: 12 cr from 3200, 3300, 3400, 3410, Exercise Science major, no grad credit

EXSC 4710. Applied and Experimental Exercise Science. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Advanced study and research in exercise science; methods of quantifying exercise responses and adaptations; basic research design. pre-req: 3200, 3300, 3400, 3410, 4700, Exercise Science major or instructor consent; no grad credit

EXSC 4996. Internship. (3-12 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Supervised field internship experience in hospital, fitness facility, or agency setting. Six credits required for Health Fitness concentration. Additional credits may be used as electives in this program. Forty clock hours experience are required per credit hour of registration. pre-req: 3420, Exercise Science major, instructor consent; no grad credit

FMED 5591. Independent Study. (0 cr. ; No Grade Associated; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Intensive, independent study project of student's interest in medical research, interdisciplinary fellowship, preceptorship in rural health care delivery, or another medical area approved by Department of Family Medicine. Reflective summary upon completion (paragraph). prereq: department consent

Finance (FIN)

FIN 1501. Consumer Finance. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
The purpose of this course is to familiarize students with the basic concepts of personal finance at an introductory level with the overall goal of improving students' financial literacy. Topics discussed will include budget development, the time value of money, the use and management of common forms of debt such as student loans, credit cards and mortgages, and an introduction to saving and investing. Evaluation of current financial events and discussion of ethical issues in finance will also entail a significant portion of the course. pre-req: credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 1501

FIN 3601. Corporate Finance. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Fundamental concepts of managerial financial decision making. Time value of money, valuation, risk and return, financial statement analysis, short-run financial management, capital budgeting, cost of capital, long-term financing, and corporate taxation. prereq: LSBE candidate or approved non-LSBE business administration minor or approved Finance minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3601

FIN 3612. Managerial Finance. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Intermediate conceptual and analytical applications in capital budgeting, funds flow, cost of capital, debt management, equity financing, mergers and acquisitions, business reorganizations, international financial management. prereq: FMIS 3601 or FIN 3601, LSBE candidate or approved Finance minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3612

FIN 3619. Analysis of Financial Statements. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Analysis and interpretation of financial statements, presentation of analytical techniques, including trend, comparative, and ratio analysis. Use of computer assisted analysis prereq: FMIS 3601 or FIN 3601, LSBE candidate or approved finance minor or instructor consent; an Accounting/Finance double major cannot take FMIS 3619 to count as a Group B finance elective. See your finance adviser for details; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3619

FIN 3620. Real Estate Finance and Investment. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course deals with residential and commercial real estate from the perspective of an investor. Its focus is on the main debt and equity vehicles for financing real estate, with a particular emphasis on mortgages (structure, pricing and securitization through mortgage-backed securities) and real estate investment trusts (REITs). An essential component of the course will be the development of Excel models to analyze real estate investment decisions. pre-req: FMIS/FIN 3601 and LSBE candidacy or non-LSBE Finance minor; preferred but not required FIN 3612

FIN 3644. Investment Fundamentals. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Comprehensive introduction to nature, problems, and process of evaluating particular securities and portfolio construction. Survey of basic principles of security analysis, analytical techniques, and investment policy for individual and institutional investors. Introduction to computer-assisted investment analysis. prereq: FMIS 3601 or FIN 3601, LSBE candidate or approved finance minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3644

FIN 3647. Financial Markets and Institutions. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Analysis of money and capital markets, savings-investment process, and financial institutions. Role of Federal Reserve and Treasury in finance market development; supply and demand for loanable funds; level and structure of interest rates. Asset/liability management. prereq: FIN 3601 or FMIS 3601, LSBE candidate or approved Finance minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3647

FIN 3649. International Finance. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)
Comprehensive framework and analysis for financial management of international firm. International financial markets, exchange rates and international firms, elements of international investments, financing decisions, and strategy formulation. prereq: FMIS 3601 or FIN 3601, LSBE candidate or Finance minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3649

FIN 3655. Risk Management and Insurance. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Foundations as well as the economic, financial and legal issues surrounding risk management and insurance. Students will discuss and analyze risk management techniques currently used in business and examine different types of insurance policies. prereq: FMIS 3601 or FIN 3601, LSBE candidate or approved Finance minor or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already approved for FMIS 3655

FIN 3691. Independent Study Finance. (1-3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
For students wishing to do special work in finance that extends beyond, or in greater depth than, regular course offerings. prereq: department consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3691

FIN 3695. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). ( ; 1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Exploration of specific finance problems, issues, and approaches. prereq: FMIS 3601 or FIN 3601, LSBE candidate or college consent; repetition of course credits includes credits earned between FMIS 3695 and FIN 3695

FIN 3697. Finance Internship. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Work-integrated learning program providing practical experiences within students major. Students participate in approved program within cooperating business, governmental agencies, or civic organizations. There are minimum hours based upon the credits you select for the course; 1 credit = 100 hour minimum; 2 credits = 150 hours minimum; 3 credits = 200 hour minimum. The course also requires completion of internship contract, assignments, and performance evaluations. For LSBE majors that allow for only three (or fewer) credit hours of internship in the major curriculum, students will be allowed to count the remaining internship credits in the Upper Division Supporting Courses category. Maximum credits: 6; 3 completions allowed between FMIS 3697 and FIN 3697. prereq: LSBE candidate, prior major coursework and consent of internship director; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3397

FIN 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

FIN 4615. Derivative Securities. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Nature and functions of derivative security markets such as options, futures, options on futures, swaps, and financial engineering. Emphasizes their use as tools for risk reduction, portfolio management, and speculative medium for aggressive investor. prereq: FMIS 3644 or FIN 3644, LSBE candidate or Finance minor with 60 credits or grad student or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4615

FIN 4616. Security Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to theory, concepts, and practices of security analysis and investment practices. Common stock, fixed income securities, derivative securities, and mutual funds will be analyzed. Other topics include sector analysis, financial statement analysis, ratio analysis, diversification, and hedging. prereq: FMIS 3644 or FIN 3644, Acct 3101 or FMIS 3619 or FIN 3619, Financial Markets major or minor; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4616

FIN 4617. Management of Financial Institutions. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Techniques for managing commercial banks and other financial institutions through asset/liability management. prereq: FMIS 3647 or FIN 3647, LSBE candidate or approved Finance minor with 60 credits or grad student or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4617

FIN 4620. Portfolio Theory and Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Portfolio management in a modern portfolio theory (MPT) framework. Risk measurements, risk-return relationships, and portfolio models are developed. Topics include Markowitz portfolio theory, risk-return models, bond portfolio management, evaluating portfolio performance, and outperforming the market. prereq: Financial Markets major or minor; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4620

FIN 4624. Applied Portfolio Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Gives students in the financial markets program "hands on" learning experience by analyzing and managing a real-money investment fund. Students will be responsible for managing all aspects of the investment fund. prereq: FMIS 4616 or FIN 4616, FMIS 4620 or FIN 4620, Financial Markets major or minor; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4624

FIN 4644. Portfolio Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Foreign Studies (FORS)

FORS 2400. Community and Journalism. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Study Abroad. Examines the role of journalism in defining communities. Exposure to various concepts of community and the role journalism has in defining these communities on both a local and global scale. Analyze a specific case study of one community journalism entity, and explore the ramifications of technology on the transformation of community. Course may be offered as a short-term study abroad program. pre-req: department consent

FORS 2401. BIO 2401 Evolution in England. (NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Study abroad course taught in England. Evolutionary Biology is a cornerstone of modern science, and since its introduction by Charles Darwin over 150 years ago it has produced a dramatic paradigm shift in how humans view themselves and all life on this planet. We will explore the history of evolutionary theory from both an "internalist" perspective and an "externalist" perspective. We will review scientific evidence for evolution and will particularly focus upon the explosion of insights provided by Molecular Biology in the past 20 years. Past and current social implications will be discussed as well as modern evolutionary challenges like drug-resistant infectious diseases, genetic modification of crops, and dwindling biodiversity. The course will be taught onsite at locations relevant to the history of evolution and examined in the cultural context of Regency and Victorian England in which the theory was first formed. This course is for non-majors and cannot be used towards the Biology B.A. electives. pre-req: high school biology course, instructor consent

FORS 3006. Hist 3235, History and Soccer. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring) Taught on site in England. Over the past two centuries "soccer" has developed from an informal and regionally variable pastime into the single most popular sport on earth. This phenomenon is incomprehensible without the specific social, cultural, and geographic considerations of nineteenth and twentieth century Britain and its colonies. The sport will be used as a lens through which to examine the social and cultural aspects of the Industrial Revolution and the British Empire, focusing on the central question: "How did historical forces facilitate the rise and spread of the 'World's Game?'" Covers the techniques of historical methodology and source analysis, and the general narrative of the Industrial Revolution and British Empire (including colonial perspectives), as well as the internal history of the game itself. prereq: Admission to an approved study abroad program. FORS 3313. HIST 3313 Global Surf Culture - Study Abroad. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Taught abroad. Surfing is one of the world's most popular cultural phenomena. Students will explore the intersections of surfing, war, and tourism, addressing how a pastime commonly associated with mindless pleasure has in fact been implicated in some of the major global developments of the last two-hundred years. These include empire-building and the "civilizing mission" in nineteenth- and early-twentieth-century Hawaii's, modernization and economic development in the so-called Third World, the growth of international tourism following the Second World War, political mass movements and the anti-apartheid struggle, American foreign relations and Cold War cultural diplomacy, and the surf industry and corporate globalization. As a class taught in another country, the course will also cover the history of U.S. foreign policy in that region. And it has an experiential component: to develop an appreciation for the subject and for why millions of people have planned their lives around the sport, students will learn to surf. The course will thus combine academic instruction with outdoor education. pre-req: instructor consent, ability to swim; also visit the UMD Study Abroad office

Foreign Studies (FORS)

FORS 3575. Jews & Poles: Entangled Lives, Cultures and Memories in the 20th Century Poland - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)
Study abroad in Poland. This course focuses on the history, experience and memory of Jewish life in Poland. One of the focuses of the course will be the experience of discrimination and the history of the Holocaust in Poland. However, the course will also examine the ways in which both Poles and Jews contributed to and engaged in a rich cultural, social and economic life in communities across the region and, in some cases, continued to do so today. The course will consider the history and legacies of the co-existence, interdependence, entangle between Poles, Jews, and other minority populations in this diverse geographic space. We will also explore the contentious contemporary debates over the politics of commemoration of Holocaust sites and Jewish life in Poland today. Pre-req: minimum 30 credits, instructor consent; also visit the UMD Study Abroad office.

Foreign Studies (FORS)

FORS 3605. The Irish Landscape in Science and Literature. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Study abroad in Ireland. This course focuses on the natural, cultural, and literary history of Ireland, with a particular emphasis on the intersection of science and the humanities. The last Ice Age left its marks on the Irish landscape, and, human communities over millennia have left their imprints as well. The stages of human settlement over time have adapted to postglacial climate change and associated changes of flora and fauna. The evolving landscape and coastlines and the archaeological record of human history from the paleolithic period to modern times make the Irish landscape a fascinating field stie. Moreover, the Irish literary tradition from the ancient oral cultural to the beginning of literacy in the early Middle Ages has a long, rich, often locally-based heritage of nature writing. The assigned literature will connect postglacial history and climate change to the natural systems and environments and to the history of human adaptation over time. Students will visit important geographic and cultural sites and learn how cultural evolution remains a powerful presence in modern Ireland. pre-req: WRIT 1120 or equivalent, GEOL 1110 or GEOL 1610 or GEOG 1414, instructor consent

Foreign Studies (FORS)

FORS 3800. COMM 3800/GEOG 3800 Grassroots Activism in India. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)
Taught in Bangalore, India where students will examine the process of social change in Bangalore and witness firsthand how disempowered groups such as tribal communities and religious minorities are advocating for their social and economic rights. Bangalore has grown tremendously in the last 10 years, as the city has become the center of India's technology economy; however, the benefits of this growth have not been equally distributed. Students will examine the causes of disenfranchisement (including gender, caste, and colonialism) as well as how city has changed as a result of globalization and the liberalization of the Indian economy. This course has three goals: (1) Students understand the notions of community employment as theorized by scholars such as Paulo Freire, M.K. Gandhi, R.J. Ambedkar, as well as more contemporary Indian thinkers; (2) Students visit and learn about the cultural and historical forces that have shaped India, and (3) Students interact firsthand with activists and disenfranchised communities involved in struggles for human rights/empowerment. prereq: Minimum 2.5 GPA, minimum 30 credits, instructor consent. Admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Education Office.

Foreign Studies (FORS)*FORS 4300. FORS 4300 - ENGL 4300 TH 4300 Shakespeare in England. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Summer)

This short-term study abroad course will explore Shakespeare's theatre world in London and his birthplace in Stratford-upon-Avon, allowing students to experience, first-hand, how Shakespeare's plays were shaped by his environment in his own day, and how they were modified, adapted, and marketed over the next four centuries. By attending performances at modern reconstructions of the Globe and Blackfriars, students will see how Shakespeare wrote his plays to capitalize on the strengths (and minimize the limitations) of the physical theatre. Students will also tour the areas where Shakespeare lived and worked, such as Southwark and Blackfriars, and visit historic landmarks, such as The Tower, Westminster Abbey, and the Inns of Court, that figure prominently in his plays. A side-trip to Stratford-upon-Avon will help students better understand his upbringing-they will visit his birthplace and grammar school-and also see where he returned to retire early, live extravagantly, and die. Stratford-upon-Avon is also the home of the Royal Shakespeare Company, the world-famous acting troupe devoted to promoting Shakespeare's works. A principal focus of this course is to consider why Shakespeare is more popular today than he has ever been. Seeing Shakespeare performed by a range of actors (A-list to amateur), in a variety of theatres (West End to fringe), in a range of dramatic styles (period performance to avant-garde) will bring to life how Shakespeare is transformed from the page to the stage, how his works have been suited to changing tastes across the centuries, and why, despite the challenges posed by the language and subject matter of his plays, he continues to have a commanding presence in theatres and classrooms across the world. pre-req: instructor consent; also visit the UMD Study Abroad office

FORS 4802. ENED 4805 Environmental Sustainability, Education and Culture in Cuba. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Courses will be a short-term study abroad to Cuba with a focus on ecological sustainability, education, health and culture. Over the past two decades, Cuba has turned toward sustainable agricultural and environmental sustainability against the backdrop of scarce fossil fuel resources, they learned how to produce nearly 100% of their fruits and vegetables by organic means while building a more cohesive community. These efforts build upon the longer-term success of the Cuban literacy and health care campaign which, have been exported to the poorest communities around the world. In preparation for travel to Cuba, students will be given background readings prior to departure; the week prior to departure we will hold 3 face-to-face meetings to discuss Cuba's history, education, health and environmental sustainability. While in Cuba, students will engage in an in-dept study by visiting multiple sites of relevance and importance. Site may include: the Cuban Literacy Museum, organic farms, Museum of the Revolution, artists community, Latin American Medical School, an eco biosphere reserve and meet with Cuban citizens, leaders, workers and scholars. pre-req: Admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Education Office; no grad credit

French (FR)

FR 1101. Beginning French I. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer) Conversation and communicative course for students with little or no previous study of French. Emphasis on oral and aural skills; some grammar. Taught in French and English. prereq: Little or no prior formal study of this language, or instructor consent

FR 1102. Beginning French II. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring & Summer)

Conversation and communicative course for students with limited previous study of French. Emphasis on oral and aural skills; some grammar. Taught in French and English. prereq: 1-2 yrs high school French or 1101 or instructor consent

FR 1201. Intermediate French I. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Consolidation and enrichment of previously acquired abilities speaking and understanding French, set within introduction to written French and survey of contemporary culture of French-speaking societies. Emphasis on oral, aural, and reading skills; vocabulary building; some writing. Taught in French. prereq: 3-4 yrs high school French or 1102 or instructor consent

FR 1202. Intermediate French II. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Consolidation and enrichment of previously acquired abilities speaking and understanding French, set within introduction to written French and survey of contemporary culture of French-speaking societies. Emphasis on oral, aural, and reading skills; vocabulary building; some writing. Taught in French. prereq: 4 years high school french or 1201 or instructor consent

FR 3302. Advanced French Composition and Conversation. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Refines students' skills in oral and written expression after they have completed the French language sequence. Individualized work on points of syntax and semantics, set in a contemporary context, using a variety of texts and resources. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with grade of C or higher or instructor consent

FR 3305. French Cuisine: Exploring French Culture Through Food. (GLOBAL PER,HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Taught in French. Aspects of French culture through its expression in cuisine. Students will learn to decipher the many expressions of culture around the preparation and service of food at the table, kitchen, and restaurant. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with grade of C or higher; or instructor consent

FR 3310. Survey: Essays, Short Stories, Poetry in the French Language. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Selected works in three genres, written in the French language from the 15th Century to the present: essays, short stories, poetry. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with C or higher; or instructor consent

FR 3550. The History of Paris: Evolution and Revolution. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

This course, taught in English with readings in French for French majors, examines themes, topics and episodes related to the cultural history of Paris and the French language through selected readings in literature, sociology, architecture and sustainability studies. Students will use the evolution of Paris and the development of the French language as entry points into a deeper exploration of French identity, including analysis of important contemporary issues related to gender, class, and sustainability. Students will study the ways in which French history has consisted of binary oppositions: Paris-Provinces, Parisian French-Local Patois, Order-Revolution, etc. Additionally, students will explore the traces of French history around Paris, from the names of streets to the monuments in the squares and parks, to the sites of power within the city.

FR 3591. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Students develop and carry out reading and research programs in consultation with the instructor. prereq: 2301 with C or better, instructor consent

Studies literature and film from francophone (i.e. the French-speaking world) such as Maghreb, Sub-Saharan Africa, French Indochina, Canada, and the French West Indies. Focuses on politics and aesthetics in relation to colonization, diaspora, cultural identities and metissage (cultural, linguistic and ethnic blending or hybridity) as well as the creation of new existential and political spaces. Taught in French. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with grade of C or better; or instructor consent; no grad credit

FR 4095. Special Topics (Various Titles to be Assigned). ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Various topics in the language, history, literature, and culture of France and/or Francophone countries. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with a C or better; or instructor consent; no grad credit

FR 4412. Contemporary French Culture and Society. (GLOBAL PER,HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Study of contemporary social, cultural, and political issues in France and other Francophone regions. Conducted in French. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with grade of C or higher; or instructor consent; no grad credit

FR 4492. Modern French Literature (19th-21st century). (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Literary works from the 19th through the 21st century studied within their historical, political, and social contexts. Taught in French. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with C or better; or instructor consent; no grad credit

GIS 2552. Mapping Our World. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
This course starts with the definition of what a map is and considers maps as tools for communication. Students are led to explore the effects of scale, projection, cartographic symbolization and generalization on the mapping process and resulting digital databases. Students are introduced to spatial data models, types of spatial data and representation, and study alternative or non-tradition map representations provided by GIS and Remote Sensing. The course includes hands-on map activities; map reading/interpretation, map use, and map production where students will use their laptops to create online web mapping services.

GIS 3563. Geographic Information Science I: Theory and Analysis. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
GIS 3563 emphasizes the concepts needed to use GIS effectively for acquiring, editing, querying, analyzing and visualizing spatial data. This course is an introduction to GIS and trains basic skills with industry standard GIS software in a wide variety of applications in both the natural and social sciences. The course covers basic data modeling, data manipulation, analytical methods and implications of geospatial technologies on society. prereq: credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 3564 or 4563 and 4564 or GIS4565.

GIS 3564. Geographic Information Science II: Applied GIS. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

GIS 3564 follows 3563 and provides more hands-on skills with industry standard GIS software in a wide variety of applications in both the natural and social sciences. It covers more advanced analytical methods for both raster and vector data. Lastly, the course questions ethics regarding geospatial information and introduces the code of ethics for GIS professionals. prereq: 3563; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 3564 or 4563 and 4564 or GIS4565.

GIS 3580. Earth Imagery. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

his course is a selective overview of the methods used for imaging the Earth and its atmosphere. The objective is to expose students to the common methods of Earth imaging and provide them with hands-on experiences in exploring these rich datasets. This course introduces aerial photographs, satellite imaging (active and passive forms), and Digital Elevation Models (DEMs). By the end of the course students will be able to comfortably analyze multispectral Earth imagery, handle a LiDAR point cloud, and create a variety of informative outputs from an image. prereq: 2552; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 3580

GIS 3591. Independent Study in GIS. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
For students interested in doing advanced work in selected fields of GIS. prereq: instructor consent

GIS 3597. Internship in GIS. (3-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Scheduled assignments with direct supervision in public agencies or relevant private firms. prereq: GIS major with minimum 60 credits and instructor consent

Non Direct Equivalent

GIS 4533. Distributed Geographic Information Services: Mobile and Web Based Solutions. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
There are currently over 1 million GIS users world-wide producing nearly 15,000 maps daily. The vast majority of these users utilize the internet and mobile devices to collect, manage, process and store the geospatial data necessary to create and distribute these maps. As such, GIS is shifting from a system where the focus lies almost entirely on the data itself, to a geographic information service where the focus lies on the distribution of spatial content to stakeholders and end users via the internet. The aim of this course is to expose students to the practical and theoretical applications of distributed geographic information services including web and mobile apps, virtual and physical servers, APIs, and scripting languages (Javascript, CSS, HTML5, SVG). Labs and a group semester project will focus on a distributed GIS for a stakeholder within the region. Software used will vary, but may include ArcGIS Online, ArcGIS Pro, or open-source software. pre-req: GIS 3563 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GIS 3533

GIS 4565. Geographic Information Science Intensive: Theory, Analysis, and Applications. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course is an intensive introduction to GIS, effectively condensing both GIS 3563 and GIS 3564 into one semester. It is intended for students with excellent computer skills, the capacity to handle a heavy workload but not enough time to take both courses. The course covers the concepts needed to use GIS effectively for manipulating, querying, analyzing, and visualizing spatial data. It will also equip students with basic and advanced skills with industry standard GIS software, through a wide variety of hands-on applications in both the natural and social sciences. Students will have to create, manage, and complete their own GIS application throughout the semester. pre-req: grad student or department consent This course is equivalent to GIS 3563 and GIS 3564 combined, but 3563 and 3564 carry no graduate credit.

GIS 4585. Applied Statistics in GIS. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Odd Year)

This course provides GIS students, or students in related fields or interested in spatial data analysis, with little to no previous statistical knowledge, with the basic skills needed to question and analyze data and reach valuable conclusions. Methods covered in this course are commonly used in various fields of social or environmental studies, in economy and management, in sciences and engineering: statistics are a lingua franca that is often a key element of interdisciplinary work. However, there will be an emphasis on the specificity of data that varies in space, and methods specific to spatial analysis will be introduced. The class focus more on application than on theory, through a game dynamic. We may use a variety of software, mostly ArcGIS, QGIS and MS Excel. prereq: 3563 and 3564 or 4565, STAT 1411 preferred; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 3585 or GIS 3585; no grad credit.

GIS 4586. Geoprocessing with Python. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Python has become the main scripting language used for geoprocessing. In this class, building on previous GIS experience, students learn how to automate geoprocessing workflows with Python and how to turn their code into tools and add-ins for the main commercial and open-source GIS software systems. prereq: 3563 and 3564 or 4565 preferred

GIS 4909. Professional Preparedness. (1 cr. ; S-N only; Every Spring)
This course is intended for GIS seniors graduating in the spring or the following fall. This is a seminar/workshop course where a group of graduating students work together and under the guidance of their instructor to assess and self-reflect on where they stand as early career GIS professionals. Courses activities include tests, discussion, construction of portfolios and mock job interviews. The course grade is satisfactory/non-satisfactory, based on participation. pre-req: GIS major, minimum 90 credits, no grad credit

GIS 4910. Teaching Assistantship. (1-2 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; S-N only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Practical experience in teaching beginning courses in the department. Students serve as intern teachers assisting the instructor in administration of the course or tutors for the GIS program. pre-req: instructor consent

GIS 4999. Honors Project in Geographic Information Science. (1-4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced individual project in any area of Geographic Information Science demonstrating sound theoretical and research foundations and resulting in a written report or other expression of scholarly production. pre-req: instructor consent; no grad credit

GIS 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Labs and a group semester project will focus on distributed GIS for a stakeholder within the region. Software used will vary, but may include ArcGIS Online, ArcGIS Pro, or open-source software. pre-req: Grad student, GIS 3563 or 4565; credit will not be granted if already received for GIS 4533

GIS 5571. Geographic Information Science in Urban Analysis. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

This advanced course provides students with an opportunity to explore the many applications of geographic information systems in local government, transportation development, and sustainable community planning. Students learn how GIS can be used to effectively carry out urban and regional planning tasks and gain a basic understanding of GIS project planning and data management. Labs focus on land use planning, transportation development, green infrastructure, and population dynamics from across the globe, with a particular focus on the Duluth area. Software used will be

ESRI ArcGIS. prereq: 3563 and 3564 or 4565 (preferred) or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 5571

GIS 5572. Environmental Application of GIS. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Explore GIS applications to the environmental issues such as natural hazards, forest management, contaminated sites, soil erosion, habitat assessment, and regional planning. Prereq: 3563 or 4565 or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 5572.

GIS 5573. GIScience in Regional Sustainability Applications. (; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

This course provides students with an opportunity to explore the many applications of geographic information science in environmental and societal sustainability, renewable energy, and community planning. This course is based on the idea that in order to successfully transition toward sustainability, a better understanding of coupled human and natural systems in critical, and that because of the unique challenges and conflicts present within northern Minnesota between human and natural systems, it is an ideal location to attempt to mitigate these challenges through the use of Geographic Information Science. Labs focus on current topics relevant to the region including energy use calculations, food deserts, LEED certification, water pollution, and transit planning. Software used will be ESRI ArcGIS. Prereq: 3563 and 3564 or 4565 (preferred) or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 5573

GIS 5581. Digital Image Processing and Analysis. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

This advanced remote sensing course focuses on theories and applications of digital image processing and provides students with knowledge and skills of advance digital image processing and a variety of analytical techniques. Topics include image display and visualization, methods for geometric and radiometric corrections, image enhancement, image classification, change detection, and Principal Component Analysis (PCA). prereq: 3580 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 4580 or GEOG 5581

GIS 5585. Applied Statistics in GIS - graduate level. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

The aim of this course is to provide graduate students interested in spatial data analysis with skills needed to analyze spatial data. Many of the methods covered in this course are commonly used in various fields of social or environmental studies, in economy and management, in sciences and engineering; statistics are a lingua franca that is often a key element of interdisciplinary work. However, there will be an emphasis on the specificity of data that vary in space and on methods specific to spatial analysis. The class will focus on both theory and application, through a problem solving approach. We will use a variety of software, mostly ArcGIS, QGIS and MS Excel. pre-req: grad student, GIS 4565 or

GIS 3563; credit will not be granted if already received for GIS 4585

GIS 5586. Geoprocessing with Python. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Python has become the main scripting language used for geoprocessing. In this class, building on previous GIS experience, students learn how to automate geoprocessing workflows with Python and how to turn their code into tools and add-ins for the main commercial and open-source GIS software system. pre-req: Grad student, GIS 3563 or 4565; credit will not be granted if already received for GIS 4586

GIS 5591. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Independent study for graduate students interested in doing additional work in selected fields in GIS. prereq: graduate student and instructor consent

GIS 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Geography (GEOG)

GEOG 1205. Our Globalizing World.

(GLOBAL PER,SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course analyzes the relationship between the environment, economic development, culture, and politics by examining human geography in the context of global regions. This course introduces core concepts in human geography such as space, place, and scale, and globalization, and applies those concepts to understand the diversity of our globalizing world. Topics from the impact of climate change, to colonialism, the geography of agriculture, urbanization, geopolitics, and ethnic and national identities are explored.

GEOG 1414. The Physical Geography. (NAT SCI,SUSTAIN; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

The environment is highly dynamic and is continually modified by human and environmental processes. This course examines these processes to better understand how the Earth's landscapes were formed and how they are currently being transformed. Specifically, students will understand the fundamental processes that govern the physical environment including Earth-sun relations, water resources, landforms, weather and climate, natural vegetation, and soils.

GEOG 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

GEOG 2305. Geography of Cultural Diversity. (CDIVERSITY; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

This course utilizes social scientific approaches to cultural diversity in the United States to develop a critical understanding of the geography of our unequal society. We examine why humans spatially segregate themselves into racial, ethnic, and cultural groups, how meaning is constructed around these differences, and how the politics of difference are expressed geographically. Credit will not be granted if already received for GEOG 2405

GEOG 2306. Environmental Conservation. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

In order to adapt to and mitigate environmental challenges that are predicted to occur in the future, we must have a clear understanding of the physical, economic, societal, and political contexts that brought us to the present. This course examines the complexity of coupled social-ecological systems and the role that humans have played in changing the face of the Earth.

GEOG 2313. Economic Geography. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Contemporary geographic pattern analysis of production, distribution, and consumption of goods and services. Development of geographic theories and models that attempt to explain spatial variations of economic activities such as agriculture, manufacturing, and trades and services.

GEOG 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

GEOG 3334. Urban Geography. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

As the world becomes more urbanized there seems to be less distinction between global problems and urban problems. Analysis of the relationship between urbanization and other aspects of our modern world such as economic globalization, increased levels of international migration, and warfare. Examine how global dilemmas can be seen in the national and international issues. Pay particular attention to the everyday struggles that occur in the households and neighborhoods of cities as people attempt to care for themselves and their families in this rapidly changing world. prereq: Minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

GEOG 3335. Urban Planning. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Urban planning explores the purpose, practice, and theories of modern community planning for the promotion of social and economic well-being. The causes of urban problems, and the tools planners can use to solve them will be investigated. Special focus will be paid to citizen participation and how the voices of community members can be heard in the planning process. prereq: Minimum 30 credits

GEOG 3370. Geographies of Development. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall)

This class examines the global geography of wealth and poverty, i.e., why some places are very rich while others are very poor. The impacts of colonialism, the Cold War, globalization, overpopulation, and ecological and climate change are explained, and the prospects for a more just future are considered. prereq: Minimum 30 credits

GEOG 3401. Weather and Climate. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Weather and climate are critical to both Earth systems and human societies, yet they are frequently misunderstood. The goal of this course is to develop a scientific understanding of atmospheric processes and how they are responsible for weather events and climatic patterns. Atmospheric composition, structure, and motion are studied, along with precipitation processes, air masses, fronts, cyclonic storms, and the the distribution and classification of climates. prereq: 1414 or GEOL 1110 or 1130 or instructor consent

GEOG 3411. Human Environment Interactions. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course examines the interactions between humans and their physical environments. Topics covered include the physical components of the natural environment, human population growth and movement, natural resource use, and human impact upon vegetation, soil, water, landforms and climate. pre-req: Minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

GEOG 3422. Natural Hazards. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Geography of natural hazards such as earthquakes, volcanoes, tornadoes, hurricanes, floods, and droughts; human-physical environment interrelationships under extreme geophysical conditions; causes, characteristics, and consequences of natural hazards; human adjustment to natural hazards. Prereq: 1414 or Geol 1110, or minimum 30 credits or instructor consent.

GEOG 3461. Geography of Global Resources. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Spatial distribution and uses of global natural resources addressed through models of resource management, focusing on energy, non-fuel minerals, population, food, and technology. Theoretical approach and political perspective applied to trade, international economic development, and environmental issues. prereq: Minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

GEOG 3481. The Ecology of Cities. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

By 2050, over three-quarters of the world's population will live in urban environments. To accommodate this transition, it is critical that we understand the relationship between nature and people within cities. This course will introduce the theoretical, practical, and policy-related aspects of urban systems, and the challenges and solutions to developing sustainable cities. prereq: Minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

GEOG 3712. Geography of Latin America. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Considers the social, physical and political landscapes of Latin America and the Caribbean before, during and after the European invasion and colonial times. Examines contemporary dynamics in the region from a political ecology perspective. prereq: Minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

GEOG 3800. Community Empowerment in South Asia - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)

This course will take students to Bangalore, India where they will learn about the history and culture of India and examine processes of social change. Bangalore has grown tremendously in recent years as the city has become the center of India's high-tech economy. However, the benefits of this growth have not been equally distributed: slums that house millions of the city's poorest residents are located alongside gleaming new office towers and shopping malls. In this course, students will examine the causes of these disparities and learn how disenfranchised groups such as women, lower caste members, tribal communities, and religious minorities are advocating for their social and economic rights. Students will be challenged to think about how realities in India mirror realities in the United States today, and how they too can become agents of change in their communities. prereq: minimum 3.0 GPA, 30 credits, & instructor consent; also visit the UMD Study Abroad office

GEOG 3991. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

For students interested in doing advanced work in selected fields of geography. prereq: instructor consent

GEOG 3995. Special Topics: (various titles to be assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Special topics in geography that are not offered in the regular curriculum. Topics may involve specialties of professional staff or visiting faculty.

GEOG 3997. Internship. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Experience in the field of geography with direct supervision in public agencies or relevant private firms. prereq: 60 credits completed and instructor consent

GEOG 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

GEOG 4393. Political Geography. (3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course examines the geography of social power from international geopolitics, to protest politics in public space, to theories of heteronormativity and patriarchy. The central focus of this course is the spatial organization of politics, i.e., how people organize themselves into groups, and how those groups police themselves and vie with each other in various places and at multiple scales. prereq: Minimum 60 credits including or instructor consent

GEOG 4401. Climate Science. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course examines the complex relationship between the atmosphere, oceans, and the biosphere over space and time, and how they relate to Earth's climate. Specifically, this course will study the basic forces that drive Earth's climate systems, how climate differs between the equator and the poles and between oceans and continents, and how these difference results in variations in Earth's climate. In addition, we will explore the global balance and distribution of energy and the transfer of that energy throughout the atmosphere, the role of land and ocean surfaces in climate forcing, how global atmospheric and oceanic circulation patterns are related, and examine long-term climate forcing (ENSO, NAO, MJO, etc.) Lastly, we will understand how these processes have varied in the past, and how current variations are leading to fundamental changes to our climate system. pre-req: GEOG 3401

GEOG 4446. Water Processes and Management. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring) Introduction to the surface water processes and water resources management, including precipitation, runoff generation, channel processes, spatial and temporal variations in water distribution, aspects of water quantity and quality, and watershed management problems. Prereq: Geog 1414 or Geol 1110 or Graduate students or Instructor consent.

GEOG 4451. The Geography of Soils. (4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

This course gives students a fundamental understanding of the soil as a living resource. The course covers basic soil science and the critical need for sustainable soil management in the context of current agricultural and climate change. The course includes outdoor field excursions, hands-on soil study both in the field and in the lab. Course includes a weekend field trip. prereq: 1414 or Geol 1110 or grad student or instructor consent

GEOG 4803. Geographic Thought. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Development and significance of geographic concepts and thought. History and intellectual roots of contemporary geography, geographers, and geographic institutions. prereq: 60 credits or grad student or instructor consent

GEOG 4910. Teaching Assistantship. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Practical experience in teaching beginning courses in the program. Students serve as intern teachers assisting with the administration of the course. pre-req: instructor consent

GEOG 4990. Geography Seminar. (1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Presentation and discussion of current geographic research, including but not limited to human/physical geography, environments and sustainability, urban geography and planning, and GIS applications. prereq: Geography major or minor and minimum 90 credits; no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for Geog 5999.

GEOG 4999. Honors Project. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Advanced individual project related to geography demonstrating sound theoretical and research foundations and resulting in a written report. prereq: minimum 90 credits and instructor consent

GEOG 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

GEOG 5101. Water Policy. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Socio-cultural, legal, and economic factors that affect water resources management. Historical trends in water policy, resulting water laws in the United States. Federal, state and local institutional structures for water management. pre-req: Grad student or instructor consent

GEOG 5991. Independent Study in Geography. (1-4 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Independent problems for postbaccalaureate students interested in doing additional work in selected fields in geography. prereq: Maximum 4 credits can be applied to graduate program; instructor consent

GEOG 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

Geology (GEOL)

GEOL 1044. Freshman Seminar: Revolution in the Earth Sciences. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

How theories of mountain building evolved to continental drift to a not-quite-all-encompassing dynamic plate tectonics model for the outer reaches of the Earth--a triumph of observation and synthesis despite disbelief, ridicule, and hard luck.

GEOL 1110. Geology and Earth Systems. (SUSTAIN,NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Earth systems science is an interdisciplinary approach to understanding the processes operating within and the interactions between the geosphere, hydrosphere, atmosphere, and biosphere. In this course we investigate the changing nature of the Earth; its composition, architecture, and antiquity; the internal and external processes that shape it through time; cycles of energy and matter; the development of life and impact of human activity; and both local environmental issues and global change.

GEOL 1130. Introduction to Environmental Science. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Earth's physical and biological systems and human interaction with the environment. Climate, rocks, soils, ecosystems, human population, land use, energy use and its consequences, environmental policy, air and water pollution, and conservation issues.

GEOL 1610. Oceanography. (SUSTAIN,NAT SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Origin and history of ocean basins, sea floor morphology, chemistry of sea water, currents, waves, tides, life in the sea, primary productivity, nutrient dynamics, human impact. prereq: Credit will not be granted if already received for 2610.

GEOL 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

GEOL 2010. Surface Processes. (4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Study of earth surface processes emphasizing the origin and evolution of the earth's surface; response of the physical environment to anthropogenic perturbations, climate change, and tectonic events; and application of physical, chemical, and mathematical principles to the study and interpretation of the environment. Surface processes will be explored through field and lab exercises designed to give the student hands-on experience in environmental characterization and monitoring. pre-req: GEOL 1110 or 1610 or GEOG 1414, MATH 1250 or 1290 or 1296 or 1596, CHEM 1153 or 1173 or instructor consent

GEOL 2110. Earth History. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

What is it that makes Earth habitable? What makes earth's climate stable over geologic time? In this class, we will examine energy sources to earth's surface and the processes that change them over geologic time. We will do this within a framework of mass balance ? comparing inputs to outputs at varying scales, investigating the evolution of climate, life and tectonics through time. Our goal is to identify, investigate, characterize, and assess the principal processes that shape earth's surface environment from 4.54 billion years ago to present. To accomplish this aim, we will learn how geoscientists read Earth's history, and what tools they use to do so. prereq: 1110 or 1130 or 1610 or Ast 1040 or Geog 1414 or instructor consent

GEOL 2120. The Earth's Dynamic Interior. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Treatment of the origin, structure and internal composition of the Earth, synthesizing geological, chemical and physical knowledge bearing on the Earth's inaccessible interior. Emphasis is placed on dynamic processes at all depths in the Earth. prereq: 1110 or 1130 or 2110 or 1610 or Geog 1414

GEOL 2311. Mineralogy. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Systematic study of minerals and their relationship to rocks. Emphasis will be placed on introductory crystal chemistry, crystallography and physical properties; optical mineralogy, and identification of minerals in hand specimen, thin section, and by x-ray diffraction. (Course fee assessed.) prereq: GEOL 1110 or 2110 and CHEM 1173 or 1113 or 1153 or 1173 or instructor consent

GEOL 2312. Petrology. ( ; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Petrology of igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks, including their occurrence, petrogenesis and tectonic setting. Emphasis on the relationships between mineral assemblages, rock textures, geochemistry, origins, and rock-forming processes. Course fees assessed. prereq: 2311

GEOL 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

GEOL 3000. Geologic Maps. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Principles of reading and interpreting geological maps. Emphasis will be placed on interpreting and visualizing published geologic maps, constructing geologic histories, and an introduction to the basic methods of making geologic maps in the field. prereq: 2312

GEOL 3091. Independent Study. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed readings and projects on topics not normally covered in other courses. prereq: instructor consent

GEOL 3095. Special Topics in Geology. (; 1-3 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Topics not covered in regular curriculum. Topic announced before course offer

GEOL 3100. Earth's Climate and Environment: Past and Future. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)
Exploration of the processes that control Earth's climate and affect the environment on timescales of 100's of millions to 10's of years. Discussions will include how and why the dinosaur's environment was different from today's environment and concerns about future global warming. prereq: GEOL 1110 or 1130 or 1610 or GEOG 1414 and CHEM 1153 or 1173

GEOL 3210. Geomorphology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Study of Earth surface processes emphasizing the origin and evolution of landforms; response of the physical environment to climatic change and tectonic events, and application of physical, chemical, and mathematical principles to the study and interpretation of landforms. prereq: 1110 or 2110, Math 1250 or 1290 or 1296 or 1596 or instructor consent

GEOL 3420. Sedimentology and Stratigraphy. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to the concepts, methods, and application of sedimentology and stratigraphy, including the description and interpretation of sediments and sedimentary rocks, their provenance, stratal packaging, and tectonostratigraphic setting. (Course fee assessed.) pre-req: GEOL 1110 or 1610 or GEOG 1414

GEOL 3540. Geologic Field Methods. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to basic methods in geologic mapping and creation of geologic maps. All work done in the field during the first 6 weeks of fall semester. Course fees assessed.

GEOL 3800. Principles of Geophysics. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
An introduction to the geophysical concepts and techniques used by practicing geoscientists. prereq: GEOL 2120, MATH 1297, PHYS 1002 or 2015 or 2018

GEOL 3900. Professional Geoscience Preparation. (1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Spring)
This course focuses on preparation for a career as a professional geoscientist. Students prepare for the Fundamentals of Geology professional licensure (offered in March) and learn more about career opportunities for professional geologists pre-req: Advanced Standing in geological Sciences or minimum 90 credits; instructor consent

GEOL 3996. Internship in Geological Sciences. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Credit given for professional field work experience outside an academic department. Requires prior departmental approval and coordination with faculty sponsor. prereq: 2312, instructor consent

GEOL 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

GEOL 4091. Geologic Problems and Research. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Individual research in lab or field problems. prereq: instructor consent, no grad credit

GEOL 4095. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Topics not covered in regular curriculum. Topic announced before course offered.

GEOL 4180. Teaching Assistant Experience. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; S-N only; Every Fall & Spring)
Participation in teaching Geological Sciences lecture and lab courses, including preparation of material, instruction, and student interaction. prereq: Geol core, geological sciences major, instructor consent; max 2 cr can be applied toward geological sciences major; no grad credit

GEOL 4201. Introduction to Watershed Hydrology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This is an upper-division hydrology course covering the hydrologic cycle in the context of wildland watersheds. The course will cover the major components of the hydrologic cycle, including precipitation, snow hydrology, canopy interception, evapotranspiration, infiltration, soil water storage, runoff, streamflow and groundwater flow. The impacts of watershed management on water quantity and quality will be discussed using regional, national, and global examples, with an emphasis on solving real-world problems using hydrologic datasets. This course includes a 2-hour lab that meets once per week. pre-req: MATH 1290 or MATH 1296, no credit granted if already received for ESCI or GEOL 5201

GEOL 4220. Advances in Paleoclimatology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Exploration of the processes that control Earth's climate/environment over that last 100 million years with a focus on the last ice age, ~24,000 years ago, to present. Assessment of climate proxy records in glacial ice, tree rings, corals, and ocean and lake sediment through hands-on analysis of datasets. Investigation of the influence on climate of external processes such as changes in Earth's orbit and volcanic eruptions as well as internal feedbacks (e.g. El Niño). Analysis of human impacts and projections of future global/regional climate change. pre-req: GEOL 2110, CHEM 1153 or 1173, MATH 1290 or 1296; no grad credit

GEOL 4311. Igneous Petrogenesis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)
This course will investigate igneous processes including formation, differentiation, and crystallization of magmas. Thermodynamics of phase equilibria between silicate melts, minerals, and magmatic fluids will be emphasized. pre-req: GEOL 2312, MATH 1297; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOL 5311; no grad credit

GEOL 4355. Economic Geology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)
Geologic description, distribution, and genesis of economic mineral deposits; processes leading to their formation; relationship to plate tectonics; exploration techniques and criteria for finding new deposits. Course fees assessed. prereq: 2312 or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4350 or 5350

GEOL 4356. Ore Deposits and Economic Geology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Geologic description, distribution, and genesis of economic mineral deposits; physical processes leading to deposit formation; relationship of mineral deposits to plate tectonics; exploration techniques and criteria for finding new deposits. pre-req: GEOL 2312 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOL 4350, 4355, 5350 or 5355; no grad credit

GEOL 4360. Geologic, Geophysical, and Geochemical Methods of Exploration. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Team-taught course will introduce various geologic, geophysical, and geochemical exploration methods used to locate and evaluate the economic viability of metallic ore bodies in a variety of geologic settings. In labs, students will develop skills in ore microscopy, drill core logging, and geophysical field methods. Case studies will be used to highlight various exploration methods and ore deposit types. prereq: 4350, Math 1290 or 1296 or instructor consent; no grad credit

GEOL 4400. Astrogeology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
In this astrogeology course we will explore the formation and evolution of celestial bodies in our solar system such as planets and their moons, asteroids, comets, and meteoroids. Topics will include determining internal structure of planetary bodies, dynamical processes, how to read the surface record (geology) of various bodies and leverage that record to understand internal processes and planet evolution, and comparative planetology with the goal to understand first-order cause and effect of planetary dynamics. prereq: (PHYS 1002 or 2015 and 2016) or (GEOL 2120 or 2312), minimum 60 credits, Geological Sciences or Physics majors or graduate student or instructor consent.

GEOL 4450. Structural Geology. (5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to brittle and ductile deformation, including joints, faults, shear zones, and folds; deformation mechanisms; elementary stress and strain theory. Labs include geometric, structural, and kinematic analysis, and a group project. Course fee assessed. prereq: 2312 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 3520

GEOL 4500. Field Geology. (6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Geological mapping of sedimentary, igneous, and metamorphic terranes and of Quaternary deposits and landforms; topographic maps and aerial photographs, including preparation of geologic maps and cross sections, and map unit descriptions. prereq: 4450, department consent; no grad credit

GEOL 4550. Tectonic Geomorphology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Consideration of how tectonics interacts with climate to sculpt the landscapes of mountains belts. Conceptual and quantitative modeling of landscape evolution to gain insights into the controls on elevation and relief of orogens. Analysis of topographic data sets to identify the statistical properties of landscapes and identify the signatures of feedback between surface processes and tectonics. prereq: GEOL 2010 or 3210 or 3420 or Grad student or instructor consent

GEOL 4600. Digital capstone in applied geoscience I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Odd Year)

This project-based geoscience capstone course uses remote and digital data to develop skills used to solve applied geoscience problems including conducting geologic site assessment, mapping bedrock and Quaternary deposits, developing geologic cross-sections, and synthesizing observations to interpret geologic histories. pre-req: GEOL 4450 and GEOL 3420 or 2110, no grad credit

GEOL 4610. Digital capstone in applied geoscience II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Odd Year)

This project-based geoscience capstone course uses remote and digital data to develop skills used to solve applied geoscience problems including conducting geologic site assessments, mapping Quaternary deposits, developing hazard maps, and synthesizing observations to interpret geologic histories. The course covers introductory level GIS and remote sensing through geologic applications. pre-req: GEOL 3420 or 2110 and GEOL 3210 or ESCI 2010, no grad credit

GEOL 4710. Geochemistry. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

What geochemical processes occur at the intersection of the biosphere, lithosphere, and hydrosphere? How did earth's surface geochemistry change over geologic time and how can we tell? In this course, we will investigate questions that relate to the co-evolution of life and Earth through a geochemical lens. Overall, the course will divide into two parts: (1) the geochemical structure of Earth from the core to the surface; and (2) practical applications for geochemistry and geochemical techniques. Discussion will begin with an overview the discipline of geochemistry, which will serve as a framework to interpret the geochemical evolution and structure of the internal and external components of Earth. Following this portion, we will examine modern advances of analytical techniques and applications in geochemistry. prereq: Math 1290 or Math 1297 or MATH 1297 and Chem 1153 or Chem 1173 or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 5711

GEOL 4800. Principles of Geophysics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

An introduction to the geophysical concepts and techniques used by practicing geoscientists Course fee assessed. pre-req: GEOL 2120, MATH 1297 and (PHYS 1002 or 2015) credit will not be accepted if received for both GEOL 3800 and GEOL 4800

GEOL 4839. Coral Reef Geology. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Field study on San Salvador, Bahamas focusing on the biological and geological studies of the coral reef complex and associated habitats of the Caribbean. We will examine the ecology and taxonomy of associated biota as well as the physical, chemical and sedimentary processes in coral reef environments. prereq: BIOL 1011 and 1012 or GEOL 1110 or IBS Grad student

GEOL 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

GEOL 5091. Geologic Problems. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.]; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Individual research in lab or field problems. prereq: Graduate Student or instructor consent

GEOL 5095. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-3 cr. [max 12 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Topics not covered in regular curriculum. Topic announced before course offered.

GEOL 5100. Seminar. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.]; Student Option; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Oral and written presentation on topics of current significance to geoscientists. Participation by department staff. prereq: instructor consent

GEOL 5103. Geological Paleolimnology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Geological aspects of freshwater systems: origins, tectonic and climatic settings of lakes, geophysical mapping, physical sedimentary processes, sedimentary geochemistry, and geochronology. Particular focus on paleolimnology, the analysis of lake sediment to reconstruct past climate and environment prereq: MATH 1296 or 1596, PHYS 1002 or 2015 or 2018, CHEM 1155 or 1175 or grad student

GEOL 5201. Introduction to Watershed Hydrology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course provides an introduction to the hydrologic cycle and water processes in the context of wildland watersheds. The course will cover the major components of the hydrologic cycle, including precipitation, canopy interception, evapotranspiration, infiltration, soil water storage, runoff, streamflow, and groundwater flow. The impacts of watershed management on water quantity and quality will be discussed using regional, national, and global examples, with an emphasis on solving real-world problems using hydrologic datasets. pre-req: CHEM 1153, MATH 1290 or 1296, or grad student, no credit is already received for ESCI or GEOL 4201

GEOL 5210. Glacial and Quaternary Geology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Physics of glacier flow, processes of erosion and deposition, survey of glacial landforms, history and chronology of glaciation. Survey of geological and biological responses to changing environment resulting from climatic fluctuations during last three million years of Earth history. Field studies on the glacial deposits of Minnesota. (2 hrs lect, 2 hrs field lab) prereq: GEOL 1110 or 1610 or GEOG 1414 and PHYS 1001 or 2013 or 2017 and MATH 1290 or 1286; or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4210

GEOL 5220. Advances in Paleoclimatology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Analysis of past global change from climate proxy records in glacial ice, tree rings, ocean and lake sediments, ocean corals. Impact of ocean and atmospheric circulation on global climate; climate cycles; El Nino; human impact on global climate. Offered alternate years. prereq: instructor consent

GEOL 5240. Physical Hydrogeology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Introduction to concepts of fluid movement in Earth's crust and the interaction of rocks and water. Introduction to the hydrologic cycle, theory of flow through porous media, crustal-scale flow systems, role of fluids in the plate tectonic cycle. prereq: 2110, Phys 2011 or 2013 and 2014, Math 1296 or Math 1290 or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4240

GEOL 5250. Hydrogeology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

A quantitative introduction to hydrogeology and aquifer mechanics with emphasis on environmental applications, including, unsaturated flow, interaction between surface water and groundwater, wellhead protection, well hydraulics, inverse methods, and solute transport. Offered alternate years. prereq: Math 1296 or Math 1290 and (Phys 2011 or 2013 and 2014) or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4250

GEOL 5251. Well Hydraulics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Hydraulics of groundwater flow to wells: equations of flow; analysis of steady and non-steady radial flow; aquifer response to stress; analysis of monitoring well networks, pumping tests, and single-point aquifer performance tests. prereq: PHYS 1001 or 2013 or 2017 and MATH 1290 or 1296 or instructor consent or grad student

GEOL 5260. Fluvial Geomorphology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Focuses on the physical processes operating in stream channels and watersheds including watershed-scale hydrology and topography in GIS; reach-scale fluid mechanics and sediment transport; and channel patterns, forms, and classification systems. Other topics included will be river history, human alterations to rivers, and river restoration efforts. prereq: GEOL 2010 or 3210 or 3420 and MATH 1290 or 1296 and PHYS 1001 or 2013 or 2017 or graduate student

GEOL 5310. Advanced Petrology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Physico-chemical principles applied to origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Phase equilibria in important mineral systems. Lab study and interpretation of igneous and metamorphic rocks using petrographic microscope. (2 hrs lect, 2 hrs lab) prereq: 2312 or grad student

GEOL 5311. Igneous Petrogenesis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

This course will investigate igneous processes including formation, differentiation, and crystallization of magmas. Thermodynamics of phase equilibria between silicate melts, minerals, and magmatic fluids will be emphasized. pre-req: GEOL 2312, MATH 1297; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOL 4311

GEOL 5321. Theory, Practice of Scanning Electron Microscopy and X-Ray Microanalysis in Lectures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Presents the basic physics of scanning electron microscopy, including electron beam generation, image formation, signal detection, and beam-sample interactions. Basic sample preparation methods for scanning electron microscopy will be presented and demonstrated in laboratory sessions. How characteristic x-rays are produced in a sample and how they are measured and quantified will also be presented. Use of the SEM to collect data and instruction on how to organize collected data in a logical manner. prereq: Minimum 75 credits, Chem 1155 or 1175, Phys 1002 or 2015 and 2018, or Grad student or instructor consent

GEOL 5355. Economic Geology. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Geologic description, distribution, and genesis of economic mineral deposits; processes leading to their formation; relationship to plate tectonics; exploration techniques and criteria for finding new deposits. Course fees assessed. prereq: 3326, 3150 or graduate student or instructor consent

GEOL 5356. Ore Deposits and Economic Geology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Summer Even Year)

Geologic description, distribution, and genesis of economic mineral deposits; physical processes leading to deposit formation; relationship of mineral deposits to plate tectonics; exploration techniques and criteria for finding new deposits. pre-req: Graduate student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for GEOL 4350, 4355, 5350, or 5355.

GEOL 5360. Geologic, Geophysical, and Geochemical Methods of Exploration. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Team-taught course will introduce various geologic, geophysical, and geochemical exploration methods used to locate and evaluate the economic viability of metallic ore bodies in a variety of geologic settings. In labs, students will develop skills in ore microscopy, drill core logging, and geophysical field methods. Case studies will be used to highlight various exploration methods and ore deposit types. prereq: 4350 or 5350, (Math 1290 or 1296) or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4360.

GEOL 5400. Astrogeology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

In this astrogeology course we will explore the formation and evolution of celestial bodies in our solar system such as planets and their moons, asteroids, comets, and meteorites. Topics will include determining internal structure of planetary bodies, dynamical processes, how to read the surface record (geology) of various bodies and leverage that record to understand internal processes and planet evolution, and comparative planetology with the goal to understand first-order cause and effect of planetary dynamics. pre-req: Minimum 60 credits and Astronomy minor or Geology major or minor or Physics major or minor or graduate student or instructor consent

GEOL 5480. Tectonics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Ancient and active plate-tectonic processes. Topics include tectonic theory, plate motions, evolution of divergent, convergent and transform margins, anatomy of orogenic belts, and neotectonics. Examines tectonic phenomena in the context of geological, geophysical and surficial processes. Offered alternate years. prereq: 2120, 4450, or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4480

GEOL 5601. Introduction to Stream Restoration. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

This course provides an interdisciplinary overview of the background science essential to participate in a stream restoration project. Students will learn how to assimilate geologic hydrologic, and ecological data at the watershed and research scales to plan a restoration project and evaluate/critique existing stream restoration projects. prereq: Math 1290 or 1296 or 1596, PHYS 1001 or 2013 or 2017, minimum 60 credits or graduate student or instructor consent

GEOL 5603. Stream Crossing Design. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Overview of road-stream crossing design with emphasis on stream simulation for aquatic organism passage. Includes field data collection, analysis, and design of road-stream crossings. Meets concurrently with CE 5203. CE 5203 includes additional work on traditional culvert hydraulics and design. pre-req: GEOL 3210 or 3420 or 5260 or 5601 or BIOL 5833 or CE 3225 and instructor consent

GEOL 5711. Geochemistry. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

What geochemical processes occur at the intersection of the biosphere, lithosphere, and hydrosphere? How did earth's surface geochemistry change over geologic time and how can we tell? In this course, we will investigate questions that relate to the co-evolution of life and Earth through a geochemical lens. Overall, the course will divide into two parts: (1) the geochemical structure of Earth from the core to the surface; and (2) practical applications for geochemistry and geochemical techniques. Discussion will begin with an overview the discipline of geochemistry, which will serve as a framework to interpret the geochemical evolution and structure of the internal and external components of Earth. Following this portion, we will examine modern advances of analytical techniques and applications in geochemistry. Prereq: Math 1290 or MATH 1296 or Math 1297 and Chem 1153 or CHEM 1173 or grad student or instructor consent.

GEOL 5730. Geochronology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Covers both radiometric and non-radiometric methods of dating primarily Earth but also solar-system materials (meteorites). The chronometers discussed will cover a range of timescales, from early solar-system history to recent human-influenced history. Offered alternate years. prereq: 2311, one year of college chemistry or grad student

GEOL 5815. Exploration Geophysics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Review of principle geophysical techniques used in the exploration industries. Emphasizes the application of these techniques for solving near-surface problems. Includes review of case histories and group projects. prereq: 1110, Math 1297 or grad student or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4805 or 4815

GEOL 5820. Global Geophysics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Build upon material presented in 2120, exploring the contribution of geophysics to our understanding of the Earth and the processes that control its appearance and behavior. Offered alternate years. prereq: 2120, Math 1290 or 1296 or grad student, instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4820

GEOL 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

German (GER)

GER 1101. Beginning German I. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Communicative course for students with little or no previous study of German. Cultivation of the four modalities of language acquisition (speaking, listening, reading, writing). Development of intercultural competency. Taught primarily in German. prereq: Little or no prior formal study of this language, or instructor consent

GER 1102. Beginning German II. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Communicative course for students with limited previous study of German. Cultivation of the four modalities of language acquisition (speaking, listening, reading, writing). Development of intercultural competency. Taught primarily in German. prereq: 1-2 years high school German or 1101 or instructor consent

GER 1201. Intermediate German I. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Consolidation and enrichment of previously acquired abilities in four modalities (speaking, listening, reading, writing), set within contemporary culture of German-speaking societies. Further development of intercultural competency. Taught in German. prereq: 3-4 years high school German or 1102 or instructor consent

GER 1202. Intermediate German II. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Consolidation and enrichment of previously acquired abilities in four modalities (speaking, listening, reading, writing), set within contemporary culture of German-speaking societies. Further development of intercultural competency. Taught in German. prereq: 4 years high school German or 1201 or instructor consent

GER 2040. Berlin: Myth, Legend and Reality. (HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring & Summer)

Analysis of Berlin from the turn of the 20th century to today, through films, music, texts and essays. The importance of Berlin in German and European historical, political and social developments. Taught in English.

GER 2315. German Cinema: A Visual Excursion into Modern Culture and History. (FINE ARTS; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Introduction to important films produced by German, Austrian and Swiss filmmakers and the art of film analysis, and to the relationship between film, society and culture. Taught in English.

GER 2402. Germany Today. (HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Survey of culture, politics, and society of Germany and German-speaking countries, beginning with post World War II era and emphasizing the European Union's emergence and Germany's role in contemporary Eastern Europe. Taught in English.

GER 3040. German Culture in Germany - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)

Study of German culture, both contemporary and past as it informs the present, on site in Germany. Conducted entirely in German, and all language skills will be inculcated and improved. Format will include seminar, discussions, field trips, and small group projects. pre-req: instructor consent & completion of GER 1202 or higher; also visit the UMD Study Abroad office

GER 3302. Advanced Composition and Conversation. (COMM & LAN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Refines students' skills in oral and written expression within cultural context. Further emphasis on formal oral and aural communication skills: vocabulary building; enhancement of reading skills; advanced grammar. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with grade of C or higher or instructor consent

GER 3401. Texts and Contexts in German Speaking World. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Techniques and tools for understanding and writing about German poetry, fiction, and drama both as literary texts and as cultural testimony. Emphasis on class discussion and writing. Taught in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with grade of C or higher or instructor consent

GER 3403. Page and Stage: German Theater and Performance. (FINE ARTS; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to basic theories of drama and performance, survey of major German dramatists and current stage practices in Germany. Emphasis on class discussion and interpretive reading in German, with critical essays in German. Taught in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or instructor consent

GER 3407. Sustainability in German-speaking Cultures. (SUSTAIN; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

This course offers the opportunity to learn about the discourses and cultures of sustainability in German-speaking countries. In this course you will be able to study several examples of successful sustainable development. Successful development in German-speaking countries has been possible due to several factors, including the coordination of economic strategies, grass roots community-based support, and dexterity in governmental organization. While the conditions of these successes are still being studied, this course engages students by exploring lessons learned from German-speaking countries and their approaches to sustainability. The answers to the questions we ask in this course will contribute to the discourse on sustainable development for years to come. You will also have the opportunity to familiarize yourself with relevant vocabulary and communication strategies, learn how policymaking in German-speaking countries balances the interests of several stakeholders, and reflect on the larger cultural background of valuable sustainable practices. (Taught in German.) pre-req: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or instructor consent

GER 3591. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Students develop and carry out reading and research programs in consultation with the instructor. prereq: instructor consent

GER 3601. German Studies I: Knights to Nationalisms. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Introduces students to Germanic history, culture and literature from third century until 1848. Taught in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or instructor consent

GER 3602. German Studies II: From the Rise of the Reich to the Fall of the Wall. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Introduces students to the methods of German Studies, as well as to Germanic history, culture, and literature from the mid-19th to the 21st century. Topics may include: Germany as a nation state; National Socialist rise to power; the Weimar Republic; body culture; exile(s) and exile literature; the city as metropolis; womens movements and women's rights; mass culture; the industrial revolution; education and education reforms; (N)Ostalgia, Wendeliteratur; terrorism; the establishment and influence of green party politics. Taught in German. pre-req: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or instructor consent.(HUMANITIES)

GER 4095. Special Topics: (various titles to be assigned). ( ; 4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Various topics in the language history and structure, literature, and culture of the German-speaking countries. prereq: GER 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or instructor consent

GER 4302. German Women Writers and Filmmakers. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Analysis of German written and visual texts and exploration of women's oppression within repressive political systems as well as Western democracies; women's exploration of their selves; and the question of whether there is a "female writing". Conducted in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 or instructor consent; no grad credit

GER 4305. German Cinema. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
An introduction to the history of German cinema and to film analysis with a focus on the relationship among German film, history, literature, culture, and politics. The course will examine representative works from various cinematic periods. Taught in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or instructor consent; no grad credit

GER 4404. Contemporary Germany. (GLOBAL PER,HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Civilization, culture, and politics of Germany and German-speaking countries since 1945. Research term paper in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or equivalent or instructor consent; no grad credit

GER 4406. Through Other Lenses: Germanophone Literature & Film. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Historical events of the twentieth century have contributed greatly to development of multicultural, multi-ethnic societies within the German-speaking world. The literary and cinematic productions of minorities provide a powerful commentary not only on the experience of migration, but also on politics, issues of gender, and identity formation. This course focuses on a wide range of seminal and fascinating texts (novels, short stories, poems, essays, articles, films) that pose essential questions for understanding what it means to be a minority in the Germanophone world. prereq: GER 2301 or 1202 with a grade of C or higher, or consent of instructor; no grad credit

GER 4502. German Modernisms: From Vienna to Berlin. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Fall Even Year)
Focuses on the literature and culture of the two major centers in German modernisms: fin de siècle Vienna and Weimar Berlin. Both cities were the site of intellectual and aesthetic upheavals that challenged traditional notions of the subject, representation, class, gender, and technology. Examines major thinkers, writers, artists, and movements in German speaking areas between 1890 and 1933. Taught in German. prereq: 1202 or 2301 with a grade of C or higher or instructor consent; no grad credit

GER 4591. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Health (HLTH)

HLTH 1100. Health and Wellness Strategies for Life. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

This course is designed to help students create and sustain wellbeing throughout their lives. By understanding how environmental, biological, socio-economic, and social influences affect their health, students can be empowered to make positive behavioral changes that benefit themselves and society. The dimensions of wellness serve as the foundation for making sustainable choices related to nutrition, fitness, mental/emotional wellbeing, and other areas of personal health. The importance of goal setting and social support will be emphasized through an individualized health behavior project.

HLTH 1104. Health Science Terminology. (; 3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Introduces students to terms commonly used in health sciences and medical professions. Latin word roots are emphasized. Allows students to develop understanding of vocabulary appropriate to professions requiring backgrounds in biology, human anatomy, and physiology.

HLTH 1470. Human Nutrition. (NAT SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Emphasis on chemical nature of dietary nutrients, physiological and metabolic aspects of human nutrition, effects of diet on human health, interpretation of nutrition informatics, and global issues in health and nutrition.

HLTH 1600. Basic First Aid and CPR. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Basic skills and knowledge to respond correctly in first aid emergencies. Leads to American Red Cross Certification basic first aid and CPR certification.

HLTH 1650. CPR/AED for the Professional Rescuer. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Techniques of cardiopulmonary resuscitation involving one and two rescuers. Leads to American Red Cross certification for infant/child/adult CPR and AED.

HLTH 1700. First Responder. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Principles of emergency response and accident prevention in the home and community. Addresses the intersection of biology and life sciences with health promotion/protection. Leads to the American Red Cross Emergency Response certification.

HLTH 2030. Human Anatomy and Physiology I with lab. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Human anatomy and physiology are studied together using a body systems approach, with emphasis on the interrelationships between form and function at the gross and microscopic levels of organization. Homeostasis is an integrating theme throughout this course. Subjects considered include fundamental concepts and principles of cell physiology, histology, and the integumentary, skeletal, muscular, nervous systems. This course is intended for anyone interested in gaining a better understanding of the anatomy and functioning of the human body. Lab components mirror course subjects. pre-req: BIOL 1001 or 1011 or 1170 and CHEM 1103 or 1113 or 1153

HLTH 2040. Human Anatomy and Physiology II with lab. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

HLTH 2040 builds on HLTH 2030. HIST 2515. Ancient to Pre-Modern African History. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

This course considers African peoples and states from Ancient times through the Pre-Modern era. The unique geography, vast history, varied political, and dynamic social life of Africa will be examined. We will discuss the importance of understanding Africa, and the important contributions the study of Africa has made to our knowledge of the world in which we live. We will give particular attention to how and why states form, were sustained and reproduced. In addition to considering the birth of humanity, we will look at state formation processes of ancient and pre-modern African states such as Nubia, Ancient Egypt, Ancient Ghana, the Empire of Mali, Songhai, Great Zimbabwe and the Swahili city-states. What makes these states states? What are the social needs of developments that give rise to political activities such as providing security, adjudicating disputes, creating laws and enforcing order? Are there identifiable patterns of relations with other peoples and states?

HIST 2700. Ascetics, Mystics, and Yogis: Travel, Learning and the Spiritual Quest. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
The course introduces the history of travel and cultural exchange between ascetics and mystics from west Asia, and Africa, and yogis of south Asia in their common search for spiritual transformation. Because a physical as well as cognitive component was inherent to the spiritual quest, this course, which historicizes asceticism, mysticism, and yoga of the pre-modern period, includes a movement component [led by instructor]. The goal is to help make the mind-body connection as theorized and documented by seekers of a variety of Asian and African spiritually inclined movements. In the closing weeks of the course, students will explore modern western adaptations of pre-modern practices and ideas in political, social and economic context.

HIST 3141. Ancient Rome: From Republic to Empire. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Outlines a four century period in which ancient Rome was an empire beginning after the Second Punic War of 201 B.C. Republican Rome struggled with external possessions and the wealth this provided for the ruling elite in their effort to dominate the state. The failed reform movement of the Gracchi brothers guaranteed that a polarized society would continue. This led to the Roman Revolution and the establishment of the imperial dynasties, the first of which was created by Julius Caesar and his successors and Julio-Claudians. The Pax Romana was a direct outcome of the seizure of power by Julius Caesar and for the next two full centuries Rome governed a world that was larger than the continental United States. The signs of mismanagement, social stagnation, and military pressure at the end of the 2nd century A.D. in the reign of the philosopher-king Marcus Aurelius eventually led to a crisis that was both political as well as economic. prereq: Credit will not be granted if already received for HmCI 3041 or HIST 3041

HIST 3145. Ireland and the Construction of History. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring & Summer)

This course approaches the question of the history of Ireland by examining how history itself is written. Since its founding as an independent nation-state only a century ago, the Republic of Ireland has experienced an explosion of historical narratives, both official and unofficial. Each narrative has a distinct agenda, or "constructed image," of Ireland which its proponents believe is essential for the identity, or the self-awareness, of the new state. Students will examine Irish historiography by focusing on the presentation of three ears common to Irish historical writing: 1) The Prehistoric/"Dreamtime," 2) Early Christian/Medieval, and 3) Modern/Revolution. By examining books, articles, images, and museum displays the students will critically evaluate the construction of various Irish identities over the past century, and they will also evaluate the academic and popular criticism of these narratives which call for different approaches.

HIST 3195. Special Topics European History (various titles to be assigned). (; 4 cr. [max 16 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Topics on any period or area in the history of Europe not included in the regular curriculum.

HIST 3243. Europe in Crisis in the 20th Century. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course focuses on the turbulent history of Europe in the 20th century, particularly the causes, development, and consequences of the First and Second World Wars. It will explore the world wars as global phenomena and consider the ways in which these events have shaped contemporary geopolitics and the international world order. The course will address the political, military, cultural, economic and social transformations that characterized this period and influence our society today.

HIST 3244. Holocaust & Genocide in Europe in the 20th Century. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

The murder of six million Jews as well as hundreds of thousands of other innocent civilians by the Nazi regime during World War II remains one of the most horrific massacres in human history. This course will examine the circumstances and causes that led to the Holocaust, the mechanisms through which the genocide was carried out, and the consequences and responses to the Holocaust. We will consider the perspectives of victims, bystanders, perpetrators, collaborators and resisters, as well as the meanings of these categories themselves. Moreover, this course frames the Holocaust within the broader history of ethnic cleansing and genocide, posing important questions about modernity and threats faced by minority populations in our world today.

HIST 3250. Women, Peace and War.

(GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Feminist analysis of war and peace; debates regarding the gendered nature of war and peace; analysis of the interrelationships of patriarchy, masculinity, and militarism. Women's role in warfare as soldiers, mothers, wives, munitions makers, etc. and effects of war on women including disease, displacement, rape, trafficking and prostitution, etc. Feminism and peace: Feminist peace activism and peacemaking efforts. prereq: WS 1000 or WS 2101 or WS 3750 or WS 3775 or instructor

HIST 3264. Russian Empire under the Tsars: Russia under the Romanovs from Peter the Great to Lenin. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

The Romanov dynasty reigned in Russia for over 300 years and, despite the Romanovs' dramatic fall from power in the wake of the Revolution of 1917, was, by many criteria, one of the most successful dynasties in European history. This course will examine the economic, cultural, political and social transformations of the Russia Empire during the epoch of the Romanovs from the 17th to the early 20th centuries. We will study the accomplishments of the dominating political figures of the period, such as Peter the Great and Catherine the Great, as well as the experiences of the diverse populations who lived across the wide expanse of the empire. In doing so, we will gain insight into the causes of the downfall of the imperial regime in 1917.

HIST 3265. The Soviet Experiment: Russia, the USSR, and Contemporary Russia.

(GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

This course will cover the economic, political, social and cultural changes within the Russian empire, the Soviet Union, and the Russian Federation over the course of the 20th century and into the 21st. Topics to be covered include the Russo-Japanese War, the revolutions of 1905 and 1917, Russian Civil War, Russia's industrialization and collectivization of land, Stalinism, the Great Patriotic War, the cold War, late Soviet culture, the collapse of the Soviet Union and Russian under Yeltsin and Putin. Throughout the semester, students will be working with a variety of primary and secondary sources in different media (textual materials, visual sources, and film). Thorough written and oral assignment, student will develop their critical reading, writing and speaking skills. Credit will not be granted if already received for HIST 2265 or 2365.

HIST 3310. The American Revolution. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course studies the social and political values, ideas, and experiences of colonial and revolutionary America that underlay the eventual formation of the US Constitution. Particular attention is given to the different ways in which American settlers from varying social and ideological contexts reconceived their own past history/histories.

HIST 3313. Global Surf Culture - Study Abroad. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Summer)

Taught abroad. Surfing is one of the world's most popular cultural phenomena. Students will explore the intersections of surfing, war, and tourism, addressing how a pastime commonly associated with mindless pleasure has in fact been implicated in some of the major global developments of the last two-hundred years. These include empire-building and the "civilizing mission" in nineteenth- and early-twentieth-century Hawaii's, modernization and economic development in the so-called Third World, the growth of international tourism following the Second World War, political mass movements and the anti-apartheid struggle, American foreign relations and Cold War cultural diplomacy, and the surf industry and corporate globalization. As a class taught in another country, the course will also cover the history of U.S. foreign policy in that region. And it has an experiential component: to develop an appreciation for the subject and for why millions of people have planned their lives around the sport, students will learn to surf. The course will thus combine academic instruction with outdoor education. pre-req: instructor consent, ability to swim; admission to an approved study abroad program requires consent from the International Programs and Services Office

HIST 3315. Ideas of God in Early America. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

IE 3115. Operations Research. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course prepares students to formulate optimization models in the formats of linear programming, network programming, integer mixed linear programming, goal programming, multi objective programming and nonlinear programming models; understand the simplex algorithm and solve simple linear programming models by hand; implement complex models and solve them using computer software; and interpret and communicate final results. prereq: Math 3280, Stat 3411, BSIE candidate or instructor consent

IE 3122. Materials Engineering Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

ASTM standards for testing metals, polymer, ceramic, and composite materials. Measurement of material properties including: yield strength, tensile strength, stiffness, hardness, toughness, and hardenability. Traditional methods of processing materials including: punching, plastic injection molding, thermoforming, sand casting, sheet metal forming, extrusion, welding, polymer matrix composites vacuum bagging. Heat treatment and metallographic study of metals. Estimation of the effects processing techniques have on material properties using both analytical and empirical techniques. Use of Design of Experiments approach for estimation of process control factor effects and modeling of process quality characteristics. Detailed lab report writing and oral presentation of results. prereq: ENGR 1222, BSIE or BSME candidate, concurrent registration in 3130

IE 3125. Engineering Economic Analysis. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Data analysis and methods for engineering decision making under risk; using time and value of money concepts; and using expectation principles for project selection. prereq: Statistics 3411 or 3611, engineering candidate or instructor consent

IE 3130. Materials Processing Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

An introduction to common materials processes and material responses, including thermal and mechanical processing of metals, polymers and composite materials. prereq: Engr 2110 or ME 2105, Engr 2016 or CE 2017, Stat 3411 (concurrent registration is allowed) and BSIE or BSME or BSEP candidate

IE 3140. Human Factors and Ergonomic Design. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Through the study of perception, cognition, and motor performance, explores human abilities and limitations as well as the external factors impacting them. To improve performance of a human-machine system, learn about tools for analyzing products, identifying design elements to augment abilities, and recognizing limitations. prereq: B.S.I.E. candidate or instructor consent

IE 3222. Occupational Systems Laboratory. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Using principles of human factors and production management, introduces methods for assessing and optimizing performance of occupational systems (i.e., workers, workplaces and tasks, and tools and equipment). These methods are applied in laboratory exercises to evaluate effects of workplace factors on various performance measures. prereq: 3140, must be taken after or concurrently with IE 4020 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 3105, 3265

IE 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

IE 4010. Six Sigma Quality Control. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

Statistical quality control in manufacturing; modeling, process quality, control charts, process capability, acceptance sampling methods, Six Sigma, Design of Experiments, and Lean Enterprise. prereq: Che 2011 or Stat 3411 or 3611, engineering candidate, no grad credit

IE 4020. Lean Production Management. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Develops management systems using lean methods: JIT, CMS, ERP, SCM, TQM, SMED, and Kaizen Techniques. Forecasting, aggregate planning, inventory management, and other facilities improvement techniques, including efficient scheduling of manufacturing and service systems. prereq: pre or co req: 3125 or Che 4501 or instructor consent, no grad credit

IE 4115. Facility Planning and Simulation. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Facility and process design and analysis using flow rates, design relationships, graphical aids, and computer simulation. prereq: 4010, 4020, BSIE candidate

IE 4196. Cooperative Education I. (1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. prereq: BSIE candidate, no grad credit

IE 4197. Industrial Engineering Internship. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. Requires more than 15 hours per week of company work. Pre-req: upper division student and instructor consent; no grad credit

IE 4222. Systems Integration Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Design, programming, and implementation of part or all of an automated and integrated manufacturing, testing, packaging, or distribution system. prereq: must be taken after or concurrently with IE 4230 or department consent, no grad credit

IE 4230. Systems Integration. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

Study of the hardware and software aspects of many devices, subsystems, and computers used in modern automation, and their integration into automated manufacturing, packaging, and distribution systems. prereq: 4020 or ME 3140, ECE 2006, CS 1121 or CS 1131 or CS 1511 or CS 2121, BSIE candidate or instructor consent

IE 4255. Multidisciplinary Senior Design. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Capstone design course in industrial engineering. Project Management, problem definition, root cause analysis, baseline analysis, alternative solutions, analysis, reporting. Societal, economic, ethical, environmental, political considerations. Oral and written reports. Work is in teams focused on industrial, research, or competition-based projects. prereq: EMgt 4110, BSIE candidate, or instructor consent, no grad credit

IE 4296. Cooperative Education II. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Advanced practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. prereq: 4196 or ME 4196; no grad credit

IE 4297. Industrial Engineering Internship.

(2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Advanced practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports with final written report must be submitted to department. Requires more than 15 hours per week of company work. pre-req: ME 4196 or 4197 or IE 4196 or 4197 and instructor consent

IE 4491. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed individual study arranged with instructor and department head before registration. prereq: BSIE or BSME candidate, department consent

IE 4495. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (1-4 cr. [max 32 cr.] ; Student Option; Fall Odd Year)

Topics not available in regular department curriculum. May involve specialties of department or visiting faculty. prereq: BSIE candidate or instructor consent

IE 4993. Industrial Engineering Seminar.

(1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Reports on recent developments in engineering and on research projects in the department. prereq: BSIE or BSChE or BSECE or BSME or MEHS candidate or instructor consent; no Grad credit

IE 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

IE 5305. Supply Chain Management. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Concepts essential to understanding supply chain management, including strategy and design, as well as operational, managerial, technological, and implementation issues. It provides an integrated perspective of the supply chain, including purchasing, production, transportation, distribution and information systems. prereq: 4020, BSIE candidate or MSEM student or instructor consent

IE 5315. Organizational Control Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Roles of the engineer in managing organizational resources. Budgeting, cost-volume relationships, product costing, annual reports, audits. Project estimating and reporting. prereq: BSIE or MSEM candidate or department consent

IE 5325. Advanced Engineering Economics.

(3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)
Fundamentals of engineering economics: decision trees, time value of money, analysis of alternatives for project investments, taxes, inflation. Applications to engineering services and manufacturing. prereq: 3125, BSIE or MSEM candidate or department consent

IE 5335. Engineered Products and Services.

(3 cr. ; Student Option; Fall Odd Year)
Development, production, and distribution of engineered products and services. Strategies for positioning engineered products and services to successfully compete in a global market. Sales, purchasing, qualification, and service. Standards, regulations. prereq: BSIE or MSEM candidate, instructor consent

IE 5345. Life Cycle Assessment. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Students will learn how to assess environmental impact, economic costs, and social impacts for the entire life cycle of materials, products, processes, and infrastructure using industry life cycle assessment (LCA) software SimaPro. Topics include sustainability, cradle to cradle design, functional unit definition, materiality, discount rates, worker health and safety, and how to utilize LCA in decision-making. Students will work in teams on a LCA project with a presentation and written report that will be given to a client upon completion. pre-req: CHEM 1153, BS or MS SCSE candidate or instructor consent

IE 5991. Independent Study in Industrial Engineering. (1-4 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed study of special interest topics not available in standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special projects. prereq: MSEM candidate, department consent

Integrated Elem Special Educ (IESE)

IESE 1010. Introduction to Elementary & Special Education: Inclusive & Anti-Racist Schooling. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This is an introductory course to the elementary and special education teaching profession. Topics include: developing a reflective teaching practice, inclusive teaching practices, anti-racist pedagogy, special education, and teaching as a profession. prereq: Pre elementary education student

IESE 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

IESE 2001. Diversity and Education Implications. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Examines issues of diversity related to planning instruction, classroom management, integrated and exploratory curriculum, utilization of technology, community resources, structured service learning and humanizing classroom environments. prereq: Pre-IESE Candidate, 1010; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 2001

IESE 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

IESE 3325. Foundations of Literacy and Language. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

In the first of three required literacy courses, the teach candidates are introduced to the principles of comprehensive, scientifically-based literacy (reading, writing, speaking, and listening) instruction that includes phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary development, and comprehension. prereq: Admission to the IESE program, successful completion of IESE 3331; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 3325

IESE 3326. Advanced Literacy & Language: Designing & Implementing a Comprehensive Literacy Program. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Second in a sequence of three literacy courses, this course is designed to prepare teacher candidates to create and implement comprehensive and scientifically based literacy instruction in elementary school classrooms. prereq: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Blocks One and Two courses and associated field experiences; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 3326

IESE 3331. Children's Literature in the Elementary School. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
The focus of this course is on literature for children, the criteria for selecting books and non-book materials for use in the elementary school, and the integration of children's trade books across the curriculum. prereq: Pre-IESE, Sophomore standing, IESE 1010 and ECH 2025; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 3331.

IESE 3355. Critical Thinking Elementary Mathematics Methods I. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
First in a two-semester component required of all students planning to teach elementary education in the area of mathematics. Through discussion, projects, and reflection on readings we will study the nature of mathematics, how children learn mathematics, and how to most effectively teach and assess mathematics. prereq: Admission to the IESE program and successful completion of Block One courses and associated field experience; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 3355

IESE 3356. Elementary Mathematics Methods II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Second in a two-semester component required of all students planning to obtain certification to teach mathematics at the elementary level. Through discussion, projects, and reflections on readings we will study the nature of mathematics as it related to social justice, how to most effectively teach and assess mathematics, and the different ways to grade mathematics. prereq: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Blocks One and Two courses and associated field experiences; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 3356

IESE 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

IESE 4344. Teaching Science and Environmental Education I. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
This course is the first method course of elementary science teacher preparation. The emphasis of ELED 4344 is on enriching content knowledge, increasing confidence, as well as developing appropriate instructional skills, strategies, and attitudes for being a science teacher. Students will participate in extensive field experiences, learn and apply recommended methods for science instruction based on research and theory, and reflect upon their personal development and ability. prereq: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Block One courses and associated field experience; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 4344

IESE 4346. Teaching Science & Environmental Education II. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Advanced methods course of elementary science teacher preparation. Emphasis on designing curriculum, using appropriate teaching methodologies and assessments to measure student learning, as well as developing attitudes for being a science teacher. Presentation of contemporary perspectives in science education and finding solutions to problems in the classroom from the reform initiatives. prereq: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Blocks One and Two courses and associated field experiences; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 4346

IESE 4366. Teaching Elementary Social Studies I. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Study of the content and organization of social studies in elementary schools; planning instruction for diverse students; understanding and improving the learning situation and effective use of materials emphasizing historical and civil discourses. pre-req: Admission to IESE program; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 4366

IESE 4367. Teaching Elementary Social Studies II. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)
Exploring inquiry-based models of instruction in social studies planning instruction for diverse students; conceptualizing and planning instructional units; and effective use of an array of instructional materials. prereq: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Block One courses and associated field experience; no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for ELED 4367

Inter-Institutional Cross-Reg (IICR)

IICR 1001. Inter-Institutional Cross Registration. (1-9 cr. [max 36 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Inter-institutional cross registration reflecting the credit hour load of University of Minnesota

Duluth students enrolling under the inter-institutional cross registration agreement with the College of Saint Scholastica and the University of Wisconsin Superior and any other institution with whom such an agreement exists. prereq: instructor consent

IICR 1002. Inter-Institutional Cross Registration. (; 1-9 cr. [max 36 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Inter-institutional cross-registration reflecting the credit hour load of University of Minnesota Duluth students enrolling under the inter-institutional cross registration agreement with the College of St. Scholastica and the University of Wisconsin Superior and any other institution with whom such an agreement exists.

IICR 1003. Inter-Institutional Cross Registration. (; 1-9 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Inter-institutional cross-registration reflecting the credit hour load of University of Minnesota Duluth students enrolling under the inter-institutional cross registration agreement with the College of St. Scholastica and the University of Wisconsin Superior and any other institution with whom such an agreement exists.

IICR 1004. Inter-Institutional Cross Registration. (; 1-9 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Inter-institutional cross-registration reflecting the credit hour load of University of Minnesota Duluth students enrolling under the inter-institutional cross-registration agreement with the College of St. Scholastica and the University of Wisconsin Superior and any other institution with whom such an agreement exists.

IICR 2001. Inter-Institutional Cross Registration. (1-9 cr. [max 36 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

LIM 5010. Integrated Approaches to the Study of Inland Waters. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

An interdisciplinary introduction to the science of Limnology taught at the beginning graduate student level. The science of inland waters, Limnology, is built on Geology, Chemistry, Biology, and Physics and increasingly includes Social Sciences. In this course, students will experience an in-depth, integrated approach to Limnology. Lake systems are emphasized but wetland and running water systems are discussed. The course includes significant out of class time reviewing on-line modules and other materials. In-class time is devoted mainly to group work, problem solving, and student-led discussions and presentations. An optional companion laboratory and practice course (LIM 5011) is associated with this course where additional foundational and fundamental limnological techniques are taught. pre-req: graduate student or instructor consent

LIM 5011. Laboratory and Discussion in Integrated Approaches to the Study of Inland Waters. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

A graduate-level laboratory and discussion course with an interdisciplinary introduction to Limnology. This class will introduce students to laboratory, field, data collection, and data analysis techniques in the study of limnology. Introductory coding will be covered. Oral and written communication skills and problem solving skills will also be developed. This course is designed to be taken in conjunction with LIM 5010, Limnology I. pre-req: pre or co-req LIN 5010, grad student or instructor consent

LIM 5012. Integrated Approaches to the Study of Inland Waters II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Continuing from LIM 5010, this is the second semester of an interdisciplinary introduction to the science of Limnology taught at the beginning graduate student level. The science of inland waters, Limnology, is built on Geology, Chemistry, Biology, and Physics and increasingly includes Social Sciences. Students will experience an indepth, integrated approach to Limnology. Lake systems are emphasized but wetland and running water systems are discussed. The course includes significant out of class time reviewing on-line modules and other materials. In-class time is devoted mainly to group work, solving real-world problems, and student-led discussions and presentations. An optional companion laboratory and practice course (LIM 5013) is associated with this course where additional foundational and fundamental limnological techniques are taught. pre-req: LIM 5010 or instructor consent

LIM 5013. Laboratory and Discussion in Integrated Approaches to the Study of Inland Waters II. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

A second semester of the graduate-level laboratory and discussion course with an interdisciplinary introduction to Limnology. This class will introduce students to laboratory, field, data collection, and data analysis techniques in the study of limnology. Introductory coding will be covered. Oral and written communication skills and problem solving skills will also be developed. The second half of this semester will be spent working with industry and non-profit community partners on a capstone project, emphasizing the use of newly acquired skills and knowledge in a non-academic setting. pre-req: LIM 5010 or instructor consent

LIM 5101. Physical Limnology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Physical description of lake dynamics including: lake morphometry, water budget, light distribution, circulation, fronts, waves and mixing. Descriptive, mathematical, numerical and data-analysis techniques are used to investigate the various topics. pre-req: Math 1297, Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016, or grad student

LIM 5102. Chemical Limnology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

Organic and inorganic chemistry of natural waters, major and minor ions, pH-Eh relationships, carbon and nutrient cycles, pore water chemistry, sediment chemistry, microbial geochemistry. Offered alternate years. pre-req: Math 1296, Phys 1002 or 1202, Chem 1152 or 1162, or grad student; Credit will not be granted if already received for 5001

LIM 5103. Geological Paleolimnology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Geological aspects of freshwater systems: origins, tectonic and climatic settings of lakes, geophysical mapping, physical sedimentary processes, sedimentary geochemistry, and geochronology. Particular focus on paleolimnology, the analysis of lake sediment to reconstruct past climate and environment pre-req: MATH 1290 or 1296 or 1596, PHYS 1002 or 2015 or 2018, CHEM 1155 or 1175 or grad student

LIM 5104. Geochemical, Physical, and Biological processes in Aquatic Sediments. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

The course covers the geochemical, physical, biogeochemical, and biological processes in the upper meters of aquatic sediments. Topics include biogeochemical cycles of C, N, P, S; sediment-water exchanges of nutrients, metals, and pollutants; pathways and rates of microbially catalyzed reactions; bioturbation and bioirrigation; measurement techniques and reaction-transport modeling. pre-req: Graduate student or instructor permission

LIM 5105. Research Frontiers and New Directions in Limnology and Environmental Science. (1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Periodic Spring)

An interdisciplinary graduate seminar with dual goal of reviewing most significant current developments in limnological science and helping students identify most significant knowledge gaps in their disciplinary research fields. The course involves guest lectures, student presentations and discussions. It aims to provide students with guidance on choosing research directions to achieve an optimal balance between difficulty and scientific payoff. pre-req: Graduate student or instructor permission

Linguistics (LING)

LING 1000. Language and Culture in the U.S. What does it Mean to Speak American. (CDIVERSITY; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course fulfills the UST 1000 requirement. Facilitate the successful transition into college learning and student life at UMD while simultaneously fulfilling other core requirements. Examine the topic of Cultural Diversity in the US through the context of language and dialect in American. Explore the impact language as on the broad spectrum of American culture, and conversely, the ways in which various American cultures and their diverse heritages have influenced the many ways language is spoken in the United States., Investigate concepts of linguistic competency, perceptions and biases toward language, power structures manifested in language, and influences of class, race, ethnicity, and heritage on spoken language. Pre-req: less than 30 credits

LING 1811. Introduction to Linguistics.

(LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Provides an introduction to a theoretical study of the nature of natural language, using examples primarily from present-day English. Students are expected to learn analytical skills to understand how human languages (and the human mind) work and how the sub-components (sounds, words, sentences and meaning) of natural languages are systematically organized.

LING 2101. Phonetics and Phonology. (NAT SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course, which is rooted in biology and physics, focuses on the sound systems of the languages of the world. What do these systems have in common? How do they differ from one another? There is an immense amount of variation across languages, but it is far from random, and this assumption is the driving factor of the course. Students will learn the anatomy of the vocal tract and the means of speech articulation, and they will learn to produce every possible sound of every possible human language. They will also analyze the acoustic signals resulting from speech articulation and how these acoustic results are perceived by hearers. Along the way, student learn to analyze large amounts of phonetic data, both by hand and electronically and to understand when a difference in speech sounds can change the meaning of a message as opposed to simply changing as a result of contextual effects. In short, when are speech sounds meaningful, and what does this tell us about the way the human language faculty is organized? The scientific approach taken here will teach students a great deal about their own language. It will also teach students a great deal about the diversity of languages in the world: how they differ, but more importantly, what they all have in common, and what it is that makes them all human.

LING 2195. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Topics not included in regular curriculum.

LING 2400. Language of Advertising. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Our linguistic landscape has never been more saturated with advertising, branding, messaging, and media. This course will explore the links between the markets and masses through a variety of linguistic aspects. Students will scrutinize film, journalism, podcasts, comics, and interactive experiences for language play, genderspeak, teenspeak, emerging changes in use, and representation of time and perspective.

LING 2600. Language in Society.

(CDIVERSITY, SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

This course considers the way social factors relate to the form and function of language. We will consider a broad range of topics, such as language and gender, in-group slang, bilingualism, pidgins and creoles, African American Language, and more as time permits. An important part of the course will consider the role of language in constructing and maintaining group identity, and we will look specifically at language variation in Minnesota and other regions of the United States.

LING 3102. Syntax. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Deals with how sentences are structured. After discussing lexical categories (parts of speech) and phrasal structures from a scientific perspective, several different theories are introduced under the blanket name Generative Grammar. Based on Generative Grammar, students learn how to analyze English sentence structures to understand universal properties of natural language. prereq: 1811 or instructor consent

LING 3103. Semantics and Pragmatics. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will provide an introduction to the study of what is said (semantics) and what is meant (pragmatics) in natural language. It will provide an introduction to set theory, first- and higher- order logic, and lexical semantics. It will also cover pragmatic topics such as presupposition, implicature, and speech act theory. Beyond these basic topics, the course will focus on specific sub-topics from time to time such as negation, reference, information structure, reported speech, genre, and so on. prereq: 1811

LING 3104. Python Programming for Language Researchers. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

The aim of this course is to learn computer programming using Python within the context of linguistic analysis. After learning how to create basic code using basic programming concepts, students will create more domain specific programs to clean up and reformat a large set of text data. Students will also learn how to use existing linguistic analytical tools (modules) such as NLTK (Natural Language Tool Kit), SpaCy, and Stanford Parser to parse English sentences as well as to generate bi-/ tri-grams as a preparation for further statistical analyses.

LING 3203. Linguistics and Social Media. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

This course examines the structure and use of language across a wide range of social media platforms, such as texting, Facebook, e-mail, Instagram, Snapchat, Twitter, blogs and more. Rooted in theories of discourse analysis, sociolinguistics, and pragmatics, this course looks at how structural limitations steer the functions of the various media at the same time as engendering creativity among users. Similarly, the course investigates the ways in which online communities construct and maintain identities through language use, and in so doing, sheds light on the linguistic behavior of traditional community groups as well. Students will gain experience collecting large amounts of electronic data and performing quantitative analyses on it as well as performing ethnographic descriptions of online communities. Students will also examine the way interpersonal relationship develop and are maintained through the linguistic conventions of the various media. The class will consist of lecture, discussion groups, and a significant amount of hands-on experience in an extended final project. pre-req: LING 1811 or LING 2600 or instructor consent

LING 3591. Independent Study in Linguistics. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed reading and/or research. prereq: 1811 or instructor consent, department consent

LING 4103. Morphology: Word Structures and Rules. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)

An introductory survey course on linguistic morphology that examines key concepts used to describe and explain the internal structures of words, and also deals with the central word formation processes across the typologically different languages. This theoretical knowledge acquired is then applied to the analysis of word formation in various discourse domains in present-day English and non-Indo-European languages. prereq: 1811, no grad credit

LING 4104. Corpus Linguistics. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

The aim of this course is to learn how to analyze linguistic phenomena based on data extracted from large databases. Students will learn the distinction between corpus methods and the traditional, intuition-based approaches. After reviewing key linguistic concepts learned in the prerequisite linguistics course, students will learn several statistical tests widely used in linguistics and how those tests are applied to the data extracted from large corpora. Students will also acquire basic computer programming skills in Python and R to clean up and manipulate the data structure for the purpose of linguistic exploration. Students will be able to evaluate competing hypotheses using the results of their empirical investigations. pre-req: LING 1811

LING 4105. Cognitive Linguistics. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

As a general introduction to cognitive linguistics, this course consists of three main components. The first part provides an overview of some of the main aims, assumptions, and commitments of the cognitive linguistics enterprise, and provides an indicative sketch of some of the descriptive analyses and theoretical positions that are representative of cognitive linguistics. Based on this theoretical background, the next two parts focus on the two best-developed research frameworks in cognitive linguistics: cognitive semantics (meaning), and the cognitive approach to grammar (structure). Students will also learn the difference between cognitive approaches to linguistics and the mainstream generative approach. pre-req: LING 1811

LING 4195. Special Topics: (various titles to be assigned). ( ; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Subdisciplines such as pragmatics, semantics, regional and social language variation, childhood language acquisition, second language learning, language change and linguistic reconstructions, cognitive linguistics, and history of linguistic inquiry. prereq: 60 credits earned or in progress, no grad credit

LING 4852. Teaching Assistantship in Linguistics. (1-3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Students gain practical experience in teaching-related activities for introductory linguistic courses. Students assist the instructor in administration of the class. prereq: 1811, 3101, 3102, instructor consent, no grad credit

MIS 3211. Introduction to Responsive Apps Development. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Introductory programming in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and application development frameworks such as Bootstrap and Cordova for web apps (entirely web-based app) and hybrid apps (partially web-based app) based on the responsive web design paradigm, which aims at creating apps to provide an optimal viewing experience - better user experience through easy reading and navigation with a minimum of refreshing, resizing, and scrolling - across a wide range of devices (from smartphones to tablets to desktop computers). pre-req: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201 or CS 1121 or CS 1511; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3211

MIS 3220. Database Management and Design. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring) Concepts and structures relating to design, implementation, and administration of database management systems. Emphasis on relational databases and development of integrated applications. prereq: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201 or CS 1121 or CS 1511, LSBE candidate or non-LSBE MIS minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3220

MIS 3224. Data Communications and Computer Networks. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Management of telecommunications networks from a business problem solving perspective. Survey of telecommunications technologies, network architectures, management issues, and evolving business environments. prereq: FMIS 3201 or FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201 or CS 1121 or CS 1511, LSBE candidate or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3224

MIS 3231. Data Visualization and Presentation. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Data visualization is the art and science of presenting data effectively in order to facilitate knowledge sharing and decision making. How to present and visualize data is an important skill for business professionals to develop. This course will teach the principles and techniques that empower students to understand and interpret data, as well as make effective decisions based on data. Students will learn the benefits of effective data presentation and visualization, understand the principles and methods of visualization, and apply the principles using popular data visualization technologies. pre-req: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201, LSBE candidate

MIS 3232. Computer Programming for Business. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course covers the entire spectrum of object-oriented computer programming features using a language such as Java. The goal of the course is to teach basic to advanced principles and practical issues in computer programming, while at the same time preparing students to use computer programming skills for applications in MIS, finance, accounting, marketing, and other disciplines. Topics include: object-oriented programming; algorithms and data structures; and business software systems development. prereq: FMIS 2201 or FMIS 3201 or MIS 2201, FMIS 3220 or concurrently or MIS 3220 or concurrently, LSBE candidate or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3232

MIS 3261. Information Security and Assurance. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

The course is an introduction to technical and managerial issues related to information security and assurance in businesses and organizations. It provides a foundation for understanding how to protect information assets, how to design safeguards and responses to security incidents, and develop an information security strategy, and to implement the strategy. Students will understand the range of activities, methods, and procedures for information security and assurance. Coverage will include inspection and protection of information assets, detection of and reaction to threats to information assets, and examination of pre- and post-incident procedures, technical and managerial responses, and an overview of the information security planning and staffing functions. pre-req: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201, LSBE candidate

MIS 3295. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). ( ; 1-4 cr. [max 24 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Exploration of specific MIS problems, issues, and approaches. prereq: LSBE candidate or department approval; repetition of course credits includes credits earned between FMIS 3295 and MIS 3295

MIS 3297. MIS Internship. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Work-integrated learning program providing practical experiences within students major. Students participate in approved program within cooperating business, governmental agencies, or civic organizations. There are minimum hours based upon the credits you select for the course; 1 credit = 100 hour minimum; 2 credits = 150 hours minimum; 3 credits = 200 hour minimum. The course also requires completion of internship contract, assignments, and performance evaluations. For LSBE majors that allow for only three (or fewer) credit hours of internship in the major curriculum, students will be allowed to count the remaining internship credits in the Upper Division Supporting Courses category. Maximum credits: 6; 3 completions allowed; repetition of course and credits includes both FMIS 3297 and MIS 3297 prereq: Prereq: LSBE Candidate, prior major coursework, consent of Internship Director; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3397.

MIS 4220. Healthcare Informatics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Introduction to the convergence of computing, information systems, and healthcare with a focus on managing information and developing systems that leads to more effective decisions and actions in healthcare. Covers the standards, ethics and security of the electronic health record. prereq: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201 or FMIS 3201, LSBE candidate or college consent, no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4220

MIS 4223. Systems Analysis and Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Analysis phase of systems development life cycle. Emphasizes feasibility study, requirements analysis, and system specification. Detailed study of current physical and logical systems models and specification. prereq: FMIS 2201 or MIS 2201, LSBE candidate or non-LSBE MIS minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 3222 or FMIS 4223, no grad credit

MIS 4225. Advanced Applications Development. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

This course is designed to give students opportunities to apply the knowledge of business and technology that they acquired through their junior and senior year courses to real-world projects. The goal of this course is to augment the knowledge with the state-of-the-art technology in the field of information systems for the conventional and mobile platforms, while at the same time getting students involved in projects to expose them to an in-depth practical experience. Topics include: software version control; computing platform ecosystem; project management; best practices and technologies in business applications development; and business computing, including simulation and data analysis. prereq: FMIS 3220 or MIS 3220, FMIS 3232 or MIS 3232; credit will not be granted if already received for FMIS 4225

Introduces a broad range of ethical issues encountered by marketing practitioners, and helps discover, develop, and test personal sets of guidelines for making judgments when such issues arise. prereq: 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or college consent

MKTG 3771. Sports Marketing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
This course will provide an overview of various aspects of sports marketing including: (1) the marketing of sports products (2) the use of sports to market non-sports products. prereq: 3701, LSBE Candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan major

MKTG 3791. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
For students wishing to do special work in marketing that extends beyond, or in greater depth than, regular course offerings. prereq: department consent

MKTG 3797. Marketing Internship. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Work-integrated learning program providing practical experiences within students major. Students participate in approved program within cooperating business, governmental agencies, or civic organizations. There are minimum hours based upon the credits you select for the course; 1 credit = 100 hour minimum; 2 credits = 150 hours minimum; 3 credits = 200 hour minimum. The course also requires completion of internship contract, assignments, and performance evaluations. For LSBE majors that allow for only three (or fewer) credit hours of internship in the major curriculum, students will be allowed to count the remaining internship credits in the Upper Division Supporting Courses category. Maximum credits: 6; 3 completions allowed Pre-req: LSBE candidate, prior major coursework, consent of internship director; credit will not be granted if already received for MgtS 3797

MKTG 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

MKTG 4710. Marketing for Non-Profits. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
This course will introduce students to the dynamic world of non-profits with an emphasis placed on key marketing strategies and tactics that successful non-profits use to fulfill their mission. This course will provide an overview of various aspects and special issues related to non-profit marketing including: (1) the focus of non-profit on social impact versus maximizing profits; (2) the marketing of social services; (3) marketing's role in fundraising; (4) challenges of integrating marketing efforts among diverse stakeholders; and (5) external economic, legal and political factors that impact marketing of non-profit services. prereq: 3701

MKTG 4712. Event Marketing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
This course will focus on the role of events in marketing. Students are introduced to a number of effective event marketing strategies used to reach and engage target audiences and achieve engagement, sales lead and revenue goals. Marketing using webinars, festivals, trade shows, corporate events, conferences, non-profit fundraisers, cultural and sporting events will be explored. Specific topics will include event management and planning, selecting the "right" event partnership, branding, lead generation, sponsorship, social media, virtual reality, engaging event experiences, touch points and various ways to measure ROI. Insights into consumer experiences, such as how experiences are remembered and ways experienced based marketing may contribute to value are also explored. pre-req: MKTG 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design Marketing sub plan major or non-LSBE Marketing Minor or college consent; no grad credit

MKTG 4721. Advertising and Marketing Communications. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Promotional planning. Emphasis on planning for advertising, sales promotion, public relations/publicity, direct marketing, and personal selling. Importance of integrated marketing communications to organizations. pre-req: MgtS 3701 or Mktg 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan or non-LSBE Marketing Minor or college consent

MKTG 4731. Consumer Behavior. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Buyer behavior and implications for marketing strategy. Emphasis on information processing concepts, influences on behavior, and decision-making processes from both conceptual and pragmatic perspectives. Students requiring graduate credit must complete additional coursework. pre-req: MgtS 3701 or Mktg 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan major or non-LSBE Marketing Minor or college consent

MKTG 4741. Developing and Marketing New Products. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

A marketing-oriented new products management course that explores the new product development process with a focus on marketing strategies for the planning, development and launch of new products and services. pre-req: MGTS 3701 or MKTG 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan major or college consent

MKTG 4742. Advanced Professional Selling. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduces advanced topics and skill development in professional selling. Emphasis on interpersonal communications, relationship management, team selling, personal productivity, and negotiations. pre-req: MKTG 3741 and Professional Sales Major

MKTG 4751. Retailing. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Principles of establishing and operating a retail business. Topics include retail market analysis and research, store layout, retail accounting, merchandise selection and financing, pricing, selling, advertising, budgets and current trends. Emphasis on retail management from a strategic perspective. pre-req: 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or college consent

MKTG 4763. Marketing Analytics Practicum. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course provides students the opportunity to apply their analytic knowledge and skills to an industry project and/or data sets. During the course, students will work with industry clients and the course instructor to formulate realistic recommendations based on their analysis of the information. pre-req: Markeing Analytics Major, no grad credit

MKTG 4774. International Marketing. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer) Marketing across national boundaries; effects of foreign economic, legal/political, and sociocultural environments on multinational marketing strategies. pre-req: MGTS 3701 or MKTG 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan or non-LSBE Marketing Minor or college consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 3781; no grad credit

MKTG 4775. Digital Marketing in Sports. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Introduces topics in digital marketing in sports, such as ticket sales, multimedia rights, social media, digital media streaming, video creation, and monetizing digital sports content. pre-req: MKTG 3701, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design major with Marketing Emphasis or non-LSBE Marketing Minor or college consent; no grad credit.

MKTG 4781. Marketing Management and Strategy. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Planning, directing, and controlling an organization's marketing activity, including formulating marketing objectives, strategy, and tactics. Interpretation of information in decision making and strategy formulation. Case analysis used to develop marketing problem-solving, communication, and organization skills. pre-req: MKTG 3711 and 1 other Marketing course, 90 credits, LSBE candidate or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan major or grad or college consent

MKTG 4795. Special Topics (Various Topics to be Assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 27 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Enables students, working closely with the instructional faculty, to explore one or more contemporary marketing issues in substantial depth. pre-req: LSBE cand or non-LSBE Marketing Minor or Graphic Design and Marketing majors or Graphic Design with Marketing sub plan majors. MKTG 3701 or concurrent registration, no grad cr

MKTG 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

MKTG 5710. Marketing for Non-Profits. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

This course will introduce students to the dynamic world of non-profits with an emphasis placed on key marketing strategies and tactics that successful non-profits use to fulfill their mission. This course will provide an overview of various aspects and special issues related to non-profit marketing including: (1) the focus of non-profit on social impact versus maximizing profits; (2) the marketing of social services; (3) marketing's role in fundraising; (4) challenges of integrating marketing efforts among diverse stakeholders; and (5) external economic, legal and political factors that impact marketing of non-profit services. pre-req: MBA student or department consent

MKTG 5721. Advertising and Marketing Communications. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Promotional planning. Emphasis on planning for advertising, sales promotion, public relations/publicity, direct marketing, and personal selling. Importance of integrated marketing communications to organizations. pre-req: MKTG 3701, MBA student or department consent

MKTG 5731. Consumer Behavior. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Buyer behavior and implications for marketing strategy. Emphasis on information processing concepts, influences on behavior, and decision-making processes from both conceptual and pragmatic perspectives. Students requiring graduate credit must complete additional coursework. pre-req: MKTG 3701, MBA student or department consent

MKTG 5741. Developing and Marketing New Products. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

A marketing-oriented new products management course that explores the new product development process with a focus on marketing strategies for the planning, development and launch of new products and services. pre-req: MKTG 3701, MBA student or department consent

MKTG 5762. Marketing Analytics II: Advanced Metrics and Analytic Techniques. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course builds upon the quantitative knowledge and skills that were introduced in Marketing Analytics Fundamentals, and introduces students to important customer relationship management metrics for customer acquisition, retention and defection, and customer lifetime value measures. pre-req: MBA student or instructor consent

MKTG 5774. International Marketing. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Marketing across national boundaries; effects of foreign economic, legal/political, and sociocultural environments on multinational marketing strategies. pre-req: MKTG 3701, MBA student or instructor consent

MKTG 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

Master Advocacy and Pol Ldrshp (MAPL)

MAPL 5309. Legal System and Public Policy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Prepares advocates to understand the extent to which courts or more precisely the issues confronting our legal system drive policy and social change. Students will develop practical skills to seek legal remedies for their constituencies, and strategies for knowing when to choose the courts instead of the legislative process. prereq: Grad student or instructor consent

Master Tribal Admin Governance (MTAG)

MTAG 5110. Principles of Tribal Sovereignty I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course provides students with a general background of the history, development, structure, and politics associated with indigenous governments. We will examine North American indigenous governance from pre-colonial times to the present, focusing on both the evolution and alteration of these governments as well as the difficult political decisions indigenous peoples faced when confronted by the colonizing forces of European states, the U.S., and individual states, and the modifications developed by indigenous nations in their efforts to retain and exercise their sovereign powers. prereq: MTAG or MTRES student or instructor consent

MTAG 5120. Principles of Tribal Sovereignty II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course examines the challenges facing tribal governments as they exercise their sovereignty and involves political, economic, and intergovernmental perspectives. Part one examines tribal resource management, analyzing historical use of land, land loss, and contemporary efforts to develop sustainable environmental plans for water, timber, wildlife, and subsurface resources. Part two focuses on the various means tribal governments have devised to exercise sovereignty, such as gaming, small business development, tourism, and joint ventures with partners. Part three concentrates attention at the sub-national level and pays close attention to the political, legal, and economics relationships that have developed between Native nations, state governments, county governments, and municipal entities. prereq: 5110 or instructor consent

MTAG 5210. Administration Governance I (Strategic). (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will provide an overview of the integration and application of strategic management principles in tribal governments. Topics will include the development of mission statements, goals, strategies, and approaches to implementation. The course will focus on tribal strategic plans and issues specific to tribes, such as the federal-tribal relationship, tribal constitutions, and tribal ordinances and regulations. Also, the role of federal and state government policymakers as they interrelate with administrators in strategic management decisions will be studied. prereq: MTAG student or instructor consent

MTAG 5220. Administration and Governance II (Operations). (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course will provide an overview of organizational management theories with an emphasis on tribal governments. It will focus on the various types of tribal governments, the role of tribal managers, tribal management functions, communications processes, and management information systems design and development. It will also explore different models of delivering services on reservations, including the direct federal service model, the 638 contract model, and the self-governance compact. Also, the role of federal and state government policymakers as they interrelate with administrators in operations management decisions will be studied. prereq: 5210 or instructor consent

MTAG 5230. Advanced Tribal Administration and Governance I (Human Resources). (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will focus on the theoretical and practical aspects of solving problems, the activity that takes up the majority of a tribal manager's day. Human resource management will be emphasized. The use of tribal hypothetical and real-life situations will be heavily relied upon. Case studies of reservations and tribal organizations will be utilized to define problems, collect and analyze data, and seek creative solutions. The use of analogy, brainstorming, the scientific method, systems analysis, and graphic representations will be studied, as well as the role of federal and state government policymakers as they interact with administrators on human resources matters. prereq: 5220 or instructor consent

MTAG 5240. Advanced Tribal Administration and Governance II (Project). (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course will focus on the theory and implementation of project management and managing personnel engaged in project management. It will provide an overview of project management principles and concepts. Each student will select an actual reservation project and an aspect of tribal management (e.g., health care, natural resources, housing, or other area) for his or her final research paper. Each student will describe the project from beginning to end through the lens of management theory, as well as critique the implementation of the project. Also, the role of federal and state government policymakers as they interact with administrators on project management matters will be studied. prereq: 5230 or instructor consent

MTAG 5310. Foundations of Leadership and Ethics in Indigenous Community Life and Organizations. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will develop a general understanding of leadership and ethics. Content will include a survey of basic philosophies, models, figures, and applications to community-based scenarios and institutions. Western scholarship will be contrasted with Indigenous perspectives and lived experience as a means of exploring cultural difference. The role of traditional values and beliefs, internalized oppression, and contemporary community institutional dynamics are core course topics. prereq: MTAG student or instructor consent

MTAG 5320. Applied Leadership and Ethics in an Indigenous Organizational Context. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course explores leadership and ethics in an applied context. Students will explore what it means to be an effective ethical leader from a personal and community-based perspective. This involves a critical study of organizational culture and systems-based change processes. Case studies will be used to facilitate exploration and analysis. Reflecting on theories and philosophies of ethics and leadership, students will identify a personal leadership style, and determine what it means to be a decolonized leader in contemporary community life. prereq: 5310 or instructor consent

MTAG 5430. Tribal Finance, Accounting and Budgets I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will provide an overview of financial terms, processes, agencies, and laws as they apply to tribal governments. It will focus on overseeing budgeting, bookkeeping, accounting, and purchasing functions; interpreting financial statements; conducting due diligence; and negotiating indirect cost rates with the federal government. Emphasis will be placed on the role of the federal government in tribal financial management, the role of tribal sovereign immunity in financial transactions, and the roles of tribal accountants and auditors. prereq: MTAG 5120, MTAG student or instructor consent

MTAG 5440. Tribal Finance, Accounting and Budgets II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course will focus on the federal laws and regulations that tribal managers are required to comply with annually. These laws and regulations include the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, Title 31, the Single Audit Act, and auditing rules under the Tribal Self-Determination Act. The course will also focus on compliance with federal grants, the preparation of year-end financial statements, and the role of circulars from the federal Office of Management and Budget. The general standards for accountants and the penalties for non-compliance will be studied. The role of federal auditors and investigators will be compared to the role of tribes' internal auditors. prereq: 5430 or instructor consent

MTAG 5530. Federal Indian Law I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course examines the formulation, implementation, and evolution of Indian policy from pre-colonial times to the self-governance era. This course provides a chronological framework and theoretical context in which policies, programs, and events can be seen interacting with each other to produce the cumulative body of treaties, statutes, and court decisions. Students analyze major federal Indian policies that define indigenous/federal political relationship, examining the views and attitudes of policy-makers and gauging the reactions of indigenous nations to those policies. prereq: MTAG 5320, MTAG student or instructor consent

MTAG 5540. Federal Indian Law II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Federal Indian law has had profound affect on the lives, liberties, and properties of indigenous peoples. At times, U.S. policy and Supreme Court rulings have worked to protect aboriginal rights; at other times, these policies and decisions have had devastating consequences. This course examines the role and practice of the U.S. Supreme Court as a policy-making institution in their dealings with Indigenous nations. This examination requires us to think historically and theoretically; to question the origins and exercise of federal judicial power; and examine the application of federal law to indigenous peoples and Indian citizens. prereq: 5530 or instructor consent

MTAG 5997. Tribal Administration and Governance Directed Project. (2 cr. [max 4 cr.]; S-N only; Every Summer)
The Tribal Administration and Governance Directed Project is designed to give MTAG students practical experience in the field while assisting a tribe with a project that meets their own identified priorities. prereq: 12 credits in MTAG or instructor consent

Mathematics (MATH)

MATH 1005. College Algebra. (; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Computer based, on site course with students working at a semi-self pace taking notes in a guided notebook and completing online homework while asking the instructor questions as needed. Course topics include basic concepts of solving equations and inequalities as well as an introduction to function concepts and graphing for polynomial, rational, logarithmic, and exponential functions. prereq: Math ACT 21 or higher or MATH 0103 or department consent

MATH 1007. Algebra Review. (; 1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
College-level algebra: solving equations and inequalities. Designed for students who need to review high-school algebra topics and/or supplement previous courses, such as College Algebra. prereq: concurrently with MATH 1160 or 1250 or 1290 or 1296

MATH 1024. Introduction to Contemporary Mathematics. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Increases awareness and appreciation of uses, richness, and power of mathematics. Sample topics: graph theory for management science, scheduling, linear programming, statistical sampling and inference, coding information, decision making, voting theory, game theory, geometric growth, symmetry, and patterns. prereq: Math ACT 18 or higher or SSP 0103 or department consent, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

MATH 1140. Mathematics for Elementary Education I. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Subject matter for effective elementary school teaching. Problem solving and structure of number systems. pre-req: IESE major and Math ACT 18/SAT 480 or a grade of C or higher in Math 103; credit will not be granted if already received for Math 1141.

MATH 1142. Mathematics for Elementary Education II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Part two of subject matter for effective elementary school teaching. Properties of geometric figures, probability, statistics. prereq: 1140

MATH 1160. Finite Mathematics and Introduction to Calculus. (LOGIC & QR; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Elementary functions, matrices, graphical and algebraic methods for solving systems of linear equations and inequalities, introduction to linear programming, and abbreviated treatment of calculus with emphasis on business and social science applications. prereq: Math ACT 24 or higher or a grade of at least C- in Math 1005 or department consent; if you have received credit for 1290 or 1296 or 1596, you will not receive credit for Math 1160.

MATH 1170. Introduction to Game Theory. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Game Theory is the study of strategic decision making in cooperative and competitive settings. Students will survey classical results and techniques in game theory and then explore how game theoretical modeling can be used to enhance our understanding of diverse topics, including elections, ecology, business, ethics, and psychology. This course is highly collaborative and may include both group and individual projects. pre-req: MATH 1005 or MATH ACT of 24 or higher

MATH 1250. Precalculus Analysis. (LOGIC & QR; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course introduces the concepts of analytical geometry, relations, functions, and graphs. It includes exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions as well as conic sections, sequences and series, and systems of linear equations. prereq: Math ACT 24 or higher or a grade of at least C- in Math 1005 or department consent

MATH 1290. Calculus for the Natural Sciences. (LOGIC & QR; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Differential and integral calculus needed for modeling in earth and life sciences. Computational software. Not intended for students in mathematics, engineering, or physical sciences. prereq: Math ACT 27 or higher or a grade of at least C- in Math 1250 or department consent

MATH 1296. Calculus I. (LOGIC & QR; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
First part of a standard introduction to calculus of functions of a single variable. Limits, continuity, derivatives, integrals, and their applications. prereq: Math ACT 27 or higher or a grade of at least C- in Math 1250 or department consent

MATH 1297. Calculus II. (LOGIC & QR; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Second part of a standard introduction to calculus. Vectors, applications of integrals, transcendental functions, series, and multivariable functions and partial derivatives. prereq: A grade of at least C- in 1290 or 1296 or 1596

MATH 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

MATH 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

MATH 3091. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. [max 8 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed reading and/or research in mathematics. Must be arranged with instructor and department head before registration. prereq: department consent

MATH 3097. Internship. (1-3 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Practical, independent project in commercial, government, or industrial setting. Department approval required before beginning project. prereq: Math major, department consent

MATH 3101. Mathematical Theory of Interest. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to quantitative applications of interest and its related functions. Basics of Interest Rates, Annuities, Rates of Return, Loans, Bonds, Financial Risk Management, Financial Economics pre-req: Math 1297 or 1597 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 3101. Mathematical Theory of Interest. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to quantitative applications of interest and its related functions. Basics of Interest Rates, Annuities, Rates of Return, Loans, Bonds, Financial Risk Management, Financial Economics pre-req: Math 1297 or 1597 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 3110. Foundations of Mathematics and Geometry. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to foundations of mathematics. Non-Euclidean geometries, postulational systems, and models. History of mathematics. Importance and use of mathematics in modern society. prereq: 1290, or 1296 or 1596, teaching math major, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

MATH 3120. Mathematics Tutorial Project. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.]; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Primarily for tutoring 1xxx mathematics courses, under supervision of mathematics department member. prereq: 1290 or 1296 or 1596, SSP 3003, instructor consent, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

MATH 3280. Differential Equations with Linear Algebra. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
First, second, and higher order equations; series methods; Laplace transforms; systems; software; modeling applications; introduction to vectors; matrix algebra, eigenvalues. prereq: A grade of at least C- in 1297 or 1597

MATH 3298. Calculus III. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Third part of a standard introduction to calculus. Conic sections, vectors and vector-valued functions, partial derivatives and multiple integrals, vector fields, Green's and Stokes' theorems. prereq: A grade of at least C- in 1297 or 1597

MATH 3326. Vectors and Matrices. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Solving systems of linear equations; matrix algebra; determinants; an introduction to vector spaces, subspaces, linear independence, span, basis; coordinates, matrix transformations, eigenvalues, eigenvectors, matrix factorizations and applications to computer graphics. prereq: 1296 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 3355. Discrete Mathematics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to mathematical logic, predicates and quantifiers, sets, proof techniques, recursion and mathematical induction, recursive algorithms, analysis of algorithms, assertions and loop invariants, complexity measures of algorithms, combinatorial counting techniques, relations, graph theory. prereq: 1297 or 1597 or instructor consent, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

MATH 3810. Applied Mathematics:

Numerical Methods. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Methods for the numerical solution of mathematical problems. Computer representation of numbers; courses of error; introduction to interpolation, approximation, numerical integration, solution of linear and nonlinear systems, initial-value problem approximation; use of highly structured computer software such as MATLAB, Octave, Mathematical and/or SAGE. prereq: previous or concurrent registration in 3280

MATH 3941. Undergraduate Colloquium.

(1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Exposure to UMD mathematics-related colloquia. Sixteen points required: one for attending a colloquium; one for writing an acceptable report on a colloquium (at least four must be earned through writing); up to eight for giving a colloquium. prereq: Math major or minor, department consent; must register during semester of 16th point

MATH 3995. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (; 1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; )

Topics not available in standard curriculum.

MATH 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

MATH 4095. Special Topics: (Various titles to be assigned). (; 1-5 cr. [max 10 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)
Special Topics in Math

MATH 4180. Solving Industrial Mathematics Research Problems. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course is intended for mathematics or statistics majors. The focus of the course is solving industrial mathematics research problems. Students will work in teams of three to five on a semester-long research problem from business, industry or government. Students will acquire specialized mathematical knowledge specific to the research problems posed for the semester. In addition, students will develop problem solving, teamwork, and communication skills as they design and implement a solution strategy for one of the research problems. A business, industry or government partner will serve as a liaison for project teams. Presentation to professional partners will occur throughout the semester. A final solution product will include oral, written and video presentations. pre-req: Minimum 2 courses in MATH or STATS at about about the 3xxx level, with a minimum of 3 credits each, instructor consent; no grad credit

MATH 4201. Elementary Real Analysis. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

In-depth study of concepts fundamental to the theory of single-variable calculus, including topology of the real numbers, convergence of sequences and series, function continuity, the derivative, and the Riemann integral. prereq: 3280, 3355, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses, no grad credit; credit will not be granted if already received for 3299

MATH 4230. Applied Mathematics: Complex Variables. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Complex numbers and analytic functions; complex integration; complex power series, Taylor series, and Laurent series; theory of residues; conformal mapping. prereq: 3280 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 4240. Applied Mathematics:

Operational Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Laplace transform; Fourier series, integrals, and transforms; Sturm-Liouville operator- and boundary-value problems; orthogonal functions; operator solutions of partial differential equations. prereq: 3280 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 4326. Linear Algebra. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Systems of linear equations, matrix algebra, determinants, vector spaces, subspaces, linear independence, span, basis, coordinates, linear transformations, matrix representations of linear transformations, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, diagonalization, Gram-Schmidt orthogonalization, orthogonal projection and least squares. prereq: A grade of at least C- in 3280, 3355, no grad credit

MATH 4347. Applied Algebra and Cryptology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Applied algebra topics may include mathematical origami, permutation games (such as the Rubik's cube), and dihedral groups. Cryptology topics may include monoalphabetic ciphers, substitution ciphers, RSA, primality testing, and elliptic curve cryptography. Only one of either MATH 4374 or MATH 5374 may be allowed for undergraduate mathematics electives. pre-req: MATH 3355 with a grade of C- or better or both MATH 3326 and CS 2531 with a grade of C- or better in both courses or instructor consent

MATH 4370. Introduction to Abstract Algebra for Teaching Majors. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Introduction to groups and rings appropriate for students majoring in teaching mathematics. prereq: 3355, 4326 or 3280, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses, teaching math major; credit will not be granted if already received for Math 4371; no grad cr

MATH 4375. Introduction to Abstract Algebra. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course is intended for mathematics or statistics majors. The focus of the course is to introduce students to abstract algebra. Topics include groups, permutation, quotient groups, homomorphisms, and rings. pre-req: Math 3355 with a grade of C- or better is required and a grade of B- or better is recommended; no grad credit

MATH 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

MATH 5201. Real Variables. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Limits, sequence and series of real numbers, tests for convergence, rearrangements, summability, and the class L-SQUARED. Metric spaces; continuous functions, connectedness, completeness, compactness. Banach fixed-point theorem and Piccard existence theorem for differential equations. prereq: 4201 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 5202. Applied Functional Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Basic concepts, methods, and applications of functional analysis. Complete metric spaces, contraction mapping, and applications. Banach spaces and linear operators. Inner product and Hilbert spaces, orthonormal bases and expansions, approximation, and applications. Spectral theory of compact operators, including self-adjoint and normal operators. pre-req: MATH 5201, MATH 4326 or 5327; MATH 5327 can be taken concurrently

MATH 5233. Mathematical Foundations of Bioinformatics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Mathematical, algorithmic, and computational foundations of common tools used in genomics and proteomics. Topics include: sequence alignment algorithms and implementations (Needleman-Wunsch, Smith-Waterman, BLAST, Clustal), scoring matrices (PAM, BLOSUM), statistics of DNA sequences (SNPs, CpG islands, isochores, satellites), and phylogenetic tree methods (UPGMA, parsimony, maximum likelihood). Other topics will be covered as time permits: RNA and protein structure prediction, microarray analysis, post-translational modification prediction, gene regulatory dynamics, and whole-genome sequencing techniques. prereq: MATH 3355, CS 1xxx or above, STAT 3411 or 3611

MATH 5260. Dynamical Systems. (; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Fall Odd Year)

Fundamentals of differential equations (existence, uniqueness, continuation of solutions); linear systems, autonomous systems, and Poincare-Bendixson theory; periodic systems; discrete dynamical systems; bifurcation theory; chaos. prereq: 3280 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 5270. Modeling with Dynamical Systems. (3 cr. ; Student Option; Spring Even Year)

Application and analysis of continuous and discrete dynamical systems. Model construction, simulation, and interpretation. prereq: 3280 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 5280. Partial Differential Equations. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Introduction to partial differential equations, emphasizing use of Fourier series, Green's functions, and other classical techniques. prereq: A grade of at least C- in 3280 and 3298 or grad standing

MATH 5327. Advanced Linear Algebra. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Vector spaces over fields, subspaces, linear transformations, matrix representations, change of basis, inner-product spaces, singular value decomposition, eigenspaces, diagonalizability, annihilating polynomials, Jordan form. prereq: Graduate student or instructor consent

MATH 5330. Theory of Numbers. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Properties of integers, primes, divisibility, congruences, and quadratic reciprocity. Computational aspects include factoring algorithms and RSA cryptosystem. prereq: 3355 with a grade of C- or better or instructor consent

MATH 5347. Applied Algebra and Cryptology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Applied algebra topics include mathematical origami, permutation games, and the Rubik's cube. Cryptology topics include monoalphabetic substitution ciphers, RSA, primality testing, and elliptic curve cryptology, and recent advancements in the field. Only one of either MATH 4274 or MATH 5374 may be allowed for undergraduate mathematics electives. pre-req: grad student or instructor consent

MATH 5365. Graph Theory. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Finite graphs, including trees, connectivity, traversability, planarity, colorability, labeling, and matchings. prereq: 3355 with a grade of C- or better or instructor consent

MATH 5366. Enumerative Combinatorics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Permutations, combinations, binomial coefficients, inclusion-exclusion, recurrence relations, ordinary and exponential generating functions, Catalan numbers, selected topics from designs, finite geometries, Polya's enumeration formula. prereq: 3355 with a grade of C- or better

MATH 5371. Abstract Algebra I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Introduction to groups and rings and their applications. prereq: 3355 or 4326 with a grade of C- or better or grad standing or instructor consent

MATH 5372. Abstract Algebra II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Polynomial rings, divisibility in integral domains, field extensions, finite fields, special topic, and applications. prereq: 5371 with a grade of C- or better or instructor consent

MATH 5810. Linear Programming. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Motivation problems, modeling, theory of simplex method, duality and sensitivity analysis, large-scale problems, complexity, and Karmarkar algorithm. prereq: 3280 or 4326f with a grade of C- or better

MATH 5830. Numerical Analysis:

Approximation and Quadrature. (4 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall)

Error analysis, interpolation and approximation, numerical integration, solution of nonlinear systems. prereq: 3280 or 4326 with a grade of C- or better, proficiency in FORTRAN or C or C++

MATH 5840. Numerical Analysis: Systems and Optimization. (4 cr. ; Student Option; Spring Even Year)

Solution of systems of linear equations; elimination and factorization methods; iterative methods; error analysis; eigenvalue/eigenvector approximation; unconstrained optimization; nonlinear least squares. prereq: 3280 or 4326 with a grade of C- or better, proficiency in FORTRAN or C or C++

MATH 5850. Numerical Differential Equations. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Computational differencing techniques as applied to initial- and boundary-value problems. Introduction to variational formulations of differential equations and general technique of weighed residuals. prereq: 3280 with a grade of C- or better, proficiency in FORTRAN or C or C++

MATH 5991. Independent Study. (1-4 cr.

[max 8 cr.]; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed individual reading and/or research in mathematics; must be arranged with instructor and department head before registration. prereq: department consent; Maximum 6 credits to a grad program.

MATH 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

Mechanical Engineering (ME)

ME 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999

cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ME 2105. Introduction to Material Science for Engineers. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Structures and properties of engineering materials, emphasizing metals, composites, polymers, and ceramics. prereq: Chem 1151 or 1153 and 1154; credit will not be granted if previously given for Engr 2110 or IE 2105.

ME 2211. Thermodynamics. (SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Thermodynamics, thermodynamic properties of liquids and gases, 1st and 2nd laws of thermodynamics, irreversibility and entropy. Carnot systems, work producing systems, combustion engine cycles, work absorbing systems, refrigeration cycles, psychrometrics. prereq: PHYS 2013; credit will not be granted if already received for ME 3211

ME 2226. Dynamics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Review of particle dynamics. Mechanical systems and rigid-body model. Kinematics and dynamics of plane systems. prereq: CE 2017 and Math 3280 (concurrent registration allowed)

ME 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Non Direct Equivalent

ME 3010. Fundamentals of Machining and Manufacturing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)

Machining theory and laboratory work using mill, lathe, and drill press. Design drawings, tolerances, fits and finishes. Manufacturing processes and scheduling prereq: ENGR 1222, ME 2105, BSME or BSIE candidate

ME 3111. Fluid Mechanics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Mass and energy balances, Bernoulli's Equation, momentum balance, laminar and turbulent flow, boundary layer theory, flow through porous media. prereq: Engr 2026 or ME 2226, ME 2211 or 3211, BSME candidate or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for ChE 3111 or CE 3221

ME 3140. System Dynamics and Control. (3

cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Mathematical modeling of mechanical, electrical, thermal, fluid, and hybrid systems. System response using numerical integration and Laplace transforms. Fourier transform and convolution. Transfer functions and frequency response. Classical control theory. prereq: CS 1121 or 1411 or 1511 or 2121, EE 2006, ME 2226, Math 3280, BSME or BS IE or BSEP candidate or instructor consent

ME 3222. Controls and Kinematics

Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Perform computer simulations and hands-on laboratory exercises to explore effective control systems design. Robotic programming exercises using industrial robots will be performed. Design and construction of mechatronic devices will be completed. prereq: 3140 with a grade of C- or better and 3230 (concurrent registration allowed)

ME 3230. Kinematics and Mechatronics. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Classical closed and open form kinematics modeling will be developed. Use of Denavit Hartenberg structural analysis will be explored. Kinetic models of structures will be developed.

Explores the design and use of mechatronic devices. prereq: 3140, Math 3298

ME 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ME 4050. Fundamentals of Nuclear Engineering. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)
Introduction to the fundamentals of nuclear engineering including atomic and nuclear physics, fission, fusion, isotopes, radioactivity, nuclear reactions, radiation detection, criticality, and reactor kinetics. Overview of types of reactors and some operational considerations. prereq: Chem 1151 or Chem 1153 and 1154, Math 3280, Phys 2012 or 2015 and 2016; no grad credit

ME 4060. Machine Vision and Image Based Robot Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)
Senior-level course on vision and control. In this course, students will be introduced to the up-to-date techniques of autonomous image-based robot control. The covered topics include algorithms on image acquisition, camera calibration, object identification, and visual servoing. The methods and concepts introduced will be combined with engineering applications such as obstacle avoidance in traffic safety, image-guided robotic surgery, and human-robot interaction in life support. Through this course, student will acquire both hardware and software development experiences on vision-based robot control, which could be directly applied to their future engineering career or advanced academic pursuit. prereq: CS 1511, Math 3280, ME 3140 or equivalent; no grad credit

ME 4112. Heat and Mass Transfer. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Theory and practice of heat and mass transfer. Fundamentals of diffusion, conduction, convection, and radiation with application to the design of heat and mass transfer equipment and systems. prereq: 3111, Math 3298, BSME or BSChE candidate or instructor consent

ME 4122. Heat Transfer, Thermodynamics and Fluid Mechanics Laboratory. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Heat transfer and Thermo-Fluids lab, experimental evaluation of conductive, convective and radiation heat transfer, and analysis of performance of various energy systems such as compressors, turbines, fans, refrigerators and combustion engines. prereq: Must be taken after or concurrently with ME 4112 or ChE 3112 or instructor consent, BSME candidate

ME 4135. Robotics and Controls. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Exploration of Forward and Inverse Kinematics models for individual robots. Study of robot motion trajectories at the micro- and macroscopic level. Study of PE, PD and PID controllers for robots. Exploration of efficient methods for developing stable controllers for various geometric configurations. prereq: ME 3140, 3230, ENGR 2026 or ME 2226, BSME or BSIE or BSEP candidate or instructor consent

ME 4145. CAD/CAM. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Description of hardware for CAD/CAM, principles of solid modeling, data structures, visualization, calculation of mass properties, surface modeling. Introduction to FEM usage, lab use of CAD/CAM system for solid modeling, cutter path generation, and FEM problems in vibration, stress analysis. prereq: IE 1225 or Engr 1222, Engr 2016 or CE 2017, BSME or BSEP candidate, or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for IE 4145

ME 4175. Machine Design. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Analysis of mechanical components as used in mechanical devices. Theories of material failures, lubrication, and corrosion. Design of machinery considering performance, safety, packaging, wear, and recycling. prereq: Engr 2016 or CE 2017 and ME 2105, BSME or BSIE or BSEP candidate or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for IE 4175

ME 4196. Cooperative Education I. (1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. prereq: BSME candidate, instructor consent, no grad credit

ME 4197. Mechanical Engineering Internship. ( ; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Advanced practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. Requires more than 15 hours per week of company work. pre-req: Upper division, instructor consent, no grad credit

ME 4255. Multidisciplinary Senior Design. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Capstone design course in mechanical engineering. Project Management, problem definition, root cause analysis, baseline analysis, alternative solutions, analysis, reporting. Societal, economic, ethical, environmental, political considerations. Oral and written reports. Work is in teams focused on industrial, research or competition-based projects. prereq: EMGT4110 and [(ME4112 & ME3230) or (ME4112 & ME4175) or (ME3230 & ME4175)] or instructor consent, no grad credit

ME 4296. Cooperative Education II. ( ; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Advanced practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. prereq: 4196 or IE 4196; no grad credit

ME 4297. Mechanical Engineering Internship. ( ; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Advanced practical work experience with employer closely associated with student's academic area; arranged by mutual agreement among student, department, and employer. Biweekly status reports and final written report must be submitted to department. Requires more than 15 hours per week of company work. pre-req: Upper division, instructor consent, no grad credit

ME 4365. Global Sustainability Experience in Design/Manufacturing in Africa. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Summer)
Sustainability within the manufacturing and design context will be taught and explored. As we live in a global economy, this course exposes students to some of the leaders in sustainability, alternative businesses, and manufacturing methods, reinforced by visits to local manufacturing facilities, art centers, museums, and historical villages in Ghana. Cultural activities including: cultural dance, keyboarding, textile dying, and basketeering are also integrated into the experience. Students will design and manufacture products, such as a bicycle or water faucet, using local environmentally friendly materials like bamboo. An Eco-tool audit software is used to analyze and select material and manufacturing processes at design state that have low environmental impact and are energy efficient. prereq: 2105, IE 3130

ME 4375. Pipeline Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Overview of basic elements of pipeline transportation. Multi-disciplined introduction to concepts and methods of Pipeline Engineering. Topics include Mechanical, Electrical and Geotechnical Design, Hydraulics, Route Selection, Materials Selection, Construction, Operation and Maintenance. prereq: ME 3111 or ChE 3111 or CE 3221

ME 4491. Independent Study in Mechanical Engineering. (1-4 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed study of special interest topics not available in standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special projects. prereq: Senior standing in engineering discipline, instructor consent

ME 4495. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). ( ; 1-4 cr. [max 12 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Topics not available in regular department curriculum. May involve specialties of department or visiting faculty. prereq: BSME candidate or instructor consent, no grad credit

ME 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

ME 5050. Fundamentals of Nuclear Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to the fundamentals of nuclear engineering including atomic and nuclear physics, fission, fusion, isotopes, radioactivity, nuclear reactions, radiation detection, criticality, and reactor kinetics. Overview of types of reactors and some operational considerations. A discussion of radiation types and safety. pre-req: SCSE graduate student or instructor consent

ME 5060. Machine Vision and Image Based Robot Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

This course will introduce the up-to-date techniques of autonomous image-based robot control. The covered topics include algorithms on image acquisition, camera calibration, object identification, and visual servoing. The methods and concepts introduced will be combined with engineering applications such as obstacle avoidance in traffic safety, image-guided robotic surgery, and human-robot interaction in life support. Through this course, students will acquire both hardware and software development experiences on visual servoing, which could be directly applied to their future engineering career or advanced academic pursuance. pre-req: CS 1511, MATH 3280, ME 3140 or equivalent or instructor consent

ME 5110. Analytic Techniques in Mechanical Engineering. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Fundamental mezzanine course on analytic techniques as applied in Mechanical Engineering, and required for the Mechanical Engineering MS degree. Topics covered include tensor analysis of linear and nonlinear elasticity, nonlinear analysis and complex variable techniques in control systems, and special functions for solution of thermodynamics and fluid-dynamics partial differential equations in a variety of coordinate systems. Computational analytic tools and techniques will be incorporated as appropriate. pre-req: BSME major with B or better in MATH 3280 and 3298 or graduate student or instructor consent

ME 5120. Advanced Dynamics and Control. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course covers modeling and control of linear and nonlinear mechanical and electro-mechanical systems. Topics include lumped-parameter and Lagrangian nonlinear modeling of mechanical and electro-mechanical systems, time domain response of dynamic systems, Lyapunov stability, and controller design for linear and non-linear systems. pre-req: BSME major with B or better in ME 3140 and MATH 3280 or graduate student or instructor consent.

ME 5122. Heating, Ventilation, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Fundamentals. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd, Spring Even Year)

HVAC&R systems are critical to our comfort in building indoor environments. They contribute significantly to the total energy used in residential and commercial sectors. This course will develop the student's knowledge of the principles required for the design and sizing of heating, ventilation, air-conditioning and refrigeration systems. The course covers: Introduction to HVAC&R, Psychometrics and Conditioning Processes, Thermodynamics and Refrigeration cycles, Comfort and Indoor Air Quality, Heat Transmission in Buildings, Heating and Cooling Loads, Energy Calculations and Building Simulation, Sustainability Considerations in HVAC&R. pre-req: ME2211, ME4112 and BSME or MSME

ME 5210. Advanced Thermal Fluid Sciences. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course covers heat transfer in fluid flowing around bodies and in tubes/ducts, energy, forced/natural convection, laminar/turbulent flow regimes, turbulent transport and modeling, high-speed flows, viscous dissipation, variable property effects, application to heat exchange devices, and convective mass transfer. pre-req: BSME major with B or better in ME 4112 or graduate student or consent of instructor

ME 5220. Advanced Mechanics of Materials. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

This course will cover the concepts related to advanced mechanics of materials including stress, strain, material properties, energy methods including Castiglione's Theorem, elasticity problems, advanced topics including plasticity and creep. Throughout the term of the semester students will solve engineering problems relating to these topics and will be also be exposed to the numerical techniques used to solve these problems. pre-req: BSME major with B or better in MATH 3280 and MATH 3298 and ENGR 2016 or CE 2017; or graduate student or instructor consent

ME 5305. Computational Fluid Dynamics. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Even Year)

Finite-difference methods for steady and transient diffusion and convection-diffusion problems. Finite-volume technique for the solution of multi-dimensional fluid flow, and heat and mass transfer problems. Utilize CFD software to solve complex problems. pre-req: 4112 (concurrent registration allowed) or ChE 3112, BSChE, or BSME or BSIE candidate or instructor consent

ME 5315. Nondestructive Evaluation of Engineering Materials. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall)

Fundamentals of Ultrasonic and Acoustic Emission NDE are considered including wave propagation, experimental measurement systems, flaw detection and characterization, and material characterization. Labs are used to support the study of ultrasonic and acoustic emission NDE. Other NDE techniques including magnetics, penetrants, eddy currents, thermography, are surveyed. pre-req: 3140

ME 5325. Sustainable Energy System. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Odd Year)

A comparison of different energy systems will be made in terms of economic, environmental and political implications. Specific energy alternatives will include coal, oil, geothermal, bioenergy, solar, wind, fission, fusion, hydrogen, fuel cell. pre-req: 3211, BSChE or BSEE or BSIE or BSME candidate

ME 5335. Introduction to Finite Element Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Fall Even Year)

An introduction to finite element analysis, including theoretical and applied components in mechanical and thermal systems. pre-req: BSME or BSIE or MSEM candidate or instructor consent

ME 5345. Smart Materials and Structures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)

Introduction to smart materials and structures, such as piezoelectric materials, shape memory alloys, magnetostrictive materials, adaptive structures, and active vibration control systems. The course will cover their material properties, modeling methods, and engineering applications in sensors, actuators, energy harvesting, and biomedical devices. pre-req: 3140, 3222

ME 5355. Gas Turbines. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)

Gas turbine cycles, regenerations, recuperation, reheat, intercooling, combined cycle plants, and thermochemical regeneration. Axial and radial flow compressors and turbines; combustor designs, energy analysis, emissions, and noise. Turbojet, fanjet, turboprop engine performance. Stationary power plants. pre-req: 3111, 3211 and BSME or MEng or MSEM or instructor consent

ME 5365. Introduction to Medical Device Development. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

This course will cover the concepts related to the development of medical devices including biocompatibility of materials, prototyping medical devices, identifying unmet clinical needs, regulatory requirements, intellectual property protection, and reimbursement. Throughout the term of the semester students will apply these concepts to a project where they will develop a medical device concept to address an unmet clinical need. pre-req: ME 2105, BSME or BSIE upper division or MSEM or MSME candidate, or instructor consent

ME 5991. Independent Study in Mechanical Engineering. (1-4 cr. [max 6 cr.]; Student Option; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Directed study of special interest topics not available in standard curriculum. Must be arranged with instructor before registration. May include readings, research and/or special projects. pre-req: MSEM candidate, department consent

Museum Studies (MST)

MST 1100. Introduction to Museums. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Students will be introduced to the history of museums and the field of museum studies. Issues of theory and practice will be examined as they relate to development, care, and use of museum and systematic collections; museum education; museum administration, exhibition development; research; and evaluation. Particular attention will be given to issues of diversity and multiculturalism; relationship of museums to changing populations and disciplinary trends legal and ethical implications of development and use of collections; and examination of diverse types of collection.

MST 1200. Introduction to Public History. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
This course is designed to introduce students to the theory, methods, and practice of history outside the classroom. In this course, we will investigate the challenges of historical work in historic sites, museums, archives, mass media, cultural resource management, historic preservation, and other public history settings.

MST 3097. Internship. (3 cr. [max 9 cr.] ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
This internship is a specialized class where students enrich their education through experiential learning at a cultural/heritage institution or site approved by the Museum Studies Program. pre-req: MST 1100 or 1200 and department consent

Pharmacy (PHAR)

PHAR 1001. Orientation to Pharmacy. (; 2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
You may know that pharmacists are responsible for the dispensation of medications, but did you know that pharmacists play a critical role in the healthcare process by ensuring that their patients receive the best overall care? Designed to help you better understand the world of pharmacy, this online pharmacy course will introduce you to this exciting profession and help you gain an understanding of the impact pharmacists have in the patient care process. This course examines what training is necessary for success in the pharmacy field, demonstrates the roles a pharmacist can have in patient care, research and academia, and provides virtual tours of various settings in which pharmacists work. This is not a self-study course. While it is completely online, there are deadlines for assignments throughout the semester. No late registrations will be accepted. Course information is sent to the U of M email addresses of registered students shortly before, and/or on, the first day of classes each Fall, Spring, and Summer term. For more information, contact phar1001@umn.edu or 612-624-7976.

PHAR 1002. Medical Terminology. ( ; 2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Interested in learning the difference between an antigen and an antibiotic? During this course, you will not only increase your medical vocabulary by more than 2500 words at your own pace, you will also learn to identify and articulately describe a wide variety of medical conditions and processes. Communication related to disease states, procedures, and diagnostics in health care can sometimes seem like another language. This course will help you recognize medical abbreviations, relate terms to procedures and diagnostics, and comprehend the meaning of medical terminology by using word elements. If you are interested in the health care field or would like to understand more about your own medical care, this course is a great place to start. This is a completely online, self-paced course but runs on an accelerated 10-week schedule each Fall, Spring, and Summer term. For more information, contact phar1002@umn.edu or 612-624-7976.

PHAR 1003. Nonprescription Medications and Self-Care: Treating Minor Conditions. ( ; 2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Nonprescription medications and dietary supplements comprise a large market within the health care industry. Throughout this course, you'll learn about these medications and other self care remedies available to treat many different medical conditions. For each condition discussed, you will learn basic causes, signs, and symptoms; self care guidelines; and when to see a health care provider. For each medication discussed, you will learn the basic mechanism of action, uses, and potential side effects. This course will help you gain a better understanding of how nonprescription and self care products can be used safely and effectively.

PHAR 1004. Common Prescription Drugs and Diseases. ( ; 2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Are you interested in understanding how some of the most common prescription medications work, why they are used, and how they should be used when treating common ailments? Perhaps you would like to recognize the most common causes of specific diseases, identify their symptoms, and recognize the diagnostic criteria associated with them. Throughout this course, you will learn why some medications cannot be used by certain people, understand how prescription drugs are regulated, and examine the correlation between common prescription drugs and diseases. Additionally, you will explore various drug information resources and learn how to find reliable sources of drug information. This online class is primarily self-paced with due dates for certain aspects at times throughout the semester. Students may choose to work ahead in the course. Course information is sent to the U of M email addresses of registered students shortly before, and/or on, the first day of classes each Fall, Spring, and Summer term. For more information, contact phar1004@umn.edu or 612-624-7976.

PHAR 2002. Precision Medicine and Health: Understanding the Personal Genome. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)

This course is intended for students who want to understand the basic concepts of Precision Medicine. It will help students understand how individuality impacts disease predisposition, diagnosis, treatment, and health. We will begin with the creation of an individualized full genome sequence and show how this information can be used to predict, diagnose and treat disease. We will also discuss the ethical use of this information. This course is intended for undergraduate non-science majors who are interested in the impact of genetics on different aspects of medicine, however science majors may also take the course. The course will provide a brief introduction to molecular biology and then introduce different areas of precision medicine, with an emphasis on the contribution of genetics for understanding predisposition, disease diagnosis and drug treatment. An important part of the class will be exercises which help the student better understand concepts presented in the lectures. Prerequisites: None. The course is directed towards undergraduate non-science majors, however science majors may take the course. Class time: 2 x 75 minute in person lectures (50 minute lecture and 25 minute class exercise), Supplemental Textbook (Not Required) Classes will begin with a traditional lecture/discussion or seminar format, followed by in class discussion of assigned materials, and hands on activities using databases and case studies where the discussion is based around a situation (problem) that a clinician may encounter that requires application of precision medicine knowledge.

PHAR 3206. Foundations of Health Literacy. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

In this course, we will focus on health literacy and its implications for patients, health care providers, and the health care system at large. We will discuss the consequences of poor health literacy and practical strategies for improving health literacy. This will include steps that individual patients can take and communication strategies for future health care providers. You will explore disparities in health and health care and the relationship to health literacy. We will discuss cultural competency through both student discussions and a book club and consider the impact on the patient experience. Functional health literacy includes being able to navigate the health care system and health insurance. As a class, we will discuss choosing a health insurance policy and controversies therein.

PHAR 3208. Directed Study: Wellness Communication and Behavior Change in Patient Populations. ( ; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

Health behavior change is key for the management of/and cure of preventable diseases. While most healthcare professionals try to encourage patients to make these changes, they are only occasionally successful. This course examines issues associated with behavior change and wellness in patient populations. The first part of the course examines theories and models of health education and individual behavior change. The second part of the class examines factors that impact health and habitual behavior. The third part of the class focuses on solutions -- creation health campaigns and patient compliance.

PHAR 3501. Introduction to Epidemiology. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to epidemiology, the basic science of public health. Epidemiology provides a systematic approach for acquiring and evaluating information on the distribution and causes of disease and other health outcomes in populations. Topics include the history of epidemiology, overview of epidemiologic methods (e.g., study design, measure of disease distribution and association, interpretation), and the application of epidemiology research to the development and evaluation of disease prevention and control strategies. Current or historically relevant infectious and chronic disease will be explored through lecture, interactive exercise, and independent assignments. Students will gain a greater appreciation for the complexities of disease processes in populations and the application of epidemiological methods to clinical and basic science, population health, and public health policy. Prior or concurrent completion of an undergraduate statistics course is recommended. prereq: Prior completion or concurrent enrollment in an undergraduate statistics course is recommended but not required.

PHAR 3700. Fundamentals of Pharmacotherapy. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Pharmacotherapy the treatment of disease through the administration of medications is a field particularly interesting to many healthcare workers. This course is designed to introduce you to some of the main drug classes available for the treatment of particular diseases. You will also learn about basic pharmacology, recognize brand and generic drug names, and explore their common uses and therapeutic classes. A basic understanding of treatment options available for common disease states will also be developed during this course. Additionally, the course develops basic proficiency in the use of drug information resources. This is a completely online course with due dates throughout the semester though students have the option to work ahead if they choose. Course information is sent to the U of M email addresses of registered students shortly before, and/or on, the first day of classes each Fall, Spring, and Summer term. For more information, contact phar3700@umn.edu or 612-624-7976. Prereq: Medical terminology recommended

PHAR 4204. Drugs and the U.S. Healthcare System. (; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

Being an empowered patient is important when discussing ethics-driven issues within the U.S. healthcare system. This course will expose students to current controversial issues surrounding medications and national healthcare, and help students examine their own role as a participant in this system. Students will learn to draw comparisons between medication use systems around the world and analyze other controversies related to access, choice and quality of healthcare. During this course, students will understand how their choices, ethics and behavior affect societal decisions surrounding the availability of medications in the US and what their rights are as a citizen-participant during the healthcare debate. Students are expected to have completed the first-year writing requirement (<https://cla.umn.edu/writing-studies/first-year-writing>), or equivalent, prior to registering for this class. This is a completely online course with weekly due dates. Course information is sent to the U of M email addresses of registered students shortly before, and/or on, the first day of classes each Fall and Spring term. For more information, contact phar4200@umn.edu or 612-624-7976.

PHAR 4293. Directed Research I for Undergraduates. (1-5 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Students work with College of Pharmacy faculty. prereq: undergrad, instructor consent

PHAR 4294. Directed Study I for Undergraduates. (1-5 cr. [max 10 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Individualized study. Students work with faculty on special projects. prereq: undergrad, instructor consent

PHAR 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

PHAR 5100. Pro-Seminar. (1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
History, foundational frameworks, and key research domains for social and administrative pharmacy through examining landmark literature. Students think critically, reflect on important works, and create a cognitive map of the discipline and their own focus for study.

PHAR 5201. Applied Medical Terminology. (; 2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Interested in learning the difference between an antigen and an antibiotic? During this course, you will not only increase your medical vocabulary by more than 2500 words at your own pace, you will also learn to identify and articulately describe a wide variety of medical conditions and processes. Communication related to disease states, procedures, and diagnostics in health care can sometimes seem like another language. This course will help you recognize medical abbreviations, relate terms to procedures and diagnostics, and comprehend the meaning of medical terminology by using word elements. If you are interested in the health care field or would like to understand more about your own medical care, this course is a great place to start. Prereq: Basic knowledge of anatomy/physiology

PHAR 5204. Drugs and the U.S. Healthcare System. (; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
Being an empowered patient is important when discussing ethics-driven issues within the U.S. health care system. This course will expose students to current controversial issues surrounding medications and national health care and help students examine their own role as a participant in this system. Students will learn to draw comparisons between medication use systems around the world and analyze other controversies related to access, choice, and quality of health care. PHAR 5205. Obesity: Issues, Interventions, Innovations. (; 2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Spring)
This course will focus on the role of the pharmacist in treating obesity. Students will learn the pharmacology of past and current medications to treat obesity, as well as the pathophysiology of the disease to understand why more options aren't available. Students will explore drug information sources for dietary supplements for weight loss, discuss the care of an obese patient including non-pharmacologic treatments for obesity, as well as recognizing the potential for bias and its effect on patient care. Finally, students will look at bariatric surgery and discuss some specific adjustments in care for bariatric patients. This is a completely online course with weekly due dates offered each Fall and Spring term. For more information, contact phar5205@umn.edu or 612-624-7976. Prereq: Second or third year pharmacy student, or student enrolled in a graduate science or health-related program. Biochemistry and physiology suggested.

PHAR 5220. Regulatory Issues in Drug Research. (1-2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Spring)
Regulatory issues encountered in conducting drug research trials. Performing different aspects of clinical trials. Lectures, readings, small group discussions, homework assignments. prereq: Pharm D. professional student and instructor consent

PHAR 5230. Principles of Clinical Pharmacology Research. (2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall)
Topics related to drug therapy investigation are emphasized. Topics include experimental design of drug studies in human research subject volunteers (e.g. to learn appropriate dose, interval, drug-drug interactions, etc.). In the era of Personalized Medicine, this course will address topics related to individualization of therapy including effects of genetic polymorphisms, demographic variables, physiologic variables, and age on drug disposition treatment outcomes. prereq: 3rd Year Pharmacy Student or by instructor permission

PHAR 5270. Therapeutics of Herbal and Other Natural Medicinals. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Herbal products/supplements. Pharmacology, clinical indications, and drug interactions of most commonly used products in nontraditional complementary health care. Historical significance and evidenced-based role of these products in health care. Case studies of clinical applications. prereq: Organic chemistry, pathophysiology of disease states, 3rd or 4th yr pharmacy student

PHAR 5300. Directed Study: Providing Care to Patients with Addiction. (2 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)
In this course students will analyze stereotypes of addiction and examine the differences between addiction of controlled prescription agents versus other agents. Students will learn origins of addiction and apply practical strategies in simulated scenarios.

PHAR 5310. Topics in Pharmacy Ethics (Pandemics). (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Using COVID-19 as a pandemic model, students in this elective course will explore the ethical considerations informing personal, public policy and biomedical research decisions during a pandemic. Students will apply ethical principles and selected schools of ethical thought to discuss and debate those decisions.

PHAR 5610. Pharmacoepidemiology. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Fall Odd Year)
Application of epidemiologic principles to study/use. Beneficial/adverse outcomes of drugs in human populations.

PHAR 5620. Drug Metabolism and Disposition.

(3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Oxidative/conjugative enzymes systems involved in human drug metabolism/disposition. Various in vitro models used to evaluate drug metabolism or chemical entity, pros/cons of each. Factors involved in conducting in vivo studies.

PHAR 5700. Applied Fundamentals of Pharmacotherapy.

PETE 4991. Independent Study. (1-4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Research or study in selected noncurricular area of exercise science or physical education. prereq: PE or Exer Sci major and instructor consent; no grad credit

PETE 4992. Directed Readings. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Study of varying topics by reading specific books, journal articles, etc. Topics selected based on student interests or academic preparation. prereq: instructor consent; no grad credit

PETE 4996. Internship in Adapted Physical Education. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Supervised clinical teaching experience with responsibilities that include planning, managing, and implementing instructional experiences for students receiving adapted physical education services. pre-req: Declared Developmental / Adapted Physical Education minor. Completed the following courses: PETE 1006, PETE 3400, PETE 3450, PETE 3550, PETE 4100, PETE 4125; instructor consent

PETE 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

PETE 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Physics (PHYS)

PHYS 1001. Introduction to Physics I. (NAT SCI; 5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Noncalculus general physics course primarily for certain preprofessional fields. Topics in mechanics, heat, and sound. prereq: Algebra, trig

PHYS 1002. Introduction to Physics II. (5 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Noncalculus general physics course primarily for certain preprofessional fields. Topics in light, electricity, magnetism, and modern physics. prereq: 1001 or 1013 or 1017

PHYS 1011. Conceptual Physics. (NAT SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Descriptive, nonmathematical survey of basic concepts in physics from Newton to present. Instructor has considerable latitude regarding content. Primarily for liberal arts students; not for preprofessional preparation. prereq: Will not satisfy major or minor requirements in phys

PHYS 1012. Conceptual Physics Lab. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Laboratory covering basic physics principles including mechanics, waves, and optics. prereq: previous or concurrent registration in PHYS 1011

PHYS 1021. Exploring Current Topics in Physics. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Introduction to current topics in the field of physics, with emphasis on recent research developments and local research activities.

PHYS 1033. Cosmology, String Theory and the Death of the Universe. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
A qualitative introduction to cosmology and string theory; the structure, evolution, and death of the universe, and of the galaxies, stars and planets it contains; fundamental theories for the structure, including extra dimensions, supersymmetry, and string dualities; extinction-level events ranging in scale from planetary to universal.

PHYS 1035. Energy. (NAT SCI,SUSTAIN; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

Energy as a fundamental topic for understanding both the natural and man-made world. Will discuss concepts of human production, transmission, storage, and utilization of energy, as well as how these processes interact with natural pathways of energy such as the carbon cycle.

PHYS 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

PHYS 2013. General Physics I. (NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Calculus-based introduction to Newtonian Mechanics, fluid mechanics, and heat. The companion laboratory, PHYS 2014 should be taken concurrently. The combination of PHYS 2013 and 2014 meets liberal education category 4. prereq: previous or concurrent registration in PHYS 2014. Prerequisite of Math 1290 or 1296 or 1596; credit will not be granted if already received for PHYS 2011.

PHYS 2014. General Physics Lab I. (NAT SCI; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Calculus-based introduction to Newtonian Mechanics, fluid mechanics, and heat exemplified by laboratory study. This laboratory accompanies lecture PHYS 2013 and should be taken concurrently. The combination of PHYS 2013 and 2014 meets liberal education category 4. prereq: previous or concurrent enrollment in PHYS 2013 or 2017

PHYS 2015. General Physics II. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Calculus-based introduction to electricity, magnetism and optics. The companion laboratory, PHYS 2016, should be taken concurrently. prereq: previous or concurrent registration in 2016. Prerequisite of 2011 or 2013 and 2014, Math 1297 or 1597; credit will not be granted if already received for PHYS 1202, 1204 or 2012.

PHYS 2016. General Physics Lab II. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Calculus-based introduction to electricity, magnetism and optics exemplified by laboratory study. This laboratory accompanies lecture PHYS 2015 and should be taken concurrently. prereq: Previous or concurrently enrollment in PHYS 2015 or 2018.

PHYS 2017. Honors: General Physics I. (NAT SCI; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Advanced coverage of General Physics topics that include Newtonian Mechanics, fluid mechanics, and heat. Mathematically and conceptually demanding problem solving techniques. The companion laboratory, PHYS 2014, should be taken concurrently. The combination of PHYS 2014 and PHYS 2017 meets liberal education natural science with lab. prereq: Previous or concurrent registration in PHYS 2014. Previous or concurrent registration in Math 1290 or Math 1296 or 1596, or physics major or instructor permission. Credit will not be granted if already received for PHYS PHYS 2011 or PHYS 2013.

PHYS 2018. Honors General Physics II. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Advanced coverage of calculus-based introduction to electricity magnetism and optics. Mathematically and conceptually demanding problem solving techniques. The companion laboratory, PHYS 2016 should be taken concurrently. Prerequisites: Previous or concurrent registration in PHYS 2016; PHYS 2013 or 2017; co-registration in or prior completion of Math 1287 or 1597 or instructor permission. Credit will not be granted if already received for PHYS 2012 or 2015.

PHYS 2021. Relativity and Quantum Physics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Descriptive course; relativity, quantum mechanics, hydrogen atom, multielectron atoms, molecular structure, quantum statistics, thermal radiation, solid state physics, nuclear physics. prereq: 2015 and 2016 or 2018 and 2016 (or 2012)

PHYS 2022. Classical Physics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Survey of various topics in classical physics: vector angular momentum, AC circuits, oscillatory motion, waves, physical optics. prereq: 2015 or 2018 and 2016 as pre or co-req

PHYS 2033. Classical and Quantum Physics Lab. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Experiments and computer simulations selected to provide experience with both concepts and techniques in classical and quantum physics. prereq: 2021 and 2022 (concurrent registration is allowed)

PHYS 2199. Physics Tutoring. (1-2 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Tutoring students in 1xxx- and 2xxx-level physics courses. prereq: 2012 or 2015 and 2016, department consent

PHYS 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

PHYS 3033. Analytical Methods in Physics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) A survey of analytical methods for the solution of fundamental equations of physics, such as those of Newton, Schrodinger, and Maxwell, and of the underlying mathematics, including complex variables, linear algebra, vector analysis, and ordinary and partial differential equations. prereq: 2021, 2022, Math 3280 and 3298

PHYS 3061. Instrumentation. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year) Introduction to electronics for scientific applications. DC and AC circuits, linear and nonlinear devices, integrated circuits. Analog electronics. Transducers. Digital electronics. Applications of microcomputers to lab data acquisition. prereq: 2022 and one semester programming

PHYS 3091. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Directed individual study. prereq: department consent

PHYS 3094. Physics Research. (1-6 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Supervised research. prereq: department consent

PHYS 3561. Astrophysics I Stellar Astrophysics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year) The application of physical laws to the understanding of astrophysical objects: celestial mechanics, energy transport, stellar structure and evolution, the interstellar medium, and stellar remnants. prereq: AST 2050, PHYS 2021

PHYS 3562. Astrophysics II: Galaxies and the Universe. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year) The application of physical laws and processes to the understanding of physics objects: galactic structure and dynamics, large scale structure and cosmology. prereq: AST 2050, PHYS 2021

PHYS 4001. Classical Mechanics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Theoretical mechanics, including Lagrangian and Hamiltonian functions, symmetries, and conservation laws. prereq: 2022, Math 3280

PHYS 4011. Electromagnetic Theory. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Electric and magnetic fields, Maxwell's equations and applications, radiation. prereq: 3033

PHYS 4021. Quantum Physics II. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) Quantum wave mechanics with applications; Schrodinger equation, angular momentum, hydrogen atom, symmetries, identical particles. prereq: 3033

PHYS 4031. Thermal and Statistical Physics. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Elements of thermodynamics; principles of statistical physics applied to equilibrium properties of classical and quantum systems. prereq: 2021

PHYS 4052. Computational Methods in Physics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year) Applications of numerical methods to problems in classical and quantum physics, emphasizing ordinary and partial differential equations. Computer modeling of physical systems and experimentation with simulations of physical systems. pre-req: PHYS 2021, MATH 3280

PHYS 4071. Quantum Computation. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring) Quantum mechanics in Heisenberg formalism, Quantum information theory, Shor's factoring algorithm, Grover's search algorithm, quantum communication and quantum cryptography. prereq: MATH 3280 or PHYS 2021; no grad credit

PHYS 4090. Undergraduate Physics Seminar. (1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Preparation and presentation of oral reports on approved physics topics, research projects, and journal articles. Discussion of professional ethics. Not for graduate credit. pre-req: minimum 90 credits

PHYS 4095. Special Topics: (Various Titles to be Assigned). (2-4 cr. [max 16 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring) Topics in Physics not covered in regular curriculum. Topics announced before course offered. pre-req: PHYS 2021 or instructor consent

PHYS 4110. Physics for Science Teachers. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring) Preparation for teaching physics at the high school level. Review of physics concepts important at the high school level. Methods for effective presentation, including problem solving, discussions, demonstrations and lab experiments. prereq: 1002 or 2012 of 2015 and 2016, no grad credit

PHYS 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

PHYS 5033. Introduction to Particle Physics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall) A survey of particle physics, including physics beyond the Standard Model. Topics include symmetries and conservation laws, quark models, quantum electrodynamics and chromodynamics, Feynman diagrams, and neutrino oscillations. prereq: 2021, 2022, MATH 3280, 3298

PHYS 5041. Optics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year) Fundamentals of physical optics. prereq: 2022

PHYS 5052. Computational Methods in Physics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year) Applications of numerical methods to problems in classical and quantum physics, emphasizing ordinary and partial differential equations. Computer modeling of physical systems and experimentation with simulations of physical systems. prereq: 2021, 1 sem programming, Math 3280

PHYS 5053. Data Analysis Methods in Physics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year) Problems of data analysis in the context of dynamical models. Emphasis will be placed on large datasets that arise in astrophysics, particle dynamics, physical oceanography and meteorology. (2 hr lect & 2 hr lab) prereq: 2012 or 2015 or 2018 and 2016, 1 sem programming, lab or field experience beyond 2012/2015 and 2016

PHYS 5061. Experimental Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year) Instruction and practice in methods of experimental physics; microcomputer-based data acquisition; vacuum techniques. prereq: 2033 and 3061

PHYS 5063. Theoretical Methods. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year) Selection of theoretical methods used in physics including variational calculus. Lie groups and algebra path integrals, perturbation theory, renormalization group, differential geometry. pre-req: grad student or instructor consent

PHYS 5071. Quantum Computation. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
Quantum mechanics in Heisenberg formalism, Quantum information theory, Shor's factoring algorithm, Grover's search algorithm, quantum communication and quantum cryptography. prereq: Math 3280 or PHYS 2021 or graduate student

PHYS 5090. Physics Seminar. (; 1 cr. [max 2 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Preparation and presentation of oral reports on approved physics topics, research projects, and journal articles. prereq: Sr or grad student

PHYS 5501. Advanced Classical Mechanics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Odd Year)
Hamiltonian and Lagrangian formulations for discrete systems, canonical transformations, nonlinear dynamics, and chaos theory. prereq: 4001

PHYS 5511. Electrodynamics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Maxwell's equations, relativity and electrodynamics, radiation and scattering of electromagnetic waves, relativistic particles in electromagnetic fields, and radiation reaction. prereq: 4011

PHYS 5521. Quantum Mechanics I. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)
Schrödinger equation, operator formulation, angular momentum, symmetries. prereq: 4021

PHYS 5522. Quantum Mechanics II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Identical particles, perturbation theory, scattering, interaction with electromagnetic field. prereq: 5521

PHYS 5531. Introduction to Solid State Physics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Even Year)
Solid structure, thermal, and electronic properties of solids and solid surfaces. prereq: 4021, 4031

PHYS 5541. Fluid Dynamics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)
Analytic and numeric treatment of dynamics of fluids. Rotating, stratified fluids, with applications in limnology, oceanography, and meteorology. prereq: 2022 or 2001, Math 3280

PHYS 5551. General Relativity. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)
Differential geometry, tensors, metrics, curvature, Einstein's equation, Newtonian limit, Killing vectors, cosmology, perfect fluids, Schwarzschild and Kerr solutions, observational tests, black holes. prereq: 4001

PHYS 5561. Astrophysics I Stellar Astrophysics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)
The application of physical laws to the understanding of astrophysical objects: celestial mechanics, energy transport, stellar structure and evolution, the interstellar medium, and stellar remnants. prereq: AST 2050 and PHYS 2021

PHYS 5562. Astrophysics II: Galaxies and the Universe. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

The application of physical laws and processes to the understanding of physics objects: galactic structure and dynamics, large scale structure and cosmology. prereq: AST 2050 and PHYS 2021

PHYS 5591. Independent Study. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Special studies, useful in individual graduate programs, not available in regular course offerings. prereq: Consent of director of graduate studies, instructor consent

PHYS 5594. Physics Research. (1-3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Physics Research prereq: instructor consent

PHYS 5595. Special Topics in Physics. (2-4 cr. [max 16 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)
Topics not covered in regular curriculum. Topics announced before course offered. prereq: Physics BS or Engineering Phys or Physics MS student, minimum 60 credits or instructor consent

PHYS 5999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Political Science (POL)

POL 1011. American Government and Politics. (SOC SCI; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Principles of American national government. Survey of American governmental system, structure, operations, and services; constitutionalism, federalism, civil liberties, parties, pressure groups, and elections.

POL 1050. International Relations. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to contemporary international politics: levels of analysis; the international system; nation-state behavior; foreign policy decision making; economic and defense policy issues.

POL 1500. Introduction to Comparative Politics. (GLOBAL PER; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Survey of the politics of countries selected to reflect alternative styles of politics and forms of government; examples of Western liberal democratic, Communist and post-Communist, and Third World systems.

POL 1610. Introduction to Political Theory. (HUMANITIES; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to the history of political thought from a thematic perspective such as freedom and citizenship, democracy and its critics, political obligation and justice, diversity and inequality. Close attention to method of interpretation and argument.

POL 1800. Mock Trial. (3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Mock trial covers the procedures, evidentiary rules, and functioning of the judiciary at the trial court level. Students apply their classroom training as attorneys and witnesses in American Mock Trial association sanctioned tournaments. The course increases student skills in critical thinking, analysis, and oral and written expression and argument. prereq: Students may take this course twice for a maximum of 6 credits. Political Science majors and minors may only apply one attempt towards the major or minor. Political Science majors and minors may only take the course once.

POL 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

Political Science (PSCI)

PSCI 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )

Political Science (POL)

POL 3001. American Public Policy. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall) Approaches to policy study, context of policy process, and discussion of policy issues. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress cr or instructor consent

POL 3015. State and Local Government. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)
State and local governments in the United States; governmental institutions and processes; intergovernmental relations. Special reference to Minnesota. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3025. Popular Culture and Politics. (HUMANITIES; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)

Evaluation of the presentation of political institutions, officials, and policy issues in various forms of mass media and entertainment, including newspapers, magazines, films, television/cable, radio, video, podcasts, weblogs, and social media sites. How accurate are the portrayals and how effective are they at influencing attitudes, opinions, policy choices, and selection of public officials?

POL 3040. Women and Politics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Women's political status; implications of women's role in political process; women as political actors; feminist critique and vision of politics. prereq: 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3080. Environment and Politics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

American natural resource problems with special attention to conservation activities on national, state, and local levels; development of conservation agencies in Minnesota. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3097. Government Internship. (1-6 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Scheduled work assignments with direct supervision in performance of governmental functions; full- or part-time employment. Only 4 cr from POL 3097 and 3197 may be applied toward the political science major. Allow up to 6 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits. prereq: minimum 60 cr earned and instructor consent

POL 3100. Contemporary Issues in American Politics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Detailed examination and analysis of important and evolving contemporary issues in state, local, and national government, law, public policy and/or public administration. Policy recommendations dealing with each issue. prereq: POL 1011

POL 3120. Congress and the Presidency. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Functioning and structure of the United States Congress and Presidency. Members of Congress and the Presidency: their characteristics, their selection, roles they play, how they interact with each other as well as with others in the policy-making process. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3131. Judicial Politics and Policy Making. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

An examination of the characteristics and behavior of judicial institutions, emphasizing the interaction with other policy-makers and social and political problems. Investigates the policy roles of state and lower federal courts and the U.S. Supreme Court.

POL 3141. Pol Parties & Polarization. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Odd Year)

Covers the development of political parties in the United States and the role of political parties in government. Examines the causes and consequences of political party polarization in areas like law-making, elections and representation.

POL 3142. Voting, Campaigning, and Elections. (3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall)

Covers theories of voting, including how they explain who votes and vote choice. Examines how campaign money, policy issues, the media, and campaign advertising play a role in presidential and congressional elections. Typically offered in the fall during national election years. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3143. Political Psychology. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Study how political opinion formation and behavior of citizens and political elites is shaped by psychological factors, including personality, attitudes, values, and emotions. Study opinion formation, mass media, identity, and culture. prereq: 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3150. American Constitutional Law I. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)

Institutional powers and civil rights: judicial review; authority of Congress and President; powers in war and foreign affairs; power of national and state governments; property rights; civil rights and equal protection (race, gender, and other groups); anti-discrimination; affirmative action. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3151. American Constitutional Law II. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Civil liberties: incorporation of the Bill of Rights; Due Process clause; freedom of religion; freedom of speech; freedom of press; privacy rights; rights of the accused; search and seizure; rights before the Courts; cruel and unusual punishment. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3152. Law and Politics of the Administrative State. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Investigation of the intersection of constitutional and statutory law and politics as applied at the national level to the policies, procedures, and overall operation of the American bureaucratic/regulatory system. Includes exploration of the historical and contemporary relationship between administrative agencies and Congress, the President, and federal courts. This course should be of special interest to students planning careers in the law and/or politics of government service.

POL 3195. Special Topics: (various titles to be assigned). (; 3 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall, Spring & Summer)

Political science topics not included in regular curriculum.

POL 3197. Nongovernmental Internship. (1-6 cr. ; S-N only; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

Supervised, scheduled work assignments in performance of political functions in nongovernmental organizations; full- or part-time employment. Not all outside work is eligible. Only 4 cr max from POL 3097 and 3197 may be applied toward the political science major. Allow up to 6 repetitions totalling up to 6 credits. prereq: minimum 60 cr and instructor consent

POL 3311. Public Opinion and Polling Methods. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F only; Periodic Spring)

Formation of public opinion; attitudes and nonattitudes; polls in the media; role of public opinion in democracy; measurement of opinion; survey methods; questionnaire construction; sampling techniques. prereq: 1011 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3400. Contemporary Issues in World Politics. (4 cr. [max 8 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Detailed examination and analysis of selected contemporary issues in world politics and international relations. Policy recommendations dealing with each issue. Students can repeat this course for a maximum total of 8 credits. prereq: 1050 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3403. American Foreign Policy. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Periodic Fall)

Various influences on the making of American foreign policy; understanding why particular foreign policy choices are made and the effects of a changing international environment on American foreign policy. prereq: 1011 or 1050 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3410. Politics of International Law. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

Investigation of development, operations, and significance of international organization and law in contemporary international politics. prereq: minimum 30 credits or instructor consent

POL 3420. International Organization and Global Governance. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Explores the role of international organizations in world politics and the evolution of global governance systems. Includes examinations of state sovereignty, methods for achieving cooperation, and whether international organizations are effective means for achieving global collective goods. prereq: 1050 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3451. Theories of International Relations. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Historical and contemporary theories of international relations. Views of contending theorists are analyzed and assessed. prereq: 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3456. International Security: War and More. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

Introduction to a variety of different aspects of International Security, including warfare, terrorism, human rights, environmental justice, and women and violence worldwide. Includes discussion of efforts to ensure and barriers to achieving international security in its various forms. prereq: 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3458. International Negotiation & Bargaining: Negotiating Across Cultures. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Cultural understanding and misunderstanding can determine the outcome of international negotiation and bargaining. Word choice becomes particularly significant in global negotiations. In this class, we explore how international solutions in various areas, such as the environment, business, politics, and human rights, are produced through negotiation and influenced by culture, language, and behavior. pre-req: minimum 30 credits

POL 3511. Politics of South Asia. (3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring)

Comparative study of five South Asian countries (namely India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, and Nepal). It analyzes the history and impact of colonialism in South Asia; state formations in South Asia; and controversies in recent South Asian politics over issues like globalization, democratization, religious fundamentalism, nuclearism, and gender. Policy solutions to these problems will be considered. prereq: 1500 or instructor consent

POL 3515. Theories of Comparative Politics.

(3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall) Introduces the theoretical, methodological, and substantive debates in the discipline of comparative politics. prereq: 1500 and 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3517. Western European Political Systems. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)

Comparative analysis of development and operation of political-governmental institutions and processes in selected Western European countries: political and ideological patterns and trends; problems of democratic politics; policy issues in advanced industrial societies; and the future of the "welfare state." prereq: 30 earned or in-progress credits or instructor consent

POL 3518. Transitional Politics of Asia. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Spring Odd Year)

This class is a comparative study of the states in Asia namely India, China, Japan, and others. RUSS 2316. 19th Century Russian Literature in Translation: Dostoevsky, Gogol and Turgenev. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring)

This course examines texts by celebrated Russian prose authors from the nineteenth century. The short stories and novels of authors such as Nikolai Gogol, Ivan Turgenev and Feodor Dostoevsky confront their readers with a set of concerns that still remain relevant today. Through close readings and literary analysis, the course will offer students an opportunity to develop their abilities as writers and critical thinkers. In writing assignments, students will develop their abilities to present extended analyses and coherent argumentative strategies, while exploring some of the most significant developments in Russian literary culture. Taught in English.

RUSS 3405. Film and New Media in Russian Society. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Spring Odd Year)

This course introduces students to the transformative role that film and new media have played in Russian society, from the early beginning of film as a new art form to the dynamic role film and new media have come to play in the post-Soviet era. In this course students learn to reflect on film as an artistic medium, while also using their experiences with the films of the twentieth century to learn about the history of Russian society. Students also produce their own short films, practicing what they have learned from discussions and film analysis. Students compose screenplays and create their own films that reflect on the history of Russian film and the changing role of film as a medium in the twentieth century. Taught in English

Causation and development of disabling conditions in infants and toddlers. Effective intervention techniques in a variety of settings involving interagency collaboration and family involvement. Practicum. prereq: Minimum 30 credits

SPED 3105. Young Children with Special Needs: Ages Three-Eight. ( ; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Identification, assessment, and classification of young children with special needs. Effective intervention techniques for use in a variety of settings, emphasizing integration and teaming strategies. Practicum. prereq: instructor consent

SPED 3106. Working with Young Children with Low Incidence Disabilities. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Skills and information useful in the provision of quality services for young children with low incidence disabilities. Class sessions and field-based experiences will address supporting young children with low incidence disabilities. prereq: Admitted to UECH program

SPED 3109. Supporting Social/Emotional Development Birth-8. ( ; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course supports understanding the developmental trajectory of social and emotional competence from birth to age eight. Typical development as well as the developmental consequences of stress and trauma will be addressed. Protective factors and resilience, the development of mental health, and the importance of supportive relationships will also be explored. This course will also provide information needed to evaluate and implement behavior change programs that are appropriate for young children who exhibit maladaptive behaviors. A key assessment strategies will include Functional Behavioral Assessment (FBA) procedures and a range of trauma informed behavioral supports. pre-req: Minimum 30 credits

SPED 3205. Foundations in Early Childhood Assessment. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) This course provides information about informal and formal assessment properties and their application. Included is information about statistical properties inherent in norm referenced tests, the exploration of criterion referenced test, and discussion of informal assessment strategies such as observation and portfolio work. This course is a prerequisite to SPED 3206 Methods in Early Childhood Special Education Assessment. prereq: Admitted to UECH program

SPED 3206. Methods of Assessment in Early Childhood Special Education. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall) This course is the second of two assessment courses in the ECSE licensure requirements. The course expands and builds upon the Foundations of ECSE Assessment (SPEC 3205). In the course students practice administration and implementation of norm- and criterion-referenced assessment tools for young children. Further, participants practice developing assessment reports and corresponding Individualized Family Service Plans (IIFSP) and Individualized Education Plans (IEP). prereq: admitted to UECH program

SPED 3415. Special Education in the Secondary School. (; 3 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring) Exploration of topics in exceptionality for pre-service secondary education majors. Topics include universal design, instructional strategies, characteristics of students, special education law, and differentiated instruction.

SPED 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; ) Non Direct Equivalent

SPED 4204. Assessment in the General and Special Education Classroom. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Exploration of topics in responsive and responsible assessment of student learning. Candidates will be introduced to use of assessment strategies and making decisions about exceptionality, eligibility, and educational programming. Topics include types of assessment strategies, large-scale and high stakes testing, rubrics, checklists and other evaluative tools and techniques. This course has a 30-hour practicum. prereq: SPED 4433, admission to IESE program and successful completion of Block One courses and associated field experience or SPED post bac, no grad credit

SPED 4250. Foundations of Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer) Includes history, definitions, assessment, characteristics, legal aspects, varying perspectives, and etiology of the Autism Spectrum Disorders. prereq: No Grad cr

SPED 4260. Language and Social Skills for Children and Youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring) Specialized instruction in the foundation of language development, social stories, augmented and alternative communication systems, theory of mind, social skill development and play. prereq: 4250 or 5250 and 4270 or 5270; no grad credit

SPED 4270. Methods for Teaching Children and Youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall) In-depth assessment, environmental factors, curricular options, instructional strategies, behavioral programming, material for teaching, sensory integration strategies, IEP/IIP development and implementation, and technology on the continuum of placements for children and youth with ASD. prereq: 4250 or 5250 or instructor consent, no grad credit

SPED 4280. Assessment of Students with Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year) This course will focus on assessment procedures used by practitioners in the field of special education - specifically in Autism. Students will learn a variety of standardized and informal assessment procedures, referral, evaluation, planning, and programming. Students will also learn to interpret and integrate evaluation results in the planning and programming process in working with students with Autism. prereq: 4250, 4260 and 4270; no grad credit

SPED 4310. Response to Intervention in the General Education Classroom. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Understanding the use of the response to intervention (RtI) procedure to identify students with learning disabilities. Use of formal and informal assessment processes for monitoring progress to make decisions about changes in instruction or goals and apply child response data to important educational decisions. Students will identify valid research-based interventions and their application in educational settings. prereq: Admission to IESE program or post bac special education; credit will not be granted if already received for 5310

SPED 4381. Classroom and Behavior Management. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Classroom management and behavior change for P-12 students; identification and assessment of problem behaviors; proactive and reactive strategies for managing disruptive behavior; application of applied behavior analysis to modifying behaviors; legal and ethical issues in behavior change. Concurrent with 5381. Practicum prereq: 4433, Admission to IESE program or postbac sped; no grad credit

SPED 4433. Foundations in Special Education. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)

This is a foundational course in special education focusing on an overview of children with disabilities. Special emphasis will be placed on characteristics of exceptional children, the legal aspects of educating students with disabilities, and assessment, instructional, and collaborative strategies. prereq: pre-IESE major or IESE major or pre-UECH major or UECH major or post bac brad or special education minor or DAPE minor, no grad credit

SPED 4435. Parent and Professional Communication and Collaboration. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Spring) Group process, problem solving, decision-making, collaboration, and teamwork applied to the special education process. Techniques for working with parents, professionals, paraprofessionals, and community agencies when planning and implementing Individualized Education Plans. prereq: 4433, 45 cr, postbac or sped minor or instructor consent, no grad credit

SPED 4452. Academic Interventions for Students with Disabilities. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Understanding various models for teaching students with reading, writing, or math difficulties; development of intervention plan based on assessment and observation. Practicum. prereq: SPED 4433, admission to IESE program and successful completion of Block One courses and associated field experience or SPED postbac or instructor consent

SPED 4455. Transitional Planning for Adolescents with Disabilities. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall & Summer) Assessment procedures, planning and instructional methods to help students with disabilities make the transition from school to postsecondary training, education, and employment. Practicum. prereq: Successful completion of Block Four, which is Student Teaching in a general education setting or postbac or instructor consent, no grad credit

SPED 4585. Individual Education Plans: Development and Implementation. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall) Historical perspective of the Individual Education Plan (IEP), its professional significance in education and the impact of the IEP on students and teachers in special education. Explores procedural guidelines, develop an IEP based on best practice. prereq: Admission to IESE program and successful completion of Blocks One and Two courses and associated field experiences, no grad credit

SPED 4600. Student Teaching. (1-12 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer) Observational, evaluative, and instructional experience with students with disabilities in K-12 settings. pre-req: Successful completion of Block Four, which is Student Teaching in a general education setting, or postbac or instructor consent. No grad credit.

SPED 4610. Professional Issues. (; 1 cr. ; A-F only; Every Spring)

Reflections on current issues and ethical dilemmas in the field of early childhood special education, birth through age eight. prereq: No grad credit

SPED 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

SPED 5204. Assessment in the General and Special Education Classroom. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Exploration of topics in responsive and responsible assessment of student learning. Candidates will be introduced to use of assessment strategies and making decisions about exceptionality, eligibility, and educational programming. Topics include types of assessment strategies, large-scale and high stakes testing, rubrics, checklists and other evaluative tools and techniques. This course has a 30-hour practicum. prereq: sped post-bac

SPED 5250. Foundations of Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Fall)
Includes history, definitions, assessment, characteristics, legal aspects, varying perspectives, and etiology of the Autism Spectrum Disorders.

SPED 5260. Language and Social Skills for Children and Youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring & Summer)
Specialized instruction in the foundation of language development, social stories, augmented and alternative communication systems, theory of mind, social skill development and play. prereq: 4250 or 5250 and 4270 or 5270

SPED 5270. Methods for Teaching Children and Youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring & Summer)
In-depth assessment, environmental factors, curricular options, instructional strategies, behavioral programming, material for teaching, sensory integration strategies, IEP/IIIP development and implementation, and technology on the continuum of placements for children and youth with ASD. prereq: 4250 or 5250 or instructor consent

SPED 5280. Assessment of Students with Autism Spectrum Disorders. (2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Fall Even Year)
This course will focus on assessment procedures used by practitioners in the field of special education - specifically in Autism. Students will learn a variety of standardized and informal assessment procedures, referral, evaluation, planning, and programming. Students will also learn to interpret and integrate evaluation results in the planning and programming process in working with students with Autism. prereq: 4250, instructor consent

SPED 5361. Characteristics of Developmental Disabilities. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)
Overview of children with moderate to severe developmental disabilities. Special emphasis will be placed on characteristics, etiology, implications of medical conditions, and the legal aspects of educating students with developmental disabilities. Assessment, instructional, and collaborative strategies will be introduced. prereq: Departmental consent

SPED 5381. Classroom and Behavior Management. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Classroom management and behavior change for P-12 students; identification and assessment of problem behaviors; proactive and reactive strategies for managing disruptive behavior; application of applied behavior analysis to modifying behaviors; legal and ethical issues in behavior change. Concurrent with 4381; requires an additional paper, research project or field based practicum (option for post baccalaureate students at the 5000 level). prereq: 4433, postbac grad

SPED 5433. Foundations in Special Education. (; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
This is a foundational course in special education focusing on history, philosophy, theories, and issues of special education. Topics include: overview of special education rules and processes, and survey of exceptionalities, including disability perspectives. Because this course is taught concurrently with 4433, it will require one or more of the following: paper or project. prereq: Postbac grad student

SPED 5435. Parent and Professional Communication and Collaboration. (; 4 cr. ; Student Option; Periodic Fall)
Group process, problem solving, decision making, collaboration, and teamwork applied to the special education process. Techniques for working with parents, professionals, paraprofessionals, and community agencies when planning and implementing Individualized Educational Plans. Because this course is taught concurrently with 4435, it will require one or more of the following: paper or project. prereq: 4433 or 5433, postbac grad or instructor consent

SPED 5452. Academic Interventions for Students with Disabilities. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Understanding various models for teaching students with reading, writing, or math difficulties; development of intervention plan based on assessment and observation. Practicum. prereq: 4433 or 5433, postbac grad or instructor consent

SPED 5455. Transitional Planning for Adolescents With Disabilities. (; 3 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Spring & Summer)
Assessment procedures, planning and instructional methods to help students with disabilities make the transition from school to postsecondary training, education, and employment. Practicum. prereq: 5433 or 4433, postbac grad or instructor consent

SPED 5585. Individual Education Plans: Development and Implementation. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Summer)
Historical perspective of the Individual Education Plan (IEP), its professional significance in education and the impact of the IEP on students and teachers in special education. Explores procedural guidelines, develop an IEP based on best practice and develop lesson and unit plans.

SPED 5600. Student Teaching. (1-12 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Observational, evaluative, and instructional experience with students with disabilities in K-12 settings. Seminar included. prereq: instructor consent

SPED 5870. Professional Methods for Working with Fetal Alcohol Spectrum. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Exploration of the continuum of placements of living, education, and vocational settings for individuals with FASD. Advocacy issues, in-depth assessment, environmental factors, curricular options, IEP/IIIP development and implementation and programming of the lifespan of individuals with FASD. prereq: 5850 or instructor consent; credit will not be granted if already received for 4870

SPED 5991. Independent Study. (1-6 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Directed independent study, readings, or projects of interest to student. prereq: Department approval

Statistics (STAT)

STAT 1411. Introduction to Statistics. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Statistical ideas involved in gathering, describing, and analyzing observational and experimental data. Experimental design, descriptive statistics, correlation and regression, probabilistic models, sampling, and statistical inference. prereq: Math ACT 21 or higher or a grade of at least C- in MATH 0103 or department approval

STAT 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

STAT 2411. Statistical Methods. (LOGIC & QR; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring) Graphical and numerical descriptions of data, elementary probability, sampling distributions, estimations, confidence intervals, one-sample and two-sample t-test. prereq: Math ACT 24 or higher or a grade of at least C- in Math 1005 or higher or department approval

STAT 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

STAT 3411. Engineering Statistics. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Statistical considerations in data collection and experimentation. Descriptive statistics, least squares, elementary probability distributions, confidence intervals, significance tests, and analysis of variance as applied analysis of engineering data. prereq: MATH 1297 with a grade of C- or better, cannot be applied to a math or statistics major

STAT 3611. Introduction to Probability and Statistics. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall, Spring & Summer)
Basic probability, including combinatorial methods, random variables, mathematical expectation. Binomial, normal, and other standard distributions. Moment-generating functions. Basic statistics, including descriptive statistics and sampling distributions. Estimation and statistical hypothesis testing. prereq: A grade of at least C- in Math 1290 or Math 1296

STAT 3612. Introduction to Probability and Statistics II. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
An introduction to statistics. Sample distributions, point and interval estimation, hypothesis testing, linear regression, one- and two-way analysis of variance, goodness-of-fit and non-parametric statistics. prereq: 3611 and Math 1297 or equivalent or instructor consent

STAT 3999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

STAT 4040. Introduction to Survey Sampling. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Simple random sampling, systematic sampling, cluster sampling, stratified sampling, probability proportional to size sampling, ratio and regression estimation, sampling frames, sample size determination, sources of bias, cost models, and nonresponse. Data analysis using computer software. prereq: A grade of at least C- in MATH 1290 or 1296 or 1596 and STAT 2411 or 3411 or 3611 or instructor consent

STAT 4050. Introduction to Statistical Computing. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall)
Statistical, graphical and numerical data analysis using modern statistical software. Database management and statistical modeling including regression and categorical data analysis. Topics in data generation and simulation. prereq: A grade of at least C- in STAT 3411 or 3611 or instructor consent.

STAT 4060. Introduction to Biostatistics. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)
Introduction to statistical methods applicable to biological and biomedical data. Analysis of bioassay, case-control, and disease/expose data. Introduction to statistics in clinical trials. Use of regression and logistic regression in analyzing biological/biomedical data.

Categorical data analysis with application to the life sciences. Basic survival analysis. prereq: Math 1290 or 1296 or 1596 and STAT 2411 or 3411 or 3611 with grade of C- or better or consent of instructor.

STAT 4101. Actuarial Probability. (1 cr. ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall)
Problem-solving techniques in probability used in the mathematical foundations of actuarial science. prereq: 3611, Math 3298 a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses; credit cannot be applied to math major or minor; no grad credit

STAT 4511. Regression Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Simple, polynomial, and multiple regression. Matrix formulation of estimation, testing, and prediction in linear regression model. Analysis of residuals, model selection, transformations, and use of computer software. prereq: STAT 3611, Math 3280 or Math 4326, a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses; credit will not be granted if already received for STAT 5511; no grad credit.

STAT 4531. Probability Models. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Development of probability models and their applications to science and engineering. Classical models such as binomial, Poisson, and exponential distributions. Random variables, joint distributions, expectation, covariance, independence, conditional probability. Markov processes and their applications. Selected topics in stochastic processes. pre-req: STAT 3611, MATH 1297 or 1597. A grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses, no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for STAT 5531.

STAT 4571. Probability. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Axioms of probability. Discrete and continuous random variables and their probability distributions Joint and conditional distributions. Mathematical expectation, moments, correlation, and conditional expectation. Normal and related distributions. Limit theorems. pre-req: STAT 3611, MATH 3298; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses; credit will not be granted if already received for STAT 5571; no grad credit.

STAT 4572. Statistical Inference. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Mathematical statistics; Bayes' and maximum-likelihood estimators, unbiased estimators' confidence intervals; hypothesis testing, including likelihood ratio tests, most power tests, and goodness-of-fit tests. pre-req: STAT 3612 and STAT 4571 or 5571. A grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses; no grad credit, credit will not be granted if already received for STAT 5572.

STAT 4999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

STAT 5411. Analysis of Variance. (3 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall)

Analysis of variance techniques as applied to scientific experiments and studies. Randomized block designs, factorial designs, nesting. Checking model assumptions. Using statistical computer software. prereq: 3411 or 3611; a grade of C- or better is required in all prerequisite courses

STAT 5511. Regression Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Simple, polynomial, and multiple regression. Matrix formulation of estimation, testing, and prediction in linear regression model. Analysis of residuals, model selection, transformations, and use of computer software. prereq: 3611, Math 3280 or Math 4326, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

STAT 5515. Multivariate Statistics. (; 3 cr. ; Student Option; Fall Odd Year)

Multivariate normal distribution, MANOVA, canonical correlation, discriminate analysis, principal components. Use of computer software. prereq: 5411 or 5511, Math 3280 or Math 4326, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

STAT 5521. Applied Time Series Analysis. (3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Characteristics of time series; time series regression and exploratory data analysis; introduction of ARIMA models, including model building, estimation and forecasting; spectral analysis and filtering. Use of statistical software R. prereq: Math 3280, Stat 3612 or 5511 or instructor consent

STAT 5531. Probability Models. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Development of probability models and their applications to science and engineering. Classical models such as binomial, Poisson, and exponential distributions. Random variables, joint distributions, expectation, covariance, independence, conditional probability. Markov processes and their applications. Selected topics in stochastic processes. prereq: 3611, Math 1297 or Math 1597, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses, credit will not be granted if already received for STAT 4531.

STAT 5571. Probability. (4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Axioms of probability. Discrete and continuous random variables and their probability distributions. Joint and conditional distributions. Mathematical expectation, moments, correlation, and conditional expectation. Normal and related distributions. Limit theorems. prereq: 3611, Math 3298, a grade of C- or better in is required in all prerequisite courses

STAT 5572. Statistical Inference. (; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Spring)

Mathematical statistics; Bayes' and maximum-likelihood estimators, unbiased estimators; confidence intervals; hypothesis testing, including likelihood ratio tests, most powerful tests, and goodness-of-fit tests. prereq: STAT 3612 and 5571 with a grade of C- or better, credit will not be granted if already received for STAT 4572

Supportive Services Program (SSP)

SSP 1001. Reading Hacks for College. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Reading Hacks for College will help maintain your focus and better manage time so you retain more information and get through academic texts faster. Based on proven learning theories, the course materials will change the way you look at reading assignments and help you develop an effective, efficient, personalized active reading system.

SSP 1002. Managing Time and Stress. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
This course introduces various time and stress management tools and techniques, including planning, prioritizing, minimizing procrastination, avoiding switch-tasking, and practicing mindfulness.

SSP 1004. Studying, Note Taking, and Test Taking. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

Students will understand, analyze, and apply more effective ways to learn and retain information. Topics of focus will include: various note-taking systems, research-based study techniques, and before-during-, and after-test taking strategies.

SSP 1050. Independent Study in Individualized Approaches to Learning. (; 1 cr. ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

This independent study provides students who are feeling challenged by the academic demands of college with an opportunity to consult with SSP faculty and to develop an individualized approach to learning in response to those challenges. Students are given the tools necessary to take ownership of their learning experience, so that they might persevere and persist in their studies at UMD.

SSP 1052. Academic Reading and Writing at the College Level. (; 3 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

This course teaches students to read and respond to texts at the college level. In a supportive and active classroom, students will develop critical thinking and rhetorical skills they can immediately apply to any activity that requires college-level reading and/or writing. Students will use these active reading strategies to deepen their understanding of a wide variety of texts. Student will also respond to these texts in multiple ways.

SSP 1101. Personal Development. (; 2 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)
Introduction to some of the components of the human personality and the relationship of the individual to the environment. Focuses on such topics as human relations, values, interpersonal skills and competencies, decision making, and conflict resolution.

SSP 1999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

SSP 2001. UMD Campus Tour Guide Training. (; 1 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

SSP led training for new Admissions tour guides. Students learn how to be effective communicators with a wide variety of audiences, how to address sensitive topics and how to build relationships across the university in the tour guiding role. Students are informed about campus facilities, programs activities, services and policies and how to communicate these concepts to prospective students and visitors. pre-req: instructor consent

SSP 2002. UMD Campus Tour Guide Practicum. (; 1 cr. [max 4 cr.] ; S-N or Audit; Every Fall & Spring)

SSP led leadership and communication training for experience tour guides. Students reflect upon prior experiences to continue development as a UMD tour guide. Responsibilities will be described in a graded contract provided by course instructor. pre-req: SSP 2001 or SSP 3001 and instructor consent

SSP 2999X. Non Direct Equivalent. (0-999 cr. ; Transfer Grading Basis; )
Non Direct Equivalent

SSP 3003. Peer Tutor Pedagogy. (; 2 cr. ; A-F only; Every Fall & Spring)

Introduction to contemporary learning theory and its application to one-on-one and small group learning situations (tutorials). Emphasis on philosophy, procedures, and practices known to be effective in improving learning. prereq: instructor consent

SSP 3004. Peer Tutor Practicum. (1-2 cr. [max 6 cr.] ; Student Option; Every Fall & Spring)

Supervised practicum for students leading one-on-one and small group tutorials. Tutor responsibilities outlined in contract with instructor. prereq: 3003 or instructor consent

TH 4300. Theatre History in England. (GLOBAL PER; 4 cr. ; A-F or Audit; Periodic Summer)
This short-term study abroad course will explore Shakespeare's theatre world in London and his birthplace in Stratford-upon-Avon, allowing students to experience, first-hand, how Shakespeare's plays were shaped by his environment in his own day, and how they were modified, adapted, and marketed over the next four centuries. By attending performances at modern reconstructions of the Globe and Blackfriars, students will see how Shakespeare wrote his plays to capitalize on the strengths (and minimize the limitations) of the physical theatre. Students will also tour the areas where Shakespeare lived and worked, such as Southwark and Blackfriars, and visit historic landmarks, such as The Tower, Westminster Abbey, and the Inns of Court, that figure prominently in his plays. A side-trip to Stratford-upon-Avon will help students better understand his upbringing—they will visit his birthplace and grammar school—and also see where he returned to retire early, live extravagantly, and die. Stratford-upon-Avon is also the home of the Royal Shakespeare Company, the world-famous acting troupe devoted to promoting Shakespeare's works. A principal focus of this course is to consider why Shakespeare is more popular today than he has ever been. Seeing Shakespeare performed by a range of actors (A-list to amateur), in a variety of theatres (West End to fringe), in a range of dramatic styles (period performance to avant-garde) will bring to life how Shakespeare is transformed from the page to the stage, how his works have been suited to changing tastes across the centuries, and why, despite the challenges posed by the language and subject matter of his plays, he continues to have a commanding presence in theatres and classrooms across the world. pre-req: instructor consent; also visit the UMD Study Abroad office
